RAINCOATS

This is the season when the ad man is up against it, so to speak.

If he writes a raincoat ad, the chances are that by the time the paper comes out it's either very fine or cold enough for a heavy winter coat. There is this one consolation, though, about the modern raincoat, you won't go astray if you wear one every day from now till the first of June, because in it you have the spring overcoat and the rain shedder combined, so you are quite correct at any time—$10, $12, $15 are our popular prices for this very popular up-to-date garment, the "Raincoat."

it advisable to comply. The fact is, however, that the magistrates, on whose order the militia is called out, have the same power to order the withdrawal of the troops. The Dominion will pay $4481 out of consolidated fund and Valleyfield will pay $2940 for transportation.

Protest Against Aliens.

Mr. Clarke was informed that protests have been received by the Dominion Institute of Amalgamated Engineers, protesting against the employment of aliens in the service in connection with the proposed national transcontinental railway.

To-morrow the government will take up the militia bill, and if it exhausts this order the estimates will then be considered.

The auditor-general's report will be ready for distribution in the morning.

A day will be agreed upon between the government and the opposition for taking up the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway contract. In the meantime the correspondence between the government and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company will be brought down.

Jabel Robinson asked if the government proposed to introduce a bill regarding Sabbath observance. The premier replied that the government had been approached on the matter, but the question was a difficult one, involving the jurisdiction of the provinces, and had been referred to the law officers of the crown. The government will do nothing until the law officers make their report.

COMBES MEETS REVERSE.

Paris, March 21.—In the chamber of deputies to-day the government again met with a slight reverse. During the discussion of the religious education bill, after the adoption of the clause providing for the extinction of the teaching congregations by the suppression of novitiates, Georges Leygues, Radical Republican, moved an amendment excepting from the operation of the clause such novitiates as were intended to provide teaching staffs for schools abroad, either in the French colonies or the French protectorates. M. Doumergue, minister of the colonies, insisted that French interests would be best promoted by the extension of purely lay schools. Before a vote was taken on M. Leygues' amendment, there was a clamorous demand for a statement of the position of the government regarding the question, but Premier Combes refused to reply, whereupon the amendment was carried by a vote of 283 to 272.

Sully's Creditors Meeting.

New York, March 21.—After conferences of creditors of the assigned firm of Daniel J. Sully & Co., lasting several hours, it was announced to-night that no definite settlement had been made, but that things were in a fair way of arrangement. It was said that Mr. Sully had made a proposition to his creditors to settle, contingent upon the acceptance of which he offered to give them their choice of assignees, but that this proposal failed of immediate approval, and that another meeting would be held.

CITY AS A GARDEN TRUCKER

Markets Committee in Hamilton Will This Year Try an Interesting Experiment.

RAISE VEGETABLES ON JAIL GROUND

Hope to Raise Enough to Keep the House of Refuge and Jail Supplied.

Hamilton, March 21.—(Special.)—The members of the markets committee will try an interesting experiment. They are planning to raise vegetables on an acre and a half of ground at the jail. Chairman Nicholson, with Ald. Main and MacLeod, was appointed fo-night to buy seed and to see that the plot is made ready for gardening as soon as the snow thaws. The less dangerous class of prisoners will be made to look after the crop. The city fathers hope to raise enough garden stuff to keep the jail and the house of refuge supplied. The committee decided to have the lever taken out of the city hall elevator and other repairs made, at a cost of $18. There is little prospect of lavatories being built for the Central Market this year.

Contracts Awarded.

Contracts for supplies for the House of Refuge and City Hospital were awarded as follows this afternoon: Ice, William Carey, 11c per 100 lbs.; bread, William Lees & Sons, at $2.24 a hundred; milk, J. Gatherson, 14 1-2c a gallon. The committee will visit the refuge grounds next Wednesday to decide upon a site for the proposed Home for Incurables, so that the proposal may be considered by the city council next Monday evening.

Charge is Denied.

When the Woodmen of the World were here last week, one of the delegates, named Bennington, made the charge that he had tried to get accommodation at three or four different hotels and was refused. The charge is officially denied by the officers of the order, who say the delegates found no trouble in securing either bed or board.

The late Dr. Vernon left $12,767, and the late Alexander Milne $14,692.

Twenty-Five Entries.

The entries for the tenth annual exhibition of the Hamilton Camera Club, to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, and Saturday afternoon, this week, closed this evening. They number twenty-five, some members entering more than forty pictures. The artistic quality of the work done this season is of exceptional merit, and the exhibition promises to be the best the club has ever held. The exhibition will be open to the public.

LONDON STREET RAILWAY CASE.

Judgment Reserved in the Company's Appeal to Supreme Court.

London, March 21.—A special to The Advertiser from Ottawa says: "The supreme court this morning, before the argument in the case begun on Friday last was resumed, heard a motion for leave to appeal from a judgment in the court of appeal for Ontario, in the case of the London Street Railway Company v. the City of London. In 1895 the city and the company entered into an agreement for operating street cars by electricity, and a bylaw was passed for that purpose and validated by statute. The company operated under the statute for a time, and then another agreement was entered into, by which they undertook to make some changes in the routes, and the city approved of the same by resolution, in pursuance of which the company took up its rails on one street, and laid down rails on another. The city passed a bylaw on the terms of the resolution, which the mayor refused to sign, and the proceedings to enforce it failed, the court of appeal holding that it was incomplete. The council then refused to complete it, and passed other bylaws obliging the company to lay tracks on the street where the rails had been taken up, and regulating the speed of the whole road. This action was then brought for a mandamus to compel the mayor to complete the bylaw, and to have the other bylaws quashed. The mandamus was refused in the courts below, and one bylaw was quashed, and the company, on counter-claim by the city, was ordered by mandamus to lay the tracks under a bylaw declared valid.

"Judgment was reserved on this application, as well as on the city's application to cross-appeal, in case leave to appeal should be allowed. Hellmuth, K.C., for the application; Aylesworth, K.C., contra."

In the above despatch it is stated that the company took up its rails—presumably meaning on Rectory-street—in accordance with permission, thru a resolution, granted the company by the city council. This is incorrect. The company had the rails removed before the council took action, the company promising the mayor and city engineer to replace the rails on Rectory-street, when the city asked the company to do so. Subsequently the city agreed to allow Rectory-street to be abandoned, but such stiff objection was met with from all classes of East London residents that the council held a special meeting, rescinding its former action, and ordered the company to continue the operations on Rectory-street, and even since the city and the company have engaged in legal warfare.

THEY HAD A GOOD TIME.

The Brick, Tile and Terra Cotta Workers' Union, No. 19, held a very successful and enjoyable smoking concert at the Heydon House, Toronto Junction, Monday evening. An enjoyable program was given. Alfresh Rayner, president of the Toronto District Labor Council, acted as chairman. The program was: Fred Roberts, piano solo; Mr. Bowering, comic song; Joe Rider, mandolin solo; Teddie Ralph, song; phonograph selections; address by President Simpson of Brickmakers' Union, No. 99; Joe Rider, comic song; address by President Rayner, Toronto District Labor Council; Freddie Ralph, song; Tom Maxted, song; address by President Donovan of Brickmakers' Union, No. 118; Joe Rider, mandolin solo. The proceedings broke up with the singing of God Save the King.

WON'T GIVE 5-CENT PIECE COMPENSATION TO BELL

Fort William Paper Says Railway Commission is One-Man Affair, to Wit, Blair.

The Fort William Times-Journal discusses the recent decision of the railway commission in regard to the application of the twin towns for the privilege of placing a municipal telephone instrument in the C.P.R. station in this wise: A careful study of the railway act of last year will show the promotion of the greatest gag rule that was ever promulgated in a free country. It creates a commission of three, of which two have no voice whatever when a matter is up for decision that involves a question of law. The act provides that in such questions the ruling of the chief commissioner shall be paramount. In other words, the chief commissioner is at liberty to be counsel for both sides, and give the decision in accordance with his own argument. Mr. Blair, the Bell Telephone Co., and the C.P.R. can each one of them rest assured of one thing: the Towns of Fort William and Port Arthur will never give one five-cent piece for the privilege of placing their municipal telephones in the stations and offices of the C.P.R. There is no use of Mr. Blair and his commission wasting time on hearing arguments for determining compensation, for there will never be any paid by these towns. If the municipal telephone is ever placed in the C.P.R. premises in this town it will be at the same rate as individual and business men pay, and there will be no compensation for loss of business to either the Bell Telephone Company or the C.P.R. The people are united on that point. That must be a great commission. It is composed of three members who listen to arguments, but when it comes to a decision there is only one. It is not the railway commission; it is Mr. Blair's commission.

How much longer the people intend to stand the present course taken by legislators and others is a question that must soon be decided. The language of the railway act can mean only one thing, yet Mr. Blair says it means an entirely opposite one, and the rights of the people are fairly sneered at in the decision as given. We have always contended, and do yet, that the people of Fort William have the weapon in their own hands to force the C.P.R. to ask that municipal telephones be placed in their offices. It might mean a little hardship to a few merchants for a time, but no battle was ever gained without a fight. If people will remember that this very company that Mr. Blair intimates should receive $100,000 compensation if the town of Fort William is allowed to place its telephones in the C.P.R. station, caused to be printed and circulated articles that struck at the very life of our town, they may stop and consider before they are parties to helping the C.P.R. in sustaining a contract that Mr. Blair says is sacred. Contracts are sacred with everybody except those who have a gigantic pull with legislators.

A LOT OF LIARS.

London, March 21.—Speaking at Northampton last night against the introduction of Chinese labor into South Africa, Mr. Labouchere said that a more injurious, a more incompetent, or a more pernicious government than the present one this country had never been cursed with. The ministry would tell the country anything—such a lot of liars he never came across. He had known ministers not quite tell the truth before now, but they usually agreed upon the lie they would tell. These people were so silly that they did not agree; each man had his own lie, and one lie contradicted another.

Lynched in Texas.

Houston, Texas, March 21.—John Maynard, a negro, was found hanging to a telegraph pole to-day at Montgomery station, on the Santa Fe Railway, about 100 miles from Houston. Maynard had confessed that he was one of a party of negroes who had beaten and robbed a number of railroad laborers, one of the victims afterward dying.

Ill Effects of Indoor Life

Impure Air, Artificial Food, Lack of Exercise, Have Brought on Constipation, Clogging of the Kidneys and Liver Derangement.

The exceptional severity of the past winter is showing itself in the enormous death rates reported by the Boards of Health.

The extreme cold has necessitated indoor life. Rooms have been badly ventilated in the effort to keep them warm. Impure air and the use of artificial food have given rise to constipation, clogging of the kidneys, derangement of the liver, poisoning of the system and a complete upsetting of the organs of digestion.

As a result, many people are suffering from backaches, headaches, stomach troubles, biliousness and kidney pains who had previously considered themselves strong and healthy.

There are some reasons why Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most satisfactory treatment that you could possibly use under the circumstances.

They are wonderfully prompt to relieve pain and suffering, are thorough and far-reaching in action and lastingly beneficial, and because of their direct and continued action on the kidneys, liver and bowels, prove effective when ordinary medicine seems entirely useless.

By making these filtering and excretory organs active and vigorous Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills quickly eliminate from the blood and system generally the poisonous waste matter which causes pains and aches and gives rise to the most dreaded and most fatal of diseases.

MR. SPARLING

Mr. Samuel Sparling, Ladysmith, Pontiac Co., Que., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and believe there is no medicine to equal them. I was troubled for years with kidney disease and this treatment has cured me. When I began to use these pills I could only walk from my bed to a chair. Now I can go to the field and work like any man. They are an excellent medicine.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment is a perfect cure for itching piles. One box cured two members of my family who had suffered from this wretched ailment for four years."

Mrs. James Griffiths, Geneva-street South, St. Catharines, writes: "It gives me great pleasure to speak in commendation of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For some years prior to the spring of 1900 I was afflicted with serious derangements of the digestive functions, and liver and kidney disorders. I tried many remedies, without the desired results, until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After taking a few boxes of this medicine, I was again enjoying all my former health and vigor, and, in fact, feeling better than for ten years. Other members of our family have also received the best results from the use of this medicine, and I shall always consider myself under lasting obligation to Dr. Chase for what it has done for me and mine."

the lighting and waterworks departments and manage both under a commission of three men, as advocated by W. F. Maclean in his speech here. The company claim the right under clause 4 of an act passed April 16, 1895, when they applied for permission to lease the plant of the Light, Heat and Power Company, which they did in December of that year and have held ever since.

Citizens Are Aroused.

The more trouble is promised the citizens in connection with the taking over of this plant, their vote of to-day has shown clearly their attitude toward private corporations. There can be no doubt now that the people are thoroly roused to their interests, insofar as acquiring public utilities is concerned. It has been said that the company were willing to have the people take over the plant. This is denied by those who are in touch. They declare that nothing was left undone by the company to balk this action. They would not have gone to the expense of fighting the city in every court in the land and to the highest in the realm if this had been the case they say. On the contrary, it is felt that they fought to the last ditch to split the vote on the bylaw, which is the last step, so far as the people are concerned in the transfer.

Their Last Kick.

But the forces brought against them at the last moment precluded any such chance of success. They therefore made a virtue of necessity, and it is said actually voted for the measure or some of the prominent gentlemen connected with the company made such a statement. But to show how much the Light, Heat and Power Company, or, in other words the men composing it, have the interests of the city at stake, as is apparently professed by them, it would be only necessary to mention the fact that they are the same gentlemen who are chiefly interested in the Street Railway Company. And it has already been stated that the Street Railway Company are to take the first steps at once to reduce the revenue of the power plant of the city.

How Hand is Shown.

They have shown their hand, as had previously been stated in The World, in the request of Mr. Campbell for the right to bring power into the city to be sold in competition with the city plant. They declare arrogantly that they will serve the people and themselves with electrical power from outside sources. They claim they have the privilege to do this. This, then, does not, on the face of it, bear out the impression they desire to create, that they are in favor of the city or that they did not mind losing the franchise. It is quite evident now in the minds of many prominent people that they are determined even yet to have the advantage of supplying the citizens with light, heat and power. It is this scheme that they have been preparing from the moment they realized that their fight in regard to the vote was futile. And it is this very question, in the opinion of the well-informed, that will yet cause much trouble for the people.

ANOTHER CRYPTOGRAM.

London, March 21.—Poking fun at the Baconian theory, Mr. G. Bernard Shaw, in a lecture at Birmingham, pointed out that "if you take the titles of Shakespeare's plays—just a sufficient number for the purpose—and take the fourth letter from the end of the title, you will find that they spell 'Bernard Shaw.'"

The plays which contain this unintended cryptogram are the following, the selected letter being printed in capitals:

MacBeth.
Julius CaEsar.
Comedy of ErRors.
Merchant of VeNice.
Antony and CleopAtra.
Two Gentlemen of VeRona.

Sporting Notes.

Arthur Cripps, the middleweight champion boxer of Australia, has arrived in New York in quest of a match or two, and incidentally some American dollars. According to the Australian's manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, he is willing to take on any middleweight on this side of the pond and for any amount.

The Lindsay Cricket Club has called attention to an oversight in the publication of the cricket centuries made last summer, from which Shelton (pro) of that club was omitted. He made 106 for Lindsay against Orillia in August. Lindsay has given up the idea of forming a local league, and will entertain as many Toronto clubs as wish to make the trip east.
