NO. 39 DUNDAS STREET.
THE Subscriber in returning his sincere thanks to his friends and customers for the very liberal support hitherto bestowed on the late firm of Lawson & Burgess, begs to state that he is still carrying on the business in the old stand, No, 39, Dundas Street, nearly opposite the City Hotel, where he is now receiving his new stock of Goods, consisting in part of:
Cloths, Cassimeres, Tweeds, Vestings, &c., in great variety and of superior style and quality, suitable for the Fall and Winter Trade, which, having been purchased in the best markets and at reduced prices, enables him to submit an assortment which cannot be surpassed in this house in Canada.
The subscriber, having given up the other branches of the business, intends devoting his entire energies to
GENTLEMEN'S OUTFITTING;
And, from an experience of the last 20 years in Toronto and this city, trusts to make his Establishment the most complete in Western Canada.
The latest Paris, London and New York fashions have now come to hand, and persons desirous of being supplied with well made and fashionable clothing, at low prices, will do well to examine his stock before purchasing or ordering elsewhere.
Also on hand, a complete assortment of fashionable
READY-MADE CLOTHING,
Cut and made on the premises, under his own superintendence, and warranted to give satisfaction.
MARK BURGESS.
Call and examine at the old stand, late Lawson & Burgess, No. 39, Dundas-st., nearly opposite the City Hotel, one door west of Ridout's Hardware Store.

J. McAULIFF'S
Livery Stables and Horse Repository,
Late Kiely's Dundas St, London., C. W.
J. McAULIFF, in returning thanks to his numerous friends for their kind patronage during the time he had Livery Stables on Richmond Street, begs respectfully to inform them and the public, that he has taken the extensive Stables and premises lately in the occupation of Mr. Kiely, where he hopes still to receive their support, being determined that nothing shall be wanting, on his part, to deserve the same.
In addition to the Livery business he intends to call Semi-weekly Auction Sales of Horses, on the same principle as at Tattersall's, in England. Farmers and others having Horses to dispose of, either by Public Auction or on Commission, may depend upon the greatest care being taken of them, and the highest prices obtained. The auction sales will take place every Tuesday and Friday, at 12, noon, and owners of Horses are requested to send them in, if intended for sale, the day previous to the auction.
N. B.—Horses broken to ride or drive.
Charges Moderate, and owners of property settled with immediately after sale.

Poetry.

The Coral Insect.

Toil on! toil on! ye ephemeral train,
Who build in the tossing and treacherous main
Toil on—for the wisdom of man ye mock,
With your sand-based structures and domes of rock;
Your columns the fathomless fountains lave,
And your arches spring up to the crested wave;
Yet ere many years have to hoary age
Have added their [illegible] with your stone cage,
The ocean is sealed and the surge a stone;
Fresh wreaths from the coral-pavement spring,
Like the terraced pride of Assyria's king;
The turf looks green where the breakers rolled;
O'er the whirlpooled ripens the ring of gold;
The sea-snatched isle is the home of men,
And the mountains exalt where the wave hath been.

But why do ye plant, 'neath the billows dark,
The wrecking reef for the gallant bark?
There are snares enough on the tented field,
Mid the blossomed sweets that the valleys yield;
There are serpents to coil, ere the flowers are up;
There's a poison-drop in man's purest cup,
There are foes that watch for his cradle breath,
And why need ye sow the floods with death?

With mouldering bones the deeps are white,
From the ice-clad pole to the tropics bright;—
The mermaid hath twisted her fingers cold
With the mesh of the sea-boys curls of gold,
And the Gods of ocean have frowned to see,
The mariner's bed in their Halls of glee;—
Hath earth no graves that ye thus must spread
The boundless sea for the thronging dead?

Ye build,—ye build, but ye enter not in,
Like the tribes whom the desert devoured in their sin;
From the land of promise ye fade and die,
Ere its verdure gleams forth on your weary eye;—
As the kings of the cloud-crowned pyramid,
Their noteless bones in oblivion hid,
Ye slumber unmarked 'mid the desolate main,
While the wonder and pride of your works remain.

SIGOURNEY.

To Victor Emmanuel, King of Sardinia.

Foremost and greatest in the ranks of Kings,
Thy march hath trod a host of fictions down.
Honor upbears thee on her proud-spread wings,
And on thy brow sits wisdom, as a crown.
O where is Chivalry, if not in thee?
Thou art as one who, in an earlier day,
Through lone, dark midnights, upon revered knee,
Did watch his arms beside some altar grey,
Thence to ride forth and champion all the world!
First in the noble struggle of the free,
No lagging banner hath thy hand unfurled:
Here, planted fast, and rooted as a tree
In the strong heart of nations, let it stand,
Victorious ensign of a glorious land!—E. L. HERVEY.

Miscellaneous.

The Head-Stone.

The coffin was let down to the bottom of the grave, the planks were removed from the heaped-up brink, the first rattling clods had struck their knell, the quick shovelling was over, the long, broad, skilfully-cut pieces of turf were aptly joined together, and trimly laid by the hands of strangers, that the newest mound in the church-yard was scarcely distinguishable from those that were grown over by the undisturbed grass and daisies of a luxuriant spring. The burial was soon over; and the party, with one consenting motion, having uncovered their heads, in decent reference of the place and occasion, were beginning to separate, and about to leave the church-yard.

Here some acquaintances, from distant parts of the parish, who had not had opportunity of addressing each other in the house that had belonged to the deceased, nor in the course of the few hundred yards
