Lecture by Rev. R. Neale.

The Congregational Church was well filled last night with an interested audience, the occasion being a lecture by Rev. R. Neale, of Alleghany, Pa., on "The Good Old Times." The chair was occupied by Dr. Leonard, who introduced the speaker in a few well-chosen words. Mr. Neale condemned those people who were always complaining of the present and dwelling on "the good old times." The speaker pointed out the great advantages the present generation possessed over their forefathers, and complimented the press as one of the great criterions and advancers of modern civilization. The lecture was much enjoyed by the audience.

Garden Party at Mount Hope.

The grounds of Mount Hope Hospital presented a pleasant picture last evening with its crowd of pleasure-seekers, on the occasion of another of the series of garden parties given in aid of the funds of the institution. Chadwick's string band discoursed sweet melodies and added much to the enjoyment of the evening. A corps of pretty maidens were busily engaged during the evening in serving all manner of fruits and delicacies, which were to be had at a nominal cost, and the proceeds of which greatly swelled the receipts of the entertainment. A prize drawing was also held, the chief prize—a picture of Father Tiernan—being won by Mr. Joseph Henry.

The Races To-Morrow.

The attendance at the opening of the London Turf Club Association's meeting at Queen's Park was large, but to-morrow a great many more will undoubtedly attend as the best programme will then be presented. The events for to-morrow will be 2:40 class (trotters only); free-for-all class (trotters and pacers); running 1¼ mile dash; Hunt Club steeplechase. These events will prove remarkably interesting, especially the last named, for which special arrangements have been made. The eighteen jumps, which have been placed on the course, will include a water jump of seventeen feet near the stables and a solid stone wall of three feet. Ladies accompanied by gentlemen will be admitted free. The races start at 2 o'clock.

An Evening on the Lawn.

The garden party given at the Aged Women's Home under the auspices of the Women's Christian Association last evening was well attended. The lawn was tastefully decorated with Chinese lanterns, and a very enjoyable time was spent. The booths received liberal patronage which added materially to the success of the affair. The following ladies lent their assistance at the several stands: Candy table, Misses Elsie Perrin, Maggie Burns, Ethel Glancy and Mable Moule; flower table, Mrs. T. S. Wells; strawberry and ice cream booth, Misses Sheer, Smith, Complin, Ford, Carnegie, Reid, Skinner, Hyttenrauch, Gunn, Dunbar and Von Brockendoff, and Mesdames Allen, Peto, Perrin and Patterson; fancy goods, Mesdames Murray, Mrs. Carfrae and Mrs. Lee; Salvation Army band furnished the music of the evening.

Farewell to the Pastor.

A very enjoyable time was spent at the Methodist parsonage Melrose, on Friday evening. Upwards of 300 people, including many from other denominations, gathered to say farewell to Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Holmes prior to their removal to the Grand Bend circuit. The ladies of the congregation prepared lunch on the lawn and after all had done ample justice thereto, Reeve Boston acting as chairman called the company to order, when a pleasing feature ensued. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were invited to the platform and presented with an address and a purse of $50. Mr. John Staples and Mr. Geo. Shaw made the presentation in behalf of the friends assembled. Mr. Holmes replied, thanking all kindly, and spoke of the regret they would have at parting with so many warm hearted people. After speeches from Rev. Mr. Kennedy, Baptist minister, and Messrs. Mitchell, McIntyre and Gray followed by music from Miss Lena Tuckey, Miss McKellar, Miss Irwin and Mr. Farrel, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, the choir of the church and the Keays Harmonica Band, the company dispersed having spent another of those evenings which help to make life so much happier.

Alma College Annual Concert.

A large and appreciative audience assembled at McLachlin Hall, Alma College, St. Thomas, last night, on the occasion of the annual concert of the college under the directorship of Mr. St. John Hyttenrauch, the various numbers being rendered in a highly artistic manner. Special notice should be made of Miss Fleury's violin selections, which reflected credit alike on herself and her instructor, Mr. Roselle Pococke, of London. Mrs. Shilton favored the audience with a song entitled "Garden of Sleep" (Lara), which, not being on the programme as printed, was all the more appreciated. The programme was as follows:

Mr. J. W. Sifton's Success.

Mr. J. W. Sifton, governor of the Brandon Reformatory, is one of the most widely-known men in Manitoba, and his appointment to this responsible position has been commended by the Liberal and Conservative press alike, says the Winnipeg Tribune. He hails from London, Ont., where he was born in 1833. He came to Manitoba in 1875, where he engaged in contracting, having built section 14, C. P. R., the first portion of the great continental highway constructed west of Ontario. He also constructed a portion of the C. P. R. telegraph line. He was elected to the Manitoba Legislature in 1878, and was Speaker of the House in 1879. Mr. Sifton has always been a strong advocate of temperance. The last issue of the Canadian Northwest Banner, published in Winnipeg, says: "Hon. J. W. Sifton, of Brandon, was in Winnipeg last week. We were pleased to see him. No name in the Province of Manitoba stands more prominent in the history of temperance reform than that of Mr. Sifton's."

Legal Intelligence.

Chancery Division, London—John Oakey and Sons vs. William Flatau and Sons. This was a motion, which the parties agreed to treat as the trial of the action, before Mr. Justice Kay, on June 9, for an injunction to restrain the defendants from selling, or offering for sale, goods not made by the plaintiffs, so got up and labeled as to induce the trade and public to believe that such goods were goods of the plaintiffs' manufacture, and from passing off on the trade and public goods not made by the plaintiffs as and for goods of the plaintiff, and from infringing the plaintiffs' registered trade marks. According to the statement of claim the plaintiffs had for 50 years carried on business at Wellington Mills, Westminster Bridge-road, Surrey, as glass paper, emery cloth, and black lead manufacturers. Their trade mark was "Wellington." On the 19th September, 1876, they registered as a label for knife polish their trade mark, No. 9,048, registering at the same time the name "Wellington," together with a head of Wellington. In January, 1889, the defendant, a drysalter, set up a trade in knife polish, etc., selecting the name "Nelson" for his trade mark, but not using it because it differed in material particulars from the plaintiffs' registered trade mark. The defendant issued a price list, in which he inserted part of the plaintiffs' price ver- [illegible] the trade and put [illegible] public his goods as goods of the plaintiffs.

The defense was an almost point blank denial of the allegations in the statement of claim, fortified by a statement that the trade mark used by the defendant was by an arrangement with the plaintiffs, who, for good consideration, had agreed not to object to the modified use of the trade mark by the defendant.

Mr. Justice Kay, without calling upon counsel for the plaintiffs to reply, said this was a case in which the defendant had evidently determined to do everything in his power to get the advantage and the trade of another man by passing off his goods among the class of people who bought this class of goods, as the goods of the plaintiffs. He had gone as nearly as he dare to an exact imitation of the label and get-up generally of the canisters in which the plaintiffs were accustomed to sell their goods; and he wanted to persuade the court, although his intention to commit a fraud was manifest, that the arm of the court was not long enough to reach him. True, the defendant had submitted a diamond for the oval, but he (Mr. Justice Kay) had no doubt that his device was intended to deceive and calculated to deceive; that it was, infact, a continuation of the fraud in which the defendant began. The court could not help dealing with a case of this kind with considerable disgust and indignation. He should grant the injunction asked for, and order the defendant to pay the costs of the motion.

Constipation

IF not remedied in season, is liable to become habitual and chronic. Drastic purgatives, by weakening the bowels, confirm, rather than cure, the evil. Ayer's Pills, being mild, effective, and strengthening in their action, are generally recommended by the faculty as the best of aperients.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills. I deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"I have been taking Ayer's Pills and using them in my family since 1857, and cheerfully recommend them to all in need of a safe but effectual cathartic."—John M. Boggs, Louisville, Ky.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—S. L. Loughbridge, Bryan, Texas.

"Having used Ayer's Pills, with good results, I fully indorse them for the purposes for which they are recommended."—T. Conners, M. D., Centre Bridge, Pa.
