A GREAT SPORTING DAY.

IMMENSE GATHERINGS ON THE TWO ATHLETIC GROUNDS.

The Bankers' Sports at the Rosedale Park—About 2500 people present—The Prize-Winners.

Saturday was a red letter day among the athletes of the city and their competitors from a distance. The two principal events was the eighth annual sports of the Bankers' athletic association of Toronto at Rosedale and the games in the old lacrosse field, which are fully described elsewhere. The weather was cool and pleasant, and not at all too warm to indulge in outside exercise. About 2500 people were present at the bankers' games. Over one half of those that filled the immense grand stand were ladies in bright June attire. Among the gathering were the leading matrons and maidens of the city, and they exhibited the deepest interest in the sports. A preponderance of white hats was noticeable among the gallants who strutted along the front of the stand, and they were repeatedly doffed to their fair acquaintances. Governor Robinson and Mr. Yarker both wore white pluga. The officers of the day were Ross Mackenzie; referee; H. S. Strathy, D. R. Wilkie and J. C. Kemp, judges; E. T. Malone, starter; J. B. Henderson, J. Massey and James Pearson, time-keepers; H. F. Wyatt, clerk of course. The games were a success in every way, but the time in the running contests was poor compared with former years. The prizes were nearly all gold and silver medals. One professional who ventured in the games was summarily dealt with. The 10th Royal Grenadiers band performed the following selection of music:

G and March...The Roman Guards..Donizetti
Waltz.....In the Twilight.....Coote

The tug-of-war between the bankers and brokers concluded the sports. The tug was very exciting and was won by the brokers, whose team was composed of Robt. Cochrane, H. Kersterman, W. J. Baines, S. A. Dentson, H. M. Pellatt and Ewing Buchan. The bankers were represented by G. W. Yarker, J. C. Kemp, D. R. Wilkie, J. O. Buchanan, R. W. Travers and H. A. Nicholson. The corpulent Mr. Kemp acted as anchor for the bankers and Mr. Cochrane for the brokers Mr. Yarker pulled so hard that he, when the contest was over, did not know one side of his white vest from the other, and put it on wrongside out.

During the progress of the games the prizes were on exhibition on a table on the grounds. Governor Robinson called on the winners to come forward. After apologizing for the absence of Mrs. Robinson, he called on Mrs. Yarker to assist him in presenting the prizes, which she graciously did.

The Torontos Beaten by the Shamrocks in Montreal.

The long talked off match between the Torontos and their old-time foes, the Shamrocks, came off on the grounds of the latter in Montreal on Saturday. A large crowd assembled and were repaid by witnessing a tremendous struggle. When the Torontos won the first game in 2½ minutes the excitement was intense, and this was increased when the visitors scored a triumph in the second game in 12 minutes. After that the Shamrocks, who had hitherto played a loose game, pulled themselves together. A grand struggle took place, but it was plain that the Torontos were not the stayers that the Shamrocks were. The latter won the next three games.

THE DOUBLE DROWNING ACCIDENT

Dragging for the Bodies—Little Hope of Their Recovery.

The two youths drowned on Thursday night were John Morse, aged 14 years, residing at 310 Jarvis street, with his mother, Mrs. E. A. Morse, and Richard Howard, aged 15, who resided with his parents at 128 Seaton street. The circumstances of the accident are peculiarly painful. The mother of young Morse is a widow, her husband about two years ago bleeding to death from having accidentally cut an artery in his thigh. The lady was recently called away to Winnipeg to wait upon her eldest son who is sick with typhoid fever and is not expected to live. At the time of the accident the father of young Howard, T. E. Howard, traveler for C. P. Reid & Co., was on the road and in answer to a telegram arrived home yesterday from the east at 11 o'clock. It appears that between 9 and 10 o'clock on Thursday night the two youths chartered a row boat from Mrs. Grieves for the purpose of taking a friend named Clarence Thorne to the island, where the latter resides. This they did, and at about 12 o'clock started for home. At this time the wind was blowing at the rate of fourteen miles an hour north by east and the bay was very rough. Between 12 and 1 the wind rose higher and it is believed that their boat was swamped. The next morning the oars and Howard's coat were found floating in Blockhouse bay. On the night of the accident Howard's elder brothers crossed over to the island in a yacht. The bay was so rough at midnight that they considered it unsafe to go back in her. One of them returned to the city in the ferry boat and the other remained in the yacht to take care of her. Neither of them saw their brother else they would not have allowed him to cross in an open boat. All day yesterday Esplanade Constable Williams, assisted by George D. Morse, uncle of the young man, and Howard's two brothers dragged for the bodies without success but the work will be resumed to-day.

The County Council.

The county council wound up its business on Saturday. A bylaw was passed providing for the shifting of toll-gates on the York roads. Reeve Duncan of York township was named a director on the Metropolitan street railway board. The following motion by Mr. Tyrell of Weston was carried:

A motion by Mr. Turner that a subway at the Yonge street crossing was preferable to an overhead bridge was carried. A copy of the resolution will be sent to the railway committee of the privy council.

The Conspiracy Investigation.

The commission appointed to investigate the charges of bribery against Messrs. Bunting, Meek, Wilkinson and Kirkland began their sittings on Saturday at 12 o'clock at Osgoode hall. Mr. Meek was the only one of the respondents present. The commission authorizing the holding of the court having been read by the secretary, J. C. Hamilton, Judge Proudfoot stated that in order to give the respondents plenty of time the hearing of evidence would be postponed until July 14, when it will be proceeded with from day to day until concluded. The commissioners are Judge Proudfoot, County Judge Scott of Peel and County Judge Senkler of Lincoln.

Gas in Competition With Electricity.

On the subject of gas in competition with electricity the New York Tribune publishes the following from Wm. Farmer, gas engineer: The introduction of the electric light has not hurt the gas interest; rather it has led to an increased consumption of gas. It has certainly created a demand for more light, and people whose eyes have been dazzled by the glare of the electric light use gas more freely and extravagantly than they ever did before. There was never more gas consumed in New York than now, and the same may be said of all the other large cities in the country. This, in a measure, may be ascribed to the increasing demand for gas as a source of heat as well as light. You can cook better with gas than with coal and with less trouble and discomfort. Then the gas engine is being introduced extensively. Manufacturers are months behind with their orders and running to their full capacity to supply the demand. People do not know how much light can be got out of gas. Electric discoveries have stimulated inventions in gas burners, and there is now at the Manhattan gas works, in this city, a Siemen's burner that gives a light equal to 1800 candles, and there are others which are of 500 candle power. I see no reason why the illuminating power of gas may not be indefinitely increased. These burners have been recently introduced, and the demand for them is so great in Europe that we can get none here. By their use gas is cheaper than electricity of the same illuminating power. The electric light has not had things all its own way by any means. It has been repeatedly beaten by gas on the continent and in England, mainly on account of its expensiveness, and many electric light companies have collapsed there.

On entering the drawing or sitting room the first to attract the attention of the visitor will be the furniture. Drop a card to T. F.
