FRIDAY, NOV. 12.

BREAKFAST — Bananas with orange juice. Veal kidney omelet. Duchess potatoes. Sally Lunn gems. Coffee.

LUNCHEON — Stewed tongue. Bread and butter. Quince delight. Luncheon cake. Meringued chocolate.

Dinner—Consomme with egg. Broiled white fish. Mashed potatoes. Baked onions. Celery. Cheese biscuits. Apple trifle. Coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Bananas with Orange Juice—Cut the bananas an inch thick, place on dish and sprinkle over them one tablespoonful powdered sugar to four bananas, then add the juice of two oranges. Prepare the night before and set in a cool place.

Duchess Potatoes—Peel six medium-sized potatoes, cut into quarters, cook a light brown in hot fat. Make a batter of one cup of sweet milk, two eggs well-beaten, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two cups of flour, one teaspoonful baking powder. Stir in the potatoes and cook each piece the same as fritters. Very nice.

Stewed Tongue—Cut cold boiled tongue into thick slices and stew slowly in a rich gravy left from a roast, about three hours.

Quince Delight—Bake ripe quinces thoroughly. When cold remove the skins and place in a dish. Sprinkle with sugar and serve with cream.

Luncheon Cake—One cup of sugar, one cup of sour cream, one egg, two cups flour, half a teaspoonful of soda. Flavor with nutmeg or to taste. Bake about half an hour. Is best warm.

Consomme Soup—Take one soup bone cut up one carrot, onion and turnip and some celery, two cloves, four whole peppers, one bay leaf, the whites of three eggs and their shells. Mix all together, add one gallon of water. Place on fire, and when it boils give less fire, add one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a fresh red pepper. Simmer slowly three hours, strain through a napkin, and serve with a soft poached egg to each person.

Cheese Biscuits—Two large tablespoonfuls of butter, four large tablespoonfuls of flour, two of grated cheese, a little cayenne and salt. Make into a thin paste and roll out very thin, cut in pieces four inches long and one broad. Bake a light brown and serve hot.

Apple Trifle—Take four cups of apples, pared, cored and sliced, put into a dish with one pound of loaf sugar, the juice of lemons and grated rind of one. Boil about two hours, turn into a dish, and when cold pour over a plain custard. Serve cold.

Nervous people find relief by enriching their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is the one true blood purifier, and nerve tonic.

The danger is in neglect. That is why so many colds lead to a fatal disease. Ransom's Hive Syrup and Tolu is made for throat and lung troubles. It acts like magic. Sold by druggists. 16

NILESTOWN COUNCIL, NO. 425.

Royal Templars of Temperance—Success and Progress of the Organization.

Mr. T. B. Spence, in dealing with the effective work done by the Good Templars of Temperance, calls special attention to the inception and progress of Nilestown Council, No. 425, which, through a checkered career of success and adversity, now occupies a proud and enviable position. This council was organized March 14, 1891, with the following officers: S. C., Bro. J. G. McClary; V. C., Sister Mrs. Duncan; P. C., Bro. J. A. James; Chap., Bro A. E. Barnard; R. S., Bro. Wm, Pack; F. S., Bro. A. Cartwright; Sentinel, Sister K. McClary; Herald, Sister Myra Odell; Guard, Bro. D. A. James. The other members elected in 1891 were: Bros. C. Smith, A. Leith, George Passmore, Charles Mossop, Sisters Ella Barnard, C. Leith, Minnie Leith, making a membership of 16 for the opening year.

In 1892 there were 21 initiations; 1893, 17; 1894, 59; 1895, 1; 1896, 10; 1897, 22; making a total of 146. There have also been admitted by transfer eight members, making a grand total of 154. Since 1891 some $252 04 has been realized from concerts and garden parties, the money being carefully and most judiciously expended. The council is now out of debt and has a balance of $10 in its treasury. In noting the stagnation which marked the history of the council in 1895, after its marvelous growth in 1894, Mr. Spence says: "While we believe firmly in the priciple of animated activity, we most strenuously advise the council to avoid all momentary excitable movements, which can only be followed by a lack of interest in all things concerning the welfare of the order, and of the advancement of temperance reform in general. But we desire to impress the necessity for a vigorous effort upon the part of each one of us to make every meeting of our council a success."

The select degree was instituted by Bro. Rhines, of the Crusaders, on Feb 26, 1894. There have been twelve members admitted to that department of the order. In this connection, Mr. Spence makes feeling reference to "the principal originator of the select degree, the late Sister Maggie James, who was taken from us in the prime of her usefulness," and concludes:

"Then let this body of temperance workers ever remain true to the principles so faithfully upheld by the dear one who has gone before us to her heavenly home. . . . Let us come here with a determination to help on that grand and glorious cause—temperance reform; and when we kneel in solemn humility before the throne of grace, may we pray from the inmost recesses of our hearts the prayer so solemnly used in our ceremony: "God hasten the day when the fatal scourge of intemperance shall be driven from the land."

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

SYMPTOMS.—Moisture; intense itching and stinging, mostly at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue, tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. All druggists, or by mail, 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

A scheme is on foot at Aylmer, under the supervision of Rev. Mr. Andrew, to build a gymnasium for the use of the Boys' Brigade of that town. The size of the building is to be 40 by 60 feet, and it is proposed to erect it in the rear of Trinity Church. The cost will be some $300. Mr. Andrews has already collected $50.

Wednesday morning Charles Bowen, a young Harwich farmer, who is alleged to have behaved brutally towards two young English home boys whom he has in his employ, came before Judge Houston, at Chatham. The case was enlarged until the 16th. Bowen was himself a home boy. One of the instruments of chastisement produced in court was a huge hickory club, five feet long. Neighbors informed against Bowen.

John Wilhelm, of North Easthope, has purchased J. & A. Fisher's farm in the second concession of that township, for $9,250. The Wilhelm family now own about 1,500 acres in the township, and for that they have paid over $80,000. That real estate is increasing in value is shown by the fact that the farm that has just changed hands was offered last year for $9,000, and not sold.

Harry Dalton, one of the two men who created such a furore last Tuesday night by entering E. Marshall's pork store in Woodstock, assaulting the proprietor, and then leading a crowd of citizens a chase of several blocks, was sent up for trial on two charges, one of assaulting with intent to murder Reuben Walton, druggist, and the other of stealing a quantity of eggs from E. Marshall.

Mr. Sandison, son-in-law of Theo. Wigle, writes that he has got over the most difficult passes to Klondike, and is now located in a log cabin, with plenty of provisions, and will be in the gold fields early in the spring. This makes four Kingsvilleites in that place at present, viz., Jess J. Wigle, Fos. Scratch and the Woodbridge boys.

Many Old People Say

That Paine's Celery Compound Is the True Fountain of Youth.

The Only Medicine That Makes Old People Happy and Well.

It should be remembered that when the feeling of old age comes on it is due to a weakened nervous system. One of the most prominent medical writers of the day says: "The various pains, rheumatic or otherwise, which old people often complain of, and which materially disturb their comfort, result from disordered nerves."

When you feel old, whether you are 20 or 80, use Paine's Celery Compound, as it will assuredly strengthen and build you up. The great medicine has added years of peace, free from the infirmities of old age, to thousands of lives.

Old people should bear in mind that Pain's Celery Compound purifies the blood when it moves slowly and sluggishly, removing rheumatism, neuralgia, heart palpitation, nervous weakness, sleeplessness and troubles with kidneys, liver and stomach. In a word, Paine's Celery Compound makes the old feel vigorous and young.

When once one has gained courage to own oneself poor, poverty has lost its sharpest sting.

Severe Asthma Relieved.

Dear Sirs,—We have used Norway Pine Syrup in our home a great deal. I have a little boy who has had asthma for five or six years (he is only 10 now), and during the severe attacks he would get great relief from using the syrup. For an ordinary cold it is ahead of any cough medicine I ever took.

Galley's Remedies and His Humane Treatment.

GIVING NEW LIFE

To Scores of Helpless Invalids Considered Incurable.

Mr. Donald Bain, carpenter, of 175 Brunswick avenue, Toronto, testifies to the curative powers of Galley's Remedies, as follows:

"Hearing of the many remarkable cures accomplished by Galley's Homeopathic Remedies, I decided to try Galley's Worm Cure for my children, who had been ailing for some time. I found it not only eradicated the worms from their systems, but acted as a tonic, building up their strength in a very short time. Since that I will use no other for the many diseases that children are troubled with, and do hereby recommend them to others, no matter what their trouble may be. (Signed)

The Keswick Brethren

Another Criticism of Their Arguments and Methods.

I have read the communications which have appeared in your paper on the above subject, and agree with the position of Mr. Clark, of your city. The errors of the "brethren" seem to me to have their source mainly in the failure to distinguish adequately between the spirit as given for service (especially during the period of founding the N. T. church) and the spirit as given for sanctification. My quandam class-fellow's volume, "The Spirit-Filled Life," suffers from the same failure. During the time of Paul's apostleship the spirit was given for service to many ordinary, or non-official Christians. Examples of the kinds of "gifts" for service may be read in I. Corinthians, xii., 28-30. The apostle exhorts the Christians in Corinth to "covet earnestly the best gifts," "and yet," adds he, "I shew unto you a more excellent way." The description of this more excellent way follows in chapter xiii. To grow in the capacity for exercising Christian love is "more excellent" than even the possession of the spirit-bestowed "gifts" for service. In attainment of the former kind the Corinthian Christian had not made nearly the progress the apostle had hoped for and wished. (Vide I. Cor., iii., 1-4). Such was also the case with the Hebrews (v., 11-14), notwithstanding the great joy and assurance with which they had embraced the new faith. The spirit for service was given to the architects of the tabernacle on the old dispensation (Exodus, xxxi.) whatever was the stage of their sanctification personally, and even to Baalam, unsanctified though he was. The case of some of the judges is also in point. Moreover the history of the church furnishes many instances of spirit-endowed men for service who were in nowise noted for their personal sanctification. The personal sanctification of the apostles did not take such an immense bound at Pentecost, as some would have to conclude from their theories. The full effect of the spirit for service may come as suddenly as on Pentecost, or as upon Samson of old, but the effects of the working of the spirit for sanctification are always gradual as the growth of the grass. This latter must necessarily be so, for the individual believer is a co-worker, and as a moral agent, must make frequent choice on his way to final victory.

Since the compilation of the N. T. canon we cannot legitimately expect such "gifts" for service, as some of the ordinary Christians of old obtained. We have sufficient guidance in the written word, and should "meditate on these things," and seek the spirit to make us believe more thoroughly, and realize more spiritually and intensely, both for service and sanctification, the truths there set forth, rather than expect by the spirit's aid to be spared the necessity of patient, intelligent study of what has been revealed for our guidance, and spared also the self-denial, daily cross-bearing, and watchfulness, needful as co-workers in our personal sanctification. It is not a new thing for movements to spring up within the church professing to teach short cuts to desirable ends, and ill-instructed and unstable people are apt to be carried away by them. The old way for attaining both personal assurance and sanctification, as far as we are co-workers, is that advocated by Peter (II. Peter, i., 5-10), and by the Great Teacher himself (John, viii., 31-32). Anyone who will honestly face Peter's programme will have his faith exercised in a legitimate and intelligent manner (and all his faith will here get abundant scope), rather than seek to exercise it in a magical manner, or in an opus operatum method, to put him past the necessity of traveling step by step in the good old way.

One word more. It is a mistake to suppose that he who appears to be the most sinless, either in reality to others, or in his own experience, is the most sanctified. What about Paul's experience of himself and of perfectionists? (Philippians, iii., 12-15). Let anyone who desires to understand thoroughly about sanctification in its connection with the present correspondence read and study Thomas Goodwin's treatise on "The Trial of a Christian's Growth" (vol. iii., pp. 435-506). I am, etc.,
