How Red Rose Tea is Grown

TEA is a native plant of Northern India. Transplanted to Ceylon it lost much of its strength and richness, but gained in fragrance and delicacy.

That is why Ceylon tea is not a strong tea.

That is why I blend Indian and Ceylon teas together—that is how the strength and richness, fragrance and delicacy of Red Rose Tea are secured—that is why Red Rose Tea has that "rich fruity flavor."

'FRISCO TO AMEND CHARTER.

Prices of Saloon Licenses Raised From $100 to $500.

San Francisco, May 14.—The liquor question was again discussed Saturday by the authorities, and it was proposed that the charter of the city be amended so that a saloon license, which has heretofore been $100 a year shall be raised to $500. Before the fire there were 4,000 saloons in San Francisco. Saturday the police board of commissioners issued an order that all private clubs cease dispensing liquor to members.

Mayor Schmitz has directed that persons made homeless by fire be concentrated in two great camps, one in the Petrero, and the other at Golden Gate Park. This action has been made necessary for sanitary reasons. At present every vacant square is covered with tents of homeless campers.

A general reduction in the city's working force within the next 30 days will be ordered. Plans are under discussion whereby the most rigid economy may be enforced in municipal affairs. About 300 city employes will lose their positions or suffer a reduction in salary.

Woodstock Inventor, Charged With Conspiracy, Fails to Show Up.

Woodstock, May 12.—Eber B. Tree, who is charged with conspiracy to defraud, did not appear at the Police Court yesterday morning. He is the inventor of a rotary engine, and was placed under arrest on Monday upon a charge of conspiracy to defraud Robert Herbertson of this city of $100. Bail was granted for $5,000. Tree himself, his brother and his father going surety.

On Tuesday morning Tree left the city and has not returned.

On Tuesday a warrant was issued for forgery upon a charge preferred by Sidney Pearson of East Zorra, who alleges that Tree deposited a duplicate note for $1,000 in one of the local banks, and that the original is in Pearson's possession. The note given Tree, it is claimed, was marked "copy."

Yesterday morning Crown Attorney Ball asked that the bail be estreated.

Auctioneer John Kenwood of East Oxford was found guilty on three charges of forgery and sentenced to three years and six months in Kingston Penitentiary on each charge, sentence to run concurrently.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Wash oilcloths and linoleums with warm water and Sunlight Soap, rinse clean and wipe dry. The colors will be preserved and the surface unharmed.

Common soaps fade the colors and injure the surface. Sunlight Soap cleans, freshens and preserves oilcloths and linoleums.

Sunlight Soap washes clothes white without injury to the most delicate fabrics, or to the hands, for it contains nothing that can injure either clothes or hands.

Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but is best when used in the Sunlight way (follow directions).

NO. 6. MASTER MINDS ON MUSIC

Being the sixth of a series of ten talks introducing sayings of great men, applicable to the Nordheimer Piano, the symbol of perfect music..

O music, sphere descended maid,
Friend of pleasure, wisdom's aid.
—Collins.

The above couplet of Collins' expresses briefly but to the point what music really is. First it is the friend of pleasure. This is exemplified in the enjoyment there is to all who possess a good piano and especially to owners of

The Nordheimer Piano

Such an instrument as this high-class piano is an aid to wisdom as well, as only in a perfect musical instrument can one find perfect music and learn the art as it should be learned.

The art of piano playing depends not only on the player's talents but upon the talent of the man who constructed the instrument used. Those who construct the NORDHEIMER are artists in piano-making. They are more than piano makers—they are tone makers. We invite all to visit our warerooms and hear the NORDHEIMER tone.

SEA DISTRESS SIGNALS

METHODS BY WHICH MASTERS OF VESSELS MAY COMMUNICATE.

The Case of the British King and What Resulted From Misread Flag Messages—Ocean Collected Toll of Vessel and Eleven of Her Crew—The International Code and Its Value On the Ocean.

CODE FLAGS A AND B.

AT the time when winter yields reluctantly to the embrace of spring the sailor is on the watch for storms and blows and weather which puts the seaworthiness of his craft to the test. It is at such times that the men who go down to the sea in ships need to freshen up their memories on the subject of signals to be used in case the vessel should be in distress and passing seafarers must be hailed and asked for assistance. When the freighter British King sank in midocean a short time ago eleven men went to their deaths because a signal had been misread. There were twenty-nine survivors of the wreck, but all on board might have been saved had a certain signal been read correctly when help was first requested.

Signaling according to certain generally understood systems has been in use by seagoing vessels from time immemorial, but in recent times many improvements have been introduced, and there is now a regularly accepted international code of signals. It was such a code that the officers of the British King used when they found their vessel in peril in the middle of the Atlantic during a violent gale and sighted the German tank steamer Mannheim. The British King at once flew the international code signal meaning "Help; please stay with me; I am sinking." The Mannheim replied, "I will not leave you."

Then the British King officers made a mistake. They flew a signal which was read, "Damage may be repaired in six hours." This did not tally with the first signal and puzzled the captain of the Mannheim, but he decided to stay near by and flew the signal meaning "Stop your engines." The captain of the British King misread this signal and thought it meant "Stay on board;" consequently his vessel kept moving, and it was impossible for the Mannheim to put a lifeboat alongside. The Mannheim kept near by the distressed vessel during the night, and when dawn broke a hurricane was blowing and the British King was pitching and rolling in the giant seas. She flew the signal "Am sinking; send lifeboats," and the Mannheim and another ship, the Bostonian, which had been hailed, responded. It was almost impossible to get lifeboats alongside in the high seas, but at last twenty-nine men were taken off. By that time night had come again, and no more trips could be made. During the night the British King sank to the bottom, carrying eleven men with her. But for the delay caused by misreading signals all, it is believed, might have been taken off in safety.

The new international code of day signals for merchant vessels went into effect in 1901 and consists of nineteen square flags, two swallowtail flags and five pennants, besides the code or answering pennant. With the exception of the last named signal, all are assigned to different letters of the alphabet. In this way by the use of different flags all kinds of messages may be spelled out, but some of the alphabetic flags have special meanings when hoisted alone. Thus, "Yes," in the international code is represented by C, a white pennant containing near the staff a red disk. "No" is represented by D, a blue pennant with a white disk. A vessel in distress may hoist the flags standing for N and C. The first is a square flag containing blue and white squares arranged like a checkerboard. The second has already been described Two burgees, or swallowtail flags, the first white and blue, the second red, stand for A and B. The form of these signals, though not their color, is given in the engravings at the head of the column. The flag A may be used over that of B to signal "Abandon the vessel as fast as possible."

Several thousand signals may be given by different combinations of flags. The signals in common use, however, are comparatively few.

The Case With Him.

Mr. Henpeck—The idea, Maria! Do you think I should be sent to jail?

Sunshine Furnace

INEXPENSIVE HEAT

It is not the price you pay for a furnace that makes it cheap or expensive, but the fuel it afterwards consumes.

A common furnace may cost you $5 or $10 less than a "Sunshine," but if it eats this up the first winter in extra fuel, what do you gain? Nothing, but all the annoyance and extra work that go with a poor furnace.

The "Sunshine" is in use from Halifax to Vancouver, and we have hundreds of testimonials from pleased users.

Regicides Still on Top.

Belgrade, Servia, May 12.—Five army officers have been tried by court martial and dismissed from the service because they congratulated the editor of a local newspaper on his anti-regicide campaign. The sentence has caused a sensation and disposes of the belief that the army is preparing to purge itself of the regicides.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.
