ONE THOUSAND STOCKHOLDERS

The Largest Joint Stock Company Ever Formed Under the Act, about to be Incorporated.

Brave boys! Stirring times are in store for organized labor in Toronto in the near future. We have put our shoulders to the wheel in the greatest campaign ever waged to secure for ourselves a building befitting the dignity of our great cause, and not a man of us will look back until the $10,000 we need has been raised to make the necessary cash deposit of $5,000 and make the necessary repairs and alterations to the Athenaeum Club House, the building we are after.

Since the secretary presented his last week's supplementary statement in The Toiler, the campaign has been marked by a carnival of enthusiasm, unprecedented in the history of the labor movement in Toronto, and the boys are just beginning to catch on to the fact that they are simply not in it unless they have a share or two, and even more, in the Labor Temple Company, Limited. It is everything that it's represented to be, and the secretary has taken off his coat and rolled up his sleeves to keep pace with the tide of filled out stock blanks that are rolling in from all quarters. The old ledger hasn't pages enough to accommodate the ever-increasing list of stock takers who are catching on to the good thing within easy reach, and more book space hail to be procured to keep the names from running off the end of the pages.

Where are we at, anyway? Right on top, with over one thousand stock takers and over six thousand dollars now guaranteed towards the $10,000 immediately needed. Just think of it! A week ago we reported only $2,685 guaranteed, and we were in high glee. This week we come back at you with twice that amount guaranteed, and the trades unionists all over the city on our heels asking us to tell them more about the wonderful campaign now going on. We really haven't time to think, but we don't mind the pressure if we can only see the Labor Temple an assured reality.

The Street Railway Employes' Union really took our breath away when they gave us the assurance that nothing less than 1,000 shares would do their organization, and when they told us there would be fully another 1,000 shares taken by their individual members, we were completely flabbergasted. But we soon recover from these shocks, and when the bricklayers broke the news to us that 500 shares would come from their organization we accepted the glad tidings without any hysterical demonstrations, and we have really become so case-hardened that the Musical Protective Association's donation of 200 shares didn't faze us.

We're out to make history that the coming generations will read and relish, and nothing but the real article will satisfy us just now. So keep up a good heart, boys, and next Labor Day Toronto will see the biggest jollification that a hot time appreciating public has ever seen.

The brass bands, fleets and uniforms won't be in it with the dedication ceremony at the new Labor Temple, and when the sun sinks in the west on the first Monday of September next the curtain will be drawn down upon a scene of jubilation unparalleled in the history of the labor movement of this Dominion.

If you haven't got in on the ground floor of the Labor Temple Company, Limited, just get a hustle on and call for a stock blank to fill out with your name and address and the number of shares you will take in the company. Money talks just now, and your speech from the practical standpoint will be far more eloquent if your good wishes are supplemented by your hard cash.

Don't procrastinate. A doubting Thomas never sets the world on fire. Get in the front ranks where the bullets are the thickest and where to do is to dare. Bring on your ammunition; this sixty days' fight demands the best trained men of the organized labor movement, and with victory now assured, even the faint-hearted ought to be willing to join in the ranks of our army of over 1,000 stock takers. Take a glance at the following list of names, showing new stockholders since Monday, April 25th. Acknowledgment has been made of all stock takes prior to that date, and we want your name for next week's issue. If you haven't received a stock blank, just drop a card to James Simpson, the provisional secretary, 42 Albany avenue, and he will forward you one, with a prospectus, without delay. Act quick, time flies, and your opportunity will soon be gone.

INDUSTRIAL EUROPE THROUGH AMERICAN EYES.

We are pleased to inform our readers that we have made special arrangements with Hon. Judson Grenell, of Detroit, Mich., well known to those who are interested in socio-economics, for a series of letters on "Industrial Europe through American Eyes." Mr. Grenell is already in England, from whence he will go to Scotland, France, Switzerland, Holland, Germany, and possibly Italy and Austria, making a critical study, yet free from scientific verbiage, of the social and economic environments of the wealth producers of the old world.

Mr. Grenell has long been a student of political economy. A printer by trade, working at both newspaper and jobbing, he naturally gravitated from the "case" to the reporter's and then to the editor's desk, and while editor of the "Labor and Capital" department of the Detroit Sunday News-Tribune, was successful in producing a "labor" page that commanded the attention of all classes.

With letters of introduction to many prominent men in the old world, and with credentials from local labor bodies and also from the Mayors of Detroit and Cleveland, our correspondent will be able to obtain reliable information, which, added to his newspaper training, and his very lucid style of writing, promises a literary treat for our readers which it is not easy to duplicate.

Mr. Grenell's letters will be confined to the men and women of the old world who earn their bread by the sweat of their brows. He will leave descriptions of cathedrals, temples and palaces to others, except where such description is necessary in order to make clear the social conditions of the old world's lowly ones.

A couple of years ago Mr. Grenell collected a number of his industrial articles, and published them in book form, under the title, "Economic Tangles; Industrial Problems Explained through Lessons Drawn from Passing Events." This book was well received by the book critics, and immediately went into a second edition, which is also exhausted.

One of the reasons why Mr. Grenell has been so successful in handling economic problems lies in the fact of his close personal relationship with labor bodies. He has been a delegate to the American Federation of Labor, twice a delegate to the International Typographical Union, and often to the state and local central labor bodies. In the '80's he was nominated by a workingman's convention for the Michigan Legislature, endorsed by one of the old parties, and elected. In this instance, at least, workingmen had no reason to regret their choice.

Mr. Grenell's European letters are copyrighted, and will not appear in any other publication in this locality. They will probably begin the latter part of May.

"The Associated Charities of Toronto are prepared to give such information as lies in their power to persons thrown out of employment by the fire and seeking employment. Persons having employment to offer will do a favor by communicating to Frank J. Walsh, secretary, City Hall. Telephone Main 3324."

The foregoing is a resolution passed at a meeting of the Associated Charities of Toronto, at which many of the charitable organizations of the city were represented. The meeting was held in the association's offices in the City Hall. Amongst those present were Rev. Canon Welch, Prof. Goldwin Smith, Rev. Dr. Gilray, Robert Moon, F. J. Walsh, Staff-Captain Archibald, T. F. Callahan, Archibald MacMurchy, Mrs. F. H. Torrington, Mrs. Forsyth Grant.

HOW IT'S DONE.

Office Manager, to head of the firm—The head bookkeeper is asking for a raise. He says he's going to get married.

Head of the Firm—Oh, give it to him. When he's married he can't afford to lose his job and we'll cut him down again.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.

Smith—I understand Rev. Brimstin Blazes preached an eloquent sermon yesterday on race suicide and the people's duty to multiply and replenish the earth.

Jones—He evidently never house-hunted in Toronto.

Smith—What's house-hunting to do with race suicide?

Jones—Why, I've been hunting for weeks and can't get a house for love or money because I have children.

Smith—By Jove, old man, I've got it—we'll circulate a petition among the parishioners requesting a special Sunday of prayer that kind Providence in his wisdom may see fit to call the landlords home to the happy hunting grounds, so what's left of us can obey his commands, "To multiply and replenish the earth."

Jones—There's only one way better than that.

Smith—What is it?

Jones—The single tax on land values.

Colombia has reduced its army from 11,000 to 3,000. Probably the privates were all discharged.

Adam and Eve probably visited the tree of knowledge for the purpose of studying the higher branches.

Cures Rupture

What's the use of torturing yourself wearing the cold steel or badly-fitting elastic Truss, when you can be cured at home without pain or danger and no time from work, not a drop of blood lost. Away with the old Truss, off with the wretched feeling as though you were held in a vice. Feel as you should feel: strong and healthy. I can make you do so that you will wonder you ever constituted yourself with the torturing pains of the old Truss.

Mr. G. T. Murdock, 173 Logan avenue, Toronto, Ontario, whose portrait here appears, is cured after suffering 14 years. Read what he says:

"Dear Dr.—It is with a great pleasure that I let you know that your method has made a perfect cure in my case. I considered it wonderful when I was cured at the severe work which I was doing. My work is a stonemason's labourer. I gladly recommend you to all ruptured.

"You ruptured people who have tried every truss and have even undergone operations with the ill result that you are still ruptured, will welcome this glad news that you can be cured. Remember, my cures are permanent.

Free Trial—To prove to the ruptured that my Method will do precisely what I claim for it, I will send free of my wonderful discovery.

Free Book—My valuable book "On Rupture be Cured," which deals in detail with the cause and cure of rupture, free by mail to all ruptured who ask at once.

Dr. W. S. Rice, 2 East Queen St., Department 81, TORONTO, ONT.
