Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Eclipse of The Apple

(From the Boston Transcript)

Give a thought to the apple. It needs it. That royal fruit of all fruits has entered an eclipse. Through no fault of its own, it has lost caste in the markets and on the tables of the nations. Where once it was the favorite of all fruits, it is now rejected with scorn. Where once it was plentifully produced it is now all but unknown. The reason is not difficult to discern. The choice varities of apples have been largely abandoned in favor of others of inferior quality but of showy appearance and of prolific yield; and apple culture has declined in those regions where the fruit is produced in perfection of flavor, and has increased in regions where flavor is lacking. It is a significant fact that the total production of apples in the United States is declining. It is less today than it was twenty years ago, although production of all other important fruits has increased. Even more significant is the fact that in every New England State, excepting possible Maine, there is a marked decrease, as there is also in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and other states east of the Mississippi, while the counter-balancing increase has been in the far West, above all in Washington. Now the simple truth, bluntly stated, is that the contrast between the apple of New England and that of Washington is that of 'Hyperion to a satyr.' It is difficult to realize that they are the same species of fruit. The luscious flavor of the one is altogether lacking in the other. And since the western fruit, because of its abundance and cheapness, and its showy appearance, has largely displaced the eastern, even in the eastern markets, the apple has fallen in popular esteem. For cooking purposes it is still used, but for eating out of hand it is no longer the favorite fruit that it was when Northern Spy and Newton Pippin and Rhode Island Greening were names to conjure with. It is lamentable that it should be so. The apple in its best estate is too precious a fruit to be lost. The soil and climate of New England and other eastern States, barring an occasional untimely frost, are supremely adapted to its production. As a nutritious article of food, as one of the most delicious of fruits, and as a pecuniarly profitable product, give a thought to the apple, and to the genuine, worth while New England apple.

Profiteering.

The report of the committee of the Nova Scotia Methodist Conference on Evangelism and Social Service contains the following paragraph of general interest:

'Evidence now being taken by the government commission goes to show that the high cost of living is due very largely to what is called 'profiteering.' Persons and corporations engaged in the production of necessities of life have been guilty of this crime. As an illustration—fish caught in our own waters and bought from fishermen at five cents per pound, goes out a short distance from the wharf before it is retailed at 25 cents or more a pound. This is a form of profiteering all too common. The fundamental injustice of such dealings is evident to men everywhere. Justice is being demanded. In that demand the church must join and call all who are in business only for profits to a repentance that will save their own souls, and also save the country the threatening storm of violence green has engendered.'

TO ALL WOMEN WHO ARE ILL

This Woman Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Her Personal Experience.

McLean, Neb.—"I want to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women who suffer from any functional disturbance, as it has done me more good than all the doctor's medicine. Since taking it I have a fine healthy baby girl and have gained in health and strength. My husband and I both praise your medicine to all suffering women."—Mrs. JOHN KOPPELMANN, R. No. 1, McLean, Nebraska.

This famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has been restoring women of America to health for more than forty years and it will well pay any woman who suffers from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues" to give this successful remedy a trial.

For special suggestions in regard to your ailment write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

Successful Summer School

The Co operative Summer School of Methods for the Sunday School workers of the Maritime Provinces which was held at Wolfville, completed last week a very successful session. The meetings were held at Acadia Seminary.

While not large, the enrollment of students numbering only forty-six, those present were most enthusiastic over the feast of good things set before them—a feast which satisfied spiritually, intellectually and physically.

A course of lectures, which embraced Bible Study, Psychology, Pedagogy, and the History of the Rise and Progress of Religious Education, together with the Specialization Courses in Elementary, Teen Age and Adult Work, provided a program of wide possibilities, and when carried out by such leaders as Rev. J. C. Robertson, D. D., of Toronto; Rev. W. A. Ross, M. A., of Moncton; Rev. Frank Langford, B. A., of Toronto; and Rev. Waldo C. Machune, B. A., of New Brunswick, with Mrs. S. B. Wass and Miss Olive Zeigler giving attention to the Specialization Work, it is assured that this class has had a six days' training that must carry its influence over to the Sunday Schools of the Maritime Provinces.

Be Ready For Emergencies

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies. Then when croup, or colds come suddenly they can be promptly cured before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet the requirement we have put the syrup up in family size bottles which contain nearly three times as much as the 25 cent bottle and sell at 60 cents.

Are You a Plodder?—Or a Plugger?

Plugging denotes energy, driving force, determination, and a will to conquer. Plodding is aimless, ambitionless and often hopless. A Plugger is a man who pushes ahead. A Plodder is a man who trudges behind. A Plugger is a man who gets what he wants by going after it. A Plodder is a man who never gets what he wants because he doesn't travel fast enough to catch up to it.

To the Plodder each morning begins a new day. See the differences? To the one each day is another eight or nine hours of grinding out work—of performing monotonous duties and filling in time. To the other each day opens a new vista of possibilities, chances to make good, of new ideas to put into practice, of more knowledge to be gained, of new opportunities for self advancement.

It's the man of energy—the go ahead fellow who strikes out and works his way up the hillside, brushing aside the obstacles and clambering over the rocks, that the world delights to honor.

Nerves Are Exhausted.

When you have frequent headaches, find yourself easily irritated and annoyed, feel discouraged and downhearted, cannot rest and sleep well and find appetite fickle and digestion bad, you may know that the nerves are in bad condition. Don't wait for these symptoms to become chronic but start right in with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and head off disaster.

At the battle of W—an Irishman went to rush into the thickest of the fight.

'Just then a cannon ball took his head off. Pat then turned to the army and said:

'Are there any more of ye wanting a Victoria cross?'

A soldier was telling his friends of his experiences out in France, and among other things they discussed was the difference between the beers of the respective countries.

'Well,' said the soldier at last, 'my idea is that drinking one of those Frenchy beers is about like kissing your sister.'

The New Liberal Leader.

Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie-King, formerly Minister of Labor in the Cabinet of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was elected leader of the Liberal party at the convention held at Ottawa last week. The runner up was Hon. W. S. Fielding, formerly Finance Minister of Canada. Mr. King secured 476 votes against Mr. Fielding's 438.

Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie-King, C. M. G., M. A., LL. B., Ph. D., was born at Kitchener, Ont., December 17, 1874, and will be 45 years of age next December. He was educated at the Kitchener Public and High Schools, Toronto University and at Harvard. Mr. King was first elected to Parliament in 1908, representing North Waterloo in the House of Commons. He was appointed Minister of Labor, the first to hold that portfolio in Canada, on June 2, 1909. At that time Mr. King was only 35 years of age, one of the youngest men to ever hold a Cabinet position in the British Empire. Mr. King held many important posts, between the time of his graduation from college and his appointment as Minister of the Crown. He served either as secretary or chairman of a large number of Royal Commissions, both under the Canadian and Imperial Governments to inquire into labor and immigration disputes and problems. In 1914 he was sent to the United States and associated with the Rockefeller Foundation in an administrative and advisory capacity. The new leader is a Presbyterian in religion.

Sun's Heat Forecasts Weather.

The little town of Calama, Chile, is located in one of the driest regions on the face of our globe. Day after day, almost without break throughout the year, the sun shines from a cloudless sky. Weather of this sort certainly has no appeal for the average man; yet two scientists from the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C., find it ideal. As may be expected, their task is an unusual one, involving daily measurement of the heat reaching Calama from the sun, 93,000,000 miles away. Despite appearances, the work is thoroughly practical, as a striking correspondence has been discovered between the changing weather on our little planet and the fluctuating value of this solar radiation. In fact the two observers already telegraph their results each day to the Government of Argentina, which makes them the basis of temperature forecasts for several days to come; and with such success that plans are now suggested for similar stations in other rainless portions of the earth, as in Australia, South Africa, Egypt and India. By co-ordinating such wide spread observations, it is felt that remarkable results could be secured.—Popular Mechanics.

The Difference.

WHEN MA IS SICK

When Ma is sick, she pegs away;
She's quiet, though not much to say;
She goes right on a-doin' things, and sometimes laughs or even sings. She says she don't feel extra well, but then it's just a kind o' spell. She'll be all right to-morrow, sure. A good old sleep will be the cure. An' Pa he sniffs and makes no kick, for women folk is always sick. An' Ma she smiles, let's on she's glad—When Ma is sick it ain't so bad.

WHEN PA IS SICK

When Pa is sick he's scared to death. An' Ma an' us just holds our breath; He crawls in bed an' puffs and grunts. And does all kinds of crazy stunts. He wants Doc' Brown, an' mighty quick. For when Pa's ill he's awful sick. He gasps an' groans an' sort o' sighs. He talks so queer an' rolls his eyes. Ma jumps and runs, an' all of us. An' all the house is in a fuss. An' peace an' joy is mighty skeece—When Pa is sick
it's something fierce.—Exchange.

David Was a Wise Youth.

The ignorance of some elements of the rising generation as to the Bible is often deplored; but occasionally the young men of today display an aptness of comment on Scriptural subjects that is gratifying. Here is an example quoted by a subscriber of the Outlook: The young artilleryman had said that Germany was a bully and a coward and carried her defeat in her make-up. The Biblical commentator instanced, as proof of this, Goliath in full armor parading up and down and cursing the Israelites, while the 'young and inexperienced' David slew him with a smooth stone from the brook. To this the artilleryman rejoined: Don't believe for a moment that David was ignorant or inexperienced. He knew perfectly the armor and 'a spear with a shaft like a weavers a beam' were clumsy and useless offensives against well-selected and well-aimed projectiles!'

Fruit Prospect.

A report issued last week by the Fruit Commissioner's branch of agriculture, says: 'Since our last report was published, prospects have improved in Nova Scotia and British Columbia. We are now estimating the Nova Scotia crop at 1,250,000 barrels, including all grades packed for export out of the Province. As the local consumption is estimated at 20,000 barrels, that brings the total crop up to nearly 1,500,000 barrels, exclusive of fruit used by evaporation, canners' factories and cider mills. With the extension of the British apple embargo, it is likely that a large portion of the crop will be exported. The Okanagan Valley crop is now estimated at 30 per cent. larger than last year as compared with the 25 per cent. increase predicted in our last issue.

'So far as Ontario is concerned, there is very little change to report. The principal feature is the almost unanimous report from all districts that Spies give better promise than any other variety.'

In Switzerland, men of fourteen and women of twelve years of age are allowed to marry.

Irritations of the Skin

Are Soothed and Healed by the Use of Dr. Chase's Ointment — Two Interesting Cases Reported

The old method of treating eczema by means of internal medicines is too slow and uncertain of results.

The new method is by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You apply the ointment and obtain almost immediate relief from the itching, stinging sensations. In a few days the sore spots are cleaned out and the healing process is set up.

As you apply the ointment from day to day you can see for yourself the splendid results obtained, and this will encourage you to keep on with this treatment until the cure is complete.

Mrs. Stafford Leason, Winchester, Ont., writes: "I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, as it cured me of a very severe case of eczema. After using several remedies without relief, I was about discouraged, thinking I could never endure the intense suffering. At last one evening when I felt I could not endure the pain another day or hour longer, I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment which I had seen advertised, and decided to give it a trial. To my great surprise, after using it a few times, I obtained relief, and in a few days my affliction began to completely disappear. My husband and I often speak of the quick and lasting cure I obtained in such a short time. That was ten years ago, and we have kept it in our home ever since, and it has been a great healer for many other complaints. I never fail to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to my friends and neighbors.

"I might state that we have also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in our household, and I can recommend it as doing all that you claim for it."

In scores of ways Dr. Chase's Ointment is of use in every home. Applied after shaving it keeps the skin soft and smooth. Used for baby after the bath, it cures chafing and skin irritation. It is so soothing and healing that it acts as a beautifier of the skin, keeping it soft, smooth and velvety. Sixty cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
