THE C. TURNBULL CO., OF GALT, Limited.

—The Toronto Carpet Manufacturing Co. is likely to secure the services of Thos. Cowell, from Kidderminster, England, as superintendent, in place of Mr. Armitage, who has returned to Hartford.

—The production of a vegetable substitute for horsehair is reported as a thriving Algerian industry. The material is the fibre of leaves of a dwarf palm, and it is prepared for such uses as stuffing furniture, mattresses, etc. The advantages of the vegetable hair are its solidity, the readiness with which it can be dyed, and its low cost.

—Many dyers occasionally complain that this or that dyestuff "crops" or "rubs." With few exceptions, this defect can be traced to insufficient washing. One of the exceptions is para-nitraniline, which, owing to its peculiar nature, is not a true dye, but rather a finely divided and deposited red precipitate in and on the cotton fibres. Washing in the dye-house has more to do with whether any particular dye is successful. It stands to reason that unless a dyed material is well washed the extraneous dye liquor dries and the fine particles of color dust off, giving rise to crocking. A dyer who washes well must look elsewhere for his trouble, which, in woollens, will be found in imperfect scouring more than elsewhere.
