BASKETBALL AT DAL SATURDAY 1P.M.

ATLANDHICKS VICTORS IN LOW SCORING TILT; "LAZY BUCK" NETS 3,000th

Last night the Halifax Atlandhicks stormed to another decisive, demanding, degenerating, demoralizing, de lucky devils, 21-20 victory over Charlottes Town Potato Pickers in a pickle pringled precise presumptuous presumable pretentious pretense prehistoric game (pardon the expression) of hockey played in Spud Gardens. The Pickers held the edge for the first thrill packed, exciting, exasperating minute of play coming up with 9 picture play goals. As a matter of fact that's why they scored, the Halifax goalie was busy posing for pictures.

It marked the fourth defeat this week for Charlotte and her boys, they dropped three to the blind school junior varsity squad earlier, and are now fighting desperately to hold last place in the league standings.

Willy Batson was the big gun for Halifax shooting one goal and 19 assists plus two pigeons in the rafters for a 20-point gain. He was on the ice for 10 goals only but his thoughtful teammates voted unanimously that he be given the 19 assist to improve his point total. The one and only (thank heavens) Whit Bucklock managed to maintain his scoring lead, picking up 11 goals, 5 assists and two garters from the second balcony. There was great rejoicing in Spud Town when old "Red Line" potted his seventh goal, it was his 3,000th in two and two third years of league play which really displays the excellent calibre of our glorious Maritime Senior Hockey. Coach Chamber Lane was so happy that he told his lovable scorer that from now on all he had to do was backcheck to his own blue line instead of the center ice red line. That saves the poor lad thirty feet of skating energy.

Directly after the contest the Atlandhicks returned by submarine to Halifax and were honored at a tea party at the home of Mrs. P. U. Gartons (Gartons spelled backwards is Gartons spelled backwards). Some of the lads brought Keith along to liven up the party and Keith was so lively that jolten Loe Japine was carried away (in usual style) with the excitement. Cuuie Hampbell, Huckle Mollett, Kank Fing and Filly Bord poured.

The funeral of referee Charlie Bad will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home of Stringbean McPole at sharp 2 p.m. A reception will be held immediately after everybody invited, please bring your own refreshments. On the humble toomstone the inscription will read: "Here rest the carcus of Charlie Bad, who didn't duck and got hit in the HAD".

Since this was one of the next to the last season games we wish to make an all out appeal to the other hockey leagues in Canada as we do each year this time. Will you please send us some more of your cast offs next season so we can continue to enable the various ice makers here in the Maritimes to make a living? We would appreciate it very much if you could send some players for a change because one more year like this and we will have to pay the people to go to the game and as near as our experts are able to figure out such a case may very well be somewhat of a financial flop.

HOW GREEN CAN WE BE?

Next year the old saying "that Dalhousie has green athletes and men" will prove false. After much consideration of the question, the Faculty and Physical Education Department have announced that next year the word green will have a new significance. All Dal athletes and men will be fed on Chlorophyll!

The decision was released this morning and much relief has already been noted on the sports' front. After considering Michigan and other American looniversities, Dalhousie decided to top them with the use of this new drug. Besides synthesizing proteins and extracting the famed rays of the sunshine, the green "stuff" will completely deodorize the famed Tigers, paws and even tails.

The Faculty announced that the Biology department in connection with the Department of National Research has found an inexpensive way to produce the powerful green pigment and its use at Dalhousie

Tomorrow afternoon starting at 1 p.m. sharp, the Dal Girls' Varsity Basketball team will take to the floor in the local Gym to do battle with a squad from U.N.B., which will decide the Maritime Intercollegiate Championship.

Last weekend in Fredericton the gold and black femmes came out on the long end of the score and now boast a lead in the two game total point series. Dal are heavy favorites to cop the series and the title, so lets see everybody out tomorrow to cheer the team on to victory. The locals took top honors last year and are more than capable of a repeat performance.

Crabbers

During the last year, we have heard much criticism about referees in basketball, hockey, squash and radishes. Every complaint seemed to be unjustified and every complaint offered no solution. Recently, however, some overly bright lunatic did give a solution to the problem. His proposal was very fair, especially to the teams with which his Institution played games. The Institution's lunatic proposed that his own Institution train referees in order that the usually poor referees from other Institutions would not further ridicule the sports and players at his Institution.

Now just bear with us for half a column, and consider his proposal. On first thought it is high calibre of a lunatic and on final thought it still remains insane. Heavens, if every Institution established training schools for referees, half the interest in the sport would be gone. Nobody would bother coming to the games if he knew that a fellow lunatic would be refereeing the contest. Another consideration should be that it would be unfair to the visiting Institutions. The poor boys from the other Institutes would have a hard time understanding the calls, because every Institution has different types of characters.

It thus seems hard to believe that a proposal to train referees in each Institute would not only be too expensive but also insane. Our proposal is to leave the referees alone (in solitude) and perhaps after two centuries, sporting fans in Nova Scotia and the Valley will realize that the happy whistle boys are not as insane as they are.

Engineers Win Hockey; Lose B'Ball At Acadia

The annual Acadia-Dalhousie Engineers basketball and hockey series came to a close last weekend in Wolfville with a trophy going to each University. Acadia won by a decisive margin in the basketball series while Dalhousie did likewise in the hockey series.

Dal went on the basketball floor with a 13-point defiicit to make up in the two game total point series, losing the opener here in Halifax a few weeks ago by a 40-27 margin, and after a slow, somewhat ragged game Acadia held a 66-32 victory, winning the series 106-55. Reid Murphy was driving hard at all times for Dal with Gordie Weld also showing up well on the Dal attack. Jack Clark was the driving force behind Acadia, netting 29 points.

In the hockey contest the Dal transit men seemed a bit unorganized for the first two periods but settled down in the third and left the ice with a 7-3 victory in the game and a 19-7 margin in the series. The line of Gaye Johnson, Al Kelso, and Chuck Johnson accounted for four of the seven counters, with Gaye Johnson potting every one. Gordie Hill netted the other three on neat passing plays with Steve Pefhany. Playing coach Johnny Fitch received the handsome trophy from Mr. Bernie Cain immediately following the contest.

MAKING UP LOST TIME

Due to some kind of a mysterious oversight the Dal Medical Society failed to gather very much publicity this year in the sports departments, that's what they tell us anyway. Since this is the last edition we see it only fitting that any lost time be made up, so here goes —Meds, Meds,

Again, since this is the final paper we will thank ourselves very much for the kind thoughtfulness of all this publicity. GooM byE.

Bonspiel

Today, Dalhousie is host to the Maritime Inter-Collegiate Curling Championships. The games are being played at the Halifax Curling Club and represenatives from the University of New Brunswick, Mount Allison, Acadia, St. Mary's and Dalhousie are participating. Dal will have two teams in the bonspiel which will be a round-robin. The boys carrying the black and gold colors are Larry Doane as Skip; Don Torey as mate; Jim Tupper second; and Dave Roscoe as lead. With the other team is Charlie MacKenzie as skip; Alex Campbell, mate; Jim Donahoe, second and George Travis as lead. Curling started at 9.00 this morning and four games were played today, six ends being the length of the games. Tomorrow the series will wind up with two morning games.

Curling in this bonspiel is expected to be tops, with some of Canada's best Boy Curlers in action.
