[Selections from an old school Book, written from memory, by a Correspondent.]

THE WIDOW.

Cold was the night wind, drifting fast the snow fell,
Wide were the downs, and shelterless and naked,
When a poor wanderer struggled on her journey,
Weary and way-sore.
Dear were the downs, more dreat her reflections;
Cold was the night—Cold was her bosom,
She had no shelter.
Fast o'er the bleak heath, rattling drove a chariot,
Pity me, feebly cried the poor night wanderer,
Pity me strangers—Rest with cold and hunger
Here I shall perish.
Once I had friends, but they have all forsaken me;
Once I had parents—They are now in Heaven;
I had a home once—I had once a husband—
Pity me strangers.
I am a widow, poor and broken-hearted.
Hard blew the wind; unheard was her complaining:
On drove the chariot.
On the cold snow she laid her down to rest her.
She heard a horseman; pity me she groaned out;
Loud was the wind; unheard was her complaints.
On went the horseman.
Worn out with anguish, toil, cold and hunger,
Down sunk the wanderer; sleep had sealed her senses;
There did the traveller find her in the morning.
God had released her.

TO MR. JACKSON, LINEN DRAPER.

SIR—If you please to send me a scarlet Cardinal, let it be full yard long—and let it be fast.—It is for a large woman. They tell me I may have a large one, and a handsome one, for eleven shillings. I should not be willing to give more than twelve shillings—but if you have any as low as that—either Duffal or Cloath—if it is cheaper I should like it as well, for I am not to give more than twelve shillings—but it must be full yard long—and fell.—I beg Sir you'll not fail me this Cardinal on Wednesday next without fail—let it be full yard long, I beg; or else it will not do—fail not on Wednesday—and by so doing you will much oblige yours, M. WINTER.

P. S.—I hope you'll charge your lowest price—and if you please not to send me a Duffal one, but a Cloath—and full yard long, and let it be full—please to send it to Fields' the watchmaker's, who comes to the Beehive at Green-Hithe.—Pray don't send me a Duffal one, but a Cloath, for I have altered my mind.—I think I should not like Duffal but Cloath—but let it be full yard long, and let it be full, and not more than eleven shillings—one of the cheapest you have, but let it be full yard long. You may send two, both of a size, and both long ones, full yard long and both of a price, they are for one woman, they must be exactly alike for goodness and price, and fail not on Wednesday—and pray let them be full yard long, and let them be full. M. W.

MAXIMS.

Gentle manners, virtuous lives,
Makes easy husbands, happy wives,
These are the only means we know,
To make a little heaven here below.

THE REVERSE.

Angry manners, vicious lives,
Makes wretched husbands, faulty wives,
And hence such evils take their birth,
As makes a little h—ll on earth.

No author or man ever excelled the world in more than one faculty.

Homer hurries and transports us with a commanding impetuosity. Virgil leads us with an attractive Majesty. Homer scatters with a generous profusion. Virgil bestows with a careful magnificence. Homer, like the Nile, pours out his riches with a boundness overflow. Virgil, like a river in its banks, with a gentle and constant stream. But many try to exalt Virgil at the expense of Homer, which is much the same as if one should think to raise the superstructure by undermining the foundation.

Read Homer once, and you can read no more,
For all Books else appear so mean, so poor;
Verse will seem prose; but still persist to read,
And Homer will be all the Books you need.
From the Duke of B's, Essays.

A heart by kindness only gained,
Will a dear conquest prove;
And to be kept, must be maintained
At a vast expense of love.

[FROM LATE ENGLISH PAPERS.]

M. Rocher d'Hericourt has brought with him from Abyssinia numerous specimens of a plant, the root of which, reduced to a powder, is a cure for hydrophobia, both in men and animals. Of its virtues (says the Paris correspondent of the Literary Gazette) M. d'Hericourt had practical proof: four dogs and a man having been bitten by a mad dog, were, by application of the remedy, cured of the hydrophobia which ensued; whilst a fifth dog—bitten at the same time by the same animal—to which the remedy was not applied, perished in all the agony of that horrible disease. The virtue of the plant, and the manner of preparing it for use, were explained to the traveller by a potentate of the country, who assured him that it was there generally used, and never failed. The specimens brought over by M. d'Hericourt have been submitted to the Academie des Sciences, and a committee of that learned body has been appointed to test their efficacy. If, as is confidently hoped, they have not lost their virtue in this European clime, the world will soon be put in possession of the means of curing one of the most frightful diseases to which flesh is heir, and M. Rocher d'Hericourt will have the glory of having conferred an inestimable blessing on mankind.

SEAMSTRESS' EMIGRATION.—Mr. Sidney Herbert's proposal for a subscription to aid the ill-paid seamstresses of the metropolis and neighborhood, in emigrating to British colonies, where the presence of virtuous women is a need of civilization, has been responded to by many of the affluent. Upwards of £16,000 have been subscribed for the purpose: and a committee of management has been formed, embracing men of all parties, with a view of providing that the funds ultimately raised are properly employed in sending out those only whose characters shall qualify them to be agents of improvement. The necessity of some remedy for the state of suffering entailed on multitudes of women by the present constitution of English society, is seen in the fact, that while in the metropolis alone there are 33,500 women engaged in the business of apparel making, 28,500 of these are under 20 years of age; and many earn no more than from twopence-halfpenny to fourpence a day, on which they endeavor to subsist. Such is one phase of life in the wealthiest country under heaven! Can such things be without great wrong somewhere? or without entailing not only misery but demoralization on society?—Manchester Examiner.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA.—We (Sunday Times) learn from an unquestionable source that the friends of the Marquis of Dalhousie (the Governor-General of India) have, by the arrival of the last mail from the East Indies, received letters which gave an unfavourable view of the health of the noble marquis, arising solely from the climate, which has injured his naturally good constitution. Should the noble marquis not derive the anticipated relief by resorting to the sea coast, his lordship fully intends to resign his high appointment, and return to England. The marchioness and family are in the possession of excellent health.

At the chapel of the Oratory, Alcester-street, Birmingham, on Wednesday last, at the opening of the devotion of the Forty Hours' Prayer, Dr. Ullathorne, Roman Catholic Bishop of the Central District, was assisted in the service by twenty attendants, who are now either priests or candidates for priest's orders in the Church of Rome, but were formerly clergymen in the Church of England.

A PRIZE OX.—The prize ox exhibited at Birmingham cattle show, fed by his Royal Highness Prince Albert, and bred by Mr. John Power, of Allan's Moor, near Hereford, was put up to raffle in Manchester last week, and was won by Mr. James Fullalove, who sold him to a butcher for upwards of £40. The beast weighed 1840 lbs.

During the four days of the late cattle-show in Birmingham, not fewer than between 25,000 to 26,000 persons were admitted to the exhibition. Nearly £1000 was received from tickets.

A correspondent of the Manx Liberal says that a sheep, belonging to Mr. Brew, publican, Ramsay, which had been placed upon the mountains last year, was discovered a few days ago, when the horns had grown to such an immense size, that they had twisted into the poor animal's eyes, and completely filled up the sockets.

In London there are 12,000 children regularly under training to crime, 30,000 thieves, 6000 receivers of stolen goods, 23,000 persons picked up in a state of drunkenness, 50,000 habitual gin drinkers, and 150,000 of both sexes leading an abandoned life.

A meeting of nearly 1500 working tailors has been held at Shadwell, London, to consider what practical remedy could be adopted to relieve them from the evils under which they are at present labouring, arising from the depressing influence of the slop trade, and the competition among masters and work people.

Spurious crown-pieces, bearing date 1821, and so well finished, and so much resembling the genuine coin, both in appearance and in the "ring," that they cannot readily be detected, are at present in considerable circulation.—English paper.

The exhibition of manufactures at Birmingham closed on Saturday. It was opened on the 2nd of September, and has during the time been visited by more than 100,000 persons. In the last week there were 19,000 admissions.

Mr. Ostler, in a letter to the Standard, describing a visit to the St. Giles's Workhouse, London, says:—"I found some there who had been merchants, shop-keepers, tradesmen, and excise-officers."

FLUID

Extract of Valerian,

For Head Ache, Nervous and Hysteric Affections.

☞ READ THE FOLLOWING.

From Parker Cleaveland, LL.D., Professor of Chemistry, Materia Medica, Mineralogy, Geology and Natural Philosophy, Brunswick College, Maine.

Brunswick, Aug. 9, 1848.

Messrs. EDW. BRINLEY & Co.

I HAVE not till the present time found leisure to devote any attention to the "Fluid Extract of Valerian," a bottle of which you were kind enough to send me a few weeks since. I have now sufficiently tested it, to satisfy me, that it contains the active medicinal principle of Valerian, in a purer, more simple and concentrated state, than any other preparation of this root, with which I am acquainted. From the great success which has attended its use, I think the public may rely upon it as a very valuable medicine in all Nervous Affections, Headache, Sleeplessness, &c. Permit me to add that it is important that the manufacturer should continue to prepare the Extract with the same care as heretofore. With much respect, yours, &c. P. C. CLEAVLAND, M. D.

STATE LUNATIC HOSPITAL,
Worcester, Mass., August 7, 1848.

DAVID PARKER, Shaker Village, N. H.

Dear Sir—Your favor of the 3d, has been received, and I hasten to reply. We have used only one bottle of your "Pure Fluid Extract of Valerian." In one case of a mild form of Delirium Tremens in which we used it, the agitation and trembling were calmed by one hundred drop dose of it.

I hope to be able to say something in favor of the Valerian before long: it is an elegant preparation.

Yours very truly,
GEO. CHANDLER, M. D.

We hereby certify that we are acquainted with the method of making the Pure Fluid Preparation of Valerian, as put up by the United Society of Shakers, at Enfield. It possesses the properties of the Valerian highly concentrated, and may be used in all cases where the medicine is proper, and all may rely on its being genuine. It is the kind we use and recommend.

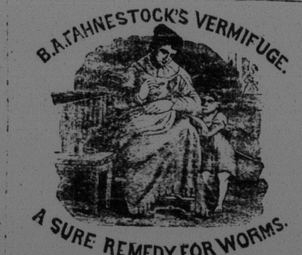
The above invaluable Preparation is signally efficacious in all Nervous and Hysteric Affections, Sleeplessness, and Sick Headache, producing quiet and tranquil sleep, and leaving no unpleasant sensations after its use.—the most valuable result of Opium, Camphor, and the many articles so much used to procure repose.

☞ S. L. TILLEY, King-Street, Sole Agent for St. John, N. B. February 13, 1849.



THIS preparation has now stood the test of several years' trial, and is confidently recommended as a safe and effectual medicine for expelling worms from the system. The unexampled success that has attended its administration in every case where the patient was really afflicted with worms, certainly renders it worthy the attention of Physicians.

Lowell, Mass., April 9d, 1847.

I have a child six years of age, who has been troubled with worms for some time past, and I have endeavoured to obtain a specific, but have found nothing that could be relied upon, until Tahnestock's Vermifuge was recommended to me by a friend. I procured a bottle, and gave it according to directions, and in less than three hours my child passed seventeen large worms. I subsequently gave it two other doses, and it passed in all about one hundred worms. I also gave one teaspoonful of it to a child three years old, and to my surprise it brought away more than a hundred round worms, in less than two hours from the time I administered it.

EXTRAORDINARY CURES BY

Holloway's Ointment.

CURE OF A DESPERATE CASE OF ERYSIPELAS.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Joseph Gildon, Jun., a Farmer, East Kent, near Spilsby, Lincolnshire, 8th April, 1846.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I have the gratification to announce to you a most wonderful cure wrought upon myself, by the use of your Ointment and Pills. I had a severe attack of Erysipelas in my right foot, which extended along my ancle, and was attended with swelling and inflammation to an alarming degree, insomuch that I was unable to move without the use of crutches. I consulted a very eminent Physician, besides other Medical men, but to no purpose. At last I tried your Ointment and Pills, when, strange to say, in less than two weeks the swelling and inflammation subsided to such a degree that I was enabled to pursue my daily avocation, to the utter surprise and amazement of those who were acquainted with my case, seeing that I was cured so quickly. I and my family are well known here, as my father holds his farm under the Rev. J. Spence, Rector of our Parish.

JOSEPH GILDON.

Amputation of Two Legs Prevented.

Extract of a Letter dated Roscommon, February 20th, 1847, from the highly respectable Proprietor of the Roscommon Journal.

TO Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—Mr. Ryan, the well known proprietor of the Hotel next door to me, had two very Bad Legs, one with eight ulcers on it, the other with three; they were in such a fearful state that the offensive from them was very great. Some time since he made a journey to Dublin for the purpose of consulting some of the most eminent professional men, but returned home to his family with the choice of two alternatives—to have both Legs amputated, or die!—On his way home he met a gentleman in the Coach who recommended the use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which he had recourse to, and was perfectly cured by their means.

Editor and Proprietor of the Roscommon Journal

Cure of a Desperate Scorbutic Eruption of long standing.

Extract of a Letter, dated Wolverhampton the 10th of February, 1847, confirmed by Mr. Simpson, Stationer.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—Having been wonderfully restored from a state of great suffering, illness and debility, by the use of your Pills and Ointment, I think it right for the sake of others to make my case known to you. For the last two years I was afflicted with a violent Scorbutic Eruption, which completely covered my chest, and other parts of my body, causing such violent pain, that I can in truth say, that for months I was not able to get sleep for more than a very short time together. I applied here to all the principal Medical men, as also to those in Birmingham, without getting the least relief; at last I was recommended by Mr. Thomas Simpson, Stationer Market-place, to try your Pills and Ointment, which I did, and I am happy to say, that I may consider myself as thoroughly cured. I can now sleep all the night through, and the pain in my back and limbs have entirely left me.

(Signed) RICHARD HAVELL.

Bad Digestion, with extreme Weakness and Debility—an extraordinary Cure.

Mr. T. GARDINER, of No. 9, Brown street, Grosvenor square, had been in a very bad state of health for a long time, suffering much from a distended Stomach, very impaired digestion, with constant pains in his Chest, was extremely nervous, and so greatly debilitated as to be scarcely able to walk one hundred yards; during the long period of his declining he had the advice of four of the most eminent Physicians besides five Surgeons of the greatest celebrity in London, from whose aid he derived no benefit whatever. At last he had recourse to Holloway's Pills, which he declares effected a perfect cure in a very short time, and that he is now as strong and vigorous as ever he was in his life. This being so extraordinary a case, may lead many persons almost to doubt this statement, it may therefore be necessary to say that Mr. Gardiner is a broker, and well known.

☞ In all Diseases of the Skin, Bad Legs, Old Wounds and Ulcers, Bad Breasts, Sore Nipples, Stony and Ulcerated Cancers, Tumours, Swellings Gout, Rheumatism, and Lumbago, likewise in cases of Piles; Holloway's Pills, in all the above cases, ought to be used with the Ointment and not alone. The Ointment is proved to be a certain remedy for the bite of Moschettoes, Sand-flies, Chiegofoot, Yaws, Coco-bay, and all Skin Diseases common to Europe, the East and West Indies, and other tropical climates.

Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Clapped Hands and Lips, also Bunions and Soft Corns, will be immediately cured by the use of the Ointment.

CHAPTER III.—On Solitary Habits; their various effects on the Animal Economy; the concealed cause of Debility of the functions of the Stomach, Lungs and Brain, and general Weakness of the Mental Faculties.
CHAPTER IV.—On the Secret Disorders of Youth and Maturity, and the Treatment of Nervous and Local Weakness, Mental Debility, and Premature Decay.
CHAPTER V. and VI.—On the Disorders arising from indiscriminate Excess, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, and other Diseases of the Urethra.

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised, and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift which, when used in moderation, is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers.

The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to dilate, are productive of greater misery to the human frame, than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor are these the sole contents of the work; the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger, are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attention and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens, that the unhappy victim of excessive indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their invariable consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to a qualified physician for relief. Shame and the dread so frequently but erroneously entertained that these complaints are beyond the reach of art, alike restrict him, and prevent his seeking for assistance where alone it can be procured. In acting thus, he forgets that accurate discrimination in ascertaining the causes of disease, sympathy with the sufferer, and above all, secrecy, invariably characterize the intelligent and practical physician, and to the medical man, who can shew by his possession of the requisite legal qualification, that he is entitled to esteem and respect in his professional pursuits, the utmost confidence should be extended. DR. LA'MERT has obtained the highest medical honours, as his diplomas testify, and the great extent of his practice for many years is a guarantee for his professional experience, which has reference almost solely to the treatment of these diseases.

A NATURAL REMEDY

Suited to our Constitutions, and competent to the cure of every curable disease, will be found in

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

OF THE

NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

THESE extraordinary Pills are composed of plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil; and are therefore better adapted to our constitutions, than medicines concocted from foreign drugs, however well they may be compounded; and as the INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded upon the principle that the human body is in truth,

SUBJECT TO BUT ONE DISEASE, viz: corrupt humors, and that the said medicine cures this disease on

NATURAL PRINCIPLES,

by cleansing and purifying the body; it will be manifest, that if the constitution be not entirely exhausted—a perseverance in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.

When we wish to restore a swamp or morass to fertility, we drain it of the superabundant waters; in like manner, if we wish to restore the body to health, we must cleanse it of impurity.

The Indian Vegetable Pills will be found one of the best, if not the very best, medicines in the world for carrying out the

GRAND PURIFYING PRINCIPLE,

because they expel from the body all morbid and corrupt humors, the cause of disease, in an easy and NATURAL MANNER, and while they every day

GIVE EASE AND PLEASURE,

disease of every name is rapidly driven from the body.

CAUTION.

The citizens of New England are respectfully informed that in consequence of the great popularity which the above named Indian Vegetable Pills have gained by their astonishing goodness, a gang of counterfeiters are now industriously engaged in palming on the unsuspecting, a valueless and perhaps dangerous medicine, under the name of Indian Vegetable Pills.

This is to inform the public that all genuine medicine has on the boxes

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

(Indian Purgative.)

OF THE NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH

And also round the border of the label, will be found in small type, "Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1840, by WM. WRIGHT, in the Clerk's office, of the District Court, of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania."

It will further be observed that the printed directions for using the medicines, which accompany each box are also entered according to Act of Congress, and the same form will be found at the bottom of the first page.

The public will also remember, that all who sell the genuine Indian Vegetable Pills are provided with a certificate of Agency, signed by and that pedlars are never in any case allowed to sell the genuine Medicine. All travelling agents will be provided with a certificate of agency as above described; and those who cannot show one will be known as base impostors.

WILLIAM WRIGHT, VICE PRESIDENT
Of the North American College of Health.
