MARKS FAMILY HAS SPLENDID RECORD

Two Have Been Killed, While Practically Whole Family Are in Service

Father, Who is Now in France, Fought in South Africa With Distinction

Two brothers killed in action, one brother with the second contingent, another brother in the Governor-General's Body Guard, and the father now fighting at the front, is the war history so far of the Marks family of Toronto, whose home is at 341 Bartlett avenue.

Pte. William Marks was 15 years old and went as trumpeter of the 48th Highlanders of the first Canadian contingent. The report has just been received that he has succumbed to gas poisoning at the battle of Langemarck, in Belgium. Before enlistment in F Company, William Marks was employed as a tinsmith by Douglas Bros. He was born in Bombay, India, and educated at the army schools.

Killed By Shell.

Bombardier A. W. Marks, the eldest son, went to the front with the first British expeditionary force, in the Royal Field Artillery. During the battle of Mons the men of his gun, including himself, were all killed by the bursting of a German shrrapnel shell.

Bombardier John Marks is now at Exhibition Park Camp with the artillery Brigade of the second contingent, and hopes soon to be on his way to the front to avenge the death of his two brothers. This young man had a remarkable escape from death only a short time ago when thru the carelessness of a fellow steel worker he was thrown off a bridge from a height of 70 feet. At the time he was taken to Grace Hospital, and the same day when his mother came to see how he was, he sat up in bed and smiled to her.

Fought in Africa.

Sergt.-Major Marks, the father of this remarkable family of fighters, has been 24 years in the Royal Field Artillery, in different parts of the world. He served with great distinction in South Africa at the time of the Beer War, and was three times mentioned in despatches by Lord Methuen. His sons were born in different parts of the world, the one now at Exhibition Park Camp, Bombardier John Marks, having been born in Tipperary, Ireland.

The youngest soldier of the family, Pte. Daniel Marks, is a member of the Governor - General's Body Guard, which regiment he joined a few weeks ago. His mother, two small sisters and another brother reside at the Bartlett avenue address.

In speaking with The Sunday World regarding her sons, Mrs. Marks said: "My children were all born in the army. They have military blood in them, and when the call came they were ready." The mother is bearing up bravely in spite of the loss of her two sons on the European battlefield.

MARKET TAKES NEW SITUATION COOLLY

Prices Remained Steady Under Trying Conditions—Quiet and Determined

HOLLINGER'S ADVANCE

Porcupine Leader Touched Tenty-five-fifty, Finding New High Record

A measure of the supreme confidence that the United States feels in its position and that of the allies under the latest war episode was given by the New York Stock Exchange on Friday and Saturday. The first result of the dastardly murder of innocent neutrals by the Germans was to provoke a wave of speculative selling of American securities, not comparable, however, to that immediately preceding the outbreak of the war. The technical position of the market permitted of this, however, as a rise lasting several weeks had built up a large speculative following which was forced to liquidate by the drop in prices. Cool deliberation Friday night found the market better prepared for the emergency, the comparative steadiness of prices on Saturday serving as a defi to Germany's new attempt to disorganize further the world's finances by involving other countries in the conflict. The market on Saturday must be accepted as indicative of Wall street's best financial judgment that retribution in full measure will ultimately be meted out to the country that has moved aside with present impunity every form of civilized warfare.

Toronto financial circles were not seriously troubled in stock market operations. Concern was felt for the loss of life, but amidst this gloom there was a quiet and determined confidence that the worst had been discounted. On the mining exchange no fresh damage to values was admitted, and in fact Hollinger, the Porcupine leader, sold at a new high record of 25.50 a share.

NEW YORK MARKET SHOWED SOUNDNESS

Adverse Conditions Resulted in But Small Losses in Stocks —Close Irregular

Wall Street close: Unmistakable proof of its underlying soundness in the face of adverse conditions was offered by the stock market during today's two-hour session. Declines of three to ten points attended the early trading, these losses resulting mainly from heavy selling orders, which came from nervous stockholders, holders of weakened accounts and bear pressure. Before the end of the first half-hour most of these losses had been largely retrieved, and some actual gains were made. The tide turned as soon as it became manifest that substantial financial interests were not only supporting the market, but buying for investment as well. Prices shaded a point or more from their best in the final dealings. The closing was irregular. Bonds heavy.

LONDON EXCHANGE MUCH DEPRESSED

Business in All Sections Was Dull, Owing to News of Lusitania Disaster

LONDON, May 8.—The stock market was depressed by the Lusitania disaster, which was the chief topic of conversation, and business in practically all sections was dull. Japanese and Chinese bonds hardened a fraction and Russian issues were better, but the war loan was easy. Cunard shares were nominal at 42s 6d.

American securities reflected yesterday's decline in Wall Street, but only a few markings were reported, as New York is unable to sell here under the treasury regulations. Prices hung around parity and closed dull.

Money and discount rates were quiet.

DO NOT RECOGNIZE.

Editor World: I would very much like permission to reply to the statements of W. C. Hagan, business agent of the International Machinists, re I.A.M. and Amalgamated Society of Engineers.

1st. The reason these unions are not working in conjunction is because the I.A.M. do not recognize a dual organization.

2nd. Mr. Hagen says that "hundreds of their members have paid their passages to the old country, and are working in the different shops."

I say that dozens of I.A.M. members have made application to join the A.S.E., and we are giving them free transportation, also finding jobs for them on condition that they promise to carry the A.S.E. card when they come back to this country.

3rd. Mr. Hagen says that his members have been advised to carry our card when in Great Britain." They could not do otherwise, for the I.A.M. have no branches in Britain.

4th. He says that "the I.A.M. believe in an exchange of cards.

The A.S.E. is an industrial union composed of workers of all branches of metal trades, and has benefits for unemployment, strike, sickness, accident, legal defence, superannuation and death.

The I.A.M. is simply a craft union, composed of workers in one branch of the metal trade, with only strike benefits, therefore the A.S.E. could not exchange cards with the I.A.M. In fact, it would mean a backward step of 62 years, when a number of the craft unions of England joined together and this formed the Amalgamated Society of Engineers.

5th. Mr. Hagen says that "hundreds of their members are at the front assisting the empire, and are being kept in good standing by their union."

The A.S.E. has more than twenty thousand members at the front, including Corp. Jarvis, Royal Engineers, who won the V.C. for working under fire, laying explosives to blow up a bridge at Jemappes, Belgium, on Aug. 23 last. All these members are kept in good standing by the union. The A.S.E. also contributed $150,000 to the British War Loan.

6th. Mr. Hagen says "the I.A.M. is the only recognized union in North America governing machine shops."

Let us start right on the spot. I would like him to give the name of any shop they govern in Toronto.

7th. He says "the A.S.E. is the only union in the metal trades having branches in this country."

That is perfectly true. The A.S.E. is a British organization and intends to maintain its right to have branches in the colonies, therefore we are the only union which can take more than a thousand skilled mechanics from Canada, give them free transportation, and place them in work under best trade union conditions in the old country, where they are most needed to make munitions of war, and so help our boys at the front to maintain the liberty which the Britisher considers he is entitled to no matter what part of the world he is in.

Thanking you in anticipation.

G. F. Doolan,
Canadian Executive A.S.E.

CANADIAN CASUALTIES

Another heavy list of casualties in the Royal Montreal Regiment was reported at noon Saturday. Fourteen more wounded are recorded, and two of these are missing.

These losses occurred in the terrible battle of Langemarck, near Ypres, when the gallant Royal Highlanders and Royal Montrealers, the 13th and 14th Battalions, were left to cover the retreat, and it is believed were practically wiped out as battalions.

The story of it has been but meagrely told. How the brave fellows fought and fought till there was none left to fight, how their comrades, sick at heart, heard the shots from the Village of St. Julien, which they were holding, grow fewer and fewer as they fell, but the complete story of the great stand those lads made against overwhelming odds, all to save their fellow Canadians from worse disaster, when it comes will be one of the most thrilling tales of the war.

GAS RANGE CONTEST WINNER CAME CLOSE

Otto Pramm of 32 Ridley Gardens is the winner of the Consumers' Gas Company gas range guessing competition. He guessed that the City of Toronto had in use 45,026 gas ranges, just eighteen less than the actual number, 45,044, which were in use up to March 31, 1914.

The second prize went to D. Spence, 620A West Bloor street, and third prize to Hattie H. Palmer, 29 Sorauren avenue. C. W. Mann, 627 Gladstone avenue, got fourth prize, Mr. Hulme, 49 Nina avenue, fifth, Mrs. Balm, 102 Quebec avenue, sixth and S. Bradley, 91 Wardell avenue, seventh.

The judges of the contest were H. B. Somerville, advertising manager of The World; Robert S. Coryell, general manager of the Adams Furniture Co.; H. G. Burroughs, vice-president of the F. C. Burroughs Co., and John J. Armstrong, secretary of the Consumers' Gas Company.

RELATIVES ANXIOUS AS TO MRS. SHAW'S SAFETY

Brant Street Woman Was Crossing to Visit Son Wounded at Front

Mrs. R. Shaw of 17 Brant street, left Toronto on Thursday of last week intending to take second-class passage for England on the Lusitania. None of the lists yet published disclose her name, but as no word has been received from New York concerning her, it is feared that she may have sailed on the ship. Mrs. Shaw, who is the wife of R. Shaw, a retired officer of Scotland Yard, was going to the old country to be with her son Pte. W. Shaw, of the 3rd Sussex Regiment, who was wounded in action at the front and had been conveyed to a hospital in England. A few hours before Mrs. Shaw left Toronto a message was received from the son stating that he had recovered and was returning to the front. Despite the reassuring message, Mrs. Shaw went on to New York and proposed to spend the summer in England. The Shaws came to Toronto from the old country three years ago.

Chiropractors

Chiropractic
NOT DRUGS—NOT FAITH CURE—NOT OSTEOPATHY — BUT SPINAL ADJUSTMENT—TO REMOVE OBSTRUCTION TO NATURE'S NERVE FORCES WHICH RESTORE HEALTH.

THIS GREAT SCIENCE, originated by Dr. Palmer twenty years ago, has been developed into the most modern art, and deals with the true cause of diseases in man. The theories of many men have been advanced, and failure to produce a specific for cancer or even chronic bronchitis is laid at the door of materia medica (medicine). Much has been done to relieve pain and deaden symptoms by the family physician—also removing refuse from the body by the surgeon's knife. But what caused the refuse or growth of abnormal tissue? Chiropractic philosophy has proven in thousands of cases here in Ontario, and especially Toronto, that operations merely remove effects; the cause still remains; and that the real cause is in the spine, where the nerve is pinched by the bones (vertebrae) being slightly displaced. Poisonous drugs and serums are only a poor substitute for nature's secretions, manufactured by the glands throughout the body. Can your physician give you a real reason for the lack of glandular action in any part of your body? We claim it is because the nerve power is partly cut off by bone pressure in spine—nature's forces from the brain are obstructed. The competent Chiropractor who knows the body removes this obstruction scientifically and with no danger. We publish these facts through sense of duty to thousands of sufferers, who can regain health, just as the man did at the eleventh hour, who pays for this space. Chiropractic is logic and backed up by practical results, and does not use any form of superstition, electricity—stimulation by massage—absolutely no drug dictation to nature. We know disease exists, know its true cause, and can correct it. We know germs exist, but they do Nature's work, are for a good purpose in the tissues. This science is growing in popular favor, and the graduate Chiropractor publishes the truth to enlighten the people who need health, and not deadly poison to deaden their pain. In summary, Chiropractic removes the cause of all diseases, acute or chronic, by adjustment of spine, allowing full flow of the body's nerve forces from brain to organs. Nature restores health. Send for explanatory book, "Disease and Its Master." Telephone appointments for consultation.

CHIROPRACTORS—The most successful method, locating the cause of disease; those acquainted with the science will recognize the advantage of having the usual palpation by hand verified by the X-ray, free to patients; if you have tried other methods, and they have failed, try chiropractic; investigation costs nothing; it will most likely be able to refer you to somebody nearby that has been helped that was as bad or worse than you; the only chiropractor's office in Canada having an X-ray equipment.
