The concert given in College Hall, on Tuesday evening was a genuine treat, one of the best entertainments we have attended for a long time. Mr. Chas. A. Cooke, Canada's Indian basso and reader, proved a charming entertainer, and those who heard him were simply delighted. He was assisted by Mrs. Geo. E. Lane, of New York, who has been spending the summer in Wolfville. Mrs. Lane possesses a rich soprano voice, and her selections were highly appreciated. Mrs. E. P. Moore was the pianoforte accompanist and pleased the audience greatly with her skilful renditions.

No Fundy Ferry Yet.

For the present there will be no car ferry across the Bay of Fundy in connection with the through freight service which the Canadian Pacific will establish immediately between Montreal and Halifax via the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

This was the announcement which was made today by Mr. McNicoll, the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, who, with Mr. G. M. Bosworth, has been on a trip of inspection over the Dominion Atlantic, now about to be merged into the Canadian Pacific system.

Mr. Bosworth supplemented this statement of Mr. McNicoll's by saying that the same system would be adopted as was in operation between Owen Sound and Fort William. The freight would be trans-shipped at St. John, and taken to Digby by steamer, and thence by the Dominion Atlantic to Halifax.

'We have spare steamers that we can use for this service,' said Mr. Bosworth, 'and we have no doubt that this system will answer well.'

Mr. McNicoll, however, admitted that the question of putting a car ferry on this service was one of the matters which had been looked into but no decision had been taken on this question pending a report from the engineers. The high tides in the bay, he said, offered no very great obstacle to a car ferry. The more important question was whether the channel was a good one or not.

That the Dominion Atlantic would become an important feeder of the C. P. R. system Mr. McNicoll frankly admitted.

"I never saw such a big area of splendid orchards as there are along the line," he said. "A very healthy sign was that many new orchards are being planted, and prosperity is everywhere in evidence. It is a charmingly picturesque country, and my only regret in regard to it is that there are not more people there. However, time will doubtless remedy that and certainly the C. P. R. will do what it can towards advertising it, and developing the country for farming and fruit growing as well as for tourist traffic. There is not the slightest doubt that the country is capable of supporting a much larger population than at present.'

Death of Governor Fraser.

There passed away, on Tuesday morning, at his country home in Guysboro, his Honor, Lieutenant-Governor D. C. Fraser. He had shown signs of failing health for a year or more, but he never shirked his duty as a public man. In July he went to his summer cottage at Guysboro, with which county he had been associated politically and socially for so many years.

There he spent his last days in quiet and happiness, surrounded by his loved ones. He was bright and cheerful and, although he was for the most part confined to his couch, he retained his mental vigor to the end. Friends who visited him during the summer remarked his bright and cheery manner. He was the old "D. C." in all but physical strength.

On Monday forenoon he began to sink and towards evening he became unconscious, remaining in that state until the end came.

On Wednesday his remains were taken to New Glasgow where he was buried on thursday with the simple rites of the Presbyterian church. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. W. MacMillan, pastor of St. Matthew's church, Halifax.

While the members of his family sit in the shadow of death in Guysboro, the people of Nova Scotia sorrow with them as for one who brought to his responsible office a personality exemplifying pre-eminently those simple virtues to which the public heart, "whose instinct is so true, will always do reverence."

Two things specially signalized his term at government house. One was a supreme scorn of formality, and the other a scorn of any social claims which did not rest on mental and worth.

The thinkers and the doers of the community were those upon recognition of whom he was insistent. In the compilation of 'social lists' he was careful to honor worth, and he bowed to nothing else.

Throughout his life he was the enthusiastic, wise friend of education. Nothing was more characteristic of his Scottish blood than his insistence of the path to the only true and complete freedom.

Withal, his heart was as soft as that of a little child. His was the true childlikeness. No good cause ever found him unresponsive

He was tolerant, too. He had the reasonableness of a large nature as he had its absolute simplicity and complete absence of 'side.' He had no two sets of 'manners.'

Reverent, strong, sympathetic to all that tended to the welfare of the community as a whole, faithful in his high office he has passed to the highest rewards and left his name 'writ large' in the hearts of the people.

Children Had Eczema

Treatment prescribed had no effect—DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT made thorough cure.

Mrs. Oscar Vancott, St. Antoine, Sask., writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for Eczema and other skin diseases. One on, while nursing, broke out with running watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scabs and he suffered agony untold. He became weak and frail and would not eat and we thought we would lose him.

"Providentially we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their little ones may be saved from suffering."

As a cure for eczema and itching skin disease there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.
