REV. T. DEWITT TALMAGE.

A Noble Christmas Sermon in Brooklyn's Tabernacle.

"The Barn and Its Surroundings."

The World Gets the Christ It Needs, &c.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 23.—Services today at the Brooklyn Tabernacle were jubilant. Professors Brown and Ali, with organ and cornet, were unusually powerful, and Mrs. Florence Hoe-Kong sang three solos. The thousands of people who packed the church and all the approaches seemed to join in the great chorus—

"He shall reign from pole to pole
With illimitable sway;
He shall reign, when, like a scroll,
Yonder heavens have passed away."

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., took as the subject of his sermon, "The Barn and its surroundings." His text was taken from Luke ii, 15:—"The shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass." Dr. Talmage said:

Four thousand years of the world's existence rolled painfully and wearily along, and no Christ. Two thousand years, and no Christ. Three thousand years, and no Christ. Four thousand years, and no Christ. "Give us a Christ," had cried Assyrian and Persian and Chaldean and Egyptian civilizations, but the lips of the earth and the lips of the sky made no answer. The world had already been off-out of genius. Among poets had appeared Homer and Dante and Aristophanes and Sophocles and Euripides and Alcæus Zachylus, yet no Christ to be the most poetic figure of the centuries. Among historians had appeared Herodotus and Xenophon and Thucydides, but no Christ from whom all history was to date backward and forward.—B. C. and A. D. Among conquerors Cimilius and Manlius and Sagunlus and Xantippus and Hannibal and Scipio and Pompey and Cæsar, yet no Christ who was to be conqueror of earth and heaven.

But the slow century and the slow year and the slow month and the slow hour at last arrived. The world had listening or concerns in the morning and vespers or concerts in the evening, but now it is to have a concert at midnight. The black window shutters of a December night were thrown open, and some of the best singers of a world where they all sing stood there, and putting back the drapery of cloud chanted a peace anthem, until all the echoes of hill and valley responded and encored the faithful chorus.

At last the world has a Christ and

FOR THE CHRIST IN HEREN.

Come, let us go into that Christmas scene as though we had never before rushed into it, and let the Holy Spirit, with a very small fraction above cost, their fine and very carefully selected stock of Groceries. Call and examine for yourself, and you will find that we mean business.
