THE ESPLANADE SETTLED.

THE C. P. R. EMPOWERED TO EXPROPRIATE THE FULLER WATER LOTS.

A Big Fight Before the Minister of Railways—Details of the New Union Station, The Bridges and the New Street—Both Roads Working in Harmony and Masters of the City's Water Front.

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—Hon J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways, and Mr. Trudeau the deputy minister were occupied to-day in hearing the application of the Canadian Pacific for leave to expropriate all the water lots in Toronto opposite the present Union Station between York and Simcoe-streets. The railway was represented by Hon. R. W. Scott, Q.C., of Ottawa, Mr. Dugald MacMurchy of Toronto and Mr. W. T. Jennings the Company's engineer. The Fuller estate, who are the original lessees of the property from the City of Toronto, were represented by Mr. Gormally on behalf of Fuller, Nesbitt and Bicknell of Hamilton.

Mr. Gormally made a determined opposition to the application on the ground that other property could have been procured and that this was not necessary, and that the whole application was a sudden move on the part of the C.P.R. Mr. Gormally in addition put in affidavits from the trustees of the Fuller Estate asking for a further postponement or that the application be refused.

The claims of the Railway were vigorously urged on the minister by Mr. Scott and Mr. MacMurchy, who declined to agree to a further adjournment, and a number of affidavits were read from President R. B. Osler of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, Mr. W. D. Matthews and other officers of the C.P.R. The Engineer explained by means of plans the proposed scheme of a new union station on these water lots.

After a lengthy discussion the Minister gave his decision allowing the Company to expropriate the land in question.

It is understood here that the Fuller estate will apply to the courts to still restrain the C.P. R. from carrying out their agreement with the city and the G.T.R., but this course would probably be unsuccessful.

The representatives of the railway returned to Toronto to-night.

This decision gives the two railways control of the whole water front in Toronto west of Yonge-street right up to the Queen's wharf with the single exception of the lots of the city, whereon the pumping house of the water system is located.

It is now the intention of the C. P. R. in connection with the Grand Trunk to at once proceed with their extensive improvements on the Esplanade. These improvements include a new Union Station immediately south of the present one which now covers only one third of the ground which the new structure will include. This new station will run east and west as the present one does, and will contain not less than seven through tracks with complete station accommodation on each side for each railway.

The Grand Trunk will probably have all its offices and other accommodation on the north side, while the C. P. R. will take the side nearest the bay, access to which southern side will be had by means of a viaduct or overhead bridge running from Front-street over all the tracks to the new Esplanade-street along the front of the bay. There will be a large yard immediately south of the new station for cabs, hacks and vehicles of all kinds. All these vehicles and passengers will pass over the York-street bridge, or rather viaduct, which will be on the level of York-street above Front-street. On the north side there will also be extensive yard accommodation for the Grand Trunk, which, however, will be reached as at present by an incline in the street, but without crossing any tracks. The new station will cost a very large sum of money, and will be complete in particular, the two companies, it would appear, having determined to act in the utmost harmony toward accomplishing this end.

Upon the water lots running from York to Simcoe-streets the Canadian Pacific will have their freight shed accommodation for the city proper, at one end of which the inward freight will be handled, and at the other the outward. For this purpose two immense structures will be erected.

The Grand Trunk will have their freight shed accommodation at the west end of the station as at present, and in all probability they will occupy a portion of the water lots now in front of their freight sheds. Along the new street, immediately south of the present tracks, there are to be three new tracks put down, the southernmost one of which is to be common to the two roads, and used for the purpose of reaching the various yards, docks and docks and the like along the whole city front. The other two will be the exclusive property of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The Grand Trunk will use its own tracks now in existence.

Simcoe-street will be closed at the point where the street now stand. Another viaduct to the new Esplanade-street will run from Front-street level at the foot of John-street. Eventually other connections between the present streets and the new Esplanade will be reached by these overhead bridges or viaducts.

Mr. Hendrie, contractor for the Don river spur of the C. P. R., promises to have the work finished by the end of the year, and next year the C. P. R. hope to be able to extend this spur from the Winchester-street bridge down the west side of the Don improvement to Berkeley-street, from which street their two new tracks will run westward along the new Esplanade. One of these new tracks is already down from Berkeley to Church-street, and the grading has been done from Church as far west as Bay-street.

The great points then of the settlement effected at Ottawa on Saturday are: (1) that the city gets rid of the question of injunction raised by lessees of the Fuller estate on the lots between York and Simcoe-streets, as the company is now empowered by the Minister of Railways to expropriate the lots in question; (2) the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific have determined to work in harmony for the improvement of the Esplanade and the erection of a new Union Station; (3) there will be no streets crossing the tracks on the same level; but overhead bridges will be provided wherever necessary; (4) a large sum of money will have to be spent for these improvements in the way of labor and material.

In Trouble in the States.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 13.—T. D. Shenick, reported as being in prison in the southern states and about whom there have been international inquiries made, is believed to be Thomas D. Shenick, who lived in this place a number of years ago. He for several years kept a boot and shoe store in Queen-street west with a livery in connection. Failing in business he went to Toronto, and it was reported went into the livery business there and graduated as a veterinary surgeon.

Robbed His Employers.

BLENHEIM, Oct. 13.—For some time Byram & Co. of this town have been missing money and last Tuesday $90 was taken. Suspicion fell on a young fellow about 20 years of age, Gill Stewart, son of Joseph Stewart of this place, who has been working for Byram & Co. To-day he was placed under arrest and made a full confession. He is supposed to have taken something over $200 in all.

THE MUD RUN VICTIMS.

Heartrending Scenes at Pleasant Valley—An Immense Funeral.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 13.—The scenes at Pleasant Valley this morning were heartrending. Twenty-eight priests assisted at the funeral services in the Roman Catholic Church over the thirty-three Pleasant Valley victims of the Mud Run disaster. The entire population of the town of Pleasant Valley and surrounding villages were present and the church could not hold one-tenth of those who desired admittance. The bodies were interred in the Catholic Cemetery west of the town, amid the saddest scenes ever witnessed in Pleasant Valley.

Twenty-two Buried at Scranton.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 13.—Business was suspended during the greater part of the day owing to the funeral services of the victims of the Mud Run disaster. The funerals were held simultaneously throughout the valley. Twenty-two of the victims were buried in this city, 33 at Pleasant Valley, and smaller numbers at Moosic, Minooka, and other points. The services in this city were held at the Roman Catholic Cathedral, and the cortege to the cemetery was nearly two hours passing a given point. No such scene has been witnessed in the Lackawanna Valley since the great disaster at the Avondale mine in 1869, when more than 150 miners were killed.

Fixing the Responsibility.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 13.—Charles M. Hain of Kiddy-street, this city, this afternoon said he was on the train that crashed into the preceding one. After it stopped he saw the fireman, Hannigan, beside the second car with his lantern in his hand. He was the man who had been sent back to flag the approaching train, but instead of doing as he was told he remained to talk with some girls on the cars which were afterward wrecked. Hain made oath to this statement, and it is corroborated by others who will appear before the coroner. This relieves Engineer Cook from all blame in the matter. It is said Hannigan will be arrested.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Carpenter's Shop and Knit Goods Manufactory at Galt Burnt.

GALT, Oct. 13.—About 6 o'clock this morning fire destroyed a two-story building on North Water-street owned by Wm. Lapsley, carpenter. The upper story was wooden and occupied by Lapsley as a workshop, the lower story stone and occupied by Noyes & Patchett, manufacturers of knitted goods, who have only been in business about two months. They lose besides their stock all their machinery, valued at $3000. Lapsley's loss on building and tools is about $1500; no insurance held by either.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 13.—At an early hour this morning the business portion of the village of Pointe du Chene narrowly escaped complete destruction. The fire originated in Irving & Sherard's story-and-a-half building which was completely destroyed, together with the stock; insurance about $1100 on the stock and $600 on the building. The Custom House was in the building. Mrs. Gratton's hotel was burned, and only portion of the furniture was saved. There was no insurance and the loss will be heavy. Edward McDonald's building containing dwelling, bakery and shop, and also the post office, was destroyed. Insurance $700. Mrs. McLellan's dwelling and shop, upon which there was no insurance, was burned and so was John McDonald's hotel. Mr. McDonald's barn and his crop were also destroyed; $1200 insurance.

THE MINING COMMISSION.

Large Bodies of Valuable Ore Awaiting Development.

RENFREW, Oct. 14.—The commission is now visiting the mines on the line of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway. The Glendower mine in Bedford township is not now working owing to the depressed state of the market, but the ore taken from it gave good satisfaction and built up a good reputation; about 100,000 tons of ore has been taken out. The width of the Calabogie vein is from 12 to 13 feet and 7000 tons of ore of good quality have been shipped from it, but nothing is now doing on it owing to the low price of iron now ruling. About two miles from the Calabogie iron has been found which about 50 feet down was within the Bessemer grade; about 1000 tons taken out although none has been shipped.

On lot 16 in the 9th concession of Bagot there is an immense deposit of fine ore; the vein is 75 to 100 feet wide and can be traced a distance of two miles. The next mine visited was the Wilbur, the ore from which is exceptionally fine, containing neither phosphorus, sulphur, nor titanum; about 100,000 tons has been shipped; the vein is from 15 to 18 feet in width, and recently the drill ran through 42 feet of solid ore; at present 27 men are doing work mostly of an exploratory nature. Everything in this section of the country points to the existence of large bodies of ore which but await discovery and development. Even a moderate rise in the iron market would make an immense difference in this section.

THE CORNWALL CANAL.

It is Hoped Repairs May be Completed Within Ten Days.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—The break in the Cornwall Canal and consequent interruption of business, continue to be the only topic of conversation on 'Change to-day. Superintendent Conway of the Lachine Canal, went up yesterday and returned today. He reports that the break is a very bad one, but that he will probably be able to finish repairs within ten days. A good deal of timber work and puddling will be necessary where the bed of the canal is washed away, and the earth for the embankment will have to be brought a long distance. Mr. Conway, on his return here, immediately chartered the steamer Beauharnois, which was loaded with the plank necessary for repairs and the staff of men, and left Lachine at 12 o'clock for the Cornwall Canal. She will land her cargo within a mile of the break.

Burglars at Lancaster, Ont.

LANCASTER, Oct. 13.—Some time between 9 o'clock last night and this morning the store of Messrs. D. F. & W. McPherson, dry goods and groceries of this place, was entered by burglars and a quantity of goods, consisting of ready-made clothing, mitts, gloves, underwear, etc., was taken. In the same building are the offices of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, Bell Telephone Company and the post office which were entered and the papers, etc., belonging to them strewn in confusion on the floor. A number of letters in the post-office were opened. The safe in which the registered letters were kept was not tampered with. Entrance was secured by forcing the front door of the store open. Another store kept by A. J. McDougall, grocer, was entered and a few articles are missing together with about $10 in money.

THE COLLECTORSHIP PLUM.

HON. JOHN B. ROBINSON NOT A CANDIDATE FOR THE OFFICE.

John Small, is he in the Field?—Mr. Barwick Has a Big Lead—Sir John Macdonald Not in Favor of Promotion—Where is Mackenzie Bowell?

The great question with the gossips of Toronto, and in fact of the whole Province, at the present moment is, who will get the collectorship of customs in this city? The World's article on Saturday attracted a great deal of attention and it was generally conceded that it gave the real view of the situation and the names of the most likely candidates. Some who were named in that article may now be considered out of the field, while others not then mentioned may be considered in the running.

John Beverley Not Running

In the first place the Hon. John Beverley Robinson wishes it to be understood that he is not a candidate for the position, and that whatever influence he has will be given to Mr. Barwick, whom he considers both entitled to the position and competent to fill the office.

Where is Mr. Small?

John Small, M.P., it is now at all certain, is a candidate for the position. Some of his friends, however, are urging him to put in his claims, and others who are aspirants for the seat for East Toronto, would like to see him retire. But Mr. Small is said to hold pretty decided views as to his continuency in public life for some years longer. If this be the case it is altogether certain that he will join in urging the claims of Mr. Barwick. To one looking on from the present moment would raise, said a local political light on Saturday, a host of complications, among them a "workingman's candidate," the success of the labor party in East Montreal the other day having inspired the labor leaders here to repeat the experiment at the first opportunity.

F. D. Barwick Leads at Present.

It would thus appear that of all those yet mentioned, Mr. Barwick is the most likely candidate, and his friends are organizing to vigorously press his claims on the veteran Premier, who they know more than anyone else knows of Mr. Barwick's service to his party, and who ought also to know of his capacity to administer so important a trust as the collectorship of Toronto. Mr. Barwick, it is understood, has the support of both Mr. Cockburn, M. P., and Mr. Denison, M. P. In its investigation since Saturday, The World finds that Mr. Barwick stands well with the business community and would be acceptable to the merchants and importers of Toronto.

The Dark Horse.

But the dark horse has yet to be mentioned. His name was freely canvassed in the inner circles on Saturday and last night at the Albany club. He is no less a personage than Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, the present Minister of Customs, who it is said is anxious to retire from public life. How much truth there is in this statement The World is not prepared this morning to say. One gentleman who is an intimate friend of Minister Bowell's said last night that Mr. Bowell was now well up in years, that he was wealthy and that he sought complete retirement rather than an amelioration in the cares of office.

Will Mr. Douglas Be Promoted?

The Globe came out on Saturday with an article in favor of the promotion of Mr. Douglas, the present acting collector, who is conceded on all hands to be an able and estimable officer. Mr. Douglas, if he has any politics, is, like the deputy-postmaster of this city, a Liberal. A gentleman who is well in the confidence of Sir John Macdonald, on seeing The Globe's statement, said there was no likelihood of this promotion being made, as Sir John held the view pretty much that "to the victors belong the spoils." He contended that it was the rule of the English Civil Service, very seldom infringed upon, that once a puisne judge, always a puisne. The object of this is to avoid the suspicion that must always attach to the actions of men looking for promotion, especially in dealing with the public officers. To puisne judges take office knowing that they must not look for the presidency of the court in which they serve. The Chief Justiceship is reserved in fact as one of the few political rewards open to the head leaders of the political party in power. Similarly here in Canada, where well-paid available offices under the Crown are all too few, the chief city collectorships and postmasterships have hitherto been reserved as prizes for deserving and competent party-workers in or out of Parliament. Without hope of such reward, why should any man bother himself in politics, or sacrifice time that otherwise employed could create a business that would make him independent of the public purse? Men who rise in the Civil Service who have attained the height of their ambition, by becoming deputies to their chief officer, have not during their career aspired to the succession. If they are anxious to be made eligible for succession or the demise or retirement of their chief, it is very desirable that their promotion should not occur in the office where they have been second in command. If this is to be the rule we shall soon hear of all sorts of intrigues on the part of subordinates to undermine their chief and supplant him; and a grave injury would be worked to the public service.

If, continued the gentleman, able men are to be induced to give up their lives to the public service and reward for their services held by Mr. Patton must be reserved for encouragement and for those occasional exigencies of an administration which call for a berth for a defeated or disabled colleague. Having these facts in his consideration, the speaker went on: "I have good reasons for believing that Sir John Macdonald will select a man for the office in whose person are combined personal fitness and political deserts."

Fine Fur Rooms.

Dineen's show rooms on the corner of King and Yonge-streets are now the centre of attraction. Furs of every description are piled up—bundles of valuable sealskins are hanging on hooks around the rooms—blue fox skins, silver fox, brown and cinnamon bear and other costly skins are shown by the Messrs. Dineen this season. Manufactured furs are now selling rapidly, seal mantles and short jackets are still very popular. Long fur boas, to short seal taking the place of the shoulder cape, are very handsome in bear and lynx.

THE U. S. CHINESE ACT.

A Naturalized British Subject Excluded From Yankeedom.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—One day last week Mung Koow, merchant of Notre Dame-street, was prevented from visiting New York on business under the new American Chinese Exclusion Act. This gentleman is a naturalized British subject, his papers bearing date Vancouver, Oct. 12, 1886. He has lived in Canada over five years and says he feels legally that he is an Englishman. His business is suffering and he asks "What about my being a British subject?" Mr. Mung Koow intends, if possible, to test his rights in the courts.

A "Swift."

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The champion compositor has cases in the office of The Mail and Express. His name is Joseph W. McCann, and last week he performed the astonishing feat of setting 2,127 ems of solid nonpareil in one hour on a wager of $25 that no compositor in New York could set 2,000 ems in an hour. The feat was performed in The Sun composing room.

HIT WITH A HOE.

A Quarrel at Port Hope Resulting Seriously to One of the Combatants.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 13.—About 4.30 yesterday afternoon Stephen Barkwell wentover to Mrs. Nelson's in Charles-street, Englishtown, to get a rake he had loaned her. On his arrival there he found one Mitchell, a ship carpenter, in possession of the ranch engaged with a hoe digging Mrs. Nelson's potatoes. Mitchell says Barkwell wanted to know why he was there, a quarrel ensued, Barkwell struck at him with the rake and he to defend himself used the hoe as a weapon and struck Barkwell on the back of the right hand, which he had raised to protect his head. The blow severed the tendons and broke the bones of the first and middle fingers between the wrist and knuckles. Mitchell was at once arrested and will be tried to-day.

Robbed a Girl of Her Tresses.

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—Carrie Piggott, 16 years old, had a splendid head of hair, reaching far below her waist, of which she was justly proud. Last evening she started to call on a neighbor, and at the corner of Joy-street a man came up behind her, placed one hand over her eyes and told her to guess who he was. Supposing him to be one of her friends she began guessing and while she was thus engaged he was busy with a pair of shears cutting off her hair which hung down her back. She soon heard the clipping of the shears and, throwing back her hand, seized a heavy tress from what had just severed. He then ran with nearly half of her hair, not having had time to cut all of it.

COMPROMISED.

The Chicago Street Car Strike Terminated—A Fair Settlement.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 14.—The great street-car strike after a duration of nine days was ended completely this evening on a basis honorable to both sides. The question of wages was compromised. The men got about one third of the increase asked for, but all the reforms in the system of working are conceded and all the strikers are to be re-employed. The men hired by the company since the strike began will also be retained.

Traffic Resumed on Saturday.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—In accordance with the arrangements made between the strikers and President Yerkes at last night's conference street-car traffic was resumed on the West Side this morning and has continued throughout the day. A large number of cars have been run on the lines, though by no means the usual number, and they were guarded by the police as usual.

Sir Morell to be Sued for Libel.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Pall Mall Gazette states that Dr. Bergmann, one of the physicians who was in attendance upon the late Emperor Frederick, will bring an action for libel in the English courts against Dr. Mackenzie for the statements made by the latter in his book on the case of Emperor Frederick, reflecting on Dr. Bergmann's ability as a physician. The Gazette also says Dr. Gerhardt will probably institute proceedings against Dr. Mackenzie.

A Military Review.

ROME, Oct. 13.—Emperor William and King Humbert reviewed 33,000 troops at Camp Centocelle to-day. Ten thousand spectators gathered to witness the review. Emperor William repeatedly expressed his admiration of the bearing of the men. He specially praised the manœuvres of the Bersaglire and mountain artillery.

THE PLOT IS THICKENING.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS IMPUGN THE TRUSTEES' STATEMENTS.

A Resolution Left Out—The Manifesto Misleading—Why the Plot was Hatched—How the Scandal Should Have Been Avoided—Mr. Jeffery's Antecedents.

The Jeffery case was largely discussed both Saturday and yesterday. The public find it difficult to reconcile the varying statements, all from parties whose word should be like Cæsar's wife, above suspicion.

The chronological developments of this scandal have been: (1)
