Happenings of the Week

Green is the accepted color this week. The shamrock holds first place in floral decorations, the harp appears in various dainty favors and Saint Patrick is honored by all classes of society. A sure sign of the wane of the penetential season is the closing of many of the sewing classes, which have been well patronized by society members. With the approach of the spring days, plans are already under way for outdoor sports .Golf enthusiasts are already invading the links which are in fairly good condition for this time of year.

Mrs. E. A. Smith was hostess at an art tea on Monday afternoon which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Each guest was presented with a dainty card, which contained a numbered list of well known pictures, the object being to discover which of a numbered collection of articles, destributed in the drawing room and library, corresponded suitably with the number of one of the pictures, an excellent example being "Profanity Educators," which was represented by hammer and tacks. Miss Nan Barnaby and Miss Downie were the lucky prize winners in this contest. Mrs. J. Magee in wistaria broadcloth presided at the tea hour the table being prettily decorated with pink tulips and pink candlelight. Among the guests were:—Mrs. James F. Robertson, Mrs. Alward, Mrs. Downie, Mrs. Haycock, Mrs. George Flemming, Miss Kathleen McInerney, Dr. Margaret Parks, Miss Jean Daniel, Mrs. Harry Harrison, Miss Katie Hazen, Mrs. Dickie, Mrs. Wm. Vassie, Miss Nan Barnaby, Mrs. Harold Schofield, Mrs. Harold B. Robinson.

The reception given by the ladies committee of the Protestant Orphans' Home in aid of that institution, was largely attended on Tuesday evening. The entertainment which was highly successful was opened by an address from the president, T. A. Estabrooks, followed by an excellent programme in which the children of the Home participated. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served, the table which was presided over by Mrs. Tuck and Mrs. H. A. Austin, being effectively decorated with vases of pink tulips and silver candelbra with pink candles and shades. Mrs. W. S. Fisher, Mrs. F. W. Murray, Mrs. Jack MacLaren, Mrs. C. A. Macdonald, Mrs. Estabrooks, Mrs. David McLellan, Mrs. Fred Harding, Miss Bertie Hegan and Miss Madeline deSoyres assisted with the refreshments. Among those who were present were:—Mrs. de Soyres, Mrs. W. O. Raymond, Mrs. Stewart Skinner, Mrs. Jack MacLaren, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Charlie Coster, Col. and Mrs. Sturdee, Mrs. W. E. Raymond, Mrs. Jas. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. J. Likely, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robb, Mrs. Wm. Rainnie, Miss Walker, Miss Rainnie, Mrs. Barker, Miss Laing, Mrs. Roy Campbell, Miss Currie, Miss Reid, Mrs. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. William, Mrs. R. T.
