AMENDS FACTUM IN THE MARRIAGE CASE

Ottawa, May 29—Arguments were continued in the supreme court in the hearing of the Lancaster marriage bill reference this morning, P. B. Mignault, for the opponents to the bill resuming.

An important citation was made by the counsel in opening. He quoted the report of the codifiers of the Quebec civil code on the title of marriage, which reads in part:

"With the view of preserving to everyone the enjoyment of their own usages and practices, according to which the celebration of marriage is entrusted to the minister of the church to which he belongs."

Mr. Mignault said this had been inadvertently omitted from his factum.

COMING EAST AGAIN.

Charlottetown Patriot:—While many of the Islanders are going west to Vancouver, and other places there are some who are coming back here to stay. On speaking to one of the well known contractors this morning he said he expected a retired man from Vancouver, whose wife was an Islander, in the city shortly. They intend to buy a small farm as close to the city as possible and build a fashionable dwelling and barns. We hope that this will influence others to do the same in the near future.

TO BE REPEATED.

The society drama, "Men and Women," presented by the Irish Literary and Benevolent Society, played to capacity attendance last evening at the Opera House. It is not exaggerating to say that this production is the equal of any amateur and many professional attractions of the better class given in St. John. The members of the cast acquitted themselves in a manner highly creditable. At the earnest request of a large number who were unable to go on Monday or Tuesday evenings, owing to the heavy advance sale the play will be presented again on Saturday afternoon, when matinee prices of twenty-five cents to any part of the house will prevail.

THE VICTORIA CROSS.

One of the greatest amoitions of a soldier's life is to be honored with the Victoria Cross. A story founded on an episode in which a brave young officer gained this distinction in the Light Brigade, immortalized in Tennyson's famous poem, has recently been produced in motion pictures by the Vitagraph Company, and it is strikingly noticeable that there is a careful and exact study of detail connected with things English in the picture, which is known as "The Victoria Cross." The bravery of the English soldier is recognized by the American company and the English flag is seen borne boldly to the front in "The Charge of the Light Brigade."

MRS. FARRAR HOME AGAIN

Wife of Disgraced Clergyman, Former Chaplain to the King

New York, May 29—Mrs. Frederick Percival Farrar, wife of the disgraced clergyman whose appointment as chaplain in ordinary and domestic chaplain to the king and as honorary domestic chaplain to Queen Alexandra was cancelled last November by King George, has at last returned to her relatives here.

Richard Harding Davis, the author, and Charles Belmont Davis, her brothers, met her at the pier and hurried her away in an automobile, en route for the Davis farm at Mount Kisco.

"There has been so much said already, and it is so distressing that I do not wish to talk about it," was Mrs. Farrar's only comment. The former chaplain is in British Columbia.

THE SUFFRAGETTE AND THE TORY CONVENTION

The militant suffragettes showed their hand last night when a member of the band made a vigorous effort to break into the Conservative convention in Keith's Theatre. She insisted that as a citizen she had a right to a voice in the selection of candidates and endeavored to enforce her rights. Notwithstanding her pleas she was denied the privilege she sought and when she still insisted the Nickel policeman was summoned to ask her to withdraw.

Apart from her insistence she was quite calm and self-possessed. She did not explain for which of the assorted candidates she wished to vote, but it is probable that she learned enough of the Conservative party to know that it stands in need of the purifying influence of the feminine vote.

Colonel A. J. Armstrong Speaks of Last Night's Convention—Orange Meetings in Fredericton

(Special to Times)

Fredericton, N. B., May 29—Colonel A. J. Armstrong, of St. John, is among the delegates to the Sovereign Grand Orange Lodge, now in session here. Speaking of St. John tory convention, he said he had not desired the nomination, and it was only at the urgent request of Messrs. Baxter and Maxwell that he allowed his name to be submitted to the delegates. He expressed himself as well satisfied with the outcome.

The Sovereign Grand Orange Lodge will open in the K. of P. Hall this afternoon. Nearly 500 delegates are in attendance. It is expected to get through the business by tomorrow night.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association opened here last evening with Miss Mary Cullam, of Toronto, right worthy grand mistress, in the chair. The deputy chair was occupied by Miss Nixon, of Winnipeg. This session was taken up principally with routine work, such as presentation of reports and appointment of committees.

Examinations in the French department at the Normal school are now going on. The public closing exercises will be held on Friday week.

Two new pitchers, Lavesque, of Lewiston, and Blennan, of Boston, arrived today to join the Fredericton baseball team.

The Tories are to meet in convention here on Saturday to select candidates. Word comes from Southampton that a strong delegation of Pinder's friends will be on hand to see that he gets fair play in the expected struggle with the McLeod wing of the party. Some changes in the personnel of the party are looked for.

THINGS REPORTED IN BAD WAY IN PORTUGAL

London, May 29—The condition of Portugal is again the subject of more or less alarmist despatches. The Standard's Lisbon correspondent describes the country as a seething volcano of political corruption, petty tyranny, monarchical conspiracy, and active preparations for an early revolt against the republic, which many of its erstwhile supporters admit has utterly failed. Taxes have practically doubled and the cost of living has increased. Personal liberty is dependent upon the prowess of the individual subject. The revenues are being spent chiefly in establishing a more or less disguised form of military rule. Many say the political leaders are grafting on the revenues.

All Portugal knows, says this correspondent, that a royalist revolt with a view of restoring King Manuel is imminent. Trade and shipping are stagnant, and everybody is awaiting the revolution and the restoration of settled conditions, confident that there will be a Monarchist victory.

Other despatches report serious rioting in Oporto in connection with the trial there of the Royalist conspirators. Several persons were wounded by the explosion of nine bombs. The judges at the trial, who are suspected of favoring the accused, have been attacked, and are now under military protection.

BOTH SAY THEIR MEN WILL WIN

Washington, May 29—Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Colonel Roosevelt, predicts that Roosevelt will have more than 600 delegates on the first ballot in the Chicago convention exclusive of contested delegates. President Taft's manager, representative Wm. McKinley, of Illinois, asserts that the president's actual strength at present is 574 delegates, exclusive of the delegates at large in Ohio or Texas. He predicts nomination for the president on the first ballot.

Woodstock Press:—Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLean, Master Ronald McLean, and Mr. and Mrs. Rourke, who have been residents of the town for the past five years, left on Saturday for St. Martins, where they will spend the summer, after which they will probably reside permanently in Moncton. Miss Edna Grant, trained nurse, daughter of A. W. Grant of Grand View, left last week to take charge of the hospital at Bathurst, N. B.

RECOVERED WALLET

While purchasing a book yesterday afternoon at the news stand in the Union Depot an elderly gentleman, a passenger to a point outside the city, forgot his pocketbook and left it on the edge of the show-window. It contained a large roll of bills. The wallet was noticed by Miss Marion Curran, daughter of F. P. Curran, proprietor, and she placed it out of reach of others. It was not long before a false claimant arrived. A woman who had evidently seen the man leave it behind him advanced to the counter and, saying she had lost a wallet, put in a request that the one found be returned to her. Knowing that it belonged to the old man, Miss Curran refused to give it up, and it was not long before the rightful owner had reason to be thankful that the finder was honest, for it was soon returned to him.

Mrs. Jane Boyle, whose death, at the age of 101, has occurred at Swansea, was a regular smoker, and smoked until a few days before her death.
