USPENDS JAIL TURNKEY BURNS

spector Dunlop Orders Dismissal of Sarnia Officer Bound by McMullen.

auds Conduct of Governor Dodd in Frustrating Attempted Escape.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Sept. 7.—Following instructions received from W. W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons, Toronto, heriff A. J. Johnston today suspended from duty as jail turnkey, at Burns, who with James Forbes, atchman, submitted to Edward cMullen in his attempt at jail reaking on Saturday. Forbes had oluntaily resigned on Monday. Two uards from the Guelph Prison arved in the city today for temporary uty at the jail, until the Wyoming ials are concluded.

In his letter of instruction, Mr. unlop, while lauding the conduct f Governor Dodd, stated that the actions of Burns and Forbes in allowing McMullen to tie them up could not be overlooked. "If we had more men in the service of Mr. Dodd's caliber, we would have less trouble in handling the very difficult situations," Mr. Dunlop writes.

May Be Reinstated.

Burns has been a faithful servant at the jail for 11 years and it is hoped that the department can be persuaded to reinstate him, at least, after a little time has elapsed.

John Stokes, Durand street, an employee of the Pere Marquette railway, was admitted to the Sarnia General Hospital Thursday afternoon suffering from serious injuries received when he stepped accidentally between two coal cars on the railway docks and was crushed and bruised. It is not believed that his injuries will prove fatal.

Theft Charge Dropped.

Edward Waters, Brock street south, charged with the theft of lumber from a Grand Trunk car was discharged today when the company through its agent advised the court that there was no desire to press the case. Waters, who testified in his own behalf, stated that he removed a plank from the roof of a car with which to repair one of the company's buildings. Waters has been an employee of the Grand Trunk for 15 years and was arrested by W. L. McCormick, a special constable, who had only been employed for a few days.

CHAPLIN DELIGHT PATRONS OF GRAND

Packed House Greets Film—Elaine Hammerstein Scores Triumph.

It was by no means an unusual occurrence when the one and only Charlie Chaplin, in his side-splitting five-reel comedy picture, entitled, "Shoulder Arms," now showing at the Grand Opera House, was held over for the remainder of the week. The house was filled to capacity Thursday night. It was surprising to notice the effect the decorating and new scenery, acquired during the summer months, made in the improvement of the house.

In conjunction with the abovementioned comedy, some of the best acts that could be procured for a program were shown. Many interesting scenes were shown in the Pathe Review which appealed to the audience.

The encores received by the artists performing in the five acts of vaudeville were a surprise as well as a pleasure to all in the house. Perhaps the best act was "The Great Arden, Equilibrist." The way in which he succeeded in twisting his body into all shapes was wonderful, and the applause was by no means stinted.

The Lennox Sisters presented a clean and wholesome act, which was enjoyed immensely by all. These artists were really clever in the way they sang their songs and made the people laugh with their comical stories.

Songs and Dances Delight.

Barton and Hall delighted the audience with their singing and dancing.

The act featuring Gwen and Clark, the "Knutty Kennedy Kouple," in their many jokes and songs, succeeded in making many of the audience with the blues feel that life was worth while after all.

There was really cleverness in the way the Les Valadon Trio manipulated their feet in the tight and slack wire act. These manoeuvres were very good, and drew much applause from the people.

The play entitled "Why Announce Your Marriage," is undoubtedly the best and most-talented five-reel picture being shown in London at present. The dainty Elaine Hammerstein certainly shows up well in this picture. The theory of the play was "How to be happy." It was filled with happy elopements, thrills, jealousy, burglars and amusing discoveries. The play ends very happily, which is not always the case when the marriage is in the early part of the play.

The origin of this screen play is given in the following way:

Not long ago Fannie Hurst, famous woman novelist, startled American society with the announcement that though she and her husband had been married for years, they always had lived apart, maintaining their separate establishments and seeing as little of each other as possible for the express purpose of perpetuating the happiness of their married life. When the secret of their marriage finally became known Miss Hurst explained that they had secretly lived together in wedlock those many years, because their marriage not only did not concern their friends and the public, but also that she and her husband were convinced that the average married couple see so much of each other that it is but a matter of time before the glamor of life wears away and leaves them both in a tired and bored attitude toward each other.

Ideal Marriage Revealed.

Such was Miss Hurst's idea of the ideal marriage, and the plan was so novel at the time and attracted such world-wide attention that at least one producing company of motion pictures decided it was fit material for a screen play. The Elaine Hammerstein picture is fashioned after just such a thought.

The topics of the day, film and some of the most popular music of the day completed the performance.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a special attraction for the children in the shape of a Charlie Chaplin contest, the Grand management offering cash prizes for the best impersonation of the famous screen comedian. The contest will be judged from the stage at the conclusion of the matinee performance.

Churches of Empire Are Urged To Call Peace Council in London

LONDON, Sept. 7.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Following a remarkable peace sermon by the Archbishop of Canterbury at Geneva on Sunday comes an appeal for immediate action by a well-known church leader, Dr. Jowett, who, in the British Weekly, declares that the world is drifting again to war. He urges the churches, Protestant, Roman and Greek, to arise from their slumbers and ward off the approaching catastrophe.

Dr. Jowett suggests that representative leaders of the Christian church meet in councils of peace in every nation, and adds: "Let us have a council of peace in London with delegates from every part of the empire; let the delegates be distinguished Christian men, not drawn merely from the ranks of ecclesiastics, but the wider realm of commerce, art, literature and labor. Let us have a three-days' council at the heart of the empire, not merely to make speeches but to visualize and demonstrate the existence of the corporate body which has in its custody the morals and ideals of Christ and to emphasize the intention to give them their due sovereignty in the reconstruction of the world."

The British Weekly publishes numerous letters from leaders of churches enthusiastically welcoming an appeal to Christian peoples in the interest of peace. The writers include the Bishop of London and other bishops.

BURFORD BARN BURNED WITH SEASON'S CROPS

25 Tons of Hay and 600 Bushels of Grain Without Insurance Lost.

Special to London Advertiser.

PRINCETON, Sept. 7.—During the electric storm which occurred in this locality about noon yesterday Reuben Eaton's drivebarn, grainbarn and pigpen were destroyed. Most of the implements were saved, but the crops, consisting of about 25 tons of hay and 600 bushels of grain, were destroyed with the entire buildings. There was some insurance carried, but not enough to cover loss of hay and grain.

Mr. Eaton was away from home at the time assisting at a threshing, and his son Verne was in Paris, the latter arriving home about 3 p.m., by which time the loss was complete. The farm is situated on the second concession of Burford.
