Beats His Neighbors' Pigs

The Yorkshire sow pig, bred by Henry Glendinning, of Manilla, Ont., sent me for securing seven new subscriptions for Farm and Dairy, certainly beats any pig of eight weeks of age around here. I wish to tender my hearty thanks for same.—David A. Ashworth, Middlesex Co., Ont.

To make a factory, warehouse, barn, shed or outbuilding of any description, wind, water, snow, fire and lightning proof cover it with which are accurately pressed from the best and most durable British Steel it is possible to procure.

All corrugations are straight and true, assuring an accurate fit at both side and end laps without waste. Special hip and ridge covers make tight, neat joints at these points.

Where warmth is not important "Galt" Corrugated Sheets save three-fourths of the wood sheeting as well as considerable labor, and will give good service for a life time of at least fifty years.

It costs no more for a "Galt" Corrugated Sheet Steel Building than for a wood one. Which do you think is the better investment? Galvanized or painted material always in stock. Complete information in catalog "3-B."
