The Neglected Continent.

NOTE. THE SPIRITUAL NEEDS OF SOUTH AMERICA may be judged by the darkness of this map. All centres where American or European Protestant missionaries are stationed are shown by the white dots numbered to refer to the Key. (The boundaries of the fourteen States of South America are indicated in white, as also the principal rivers.)

All parts printed black are either Roman Catholic, heathen, or uninhabited.

The population of South America is estimated at 37,000,000. Of these probably less than 4,000,000 have been reached by the Gospel, leaving 33,000,000 wholly unevangelized.
