THINK OF IT NOW!

Although much is said about the importance of a blood-purifying medicine, it may be possible that the subject has never seriously claimed your attention. Think of it now!

Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in Scrofulous Sores, Ulcers, or Eruptions, or in the form of Rheumatism, or Organic Diseases, the suffering that ensues is terrible. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do, that will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

As well expect life without air as health without pure blood. Cleanse the blood with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles for $5.

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

—The Hessian fly is doing a world of damage to wheat in Western New York.

—An insect called the dumb locust is committing ravages on the apple trees in Southwestern Virginia.

—The late frosts of May and June have shortened the cranberry crop this year to 338,000 barrels, against 400,000 in 1883.

—Scotch shepherd dogs are now employed at the Cape of Good Hope in herding ostriches, a work which they perform with great sagacity.

—The sale of horse flesh in Paris is a recognized industry, 8,000 animals being the number credited as annually slaughtered for sale in that city.

—Barnwell County, South Carolina, alone is said to have 2,348 acres of melons, from which it is estimated that $1,000,000 worth of the fruit will this year be shipped North.

—With regard to the treatment of a bite of a rabid animal, the experience of the French doctors show that the only remedy which can be depended upon to destroy the virus is the prompt application of cautery by red hot iron.

—In California they have a remedy for lice on stock composed of an ointment of equal parts of lard and snuff. It is not applied to the entire body, but a ring of it, two or three inches wide, completely around the neck has the desired effect.

—At last science has gone to the root of primitive agriculture. Forest trees are now felled with dynamite. This saves a larger proportion of the trunk and also brings up the roots at one operation, thus saving time and expense in clearing land.

—Professor H. Munk, a worker of some eminence in agricultural chemistry, says that moderate muscular exercise increases the yield of milk, but that violent motion hinders the process of milk secretion. Dairy farmers may turn his remarks to profit.

—A Frenchman has patented a process of making butter by passing a current of electricity through milk, thus rendering the operation of churning unnecessary. A similar method is to be used for cheese-making, and to restore ancient butter to its original sweetness of flavor.

—Peas are a cheaper food for pigs than corn. They fatten them very rapidly, although they do not make as solid pork as corn. They have this advantage over corn. They mature early, and can be fed as soon as large enough for green peas, the pigs consuming vines and all.

—Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri have suffered severely from almost continuous cold rains of late. Work in the harvest field has been brought to a complete standstill, and much of the wheat in stacks has been ruined. The loss is placed at 1,000,000 bushels in Kansas alone. It is feared that the minor crops will suffer in the same proportion, and that potatoes will rot in the ground.

—The Boston Journal prints these estimates of the hay crop in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont based upon returns received from nearly 300 points in those States: Maine, 963,000 tons, a loss of about 15 per cent. as compared with the largest crop; New Hampshire, 401,000 tons, against 447,000 tons in 1884 and 631,000 in 1883; Vermont, 850,000 tons, the smallest in 10 years, during which the average has been 1,000,000.

Fashion Notes.

Godey's Lady's Book.

—Beaded bonnets are obsolete.

—Mitts are ugly, except on a beautiful hand.

—A a rule, hats for the seaside are eccentric and fantastical in the extreme.

—Gant de suede gloves, in various shades of buff, are still worn with all toilettes.

—The new cambrics and batists very much resemble foulards, both in colors and patterns.

—Woollen lace is in greater vogue than ever, it is used to trim everything, even bonnets.

—Parasols are prettier and more elegant than ever. Lace is extensively used to ornament them.

Green is a very fashionable color; the favorite shades are lizard, absinthe, chartreuse, and malachite.

—Plaited skirts are still worn; but loose skirts, slightly gathered, are more novel and fashionable.

—The jersey is now only worn of a morning, and is quite discarded for dressy and elegant toilettes.

—Embroidered gloves are the latest. The white ones are particularly pretty and very much worn.

—The rage for beads continues; the most novel ones are the leaden ones which combine well with bright-colored materials.

—Feathers are but little worn this summer; a few birds are to be be seen, however, nestling in a bow of ribbon.

—The round hat for young girls are not unlike the capote in shape and style, the border wider, protruding over the face.

—Apple-red is the name of a new shade in net veiling. It is soft and pretty and throws a becoming shade on the complexion.

CHIGNECTO POST.

Deserve Success and you shall Command it.

VOL. 16.--NO. 10. SACKVILLE, N. B., THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1885. WHOLE NO. 791.

Canada at the Antwerp International Exhibition.

The following notice of the Canadian Court was published in a London journal "Public Opinion in its issue of the 19th June. Public Opinion is an old established newspaper, and has gained a very wide and deserved reputation for being what, in its title, it professes to be, the mouthpiece of public opinion in England.

It is evident at a glance that the great majority of these exhibitors have not come here "pour la gloire." They have come on business; they want to sell; to them the Exhibition is nothing more or less than a fair. Smiling sirens behind a counter and unctuous shopmen offering their kick-shaws may be most useful members of human society, but the visitors at at exhibition, as a rule, do not come with the prime intention of buying, as if they were to enter an ordinary store, and it is not always pleasant to be pressed to do so. Honourable exceptions are Canada and Manitoba. Everything looks very easy, and the snug compartment of the Dominion is a simple model of good taste. Of course, there also a business like object is paramount; they want men, laborious men, to stock the still very thinly populated districts along their great Northern Pacific Railway, and they will no doubt, succeed in making many a one forget the seven months of severe frost, ice, and snow by their grand display of what the banks of St. Lawrence and Saskatchewan River can produce in the remaining five months of the year. Without wishing in the least to depreciate the many of the highly-finished productions of industrial art—the English terra-cotta statuary, the exquisite Meissen porcelain, the pompous bronze statues, some of them of gigantic dimensions, in the exceedingly fine French court, not to speak at all of the dazzling splendour of artistic pottery, majolica, "painted on raw glaze and high fire glossed," and the beautiful Carrara marble marble statues of Italy, Venetian and Bohemian glass vases, Gobelins and Sevres productions, which no doubt are the charm of an exhibition, the inquiring mind will, nevertheless, turn with paramount interest to the manifold produce of cis-and trans-oceanic countries, from Manitoba to the Congo, and the thousands of manufactured articles of world-wide consumption, which are the life of human industry and the stimulants of universal competition."

Personal and Political.

—Bret Harte is to be removed from the Consulate at Glasgow.

—Lord Salisbury, Mr. Gladstone, and Lord Randolph Churchill became Cabinet Ministers at exactly the same age—36 years.

—Lieutenant Commander Gorringe, who brought over the Egyptian obelisk, died at New York last Monday of fleshy cancer involving the vertebræ.

—The Queen has offered a dukedom to Earl Spencer, late Lord-lieutenant of Ireland. Sir Peter Lumsden has been made a Knight Commander of the Bath.

—At a recent fire in Somerville, Mass., a lady fought her way back into the burning house to save her spring bonnet and forgot her pocket-book, containing $150, which was in the same room.

—The contest of the Duke of Cumberland for the throne of the Duchy of Brunswick has led Prince Bismarck to prepare a bill which will provide for the exclusion of foreign-born heirs to the right of succession to German thrones.

—Dr. Chibret, a French oculist, reports to the Academie de Medecine that, having been obliged to remove a diseased eye from a young girl, he replaced it with one taken from a rabbit. At the time of his statement 14 days had elapsed, and the eye had retained its vitality, and was doing well.

—Victor Hugo hated Goethe because the latter severely criticised "Notre Dame de Paris" when it first appeared. "Goethe," said he to a literary visitor, "only produced one really good work. 'The Robbers.'" The visitor was astonished at the apparent blunder until Hugo added with a sneer, "And that was written by Schiller!"

Stock Notes.

—Mr. W. Shaw, of St. John has bought from Mr. V. E. Fuller, of St. Lambert, P. Q., a heifer named Rose of St. Lambert, of the same family as the cow Mary Ann of St. Lambert for which Mr. Fuller refuses $25,000. Rose of St. Lambert is in calf to a bull owned by Mr. Fuller and valued at $15,000, and if the calf should prove a bull calf, Mr. Shaw can get for it the full price paid for the heifer.

—The annual sale at the Provincial Stock Farm will be held on the 7th October next, when there will offered by public auction pure bred Polled Angus, Red Norfork, Shorthorn and Ayrshire calves, together with Shropshire, Border Leicester and Cotswold lambs, and Yorkshire pigs.

A Frequent Annoyance.

Many people suffer from distressing sick headaches and bilious attacks of frequent occurrence which a bottle or two of Burdock Blood Bitters would entirely remove. It regulates the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Blood to a healthy action.

—A merchant in a small Texas town recently failed in business, and this is what the local paper classically remarks about him: "General ——says that when the proper time for resuming comes about, he will be on hand. The General probably refers to a resumption which he practises every morning in consequence of the suspension which he knuckles down to every night only when Bolles's bar is closed at twelve o'clock by order of the law. This is the General's one time of resumption in the course of the day. There can be no resumption by him in the rest of the twenty-four hours, inasmuch as there is no cessation."

—A Louisville man, disturbed in his sleep by a large company of cats, crawled out on the roof, and instead of firing off his pistol, thus addressed the gathering: "If eight cats kill eight rats in eight minutes how long will it take 100 cats to kill 200 rats?" Before he had uttered the last word every cat had disappeared, and he has never seen one of them since.

—In Arkansas no saloon can be built within 640 rods of a church Hence the natives build the saloon first; then they erect the church right across the road.

ESTEY'S Iron and Quinine Tonic is the most powerful Blood Tonic and Appetizer known. Try it. Price 50 cents.

From Parrsboro.

—Farmers are looking forward for good crops this season.

—Hartnett and Sullivan have built an addition to their carriage factory and are doing a large business.

—Thos. Mahony, of the Cumberland Hotel, is building a dwelling house about a quarter of a mile from the village, said to be for his own residence.

—James Sproul, of Westbrook, has brought in some splendid looking strawberries this season. He has picked about 300 lbs. so far this season.

—A McGilvaray, Esq., has commenced repairing the front of his store and dwelling house combined which, when completed, will very much improve the appearance of Main Street.

From Oxford.

—Haying has commenced, but owing to the recent dry weather the crop will be lighter than was expected a few weeks ago.

—The Woollen Mills are doing a large trade especially in the wool business. Their capacity for cloth is at the rate of nine thousand yds. per month, the good quality of which is beyond dispute.

—The Baptists of this place intend holding a tea meeting at their church on the 28th inst., extensive preparations are being made and all who favor us with their presence may expect and will no doubt have a very pleasant time.

—The Furniture Co., which now has the reputation of producing superior goods, are shipping large quantities to different parts of the country, and no doubt receive large amounts of the needful in return. E. A. King their foreman has severed his connection with the company.

—The enterprising firm of A. McPherson & Co. keep adding to their already extensive works. They are building a shop 30x50 in which to make steam boilers, also a brass furnace and core oven. They have just fitted up a lathe on which they can turn a pulley 8 feet in diameter, and have orders in for five saw mills and will soon be in a position to furnish for their own works all that is required for rotary or other saw mills.

Literary Notes.

—The August Harper's will have full-page pictures both by E. A. Abbey and Alfred Parsons; the former a frontispiece illustrating "A Love Song," by Austin Dobson, the latter one of the charming illustration of Wordsworth's sonnets, "Bees that Soar."

—In "A Trip on the Ottawa," Harper's for August will give an interesting account of a summer pleasure-trip through the heart of Canada, written by Mrs. Henry Sandham, and illustrated by Mr. Henry Sandham, who has found his artistic field chiefly in the British provinces. The journey was from Ottawa, the parliamentary capital of the Dominion, down the river to its mouth and past the Lachine Rapids to Montreal. One of the most curious sights of the journey was a visit to the Trappist monastery, where a colony of the monks exiled from France but a few years since has found refuge. This is said to be the strictest of all the religious orders, and the brethern are denied even the indulgence of conversation with one another. There is no corresponding order among the ladies.

—The American nation has a double birthright—liberty and land. Its liberty it has guarded jealously, but until very recent years it seems to have been indifferent to the loss of its landed estate and ignorant of the methods by which it had been diminished. A veteran legislator, the Hon. George W. Julian, who has given special attention to the acts disposing of our public lands, tells the story in brief in a contribution of the North American Review for August. In the same number five medical authorities discuss the question, "Can Cholera be Averted?" Felix L. Oswald contributes a suggestive article on "The Animal Soul"; and the Rev. M. J. Savage, in "A Profane View of the Sanctum," brings an indictment against the daily press. The other articles are one on "The Price of Gas," by Charles H. Botsford, one on "Temperance Reform Statistics," by Prof. W. J. Beecher, and the chapter of "Comments," by various writers on articles in previous numbers.

—GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for August is a delightful number, handsomer in appearance, and more generally satisfactory than any of its predecessors. Every month seems to mark a stride in the progress of this popular magazine. The present issue opens with a beautiful charo-oscuro cut of "My Pets," a fine study of animal life as contrasted with graceful girlhood, and grouped against a strong back ground of nature. The illustrations this month are capital. A series of letters describing the trials of one pressed into service to write another's love-letters, under the title of "A Postscript," are particularly good. A powerful serial story, translated from the French by Emily Lennox, continues in this number, under the title of "The Yoke of Honor." An entertaining conversation on chicken-culture, incubating, etc., forms a feature of the book, and introduces a series of projected articles on the useful and ornamental occupations of women. "Phillipa's Pocket-Money" will furnish some valuable suggestions to women who are longing for some way to turn a profitable penny. A short parlor drama, called "He is an Englishman," is given this month for the use of summer idlers who do not care to go too deeply into the histrionic. "Bella Donna" is a very clever story of limited strength, and Mrs. Hayden's "Cup of Cold Water" is well calculated to win the fancy of all lovers of romance. GODEY'S never looked better than it looks now. In this day, when so many old publications are verging toward decrepitude and dotage, it is a pleasure to find one that defies the march time, and still preserves its pristine vigor and freshness while the years roll on. That all may be convinced of its merits, the Publisher offers to send the book for the remainder of the year for 75 cents.

An Automatic Post Office.

In a great number of railway stations in England there is a small box on legs, painted crimson, which may be called an automatic post office. It is divided into two compartments. On the top are apertures admitting a penny, one being for postal cards and the other for envelopes. You drop a penny through the slot and open a little drawer beneath and presto, you find a postal card. Drop two pennies in the right hand slot, open a corresponding drawer, and you find a stamped envelope containing a dainty sheet of note paper. These little conveniences are the property of a private company. The profit is very small, and only on the envelopes and sheets of note paper. You can't get the best of it by dropping in a bad penny, as it is not full weight it refuses to deliver and keeps your short coin conficiating that as a punishment for your attempt to cheat. It has a golden rule that works only one way.

—An authority on canned goods reveals the interesting fact that most of the jellies in the market are made of apple parings and cores. Sometimes the stock is kept so long that it will not make jelly—then they make strained honey of it. This is called enterprise in America; In France they call it criminal, and send the men who practice it to goal.

—"Arthur, where is a capstan on a vessel?" asked his wife. "Where is the capstand?" repeated her husband, who has wisely adopted the business principle of trying to make his wife think he knows everything, "why, in the hall, dear; it's simply a nautical term for a hat-rack, you know."

"My dear" remonstrated a wife, peering from under the bed clothes, "I do wish you would use the word "shecl." It sounds better." "It may sound better at times," replied her husband, who was noisily nursing his heel, "but when a man steps on a tack he wants the old version."
