"College week" which holds so important a place in the life of the student element in Fredericton, is next week, and already the festivities have begun. For the past ten days the "greening" in preparation has been going on, when each afternoon has been a favorite rendivous when several hours is spent in making roses and garlands for the decorations and ending each day with the usual impromtu dance, which is so much enjoyed. Last evening at the Arctic Rink the co-eds of the U. N. B. were matched against the Campbellton ladies' hockey team, when the Co-eds defeated the Campbellton ladies, 1 to 0. The bitterly cold weather prevented many from attending, and some of the players were frost bitten. Miss Minnie Crocket of the Co-eds had several fingers on one hand frozen. The visiting young ladies were Miss Constance Murray and Miss Tessie Lingley, who were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Crocket; Miss Ferguson and Miss Nelson were the guests of Miss Mildred Wallace. Miss Mary Graham stayed with Miss Jewett, King street. Miss Irene Murray and Miss Florine Currie were guests of Miss Ethel Anderson. Miss Alexander was with Miss Hudson on St. John street. Miss Kean and Mrs. Andrews, the chaperons, were the guests of Miss Thurrott at Windsor Hall.

The young ladies of the university gave a banquet on Wednesday afternoon in the ladies' reading room in the arts building, when covers were laid for thirty-four. The place cards, which were unique and pretty were attached at one end to streamers of red and black, college colors, suspended from a basket hanging from the electrolier, and at the finish of the banquet each guest pulled the string suspended from her card and received a pretty valentine favor. After the singing of several college songs the guests all went up to the rehearsal of the play, College Chums, to be put on at the Opera House Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The visiting ladies returned to their homes in Campbellton last evening.

The students of the university have issued invitations for their annual conversazione to be held in the arts building on the evening of Friday, Feb. 20, when the chaperones will be Mrs. L. W. Bailey, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. C. L. McGinnis, Mrs. John Stevens, and Mrs. Adam Cameron.
