ST. JOHN'S
MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

The following is published for the information of the public:—

St. John's Municipal Act, 1902.

Section 86. No person shall build or erect in any place in the town of St. John's, whether on the site of a former building or not, any house, stable or other building, unless he shall have first submitted a plan of such house, stable or other building, to the Council, and such plan shall have been approved of, and consent to the erection of such house, stable or other building shall have been given by the Council; and any house, stable or other building erected without such plan having been submitted and approved of, and consent given as aforesaid, and any house erected otherwise than in accordance with the plan so submitted and approved of as aforesaid, shall be a public nuisance, and the like proceedings shall be had in respect of the same as are provided with respect to other public nuisances: Provided that the Council may, whenever they may think fit, decline to approve of any plan submitted to them, and may refuse their consent to the erection of any house, stable or other building, unless and until they shall be satisfied that the lines of such house, stable or other building, entirely coincide with the lines of street upon which the said house, stable or other building, may front or abut, that such house, stable or other building will not from any cause whatever be a source of danger to the neighbouring houses or buildings, that such house, stable or other building, will not be prejudical to the health of the inhabitants of the town or any of them, and also that the style and manner of construction of such house, stable or other building, shall conform as nearly as possible to other buildings either erected or about to be erected on the same street.

NOTE: If there are any breaches of the foregoing after the publishing of this notice the penalty will be put in force.

By order,
J. L. SLATTERY,
Secretary-Treasurer.

THE NICKEL.

Monday and Tuesday.

THE VICAR OF WAKEFIELD.

A beautiful little domestic drama of country life in England in Ye Olden Days; based on the classic of the same name and made famous through the characterizations of the late Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry when it was originally produced in dramatic form.

THE TWO SIDES.

A Biograph film story of a worldly problem.

This picture shows a very interesting phase of a Capital and Labour conflict, in which a labourer is thrown out of employment by reason of the crisis, but who saves the life of his employer's little girl and is rewarded for his heroism in a happy denouement.
