EPPS'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast-tables with a delicately-flavored beverage which may save many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up, until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly-nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets by grocers, labeled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng."

London Election Trial

Q.—Everybody knew beer was coming, didn't they? A.—I know nothing about it.

Q.—How long was Mr. Hyman there? A.—About fifteen minutes.

Q.—Did he know the beer was there? A.—I don't know.

Q.—Where did the pigss feet come from? A.—I saw a man come with a basket retailing them at the door.

Witness was then questioned about a meeting at the colored band room a week before the election. There was a barrel of beer, crackers and cheese and a number of people there.

Q.—Were either of the Leonards there? A.—No.

Q.—Mr. Hyman there? A.—I never knew him to be at a meeting.

Mr. Osler—I understand that an opera house meeting was held the same night, and word was passed around in the Opera House that an interesting time was being spent in the band room. I heard Mr. Gibbons went down.

Mr. Gibbons—I was not at any meeting.

To Mr. Gibbons—There was a great disturbance outside the school house, and the speakers at the meeting could hardly hear themselves.

Q.—Were there prominent Conservatives there? A.—Yes, they came into the room. I heard the president of the Conservative Association was there. At first there was an attempt at privacy, in order to keep the crowd out, but it was found impossible, and everybody came in, many being Conservatives. It was not a political meeting; there was more fun than politics.

Q.—It was hardly a meeting to convert voters? A.—No; about all the colored citizens were supporters of Mr. Hyman. I understood it was a meeting of the friends of Mr. Hyman to arrange for the work of next day.

Q.—Did you ever see M. Hyman at the band rooms? A.—No.

Q.—Nor myself? A.—No.

Q.—About the pigs' feet, did they come by preconcerted arrangement? A.—No; a man came there retailing them, and the crowd eventually appropriated them.

Q.—Was Frank Halpin ever appointed to a committee? A.—Not to my knowledge. He was only once at a committee meeting, and people often came there who had no connection with the work.

Mr. Osler—You say that Conservatives were at the school? A.—Yes; Wm. Thompson, the carriage maker, George Graham, Mr. Toon, George Priddis, Dr. Mitchell, George Anderson, I think Mr. Brasbie and others.

NATHAN MARTIN.

Nathan Martin, examined by E. Meredith—Am not a voter. Was at the school house meeting and went with Mr. Kelly, the barber. I was at the church, and hearing there was to be a meeting at the school went down, about ten or fifteen more also going.

Q.—Their names? A.—John Stevenson, Wm. Brown, —— Berry, F. Phœnix, J. Williams, C. Pope and others. There were about 200 white and colored people in the room, and speeches were made.

Q.—Was Mr. Hyman there? A.—He came in and spoke a short time. I saw him doing nothing else.

Q.—Did you know who was there? A.—I saw no beer nor anyone drinking. Some man came in endeavoring to sell pigs' feet. He sold some.

Q.—Is that all you saw? A.—Yes.

To Mr. Gibbons—A mob was outside making a disturbance.

Alfred Talbot was called upon and he did not answer.

ALBION JONES.

To Mr. Meredith—I was at three band room meetings. Was told by John Stevenson to come as the band had been engaged, and Mr. Thomas Hobbs would make it all right.

Mr. Blake submitted that what witness was told was not evidence. His objection was sustained.

Q.—Whom did you see at the meeting? A.—Mr. Harper, T. S. Hobbs, Fred Saunders, Mr. Brown (a clerk), W. Wanless, jun., Mr. Hyman, Frank Halpin, I. Durkin, he remembered as having been present; Mr. Hobbs called out a list of names and asked how each was going to vote. This was before Mr. Hyman came in. After Mr. Hyman was through Mr. Halpin afterwards brought in some refreshments in two baskets—one containing bottled ale and the other glasses. The basket with the ale was put under a bench.

Q.—Was there any drinking while Mr. Hyman was there? A.—No; the beer was not opened until 11:30. Durkin and Halpin opened it.

Witness, continuing—A subscription list was passed around and signed.

Q.—Did Mr. Hyman sign it? A.—No.

Q.—Who has the list? A.—Mr. Hobbs, I think.

Mr. Hobbs was called upon, but was not present.

Q.—Whose names were on the list?

Mr. Blake objected. The book must be produced.

The witness Nathan Martin continued: Saw Mr. Harper, Mr. Hobbs, Mr. Durkin, Mr. Talbot and W. S. Niles at another meeting at 8 o'clock. They asked how the crowd were going. Wm. Brown, Hobbs, Fountain and Wm. Berry spoke. There were two quarter-kegs of lager drank that night. It was drank by the crowd—white and colored. Crackers and cheese were given out with the beer. The meeting was on when I left at 10:30. The beer was all gone then. Didn't see Mr. Carrothers there that night. A subscription list was passed around that night; it was for band instruments.

Judge Ferguson said he could scarcely credit that so much beer had been consumed by so few people.

Witness—People were coming in and going out all the time. Horace Duncan was the last man I saw with the subscription list.

Mr. Blake objected to the line of examination. It was irregular.

Judge Ferguson thought so, too. They must first show that there was money subscribed by an agent. Then the counsel could show what he paid while doing the act. Witness said he saw some of these parties sign a paper.

Mr. Blake again objected.

Judge Ferguson sustained the objection.

The examination was then adjourned till the book was produced.

JOSEPH GRAHAM.

was then examined on charges 80 and 81. He deposed—I was outside scrutineer at No. 5 division at last election for Mr. Carling. Messrs. McCallum, McLeod and F. T. Trebilcock acted as outside scrutineers for Mr. Hyman. Trebilcock consulted with other scrutineers. Each had a book. When a voter came up they marked him off. Saw Trebilcock consulting with J. W. Little. Trebilcock objected to the placing of the cards "Vote for Carling!" on the booth. Greer said they would stay there. Trebilcock said he would go to the central committee rooms, and see if it would do so. When he came back, Trebilcock tore them down. Witness proceeded to tell what Trebilcock said.

Mr. Blake—I object to saying what he said.

Witness continued—Trebilcock tried a the close of the poll to get into the booths as an agent of Mr. Hyman as outside scrutineer. He did not get in. No one was allowed in from the outside.

To Mr. Gibbons—Am a very active politician; have been giving a great deal of evidence lately; I have been sworn many times before the revising officer; saw Trebilcock talk with Mr. Little.

Q.—When you say he was consulting with Mr. Little you know nothing about what he was discussing?

A.—Yes; I could not tell what he said. I paid no attention to the conversation; it was entirely private.

Mr. Gibbons—Then that is all I want with you.

The court then adjourned, to meet again on the 18th of January, 1892, at 10 o'clock.

"TELESCOPED!"

Disaster on the Lake Shore Railway.

The Engine of an Express Train Dashed Through a Passenger Coach.

Seven Persons Killed and Many Maimed for Life.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 30.—The Lake Shore was the scene of a serious run-in accident on the Boston and Chicago special going east, which left Chicago at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. In the edge of the city the road runs under the Miami and Erie Canal through a tunnel some 75 feet long. Some 200 yards east of the tunnel is a target. The Lake Shore train passed through the tunnel, but not getting the signal at the target to go ahead put on brakes and slacked up. The southbound express on the Flint and Pere Marquette road, which goes over the Lake Shore tracks to the Union depot, came through the tunnel immediately after the Lake Shore train and plunged into the rear coach.

The Lake Shore train was vestibuled, but an ordinary day coach for the accommodation of way passengers was attached to the rear, and it was this which suffered. The Flint and Pere Marquette engine plowed its way through the car until the pilot was more than midway of the coach. The seats and floor were torn up, and the unfortunate passengers, bruised and maimed, were badly scalded by the escaping steam from the broken pipes. The crash is described by those who heard it as terrific.

A NARROW MARGIN.

The time of arrival of the Flint and Pere Marquette train is 4:53; that of the Lake Shore train 4:55—thus giving but two minutes between them. The former train seems to have been a couple of minutes behind time. The engineer of the former train says that just as he was coming to the tunnel, running fast, he saw the rear lights of the Lake Shore train and believed it to be in the tunnel. Knowing a collision inevitable, he shut off steam and both he and his fireman jumped, escaping with a few bruises, they knowing that a collision in the tunnel would give them no chance for life. The list of casualties reported at this hour is as follows:

THE DEAD:

Mrs. Sarah McCoy, Ransom, Ill.; the two children of Mrs. M. J. McDonald, of New York; H. Vaughan, of San Ferdonando, Cal.; Thos. McQueen, of Elkhart, Ind.; Miss Ella Meyers, of Cleveland; Maud McKenzie, of Chicago.

INJURED:

Miss Ellen Myers, Cleveland, badly injured, will probably die; Mrs. Nelson, Toledo, badly scalded; S. L. Walker, Goshen, Ind., injured, but left for home; C. J. Anderson, Riverside, Ill., bruised and scalded; D. Taylor, Hyde Park, Boston, not fatally; Joseph Ludwig, Peoria, Ill., injured in abdomen; Warren L. Potter, scalded; H. Vaughn, Auburn, N. Y., bruised and scalded; Conductor Hunter, of the Flint and Pere Marquette train, badly hurt in the back; John Conway, bruised; Miss Dollie Fisher, Toledo, severely scalded; Mrs. Galloway, Toledo, severely bruised; Chris. Enderer, Goshen, Ind., severely burned about face and hands; Mrs. M. J. McDonald, of New York, burned on face and hands; Miss Annie Mack, New York city, slightly burned; Mrs. McQueen, Elkhart, Ind., will die. Those in a precarious condition are Mrs. John Nelson, Toledo; Warren L. Pitter, Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. J. A. McKenzie, of Chicago, Ill.; James Ludwig, of Peoria, Ill., and John Conway, Melbourne, Mass.

A STRAY HAND.

The severed hand of a laboring man, probably a brakeman, was found in the wrecked car, but so far the injured man has not been discovered. The car entirely envelops the engine as far as the cab, the two being wedged closely together.

No one in either train was hurt save those in the wrecked day coach and the conductor of the Flint and Pere Marquette train.

The Lake Shore officials are inclined to put the blame on the Flint and Pere Marquette train. The engineer of that train is a new hand, and it was his first run over the road.

The results of the accident have been more serious than at first feared. The wounded sustained more serious injury than was supposed at the time. Nearly all were frightfully scalded and burned about the face and hands, and many will be disfigured for life.

Naming a Fast Horse.

"A fast horse, is he?"

"Trots like a streak of greased lightning."

"Well, that's fast enough. What do you call him?"

"What Ma Says."

"What Ma Says! That's a strange name, Why do you call him that?"

"Because what ma says goes."

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expells them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.
