4 Favorites, 2 Second Choices And Reticent at 12 to 1 Winners

Garrett Wilson Noses Out Bryan and Blue Buck Beats Reservation—Knobhampton Repeats in Steeplechase—Card For Closing Day.

Big fields were in order Tuesday at Hamilton. The day was ideal for racing, the sun being warm and the track almost fast. The attendance was made up of the regulation regulars, including the Grand Trunk train load of 500 odd from Toronto. Four favorites won—Oleasa, Knobhampton, Javanese, and Blue Buck, that was split with Reservation in the feature event. They ran one-two, and their positions would have been reversed had Schilling persevered with Reservation in the early part. Blue Buck was off in front, and took such a lead that Schilling's drive up the stretch was only good to take the place from Factotum. The winner carried the most money, Reservation's price extending.

Garrett Wilson and Bryan fought a great duel when they hooked up at seven furlongs. They raced together in front all round, Wilson outgaming the favorite. The public were on Bryan and stable support strong on the winner. Scarfel left his first and second backing with the books. The other two were not extended.

Oleasa won the first easily, turning the trick in the stretch and landing a lot for the general public. Ossineke had just enough lead to let her save the place from Marquis de Carabas, both played for the place. Away was backed across the board but backed up.

Knobhampton repeated thru the field, being the only real performer in the steeplechase. Wabash ran out once, but was so far in front of Golden Way that he easily saved the place. Bilberry wouldn't keep the course. The other three fared worse. Wise money was on the winner. Bilberry had a lot of support.

Tho the field in the fifth race numbered an even dozen, most of them were backed at all too short prices. Javanese was lucky in getting away well and landed a lot of public money. Doc Kyle beat the long-shot, Ponemah, for the place. Nioless and Tanbark were backed.

Caper Sauce, in the sixth, was off running, and Foley rode as if his own money were up. The Morpheus four-year-old gained on every stride, winning by six lengths, with Tony Hart, once hailed as the milkman's plater, landin ga few pikers' place bets. Capercailzie was next, with all Charlie Millar's friends aboard for the show. Left Guard was a false alarm, especially to a strong following that looked for better things from Schilling and the light weight.

The seventh saw a whipping finish. Mafalda led up the strength and was just nipped at the wire, Ruth W. third. This was a clean-up for the books, the three placed horses carrying scarcely a dollar. Everyone plunged on Kilts.

Schilling was the winning jockey, with two first, and he had also the distinction of riding three beaten favorites.

Seventeen books and the pair of fielders were on, and they'll be there again to-day to hand back some or cop the remainder.

THE WINNERS.

1 Oleasa, favorite.....2-1
2 Knobhampton, favorite....7-5
3 Garrett Wilson, 2nd choice 3-1
4 Blue Buck, favorite.....2-1
5 Javanese, favorite.....8-5
6 Caper Sauce, 2nd choice..11-5
7 Reticent, long shot.....12-1
