"Kiltie" Regiment From The Maritime Provinces

Col. H. Montgomery Campbell to Command is Report Today — More Men Needed For Artillery Units and 55th

It is understood that in addition to another maritime province regiment after the 55th, a Kiltie Regiment, will be formed in the maritime provinces under command of Lieut.-Colonel H. Montgomery Campbell, of Apohaqui, formerly officer commanding the 8th Hussars. Recruiting for this unit, it is believed, would be most popular, and the expectation is that the ranks could be quite easily filled. The number of the battalion would be the 64th, and it would comprise volunteers from all parts of the three maritime provinces.

More Men

Lieut.-Colonel B. R. Armstrong, O. C. the 3rd Regt. C. A., is in Halifax today conferring with the military authorities at headquarters. A message received from him this morning by Capt. J. R. Miller told of a call for fifty men for service in the 26th battery of artillery in Fredericton, whose ranks are now somewhat depleted. Recruits will be taken at the local offices, the preference being given to men who have had experience in artillery detail, or in horsework, although there would be no rejections if all other requirements were satisfactory. St. John will be asked in the near future also to furnish its quota of men of the 180 needed to fill the ranks of the heavy field battery, which will be made up in part of recruits from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

The Campaign

A brisk, energetic and short campaign is favored by some of the officers to fill the ranks of the 55th now under canvas at Camp Sussex. The strength of the 55th is now 975, and to fill the ranks, 225 more are required. There will not be any careless selections in order to complete the lists—the same exactness which has characterized the recruiting for this unit up to the present will be maintained, and there is a growing confidence that by the close of the week the desired number should be available.

The Honor Roll

Several applications were received today by Sergt. London at the recruiting offices from men desiring to serve. Two more were sent forward to Sussex on Saturday night, James Allen of Quebec, and Joseph Bruneaux of Montreal.

HAS MESSAGES FROM LONDON TO PRESIDENT

British Destroyers Conveyed Wilson's Personal Representative Through War Zone

New York, June 14—Today's New York Tribune says:

"Great Britain made certain by a convoy of destroyers that Col. E. M. House president Wilson's personal representative, would not be molested on his way out of the war zone and his arrival here yesterday on the American Liner St. Paul was likewise safeguarded by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port.

"It was said that these precautions were due to the fact that Colonel House bore important messages for President Wilson from London and the British foreign office was determined they should not go awry through German undersea interference.

"The personal representative, however, has dispatches from Berlin also, and it is reasonably sure that Germany would not do anything to prevent their delivery. Moreover, the St. Paul is an American ship. She carried several hundred Americans and the possibility of her being torpedoed was unlikely."

AT SUSSEX

Rev. Hector Belliveau went to Sussex on Saturday and assisted Rev. Father McDermott in his church there yesterday.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH OF ROUMANIA

The King of Greece is now seriously ill. His death would present a very interesting situation with the Balkan states. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Emperor of Germany and it is believed her influence over the King has kept Greece from joining the Allies. The Crown Prince of Greece is engaged to Princess Elizabeth of Roumania, and as that country is also on the verge of completing the Allies "iron ring" around Germany, it is almost certain that if the king died it means that Greece and Roumania and the other Balkans will enter the war. As the Queen of Greece is a sister of the German Emperor, she will undoubtedly return to Germany if her husband dies.

FIELD SECRETARY FOR MT. ALLISON

Rev. Brandford Porter Appointed by Methodist Conference

LIQUOR IN SACKVILLE

Delegate Says Illegal Sale is Disgrace to University Town—Supernumerary Fund—Dr. Morton Urges Increase of $100,000 in Endowment

Matters relating to Mount Allison University received consideration at the morning session of the N. B. and P. E. I. Methodist conference. Dr. B. C. Borden presented his report showing, among other matters, the effect of the war upon the institution. His recommendation that a field secretary be engaged to present the claims of the university for students and financial aid during the summer, was approved and Rev. Bradford Porter appointed.

Discussion of college affairs led to an attack by a layman on social conditions in Sackville with the charge that liquor is sold freely and openly. The efforts of the college authorities to suppress the traffic were described and approved.

The proposed to amalgamate the Christian Guardian and the Wesleyan was brought up and disapproved. It, therefore will not be put into effect.

In presenting the report of the supernumerary fund Dr. A. S. Morton announced that only eighty per cent of the claims are being paid this year and appealed for additional endowment of $100,000.

The conference resumed at nine o'clock this morning with Rev. Richard Opie presiding. After devotional exercises, in the course of which a thoughtful address on "The teaching of Jesus concerning His death" was given by Rev. Charles Flemington, the business of the conference was again taken up.

Rev. George Steel presented the report of the supernumerary endowment fund, showing an increase in the endowment as follows, paid $17,965.81, promised, $1,750, total $19,718. A motion expressing the appreciation of Mr. Steel's work in connection with the fund was unanimously adopted.

The report of the committee on the Children's Fund was presented by Rev. George Steel, A. E. Rowley and E. R. Machum were added to the auditing committee of this fund, with Thomas Hicks and Mr. Moore.

A communication from Rev. J. W. Bartlett was presented and placed in the hands of the committee on Sunday schools.

The report of the Parsonage Aid Committee was presented by Rev. R. J. A. Ives and adopted.

The Amalgamation.

The proposed amalgamation of the Wesleyan and Guardian was then taken up. Rev. George F. Dawson moved that "Whereas a proposal for the amalgamation of the Wesleyan and the Christian Guardian has been recommended by the eastern section of the Book Committee, this conference, having fully considered the proposition, does not believe that it would be in the interest of our work, that such an amalgamation should take place at present." The motion was carried.

The report of Dr. Borden re Mount Allison institutions was submitted. Dr. Borden gave an interesting account of the work of the institutions, showing excellent progress despite adverse circumstances. He referred to the difficulties arising from the war which had been shown in a slightly decreased attendance. Thirty of their students have volunteered for military service and 150 others took the military training course. The number of students in the university was 232, with a total of 700 in all the institutions, and more than fifty teachers. The total income was $61,211, and the expenditure was $59,842. In view of this they had felt justified in engaging another professor of classics. Dr. Borden spoke of the fact that, although the financial situation is improving, there is still a deficit of $116,000, and appealed for the support of the church. He spoke also of the delay in commencing to erect the new science building, owing to war conditions. He recommended that Rev. Bradford Porter be engaged for the summer to present the claims of the institutions throughout the conference. As an added reason for support and for parents sending their children he referred to the high moral tone of the institutions and of their beneficial effect upon the religious life of the students.

Rev. Bradford Porter followed Dr. Borden, also speaking of the work of the Mount Allison institutions.

Rev. Chas. W. Squires moved that "the conference has heard with deep interest and pleasure Dr. Borden, representing the interests of our institutions of Mt. Allison. It deeply feels its obligation to the university and desires to express its appreciation of the work done and the plans outlined for the future, especially in regard to the appointment of Rev. B. J. Porter of the Nova Scotia conference to be field secretary in the interests of the work for the summer months." Carried.

Liquor at Sackville

An attack on conditions in the town of Sackville was made by A. C. M. Lawson, who charged that liquor is being sold openly and that the university authorities and the Methodist church is at fault in not putting an end to this situation.

Other delegates spoke as strongly defending the college and church leaders, pointing out how much had been done in the face of the opposition or indifference of other elements. A motion expressing approval of the efforts of Dr. Borden and the university staff in this connection was adopted.

Rev. Thomas Marshall spoke of the work of the supernumerary fund and moved that "This conference approves of the proposition to increase the number of members of the committee from eight to twelve, and that, if a majority of the members of the fund approve of the change, the special committee of the conference be instructed to make the appointment for this conference." This was adopted by a standing vote.

Wants $100,000.

The report of the Supernumerary Fund was presented by Dr. A. D. Morton. It showed an income of $24,745.69, leaving a balance over expenditures of $226.67. The capital account shows total assets of $152,586.01. Dr. Morton was heard in defence of the work of the fund and its administration. Speaking of additional burdens being placed on the fund and that, while ninety per cent of the payments were made last year, only eighty per cent would be paid this year, Dr. Morton said emphatically that the endowment should be increased by $100,000. He urged the church to make a supreme effort to provide the funds to meet the just obligations to the aged ministers and their families.
