Royal Household Flour Is Always Uniform —Why?

It is one thing to make flour pure, well balanced and strong, it is another thing to have it uniformly so—to make flour that is precisely the same in purity and nutriment on Saturday as on Monday—in May as in November.

Because the "Royal Household" mills have the finest testing equipment available and unlimited resources for securing perfect wheat, they can and do produce—every working day in the year — flour of precisely uniform strength, nutriment and purity.

That is why Royal Household Flour makes always the very best bread and pastry, year in and year out.

That is why Royal Household Flour is the most reliable—the most successful flour —and being scientifically purified by electricity it is the purest—the best of all flours.

The next flour you buy ask for "Royal Household"—and try it for yourself.

Shocking Death of an Eight Year Old Lad Sick in Bed.

Senator Mitchell of Oregon Dies From the Effects of Tooth Extraction.

SPOKANE, Dec. 8.—Harold Bush, the 8-year-old son of M. J. Bush, was burned to a crisp this morning in a fire which destroyed their small home. The lad was ill in bed with pneumonia. His mother and her 3-year-old daughter were in the barn when the fire started. The mother rushed to save her boy and was badly burnt. The girl's hand was burned. The latter wanted to rush through the flames to get her brother. The boy's cries were heard by the frenzied mother for several minutes. The family is left destitute.

Infected Japanese Oranges

Tacoma, Dec. 8.—Many thousand boxes of Japanese oranges, delivered from Oriental liners to Puget Sound ports during the past week, and now in the hands of commission dealers at Tacoma, Seattle, Everett, Bellingham, Mt. Vernon and other neighboring places, are infected with several kinds of scales, according to the statement of F. A. Huntley, state commissioner of horticulture. Today all fruit inspectors of the counties in which these oranges are being handled will be instructed to take charge of all Japanese oranges in ships, warehouses and commission establishments and thoroughly fumigate them according to provisions of the state horticultural laws.

Stoical Prisoner Hanged

Walla Walla, Dec. 8.—Angus McPhail the Snohomish county murderer, made good a boast that he would go to death like a man. With a stoicism that surprised the officials and a big crowd of spectators lining the prison walls, McPhail trudged from his cell in the prison hospital to the gallows this morning and paid the penalty for the murder of Fred Alderson, a Darrington saloonkeeper, May .

Met Death Willingly

San Quentin, Dec. 8.—Walter Warner was hanged today in state prison for the murder of Marie Tomaya at Santa Barbara, June 10, 1904. When he bade good-bye to Warden Tompkins, he said: "This is the happiest day of my life." While ascending the scaffold he kicked off his slippers, remarking he would not die with boots on. His last statement was that the shooting of the woman was accidental, and he was smiling when the black cap was drawn over his head. He was 20 years of age.

Aged Laborer Burned

Everett, Dec. 8.—Elling Knutson, laborer, 60 years old, was burned to death in his home near Bryant, early this morning. It is supposed the fire was accidental.

Killed in a Fight

Yreka, Cal., Dec. 8.—Jack McDonald, a laborer at Weed, and champion of the locality, was killed in a fist fight on Wednesday night with Sid Roberts. The two men made arrangements for a ten-round bout for the gate receipts and a small purse. From the third round Roberts had things his own way. In the ninth, when McDonald was all but gone, Roberts swung a vicious left to the back of McDonald's head, dropping him to the floor. McDonald died, not regaining consciousness. The doctor pronounced death due to hemorrhage of the brain. One hundred men saw the contest. Roberts is now in jail.

Fell From Box Car

Bellingham, Dec. 8.—J. H. Mason, one of the best known men in Bellingham and a large property owner in this city, died at 2 o'clock this morning as a result of a fall at 10 o'clock last night from the top of a box car striking his head on the pavement 16 feet below. The car was being pushed by a freight dummy along the street railway tracks, when Mason climbed to the top and was knocked off by a cross wire. He was 35 years of age, and leaves a widow, father and mother.

Mourns Loss of His Wife

Anacortes, Dec. 8.—William Pascoe, husband of the woman who died while under the influence of chloroform during an operation in a dental chair a few weeks ago, was last night placed in the city jail at the solicitation of friends, as he had been acting queerly and had made threats to do away with himself during the day. Ever since the death of his wife he has grieved to such an extent that his friends have feared for his safety.

Senator Mitchell Dead

Portland, Dec. 8.—Senator Mitchell is dead. John Hipple Mitchell was born in Washington County, Pa., in 1835. He came to Oregon in 1860. Was elected in 1867 to the state senate, and to the United States senate in 1873. A Democratic legislature failed to return him, but at a special session in 1885 he was again elected to the national senate. In 1891 he was once more chosen United States senator. It was only when Senator Mitchell's connection with a conspiracy to defraud the government of its public domain was made manifest by his conviction in the federal court that he lost the political influence which he had held for a greater part of half a century.

Death resulted from the loss of blood caused by the extraction of a tooth a few days ago. During last night and this morning the physician administered saline solution at frequent intervals but without avail.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The death of Senator Mitchell of Oregon has raised a delicate question as to the duty of the Senators toward their late associate. Ordinarily when a member dies a committee is appointed to represent the senate at the funeral services, and at the earliest opportunity the colleagues of the deceased member formally give notice of the death and announce that later they will make more extended remarks. The Senate today adjourned out of respect to the memory of the deceased. After numerous conferences between Senators and the sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Ramsdell, the point was raised as to whether the Senate would be warranted in following the usual program in the case of Senator Mitchell. It was argued that at the time of his death he stood convicted of an offence under the federal laws, and in violation of his oath as Senator. On the other hand it was pointed out that the Senate has not even been notified officially of his conviction and that judgment has been arrested by an appeal to the supreme court, and that the highest court had not passed upon the question of his guilt or innocence. Aat a late hour tonight Vice-President Fairbanks had not appointed the usual committee.

Don't Neglect a Cough or Cold

IT CAN HAVE BUT ONE RESULT. IT LEAVES THE THROAT or LUNGS, OR BOTH, AFFECTED.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP IS THE MEDICINE YOU NEED. . . . . .

It is without an equal as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs, the healing properties of the Norway Pine Tree will proclaim its great virtue by promptly eradicating the bad effects, and a persistent use of the remedy cannot fail to bring about a complete cure.

Do not be humbugged into buying so-called Norway Pine Syrups, but be sure and insist on having Dr. Wood's. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cts.

Mrs. Henry Seabrook, Hepworth, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in our family for the past three years and I consider it the best remedy known for the cure of colds. It has cured all my children and myself."

Greased Boots With Ambergris

Capt. McLean's Adventurers Had a Fortune But They Did Not Know It.

Found Substance Valued at $15 an Ounce and in Ignorance Wasted It.

The luckless schooner Acapulco, or Carmencita, or Jennie Thelin, upon which Captain Alex. McLean, known some time to the yellow journals of San Francisco as "The Sea Wolf," went cruising to the northern seas seeking seals, carried a small fortune on board — and it was not in sealskins—when she returned to Victoria; but the sealers didn't know it. It seems, according to the story that is told by George Schaer, a sailor, who was one of Captain McLean's crew, that the men who went to wrest fortune from the northern seas did so, but they didn't know they had succeeded.

The sealers of the Carmencita greased their boots with ambergris, which is valued at $14 an ounce!

Prof. Prince in his interesting lecture on whale life a few days ago, told of the richness of ambergris. He said: "When the sperm whale has been feeding largely upon cuttlefish a limy concretion often lodges in the intestines, causing the death of the whale. When removed, this substance, called ambergris, is light and floats on the surface of the water. It is one of the most valuable of all substances. A large piece of 112 pounds recently taken by a Portland vessel brought $18,000. Ambergris is sold for from $10 to $15 an ounce and is used by perfume manufacturers. When a small fragment is placed in the extract of flowers it intensifies the oder exceedingly."

Ambergris is generally considered too valuable to use as grease for boots.

George Schaer, a seaman of the sealer, appeared at a druggist's shop in Seattle a few days ago with a bottle of the "grease." He had a pickle bottle in which there was a substance which he told the druggist was grease used for cleaning boots. Then the druggist told him the so-called grease was ambergris.

For the five ounces which remained in the pickle bottle Schaer received $73.

"And we thought the stuff was only common grease," said Schaer. "We found a whole dishpan full floating on the water, and after putting it in a can we used it to grease our boots, the oars, the masts, and in fact everything else that needed greasing. We had no idea that we were using a substance more valuable than gold. In fact the stuff was thrown overboard after we had used all we wanted, but thinking we might want to use it some other time, I picked it up again and put it in the bottle. I stowed the bottle away in my bag and forgot all about it.

"On unpacking my bag here I found the bottle and just to see what kind of grease it was, I took it to a druggist. I almost fell dead when he told me it was pure ambergris and offered me $73 for the five ounces which I had.

"We must have used up several pounds of it on the schooner, and I guess a pound or two was thrown overboard."

And the Carmencita, or Acapulco, had a profitless voyage, bringing home 373 sealskins.

APPEAL FOR HELP.

Donation Solicited to Alleviate Suffering Jews in Rusia.

The following appeal has been issued by the Hebrews of Victoria in favor of their persecuted co-religionists in Russia. The funds thus collected it is understood will be distributed to Jew and Gentile alike where the necessities of the cases are similar. The British consuls at the various points will act as distributaries of the fund.

Donation may be left at the Colonist office and will be duly acknowledged.

The civilized world has been shocked by the awful news which has leaked out by driblets, as it were, from Russia, wherein we are told of horrors which hardly have a parallel in history. Many thousands of unhappy Jews have been slaughtered in a fiendish manner—childish innocence or hoary old age not excepted—their homes pillaged and burnt, until there are left an enormous number of wretched beings scattered throughout Southern Russia, exposed to the inclemency of severe weather, many of them bereft of dear ones who have fallen victims to fiendish lust and brutal carnage. As Hon. Oscar Straus said, "No matter how much money is forthcoming, at best we can only give fractional relief."

I appeal for help through the medium of your paper, as you have kindly offered to place your columns at our disposal for that purpose and to receive subscriptions for these stricken people. All sums collected will be sent to the general committee in London, whence it is sent to the British consuls at parts accessible to the scenes of recent outrages. The British government have instructed their diplomatic agents to carry out the instructions of the committee, so that a proper distribution can be relied on. Gentiles as well as Jews—that is, those who took no part in outrages or who assisted in the work of self-defence—will participate in relief where necessary. Contributions may also be sent to Dr. S. M. Hartman or H. L. SALMON.

First list of donors to fund for sufferers from Russian outrages: His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, $20; Hon. Senator Templeman, $10; Anonymous, $25; A Few Friends, $10; C. Brasch, $10; F. MRS. HOPPER'S FARM IS ORDERED SOLD Estate Left to Actress Is Encumbered by Debt and Order for Sale Is Made.

Judge Ogden made an order at Oakland on Monday for the sale of Souther farm, near San Leandro, formerly the home of the late Mrs. Josephine Dunsmuir and now the property of her daughter, Edna Wallace Hopper. It was shown by W. S. Leake, executor of Mrs. Dunsmuir's estate, that it was impossible for him to conduct the large ranch at a profit. Last year, he said, there had been a deficit of $2,000. There are claims against the estate that amount to more than $40,000. Of this amount $30,000 is for books, brick-a-brac and ornaments for the house on the ranch which were made by Mrs. Dunsmuir. Other great outlays were made by her, such as the installation of an electric plant and the laying out of handsome lawns and walks. On Leake's admission that there was a deficit, Judge Ogden said that such a deficit might be charged against the executor. Souther farm was appraised at $125,000. Leake's bonds were raised by Judge Ogden from $113,000 to $205,000.

DEFACED WORK OF ART.

Florence, Italy, Dec. 7.—Thieves today entered the Church of St. Lawrence, in the village of Caselina, Torri, and tried with the aid of chisels to remove from a wall a beautiful bas relief representing the twelve apostles, the work of Michael Angelo. The effort was not successful, but the work has been badly defaced.

HERR BEBEL'S SARCASM.

Socialist Leader Turns the Laugh on Emperor William.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—"Now that Russian absoluteism is approaching its end," said Herr Babel the Socialist leader in the reichstag today, "Germany enjoys the reputation of being the most reactionary state of the world. Since the peace of Portsmouth, Germany's situation in the Far East is precarious, because Germany through her interference with the powers at Shimonisaki is blackballed in Japan. Nemesis has prevailed. Germany should recognize the logical results of the situation, and withdraw entirely from Kiouchau. The dream of making a German Port Arthur out of Kiaochau is dispelled. The entire colonial policy of the government is pure illusion. It is high time for the reichstag to go sober. (Great laughter) Bismarck was quite right, when at the time he heard of the acquisition of Kiachau he exclaimed "it is just big enough to cause many stupidities. We have spent there altogether a hundred millions yet our trade is zero."

Herr Bebel created much merriment by referring to Emperor William's telegram to Emperor Nicholas, "The admiral of the Atlantic" greets the Admoral of the Pacific." Adding that the "admiral of the Pacific," meanwhile had grown very pacific. He also mentioned the cartoon published in a comic paper representing the "admiral of the Pacific" in a washtub, swimming desperately for the shore with remnants of his wardrobe and added, "I hope the admiral of the Atlantic will never have the same experience."

NEWS OF NELSON.

Six Cases Heard at the Assizes—New Fair Grounds Arranged For.

Nelson, Dec. 7.—The supreme court opened its sessions here with a short list of six cases, three being put over till the next session. The case of the Lanyon Zinc Company of Iola, Kansas, vs. the Payne Mining Company, which promised to become, if pushed, a cause celebre, has been settled out of court, each party agreeing to pay its own costs. In this case the Kansas company brought action against the Payne for $1,700, being money in excess of that which should have been sent for ore despatched to the Iola smelter, and in connection with which overpayment it was openly stated in the examination for discovery that it had been fraudulently obtained. In answer the Payne company brought a cross suit for $2,500 for breach of the self-same ore contract, the breach being the failure of the Iola smelter to show the company the best means of concentrating their ores for shipment.

The Canadian Pacific has granted very favorable terms to the agricultural society here for the extension of its fair grounds in order that the society may be enabled to place a small race track within these grounds for use during the annual fair.

Bannerman To the Lords

Report That New Premier Will Be Elevated to Upper Chamber.

Herbert Asquith Will Likely Be Party Leader in the House.

London, Dec. 7.—It is understood in the best informed quarters that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman will be elevated to the peerage so that he may become the leader of his party in the House of Lords. In such an event, Herbert Henry Asquith will become first lord of the treasury and leader of the party in the House of Commons. The only matter as yet undecided is whether these changes shall be made before or after the general election. There is a strong feeling in the Liberal party against Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman entering the House of Lords until after the election. If Sir Henry should go to the upper house, it is probably that he would take the which, it is pointed out, he could do if relieved of the heavy responsibility of leading the House of Commons. It is also stated that there is every probability that Winston Churchill will be given a post in the new government.

According to the Times this morning, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has decided to remain in the lower house as long as his health and strength will permit; and that in consequence of this decision Sir Edward Grey, who is a strong partizan of Lord Rosebery, has refused to become a member of the cabinet, which otherwise he would have been willing to do had Sir Henry gone to the House of Lords, leaving Mr. Asquith to lead the Commons.

HERR BEBEL SPEAKS.

Socialist Leader in German Parliament Expresses His Views.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, speaking in the reichstag today against the government's foreign policy, created indignant protests from the government benches by referring to the situation in Russia as proof that the time was coming when the proletariat and not the cabinets would decide the question of war or peace.

"Wha tthe Russian people are now showing their ruler, can be done also," shouted the Socialist leader, "by other European peoples. We are of the opinion that the people will never allow themselves t obe again driven into war. Today war can only be made with the support of the entire people."

Continuing Herr Bebel said: "The present time is a serious one. Do you believe that what is going on in the east is not excitin" the German laboring people most profoundly. If you do not take care to make the fatherland what it should be, so that the workingmen will gladly defend it, they will raise the question whether they shall defend it at all."

The Socialist deputies shouted their assent to this remark, which caused great commotion on the government benches.

Herr Bebel added: "If the German laboring classes fail you, you are lost, and I tell you that day will come. You have no conception of the embitterment of the hearts of the German workmen today."

BIG BUSINESS.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 7.—The General Electric Railway Company filed today with the secretary of state a certificate of increase of capital stock from $48-325,500 to $60,000,000.

WANT BETTER QUARTERS.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 7.—Better sanitary quarters for sailors and other employees on steamboats, especially those plying the Great Lakes, was provided for by a resolution adopted at today's conference of the delegates to the convention of the International Lake Seamen's Union, now in session here. The resolution was embodied in a letter which was sent to the surgeon-general at Washington.

A CLAIM IN EGYPT.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The senate today passed a resolution introduced by Senator Lodge (Massachusetts) requesting from the President, if not incompatible with the public interests, the papers relating to a claim of Cope Whitehouse to certain desert lands in Egypt. It is represented that the lands claimed are now valued at $25,000,000.

NO MORE PASSES.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 7.—President Johnson of the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company, after a conference with President Cassett of the Pennsylvania Railroad, announced that his company would discontinue the issuance of passes with the end of this year. Word was received here tonight that President Truesdale of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad had issued similar notice.

WINNIPEG WIRINGS.

Board of Trade Favors Steamship Line to Italy.

Winnipeg, Dec. 7.—Railwaymen report that this year's excursion traffic is unusually heavy. "It is simply astonishing" one official remarked today, "the number of people traveling east on holiday tickets."

Following the visit of Marquis of Doria in the interests of trade with Italy the Winnipeg board of trade today passed a resolution favoring steamship service between Canada and that country.

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN SUICIDES.

Saskatoon, Sask. Dec. 7.—Ernest Deason, a young Englishman twenty years of age living with Frank Frudd 17 miles from Saskatoon, shot himself through the head some time between Friday and Tuesday last. He was seen alive by Frudd on Friday in charge of the homestead. On Tuesday he was found dead. Seeing blood upon the pillow and thinking something was wrong he brought his brother and neighbors. They broke in the back door with an axe and on trying to open the bedroom door found a weight against it which proved to be the body of young Deason frozen stiff.

REPATRIATION OF JEWS.

Significant Admission Made in Appeal in Favor of Russia's Oppressed.

London, Dec. 7.—In an important appeal on behalf of the oppressed Russian Jews, signed by Lord Rothschild, Sir Samuel Montague and other leaders of the Jewish movement in Great Britain, the admission is made that for the bulk of the Russian Jews there is no hope of salvation except through a new regime of liberty and justice when they will receive equal rights with their fellow citizens of every nation. Their appeal pointed out that all proposed schemes for colonization and emigration only benefit a small proportion of the sufferers, and the petition calls upon the Jews to abandon the great colonization scheme and to grant immediate aid to the sufferers and bereaved. The signatories to the appeal ask where there is to be found at $250 per head to transplant the first million Jews from Russia, not to say anything of the 4,000,000 Russian Jews for whom all the schemes hitherto proposed had been quite inadequate; while the formation of such autonomous ghetto state, even if territory large enough could be secured, would be open to many grave objections. On the other hand, it says, $250 would emigrate six persons to Argentina or Canada.

The $250,000,000 Required

THE LIVER TO BLAME.

So long as the liver is active in filtering the bile from the blood there is no billiousness and no constipation, because the bile is passed from the liver into the intestines, where it acts as a cathartic in keeping the bowels active. Because of their direct action on the liver as well as the bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cure constipation, the real cause of nine-tenths of the common ills of life.

RESIDENCE ENTERED BY BURGLAR

Detective Macdonald Soon Recovered Stolen Watch in a Local Pawnshop.

Detective Macdonald yesterday morning recovered a valuable gold watch stolen from the residence of Mrs. Stephens, of John street on Thursday. The watch, valued by the owners for sentimental reasons, was in a case with a diamond ring, another gold watch and other jewelry, but the thief, who had entered the residence by the bath room window during the temporary absence of the occupants in the afternoon and made his way through the house upstairs to the bedroom, took only the watch and an Albert chain, which is still missing. The police were notified of the theft and yesterday morning Detective Macdonald recovered the watch at a pawnshop. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stephen, opposite that of the younger Mrs. Stephens on John street was entered about two months ago and the thief then ripped open a purse and took money, leaving other articles of value untouched.

Will Have None Of Mr. Redmond

Ultimatum of Nationalists Receives Prompt Answer From Unionist Organ.

Maintenance of the Union Will Be Keynote of the Campaign.

London, Dec. 8.—The ultimatum issued by the Nationalists' committee at Dublin demanding home rule has been promptly answered by an announcement which appears in the Spectator this morning. This publication, although a Unionist organ, has throughout strongly opposed Chamberlainism, and now announces its intention to support the incoming government as the only sure means of upholding free trade. In an evidently inspired paragraph the Spectator declares: "The cabinet, if it commands a majority in the next parliament, has no intention to introduce a home rule bill. It will not even appeal to the country for a mandate to endow Ireland with a special legislature. The essential issue to be placed before the electors will be the maintenance of free trade and the opposition will be given a chance to make that question or to pretend that the home rule issue has taken its place."

The Spectator further expresses the belief that Sir Edward Grey will be appointed secretary for foreign affairs.

No Tampering With the Union

If, as is presumed, the Spectator is well informed, this would imply that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has succeeded in enlisting all sections of the Liberal party, including the partisans of Lord Rosebery, in the new government by giving assurances that no attempt will be made to tamper with the union and no pre-election pledges will be given to John Redmond.

It appears to be certain that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman practically has completed his cabinet and that King Edward will come to London in readiness to hold a council on Monday.

The indications, however, are that Mr. Redmond has acquiesced in some form of compromise so as to avert the danger of a general election resulting in another Unionist victory, which would throw Ireland's hopes again into the distant future.

Mr. Balfour's Clever Attack

Mr. Chamberlain's speech last night is to be the pattern of all the Unionist election speeches. The Unionists are entering the campaign with the greatest zest and are utilizing to the full extent Mr. Balfour's lead to attack the Liberals on the question of the maintenance of the union. Unless, therefore, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has secured some concession from Mr. Redmond he will be confronted with one of the most difficult problems ever presented to a British premier. The cleverness of Mr. Balfour's tactical move in enforcing his opponents into a defensive position on the question of the maintenance of the union is daily becoming more and more apparent.

It is understood that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has decided to remain in the House of Commons. The strongest reason from the point of view of the Liberal party against the elevation of Sir Henry to the peerage is that the party would thereby be deprived of his services during the campaign, as members of the peerage are not permitted to speak in behalf of candidates for membership in the House of Commons.

The Daily Chronicle this morning announces that David Lloyd George and John Burns, representatives respectively of the Radical and Labor parties, will be included in the new government.

Chamberlain's Tribute to Balfour

Joseph Chamberlain, speaking at Medford tonight, paid a striking tribute to Mr. Balfour, the retiring premier, who his said would leave a deep impression on the minds of his friends throughout the country. He asserted that nothing had arisen which in the slightest degree affected his personal or his political relations with Mr. Balfour. Referring to the new government, Mr. Chamberlain said the country had now passed into the hands of the home rulers and "Little Englanders." Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, it was his opinion, intended to give Ireland home rule by instalments on the hire system. Mr. Chamberlain charged Sir Henry with having made a bargain with John Redmond along these lines. He asked what would be thought when a British premier took his and when he used his high position to undermine the constitution, which he was there to support.

Mr. Chamberlain then turned to fiscal matters, repeating his old arguments and contending that the suggested tax on wheat would be practically significant and would be compensated for in other ways.

Among those present was Dr. William Osler, formerly of Johns Hopkins University, Montreal, and now regius professor of medicine at Oxford, who moved a resolution calling for tariff reform as the best means of consolidating the empire. The resolution carried, with only one dissenting voice.

EXECUTION OF MRS. ROGERS.

For Third Time Preparations Are Made to Hang Murderess.

Montpelior, Vt., Dec. 7.—A final attempt to prolong the life of Mrs. Mary Rogers, whose execution has been set for tomorrow, will be made early in the morning. Governor Bell, who has been in the west, left Montreal tonight for White River junction, where he has arranged to remain tomorrow in order to be within easy reach of the state officials and attorneys. Those who have followed the celebrated case expressed little confidence tonight that Governor Bell would alter his previous decision not to grant another reprieve.

Mrs. Jessie Carlton, of Cincinnati, who says she bears 43,000 signatures in favor of saving the life of the condemned woman arrived here tonight and left for Montpelier junction to board the train on which Governor Bell is traveling.

Preparations for Hanging

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 7.—Preparations for the hanging of Mrs. Mary Rogers were practically complete tonight and unless Governor Bell again reprieves her the murderess will pay the penalty of her crime tomorrow.

The deputy sheriffs have been busy all day and with the help of a carpenter they set up the gallows in the west wing of the prison, where it had been erected twice before for the execution.
