BRITISH OPINION ON CANADA.

The Great English Newspapers on the Ottawa Scandal.

Men Guilty of or Aiding and Abetting in Public Plunder Should Be Driven From Power.

The leading newspapers in Great Britain, without regard to political predilections, have condemned in the strongest terms the wholesale corruption that was laid bare at Ottawa during the last Parliamentary session. They have also condemned the crookedness exposed at Quebec. For the plundering of the people of Canada, to the extent, we believe, of millions of dollars, the men in power at Ottawa must be held responsible, and the people of the Dominion, by their votes, must punish them. As for the boodling in Quebec, the punishment of those guilty of wrongdoing must be left to the people of that Province, just as in Ontario the Provincial Government, when put on trial, must be condemned or indorsed by the people of this Province by their votes at the polls.

Seeing this is the state of affairs, it will do no harm, and may effect much good, to reflect upon the views of the great English papers after studying the disgraceful exposures at Ottawa, which, by the way, will have to be resumed when the House reassembles this month. Here are a few of the many declarations made by these exponents of British public opinion:

From the London Telegraph (Independent-Conservative):

Enough, unfortunately, is already known in England to make it clear that only the most resolute and drastic purification can redeem public life in Canada from the taint of corruption the like of which we have not seen in our own country for hundreds of years.

* * *

From the London Echo (Radical):

No country can prosper where public departments are in league with fraudulent contractors, where Ministers are open in offers, and parties will bargain their support for a mess of pottage.

* * *

From the London Graphic:

It is no longer possible to doubt that corruption in its worst form is rampant in a large portion of the Canadian civil service, and is even on something more than nodding terms with politicians in the Dominion.

* * *

From the London Morning Advertiser (Conservative):

Taking the most favorable view which is possible of the disclosures, they are alarming enough.

* * *

From the St. James Gazette (Conservative):

The whole administrative service—if, indeed, we must not add to the entire public life—of the Dominion seems to be an Augean stable which is still awaiting its Hercules.

* * *

From the London Times (Conservative):

The blow to Sir Hector Langevin's influence cannot fail to be injurious to the Conservative party. * * * * Here in the mother country there can be only one feeling—that of deep regret for the wrong done to the fair fame of the eldest of our daughter-nations by the lax morality of her politicians.

* * *

From the Daily Chronicle (Independent):

Canada is passing just now through a crisis which may have lasting effects on the future of that country. The corruption which has been disclosed at Ottawa, and which the investigations before a Parliamentary committee have shown to be so widespread, must have an injurious effect for a long time. Lord Stanley's speech, which was, of course, written for him by his Ministers, according to constitutional practice, does not quite convey the impression that the Canadian Government fully realize the duty cast upon them by recent revelations. It is all very well to say that the extensive frauds upon the Government are much to have been regretted and to express a hope that the punishment meted out to some of the delinquents, and the operation of the new law against corrupt practices in Government departments will have the effect of preventing a recurrence of corruption; but it is scarcely satisfactory to be told that the outcome of it all is the appointment of a commission to inquire into the organization of the civil service.

* * *

From the London Chronicle (Liberal):

It is all very well to say that the extensive frauds upon the Government are much to be regretted, and to express a hope that the punishment meted out to some of the delinquents and the operation of the new law against corrupt practices in Government departments will have the effect of preventing a recurrence of corruption; but it is scarcely satisfactory to be told that the outcome of it all is the appointment of a commission to inquire into the organization of the civil service. Such punishments as have been inflicted have fallen only upon persons in very humble positions.

* * *

From the Newcastle Journal (Conservative):

But it is to the Minister of Public Works the scandal is really traceable, for passive connivance—though too strong a phrase to meet the view of the majority or of Parliament—is probably as near as so very vague a phrase can be toan accurate description of the "it's all right as long as I'm not in it" sort of sentiment that is at the bottom of a good many scandals in this world.

* * *

From the Manchester Courier:

John Bull is likely to look with sorrow upon the disgrace his offspring has got into until she adopts his honorable example in political life.

* * *

From the Birmingham Gazette:

Rascals out of office defraud the public in order to bribe rascals in office, and the rascals in office prostitute themselves, sacrifice their honor and forsake their trust in order to keep on good terms with the rascals out of office.

* * *

From the Newcastle Chronicle:

The statesman who in any way connived at the corruption now exposed should be no longer tolerated.

These are the views of the principal British newspapers, which have no interest in Canadian politics beyond the welfare of the great nation in which they circulate. What is the reply to them given by Mr. Carling and his associates? Simply that the rascalities tolerated, condoned, indorsed by the men now holding on to power by the skin of their teeth are scarcely worthy of notice! Sir John Thompson, at Halifax, asserted that "far greater disclosures of corruption" in the public service had been made in recent years in Great Britain. Challenged to support that statement with evidence, what was the reply of the knight. He has remained silent from that day to this. He knows that no administration would be tolerated for a day in England—whether headed by a Salisbury or by a Gladstone—like Haggart, Langevin, Cochrane or Chapleau, or would vote down an inquiry into the serious charges made by Mr. Lister, M.P., on his responsibility as a member of the House of Commons.

And more revelations are looked for at any moment.
