WILL YOU LISTEN?

It is told for a fact that, to settle a wager, a gentleman once stood on London bridge at a time when the crowds were the greatest and endeavored for one whole hour to sell sovereigns for a penny. The sovereigns were genuine and he succeeded in disposing of two; quite as many could have been sold had they been worthless.

We will believe the story next week if the aggregation of attractive bargains are not taken advantage of. The goods will not be available on Monday or Tuesday, but will be announced when ready; in the meantime take this, Peacock Yarn Sc. a skein, that is here.

LAW EXAMINATIONS.—To-morrow the law examinations begin at Fredericton. Several trembling candidates went from St. John to-day to participate in the joyful proceedings. Among the number were John A. THE EXHIBITION CONCERT may be repeated for the delight of the citizens at an early date, as all those who took part in it at the exhibition building are requested to meet at the vestry of Leinster street church tomorrow evening to consider the advisability of repeating it. The citizens generally many of whom were prevented from hearing it before to advantage, have expressed a desire for its repetition.

THANKS.—Mr. W. D. Scott of the Manitoba exhibit, who has made so many friends in this city during his stay and has never wearied of explaining to the large crowds of enquirers, all about the wonderful western county, sent the GAZETTE a few samples of what is manufactured in Winnipeg in a liquid form, for which best thanks are due. His many friends hope he will be down here in '91.

A STUPID PIECE OF LEGISLATION.—A leading merchant at Belfast writes the following from New York to a friend in this city:—"I have been very kindly treated everywhere, and have been greatly impressed with what I have seen in different parts of the country. The tariff bill is present, it is nothing short of a stupid piece of legislation. Every person I meet, American or foreigner, (fancy calling an Irishman a 'foreigner') speaks in the strongest condemnation of it."

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY.—The rehearsals of this society will be resumed to-night, when Stainer's "Daughter of Jairus" will be taken up. This work is a great favorite in England and will, doubtless, become popular here. Other works will be rehearsed also, including "Sampson" and a portion of "Jeptha" which it is hoped to give during next month. Under the efficient directorship of Mr. Morley there promises to be an active season for the members of the "Oratorio."

THE BALMORAL CHOIR.—To-night this organization, which has been so highly complimented in the United States and Canadian press, will give their first concert in the Mechanics' Institute. The choir appears in this city under the patronage of St. Andrew's society, which in itself is a guarantee of a crowded house. The Philadelphia Press says of them: "The renditions of the part songs, in which character the choir has few equals, aroused extraordinary enthusiasm, and every glee and chorus had a style and finish which the rare combination of splendid voices in execution alone can produce.

THE CELEBRATION of the 99th anniversary of the Queen Square Methodist church began yesterday. The platform and reading desk were nicely decorated with flowers in honor of the occasion. At 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon a love feast was held and Rev. L. G. Macneill, of St. Andrew's church, preached in the evening. His lordship was attended by Rev. Fathers Walsh, Casey, and McMurray, each wearing the sacred robes of their office.

THE GLEANER says of Capt. Toma who was drowned near Fredericton two or three days ago:—It appears the poor old guide had gone to the shore to collect some wood, and it is conjectured that he overbalanced and fell into the creek, as his body was discovered face downwards. Deceased was at an advanced age and it was but a few months ago, he carried a testimonial relating to his trustworthy character, signed by Chief Justice Allen. Some few years ago Capt. Toma was employed as a guide in several sporting expeditions indulged in by prominent gentlemen of this town. He had the reputation also of being a centenarian, and was a favorite with many of the citizens here.

The Ring.

GRIFFIN TALKING.

When a fighter is found with more common sense then Feather-weight Johnnie Griffin carries around with him, says the Boston Herald, he will be the wisest of his craft. The Braintree boy strolled into the Herald's sporting rooms yesterday, and, in his quiet, unassuming way, remarked that he'd like to set himself right with his friends.

"I'm afraid I'm getting that disease they call the swelled head," he said, "because I'm out for the championship. I'm feeling better and stronger than I ever did in my life, and I think now is the time for me to win my laurels. I have recieved a number of offers to fight Barney Hubbard, and I haven't accepted them. The question of the American championship, I think lies between Weir and myself. I have whipped men with whom he fought draws, and we both met our master in the same Murphy.

"Hubbard wants to fight me for $600. You blame me to prefer Weir and $1000 or $1500? I think my chances with Weir would be as good with Hubbard.

To Boston and New York.

Those who are desirous of taking a trip to New York and at the same time are desirous of stopping off at Boston will be pleased to learn that the International Steamship Company have arranged an excursion to Boston, and by way of the Fall River line, to New York. Commencing Oct. 8, tickets will be issued until October 29, good for two weeks from date of issue, at the very moderate rate of $7 for the round trip. The International line of steamers are noted for their elegance and comfort, and no trip will prove more delightful than that which is now arranged. The fact that a stopgage may be made at Boston will be an inducement to many, to take this opportunity of visiting both that city and New York, and it is probable that no excursion will meet with more favor and answer the requirements of the people better than this.

The Exhibition.

The exhibition buildings have been stripped of their bounteous supplies of last week. Today the bare boards alone remain, and it is hoped, will continue to remain until the exhibition of 1891. Financially, the whole affair must have been up to anticipation, and the association are to be congratulated on the success attending their efforts. The recent exhibition is a forerunner of a series of these to be held annually, and it is probable as the experience of the association increases, their success will increase each succeeding year. The exhibition brought a very large number of visitors into town, and thousands of dollars were spent here by strangers alone, during the last two weeks. It made things lively, and brightened up the people, and above all it was a great advertisement for the city. Held annually, an exhibition in St. John cannot fail to be of very material benefit to the city.

On Saturday some of the exhibits were auctioned off. Prices were low, because those who paid a quarter to get into the auction were few in number. Today premiums are being paid at the secretary's office.
