A WEEK OF RECOVERY FROM EFFECTS OF SLUMP

Gradually But Surely the Money Market Is Working Back To Normal Condition.

New York, Dec. 9. — Henry Clews & Co.'s weekly financial review says: Another week of gratifying recovery has been experienced, and since the panic security values show an advance of ten points and over on the leading issues. In bonds, as well as stocks, there have been substantial gains, and the whole drift of the financial situation shows genuine recuperation.

The premium on currency is gradually disappearing and call money is becoming more and more easy, rates having touched as low as 3 per cent during the week.

Time money continues scarce at 10 to 12 per cent for short dates; not so much from any deficiency in supply, as from the conservative attitude of the banks, which are still obliged to exercise caution in the granting of credit.

Gradually but surely the money market is working back to normal conditions. The disposition to hoard is abating, and bank reserves are rising, having been materially assisted by the engagement of about $100,000,000 of gold, the bulk of which has already arrived. Fortunately interior banks are rapidly getting over their fright now that the situation in New York is improving, and within a few weeks money will probably be abundant and much easier than at present.

No Lack of Currency.

There is no lack of currency. The amount of circulation on Nov. 30 was $2,876,000,000, an increase of nearly $132,000,000 within the month, and $139,000,000 within twelve months. This is a circulation per capita of $34 71, compared with $32 42 a year ago. Of the increase in circulation during November $66,000,000 was in gold coin, and $53,000,000 in bank notes.

November was thus a month of unusual expansion in currency. Considering the lessened volume of business and the lower prices at which it is being transacted, it is evident that we are rapidly running into a condition of monetary redundancy; a fact which has been wisely recognized by the Government, and is reflected in its decision to modify its recent relief measures.

It is now believed that Mr. Cortelyou will not issue more than $25,000,000 of Panama bonds, and that the issue of new certificates will not exceed $15,000,000, or a total of about $40,000,000 for both classes of securities, instead of $150,000,000 as originally intended.

From all parts of the country there come reports of steady improvement in the money situation, and it is confidently believed that the complete resumption of specie payments is only a matter of comparatively short period.

There has been a distinctly more hopeful feeling in stock exchange circles; although, following the rapid advance last week, more or less realizing is about due.

Speculative operations are, of course, restricted and likely to be until interest rates decline to a more normal level. Thus far the revival has been quicker and more complete than was anticipated.

Now that the disturbance has subsided in Wall street, general business is also recovering from the shock administered last October. Mills temporarily shut down owing to the monetary stringency are restarting, and merchants are conducting their operations extending into the future with visibly greater confidence than a month ago. It is not to be expected that business will go back to the old scale of activity and profits. Nevertheless, business conditions are generally sound.

Quite possibly some further decline in the commodity markets will have to be experienced; but no serious curtailment in the consumption of the necessities of life seems probable, and the reaction will fall chiefly upon what may be classed as luxuries. We have still as a backbone an unusual degree of prosperity among our farm classes. Corn, cotton and nearly all agricultural products continue to bring good prices, and this is a strong element of support. There is little doubt but that the strong financial condition of the agricultural sections resulting from a long series of profitable harvests, not only had much to do with the boom which recently collapsed, but is now protecting us from extreme effects of that collapse.

Kentucky Night Riders Put Torch To Warehouses

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 7.—Five hundred "night riders" masked and heavily armed, rode into Hopkinsville early today and destroyed property valued at over $200,000, while citizens, in terror of their lives, feared even to open their windows. The police, fire department, telephone and telegraph offices, and even the railroad stations were in possession of a wild mob shooting right and left, flames from burning buildings meanwhile lighting up the city and the surrounding country until it seemed that the whole town was ablaze.

Only two men were injured, one of them being Lindsay Mitchell, a tobacco buyer, who was severely beaten with switches and clubs, and the other a brakeman, who was shot in the back while trying to move his train from the path of the flames.

The raid of the "night riders" caught the city unawares, as for some time the depredations resulting from the tobacco war had been of a minor nature, and it was generally thought that in the "dark district" at least the worst was over. The property destroyed was as follows: W. H. Tandy, independent tobacco warehouse building, owned by J. H. Latham; B. M. Woolridge, association warehouse; Tandy & Farleigh, buyers' warehouse.

In addition the entire glass front of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian, which has been severe in the condemnation of the "night riders," Mayor Meacham's paper, was destroyed, while windows in front of the Commercial Banking and Savings Company, the First National, the Planters' Trust Company and the Bank of Hopkinsville were punctuated with bullet holes.

A number of other business houses and residences bear the marks of bullets, and it is considered remarkable that no one was killed. The insurance is believed to be about $60,000.

As soon as the "night riders" left town a posse of about 15, headed by Major Bassett of the local militia, and Deputy Sheriff Cravens, entered buggies and followed the trails. As soon as the posse could get near enough they opened fire on the fleeing mob and the pursued returned the shots. It is believed none of the "night riders" were hit. The members of the posse escaped injury. They were outdistanced by the mounted men and after chasing the marauders past Gracey the officers returned home.

News was later received from all parts of the town, indicating the spread of the raid of the riders. There was hardly a house in the business section of the city which did not suffer.

Just why no damage was done by the "night riders" to the Imperial or the American Snuff Company warehouse is not known. They probably contained more stock than any other house.

NO MORE JAP LABOR FOR CANADA

Tokio, Dec. 7.—There is reason to believe that the entire question of emigration of Japanese to America has been satisfactorily settled, at least for the present, after a series of conferences which have been held between United States Ambassador O'Brien and Minister of Foreign Affairs Hayashi.

This arrangement will entail the closest supervision on the part of the Japanese authorities. As the arrangement is verbal, Ambassador O'Brien accepted it provisionally, but maintained that any violation of its terms would seriously embarrass a friendly government.

It is said that Foreign Minister Hayashi has determined to exercise absolute control in the matter. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Canadian minister of labor, will hold a final conference with Minister Hayashi and Baron Ishii, on Dec. 9, when he will receive the same assurance in regard to a limitation of emigration by Japan as the United States.

The Progressive party is preparing for an active campaign in the Diet in opposition to the Government's emigration policy. It is improbable, however, that it will succeed in mustering enough strength to create a serious situation. Meanwhile the foreign office remains firm in its determination not to yield to the importunities of the emigration companies, nor others who sympathize with them.
