Over Million Shares Traded In On New York Exchange

Dealings Encompassed An Unusual Variety of Issues —Price Trend Upward.

New York, March 17—For the third consecutive session trading on the stock exchange today ran well beyond the million share mark, dealings again encompassing an unusual variety of issues.

The money market was the primary factor in the further promotion of bullish sentiment. On the exchange call loans fell from 3 1-2 to 3 per cent. in the first hour and in private offerings such accommodations were obtainable at 3 1-2 per cent.

Among the more prominent issues in today's active operations were numerous low priced shares of the railway, industrial and unclassified groups. Their activity, seemingly based on speculative possibilities, was attributed to professional interests.

The trend for the most part was decidedly upward, but profit taking, incidental to a Friday session, reduced some of the more substantial gains at the end. Representative stocks in the railway division again were inclined to lag, but Union Pacific was brought in round a month to close. Crucible Steel was only temporarily affected by the omission of the common dividends, finishing at a slight gain; but Tidewater Oil broke sharply on the suspension of its dividend, and several specialties were under pressure in anticipation of such action.

Outstanding features embraced United States Steel and the independent steels, notably Vanadium, as well as Chandler Motor, Anaconda Copper, Central Leather, Columbia Gas and Allied Chemicals, the latter making a net gain of five points. Sales amounted to 1,225,000 shares.

Foreign exchanges, especially the British rate, continued the impressive recovery from last week's reaction. Remittances on London were heavily traded in, the inquiry from all accounts including covering of short contracts. Demand sterling rose to 4.37 1-4, or about 3 1-2 cents from yesterday's low. Allied rates were 8 to almost 20 points higher, and Dutch and Scandinavian bills rose 5 to 15 points, but the German mark retained all of its recent weakness.

Steel Company Of Canada Led Market Activity

Five Point Gain Registered by the Issue — Market Strong Gains Predominating.

Montreal, March 17—The dividend announcement of the Steel Company of Canada resulted in that stock leading the local stock market today and registering a five point gain at 62. The market was generally strong, gains almost doubling losses, the largest of which did not reach two points. The volume of trading was more than double that of yesterday. Other industrials of the same group as Steel of Canada did not share its buoyancy. Dominion Bridge fell a point to 69 and the British Empire 2nd preferred was unchanged at 21. Lyall suffered the greatest loss of the day, being down 1 3-4 points to 33 1-4.

National Breweries was the second most active stock of the day and closed unchanged, ex dividend at 57. Dominion Glass preferred, which has not come out in some time, showed a gain of 1 3-4 pints ex dividend at 91.

Milling Stocks Strong.

The flour milling stocks gave a further exhibition of strength without displaying special activity. Lake of Woods advanced two points to 150, while St. Lawrence was up 3-4 to 79 3-4 A small lot of Ogilvie sold at 205.

Other stocks to display strength included Smelters up 1-4 at 19 1-4; Bell Telephone, up half to 105 1-2; B. C. Fishing, up three-quarters to 24 3-4; Howard Smith, up 1 to 65, and Mackay up one-quarter to 84 1-4.

Weaker stocks besides Lyall were Toronto Railway, off a point at 64, and Montreal Power, down 5-8 to 86.

Trading in bonds showed improvement in volume as compared with yesterday. Wayagamack sixes advanced another half point to 77 1-2, a new high for the current year, having started in at 71 3-4. Montreal Power fours advanced one-quarter to 91 3-4. The Government group was less active than usual. Total sales, listed, 6,106; bonds, $182,100.

CLEARER VIEW OF OUTCOME OF PRESENT EUROPEAN TROUBLES REASONS FOR MONEY'S ADVANCE

Chicago, March 16.—One reason for the recent advance in European moneys is the clearer view of the outcome of present European troubles. There are many cases in which the open bankruptcy of a business house is welcomed by its neighbors. It removes a menace and substitutes certainty where uncertainty has prevailed. The same with nations. There is a long record of bankruptcy among the well-known powers of the world and those of the present time which are in a crippled condition may, if they fail, comfort themselves with the feeling that they are in distinguished company.

The best opinion among business men and students of the subject looks to the repudiation of great quantities of European debts, especially currency, and by as much as that idea gains ground by so much does a little assurance creep in where before was deep doubt or even a feeling of desperation.

The thing looked for is the reduction of the franc and the mark to something like present market value, redemption on that valuation and the issuance of a new currency. The mark would have to go at about half a cent, the rest of the European currency issues at higher figures. There are conferences now in progress looking to the probable adoption of such a plan. But equally it is declared that government expenses must be reduced so that the old evil of making paper money to meet increasing liabilities will not be repeated. And then of course the reparations program would have to be materially changed.

Very likely if that country can get a portion of the burden lifted off its shoulders, Germany will take the lead in this matter. And there seems to be no reason why that should not be done irrespective of similar action or co-operation by neighboring countries. It would be a good example of nerve and leadership by one bravely facing facts and dismissing bitter memories.

Some such step is necessary to take these countries out of the shadows under which they are dwelling. It is now over three years since the armistice and nothing has been done beyond the aggravation of this evil of inflated indebtedness. Perhaps the fiscal authorities of these countries have thought all the way along they were not quite bankrupt enough to make out a good case for repudiation. But surely Germany and the western powers do not want to place themselves in the same class with Russian and Austria.

Foreign Bond Issues Dominant Feature On N. Y. Bond Market

French Government Issues Showed Increased Strength —Domestic Rails Unusually Strong.

New York, March 17—Foreign issues were the dominant features of today's active bond market. Apart from the increased strength of French Governments, the ready sale of the new Paris-Lyons, Mediterranean Railroad $30,000,000 bond issue was considered noteworthy.

Among domestic rails unusual strength was shown by several of the leading cotton-carrying issues. Cash sales of Texas and Pacific first fives were made at pronounced advances and Central of Georgia. Consolidated fives and Louisville and Nashville unified fours were substantially higher with Reading fours, St. Paul General 4 1-2's and Wabash first 2ves. Almost all the Liberty and Victory issues closed at gains. Total sales, par value, aggregated $17,041,000.

Upward Swing To Wheat Market Still Continues

Influenced by Strong Wheat Undertone Coarse Grains Shot Upward.

Winnipeg March 17.—The upward tendency was continued on the local market again today, and good advances were recorded. Early cables reflected the strength on this side Thursday, and Liverpool opening was higher with the undertone to all markets strong. Wheat opened 3-4 to 1 cent higher here, but made little progress until late in the seion when good buying on slight offerings was reported. The market responded to this and closed with a gain of 3 1-8 for May.

The cash market was not active, although there was an excellent demand, especially for the top grades, but the offerings were extremely light. Early in the day premiums were quarter better, but, on the bulge in futures, closed at yesterday's figures: No. 1 northern 4 1-2 over May, and No. 2 northern at the May price.

Influenced by the strong undertone in the wheat market, coarse grains were all on the upturn The trade volume is not large; the demand both domestic and export being light. A better consulting demand is expected to develop from the east in the near future. Cash spreads were unchanged.

The liquidation in long wheat has undoubtedly come to an end for the time being, and there now exists among the trade a desire for higher prices. News from every quarter appears to be more optimistic. The foreign trade is reported to be interested again, and in addition to the United Kingdom, France, Italy and Greece are looked on as prospective buyers.

Closing Quotations.

Liberal Export Business Lifted Value of Wheat

Day's Trade Closed Unsettled at 2 to 2 3-8 Cents Higher.

Chicago, March 17—Indications of liberal export business, together with gossip about smallness of European stocks of breadstuffs, did a good deal today to lift values in the wheat market here. The close was unsettled at 2 to 2 3-8 cents net higher. Corn gained 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 and oats 3-4 to 1 cent. In provisions the finish was unchanged to 27 cents higher.
