A CHURCH CLUB.

Bishop Sweatman's Suggestion To the Sunday School Association.

At a meeting of the Toronto Sunday School Association yesterday in the Synod Chambers, 15 Wellington-street west, the Bishop pointed out the necessity of having some "permanent place of habitation" for the meetings of the society. Without this they could never hope to have that great interest for those not specially identified with the work that they needed. He advocated an institute building, which would be a sort of church club, containing reading rooms, assembly rooms for meetings of all sorts, rooms for the bishop, Sunday school and library rooms and accommodations of such like nature. His Lordship pointed out the necessity of working towards this object.

This program, for the first part of 1894, was arranged:

On Jan. 15 Rev. C. L. Inglis, M.A., will discuss Sunday school examinations for teachers, at Holy Trinity Church; on Feb. 15 the subject of the meeting, which will be held in the Church of the Redeemer, will be children's missionary work, which will be handled by Rev. A. Hart. Miss Osler will take the lesson.

The meeting for March 15 will consider the church catechism. The Rev. A. H. Baldwin will be the speaker and the place of meeting St. John's Church. Mr. J. H. McCallum will handle the lesson of the day.

On April 19 Rev. C. Thompson will treat of qualifications and admissions of teachers. The meeting will be held in Trinity Church east. Rev. J. P. Lewis will take the lesson.

On May 17 the annual service will be held at St. Alban's Cathedral. The Bishop of the Diocese was requested to provide the speaker for the occasion.

The secretary reported $100.91 on hand.

North Toronto.

The council met Wednesday evening, Mayor Fisher presiding. A bylaw to repeal the local improvement bylaw was introduced and will be voted upon at the municipal elections. A bylaw was introduced by Mr. E. Still providing for the reduction of the standing committees.——All persons that have not paid up to and including the year 1893 will not be entitled to vote at the coming elections.——Communications were received from Councillor Donohue asking the council to reconsider his application for a rebate in his taxes; from McQuaig & Mainwaring, stating that their names to petition for water in Albertus-avenue were forgeries. From the Metropolitan Railway Company saying they are willing to confer re lower fares, but consider it inadvisable and prejudicial to the interests of negotiations abroad under way to take any such steps at present.——The Engineer's report for the month of November shows that 248,000 gallons of water were pumped.——John Rachford, brought before William Jackes, J.P., on Thursday morning charged with being implicated in the robbery at the Salvation Army Barracks, was again remanded until Saturday.——County Constable Tom Shepard met Larry McCann at the door of the jail, where McCann has spent the past 21 days, and rearrested him. He was brought before William Jackes, J.P., on the charge of being drunk and disorderly, and smashing the door and furniture in his father's house on Nov. 26. The father was willing to withdraw the charge if the son was bound over to keep the peace. He was fined 50 cents and costs, and given 21 days to pay up.——Mr. Sam Lawrence and Mr. Donahue will be candidates for the office of first deputy-reeve.——The new well is finished and connected, and in face of the croakers the pump lifts and draws without trouble, and there is no doubt now that the water problem is solved.

Township of York.

The quarterly pay roll for the members of the Township Council was passed at the last meeting. The reeve drew $50, and the deputy-reeves each drew $30.——The Board of Health members were also paid. Chairman Duncan, $40; Reeve Humberstone, $40; Mr. Symes, $30; Mr. Patterson, $30; W. A. Clarke, $30.

Scandal Mongers Rebuked.

Editor World: Allow me through the columns of your paper to make a few remarks regarding the excerpt from The Chicago Illustrated, which recently appeared in The Chatsworth News. If the editor of The Chatsworth News cannot make his paper readable except by copying scandalous articles penned by men imbued with thoughts and ideas of a modern Sodom and Gomorrah, it is time he retired from the editorial staff. When he stated that such news would be "interesting to St. George's congregation," he lied most foully. Who is the editor of The Chatsworth News or he of The Chicago Illustrated, that either of them should judge a clergyman of the Episcopalian Church? "Let him who is without sin first cast the stone." The acts of this divine or "pious fraud," as he was termed, are not as bad as other men's acts "behind the scenes." Let me ask the truly Christian man and brother, when David, revelling at the recovery of the Ark, even when he set Uriah in the forefront of the battle, if God asked for his resignation, and passed him by, saying, "I am holier than thou?" We pray in our churches for God's blessing and protection to be showered on one who caused desolation in one of the happiest homes in England. Why not invoke God's blessing and mercy for the erring brother to be restored to our fold? The one, wearing the robes of royalty, is prayed for, the other, wearing the robes of sanctity, is "talked about," discarded and sent adrift; yet both are human, and God's creatures. Consistency, thou art truly a jewel! Are we not told that we must forgive our brother, not only seven times, but seventy times seven? Until we can read the heart of another without doubt, and know all the circumstances of his life, all the many links in the chain of accident that has surrounded him, we should not blame him too much, nor be too ready to believe. What he has done may be ill, but we cannot tell why he did it, or how he may have repented the doing. A moment of strong feeling, an hour of wrath, may turn the feet upon the downward road so hard to retrace. We often see one lying at the foot of a precipice, but we know not how he fell over, what cruel hand smote him, what lie betrayed him, nor how he clung to the brink, praying in vain for some helping hand. Remember, Christian friends, "to err is human, to forgive divine." "Search thine own heart. What paineth thee in others, in thyself may be; all dust is frail, all flesh is weak. Be thou the true man thou dost seek."

Tips From Wall-street.

The week stock to-day was Chicago Gas.

The net earnings of Ontario and Western for October increased $44,800.

Advices received by Ryan & Co., say: London is buying a little Atchison. The boys are trying to put up the market on London transactions. Traders bought General Electric, but the market has no snap. There is considerable selling of Rock Island in small lots.

Dixon's Gossip: There's very little to say for the market to-day. It started stronger on London quotations and renewed short interest here, but there appears to be no life in the market and absolutely no business. The future depends very much on railroad earnings and Congressional action. It is a waiting market, and that is about all you can say for it.

F. J. Lewis & Co. from Kennett, Hopkins & Co.: Another effort was made by speculators to stimulate prices on American securities in London, but it did not produce much effect to-day upon prices, as it did yesterday. It is difficult for a commission broker to speak with much pleasure of such a market as this, for there is no business doing except by professional traders, most of them room traders who execute their own orders. There has been no feature to the market to-day, and the volume of business is smaller than for some time past. The gradual rise of foreign exchange is attracting attention, for the price is near the point at which gold can be exported. The number of Americans who still spend the winter in Europe is very large, and unless foreigners buy our securities and our product more freely than they have been doing during the early winter and spring, there will be a balance against this country which will require exports of gold. The trend of prices is downward. Sales 122,000.

R. Cochran received the following from Kennett, Hopkins & Co.:

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Early cables were indifferent and receipts here and in the Northwest exceeded expectations, but the market started off strong and has maintained itself well throughout the day. Exports somewhat over 300,000 in wheat and flour. Closing cables from the U.K. were a little more satisfactory, the boards stating that stocks of No. 2 spring wheat have been exhausted in Liverpool. As stocks there are large some curiosity was expressed as to their grade and quality. December wheat continues to gain on May. There is no doubt that a considerable quantity of the former is held by investors who perhaps never owned a bushel before this season. Its relative cheapness, compared with other property, has attracted their attention, and they have been buying it outright without hedging for May as is the practice with professional carriers. Prices of spot wheat on track in the Northwest are steadily maintained above a parity with Chicago. Millers up there have, without doubt, after careful investigation, satisfied themselves of a probable scarcity of supplies to keep their mills running until another harvest. Considering our large visibles cash wheat everywhere appears to be selling at relatively good prices.

Corn and oats have held advance. They were strong early, especially corn, on a sharp demand from shorts. Exports of corn were 215,000. The movement is light, and the consumptive and foreign demand readily absorb current receipts. It is believed that this demand will increase moderately, though there is no indication of increasing receipts. Cold weather increases the consumption of feeding grain precisely as it does that of coal, and for the same reason. If this is a fair sample of the winter weather we may expect it will add to the consumption of corn as the drought did in August and September.

Provisions strong and higher, with a more confident feeling in speculative circles.

Schwartz, Dupee & Co. wired: Wheat to-day ruled steady and fairly strong, ranging from 69¼ to 70 for May. Outside business was again light and the trading mostly of a local character. Continental cables and also Liverpool were all firmer in tone, yet without any decided advance. Exports from the seaboard were about 300,000 bushels. The general sentiment continues bullish and if there is any short interest, outside of Pardridge, it is unknown. Increased exports and better foreign markets would lead to more outside trade here and a higher range of prices. In the present shape of the market it is difficult to predict what it will do. Corn ranged from 41⅛c to 40⅝c. There was considerable buying for short account and selling by receivers against cash purchases in the country. We expect to see lower prices for corn during the next 30 days. Provisions ruled strong and higher until the last hour when part of the early advance was lost on a dull market. The fact that packers are not good sellers alarmed the shorts, and especially in lard, and their covering was the buying of the day with the buyers of the last few days doing the selling. There is so little outside business that the course of the market depends almost entirely on the action of packers.
