HANDS OFF.

In the Supreme Court in Equity.

Weldon et al vs. William Parks & Son, ltd et al.—It has been reported to this court that the water-commissioners for the city of St. John have made a claim for water rates on the property in the hands of the receiver for a sum above $1100 and that they have placed or are about to place a warrant in the hands of an officer in order to take in execution some of the property in the hands of the receiver. Mr. Parks has informed the court that he had an arrangement with the commissioners by which it was understood that he was to pay about one-half of the amount claimed. Under these circumstances, the receiver has required instructions from the court what to do and in order to determine this it is necessary for me to state some principles of law applicable to the case. The first is that no officer has any right to touch or interfere with any property in the hands of the receiver, the doing so would be a contempt of this court for which it would be its duty to see he was punished. On this point Kerr on Receivers at page 191 says as follows:—"A man who disturbs or interferes with the possession of a receiver is guilty of a contempt and is liable to be committed. A sheriff who seizes goods in the possession of a receiver is guilty of contempt and may be committed."

While this is so, it is the duty of this court to see if the commissioners of water rates have any legal or equitable claim against the property that is taken possession of by the receiver that it is paid and for that purpose provide them means of properly representing their claim to the court and equally afford the company an opportunity of showing, if they can, that the claim is not well founded. The proper mode of doing this is by petition of either party. It will be the duty of the receiver to look into the matter and if the claim is right pay it, and if he thinks it is not then to put the matter in course of abjudication so that the proper amount may be ascertained and liquidated. If any attempt by anybody is made to interfere with the property in the hands of the receiver it will be his duty to report it to the court so that the disturber may be properly punished.

A. L. PALMER.

Little Fairies.

The lecture room in connection with St. Andrews church was crowded last evening and the delightful entertainment which had been prepared passed off smoothly and well appreciated by everyone present. Part I. of the programme consisted of the following:

Fuhlingshed .....Orchestra.
An Hour in Fairyland, with Tableaux.
King of Fairies....Master Roy Thompson
Queen of Fairies.....Miss Annie Stone
Fairy Cricket.....Miss Elsie McLean
" Fun.....Miss Emma Rankin
" Content.....Master Homer Forbes
" Truehart.....Miss Annie Stewart
" Good will.....Hazel Rainnie
Attendants of king, queen, etc.

The little ones in their dainty fairy costumes presented a pleasing spectacle, and each of them took his or her part in the most acceptable manner.

Miss Bowden gave a cello solo, her selection being good. Miss Clara Watson's rendition of Love's Request was accorded a double encore. She was in excellent voice and sang with true expression and sweetness. A recitation by Miss Birdie Forbes, did that young lady credit. A piano duet by Miss Blair and Master Fred Blair, concluded the programme which was satisfactory in every respect.

At the Bijou.

"Heigh-ho," said the city man, stretching his legs across the table.

And the man from Jemseg, who is a little deaf and had just arrived in the city with several tubs of fresh maple candy made from molasses sugar, answered:

"Bijou!" (he pronounced it Bi-jo) "Yes, I've heard of that theatre, and I don't mind accepting your invitation to take it in this evening."

The city man smiled audibly, (he didn't believe the Jemsegger as dead as he sometimes appeared,) but nevertheless he took him to the Bijou after getting him will loaded with liquid dynamite.

They took one of the front seats (the man from Jemseg wanted to see, quite as much as to hear) and when the fun began he grew uproarious. He had never seen anything like the work of the shadowgraphists, he had never heard such excruciatingly laughable songs in Jemseg or Gagetown, and during the presentation of the farce he fairly collapsed, and had to be removed at once to the nearest place where refreshments could be procured.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT occurred at Malaga mines, Queens county N. S., at 8.30 last Wednesday evening. A miner named Croft was carrying a kettle in which was about 15 pounds of dynamite and just got out of the shaft when it exploded, completely demolishing the shaft, house and blacksmith shop near by. Croft was knocked senseless and badly injured about the body; while three others, McGinnis, Moore and Roland, were seriously hurt, McGinnis is not expected to live. It is supposed a spark from Croft's lantern fell in the dynamite.

The Board of Trade on the Leary Scheme.

The discussion on the Leary harbor improvement scheme was finished at the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon Mr. Spurr's amendment to a previous resolution was carried by a vote of 39 to 12. The amendment provided:—

That the board petition the legislature that the bill now proposed to be submitted the legislature for an act to authorize the city of St. John to aid to the Leary scheme be not passed unless it be provided by the said act that no action shall be taken thereunder for the creation of any debt or obligation of the city in relation thereunto unless approved by a two-thirds' vote of the council; nor unless that the said bill be amended so as to authorize the council to enter into contracts, not only with the parties named in the bill, but with the Canadian Pacific railway company or any other railway or terminal company or commission that may be approved of by the said council; and that such authority does not extend beyond——months after the passing of the act.

At the opening of the meeting W. M. Jarvis read the following telegram, which he said had just been handed to him:

MONTREAL, March 19.

C. E. L. JARVIS, agent Grand Trunk railway St. John:

See board of trade committee and say we hope our application for equal rights and privileges in regard to Carleton branch and deep water approach will not be overlooked in any decision arrived at having regard to the intention of the company to reach St. John at an early date. If such competition is desired by the city, it is most important care is taken to guard general interests.

W. WAINWRIGHT.

And before the meeting closed Mr. Jarvis moved,

That the question of the grant of the Carleton branch railway to the C. P. R. be referred to the council of the board, and they be requested to obtain such information as may be available regarding the same, and to report at a subsequent meeting of the board.
