MARKHAM HYDROPATHIC INSTITUTION.

ROBERT HUNTER, M.D., SURGEON, Graduate of the University of the City of New York; of the Whittakerian School of Medicine and Surgery; Corresponding Member of the Æsculapian Society, New York; and Licentiate of the Board of Medicine, Canada;

JAMES J. HUNTER, M.D., SURGEON, Graduate of the University of New York; of the Medical Institution of Geneva College; and Licentiate of the Board of Medicine, Canada; and NELSON R. REED, M.D., SURGEON, Graduate of the University of Geneva; and of the Whittakerian School of Medicine and Surgery, &c. &c.

RESPECTFULLY announce to the public of Canada, that they have established an Institution for the Relief and Cure of CHRONIC DISEASES, by the modern practice of Hydropathy. The Institution is situated in the VILLAGE OF MARKHAM, in the Home District; a location especially selected on account of the salubrity of the climate, the beauty of the scenery, and the flourishing condition of the surrounding country. No pains have been spared in rendering the Establishment effective in all its departments; and the services of an eminent Hydropathist, from England, having been secured, the most assiduous and unremitting attention will invariably be paid to the comfort and convenience of the inmates.

The utmost confidence is felt in recommending it to persons afflicted with the following diseases, viz.:—

Gout,	Scrofula, or King's Evil,
Rheumatism,	Bilious Complaints,
Nervous Debility,	Tic Doloureux,
Asthma,	Incipient Consumption,
White Swellings,	Salt Rheum,
Liver Complaints,	Chronic Diseases of the Joints,
Ulcers and Fever Sores,	Palpitation of the Heart,
Piles,	Skin Diseases,
Constipation or Costiveness,	Rickets,
Dyspepsia,	&c. &c. &c. &c.

For full particulars address, if by letter, (post-paid), Dr. R. HUNTER, Markham, or Dr. JAMES J. HUNTER, Newmarket, and the most minute and satisfactory information will be promptly and cheerfully accorded.

The Institution will be visited by the Physicians as follows, viz.:—
By Dr. R. HUNTER, daily.
By Dr. JAS. J. HUNTER, Wednesdays and Thursdays; and
By Dr. N. R. REED, Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Eye and Ear Infirmary.

In connexion with the above establishment, Drs. R. & J. J. HUNTER have established an Infirmary for the Relief and Cure of all diseases of the EYE AND EAR, and confidently hope, from their long experience in the New York Eye and Ear Institution, that they will be able to fill a void which must have been long and severely felt by the Canadian public.

☞ Drs. R. & J. J. HUNTER will also receive patients afflicted with the deformities of SQUINT or CROSS-EYE, and CLUB-FOOT, and will in every instance (where the case is favourable for treatment) guarantee a perfect cure.

Markham, 1st July, 1847. 520

A Lady in Troy, N. Y., who was given up by her Physicians, sends us the following:

Troy, May 15, 1846.

MR. FOWLE—In October last, I took a violent cold, which settled on my lungs and produced a hacking cough, accompanied with night sweats, which reduced me very low. A few days after I was taken I employed one of our best Physicians, but received no help; but I tried another, but with no better success, and finally a third, still growing worse all the while. At this stage of the disease I was reduced so low as to be unable to turn myself in bed, or sit up while my bed was made. My Physicians finally gave me up, and said that I had the consumption, and that there was no help for me. My friends advised me to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, but the Doctors objected said that it would only hurry me out of the world; I finally procured a bottle, and by using three bottles I was restored to perfect health.

TO OUR READERS AND CORRESPONDENTS.

No. 3 of the "Canadian Coloquies" will appear in our next, and we take this opportunity of stating explicitly that the characters introduced into these are imaginary, and not intended to apply to any individual person or persons.

H. C. C. is in type, but excluded by our unusual press of matter this week. S. L. C. in our next.

famine and sickness are sweeping away multitudes, are we to go on eating and drinking, and partaking of all customary enjoyments, without hindrance or abatement? While the country rings with the sounds of suffering from one end to the other, is there to be no permanent and public acknowledgment of God's hand; no special and constant supplications offered by those who are spared, for themselves and for those who suffer? Are the events which now happen really to be regarded as chastisements for sin, public as well as private, and can we expect any mitigation so long as we exhibit so little consciousness of our actual condition, so few evidences of repentance? The very life of the country seems to be bound up in the results of the coming harvest, but what has been done to shew our profound conviction that those results are altogether at the disposal of Him "who giveth fodder for the cattle, and the green herb for the service of men?"

And in what quarter is the movement to be looked for at such a time? Is the Church, or is she not, the religious teacher and guide of the people? And, if she be, has she no distinct and urgent duty to perform in connexion with the terrible crisis? Is it not the office of the Church to give audible echo to the voice of God's providence; to lead the way, and supply the helps of repentance? And has she fulfilled her duty in this regard? Are the two Fast days which have been already observed, and the use of the short Collect (which is still continued, at least in some churches), to be considered sufficient for the exigencies of a time like the present? Is there to be no definite recognition of the new element which God has been pleased to introduce into the sufferings of the country, the disease which is sweeping away those whom hunger had brought low; no prayers for a fruitful harvest; no stated and solemn humiliation for sin, commensurate with the continuance of the chastisement?

We do most earnestly commend these plain queries to the attention of our readers. No doubt many amongst us fulfil the duties to which we refer, in private, as far as they can be so fulfilled, yet even they would derive help from some stated public observance. We become insensibly and desperately familiarized with events such as are now passing, and require every religious help that can be afforded to enable us to feel as we ought respecting them. If we had been told a twelvemonth since that we should be actually living among scenes which are now, alas! of daily occurrence in this country, we should have regarded it as incredible, or thought death to be preferred.—Yet we now hear of crowds of our countrymen dropping by the road sides; of others seized by a new and incurable sickness, of whose swift and silent issue the victim is incredulous, but which never spares: we hear of horrors almost too great for mention—of parents wishing for their children's death—of men eagerly scrambling for fragments of putrid carrion—of dogs devouring Christian flesh—and yet how inadequately do we feel, compared with the dread reality of our position! Many, again, because the blow has not yet reached themselves in any shape, live on, unconscious of God's judgments,—their indulgences undiminished, their very amusements uninterrupted. These surely need something to awaken them—some plain and faithful voice to recall them to the truth of things. To these and to all the voice of the Church could scarcely fail of bringing salutary warning. The very sound of the church bell would be as a sermon, startling the world's forgetfulness, and forcing men to think, if it were but for a moment, of the dread occasion.

While thus suggesting the necessity of some stated observance during the continuance of the present visitation, we are not unmindful of the difficulty which lies in the way of introducing any change into our public services; but this difficulty might, perhaps, be avoided in the present case, by taking advantage of the provision which the Church has made in the Prayer Book for extraordinary occasions. Thus, for instance, the Commination Service, which is appointed for the first day of Lent, may be used "at other times, as the Ordinary shall appoint." This service is in itself very suitable to the time, and might be employed without alteration as long as the visitation continues: and even if so much as this could not be accomplished, still individual clergymen might, in their own parishes, induce their people to a more solemn observance of Fridays: in public, by attending church (the prayers against dearth and sickness being used on that day along with the Litany); in private, by keeping the fast in their families, and thus endeavouring to humble themselves before God, and sympathize with their suffering countrymen.—Irish Ecclesiastical Journal.

THE LATE ROW IN KINGSTON.—We have already expressed our opinion as to allowing the guilty parties in the late attack upon Capt. Twohy and his steamer to pass unpunished. It will be seen by the following letter from Mr. Bethune, that he is determined that an investigation shall take place, and we commend him for so determining. It is humiliating to the Citizens of Kingston, that the apathy or cowardice of the city authorities, should render necessary the writing of such a letter to our Chief Magistrate:—

Toronto, August 3, 1847.

Sir,—Captain Henry Twohy, of the steamer Princess Royal, having informed me that a most outrageous attack was made upon that steamer yesterday, at Kingston, by a mob *incited by the Rev. Mr. Higgins, I have to request that you will take the information of Captain Twohy against the parties guilty of the outrage, or who in any way encouraged it; that you issue your warrant for their apprehension; and that they may be bound over to the next Assizes for the offence; as I am determined that the majesty of the law shall, so far as I can contribute to it, be upheld; and that the guilty party shall be punished.

What would be thought of me if, under the pretence of some insult having been offered to me by some labourer in the employ of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Kingston, I were to incite a mob to take possession of his Palace, and beat the persons they might happen to find in it, destroy his furniture, and threaten destruction by fire to his premises?

Now, such has been exactly the conduct pursued by the mob towards my steamer and the persons employed on board of her; and if such conduct is to be tolerated, the sooner we are made aware of it the better.

I humbly maintain that in this country there is no man either so high or so low that he can violate the laws with impunity. If, however, the laws of the land will not protect my property, and people from injury, then it will be necessary to resort to the first laws of nature, and take into our own hands that which the authorities deny us.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obed't humble serv't,
DONALD BETHUNE.

To Thomas Kirkpatrick, Esq.,
Mayor of the City of Kingston.

* We think this is an error.—[Ed. Argus.

THE EMIGRANTS.

Toronto, 5th August, 1847.

I visited the steamer City, on her arrival from Kingston today. She brought 1250 emigrants, about 350 were Scotch, a few Germans—and the remainder Irish, but all indigent,—they were generally healthy; I sent only one of them to Hospital.

JOHN B. TOWNSEND.
Chairman Board of Health.

(The Scotch emigrants were from the parishes of Assynt and Durness, in Sutherlandshire. They proceeded by the steamer Eclipse yesterday afternoon to Hamilton whence they go to the Township of Zorra, in the District of Brock, to join their friends who have been resident there for a number of years. They all appeared to be in robust health. A considerable number of the other emigrants went to Hamilton at the same time, by the same conveyance. The Eclipse was literally crowded, as was also the City of Toronto on her trip from Kingston.)

CONVALESCENT.

The following is an abstract of the return of convalescents, made by the resident Medical officer, of the Toronto Emigrant Hospital on the 4th inst., who are about to be removed to the Convalescent Hospital, now formed, in the house of the Hon. J. H. Dunn, near the Garrison Fort.

GROSSE ISLE.—The latest accounts from Grosse Isle are of a most harrowing character, and forebode gloomily. We have received late information from the Quarantine station, which states the late arrivals to present an equal condition of squalor, misery, mortality and disease, to that which existed on board the Virginius, &c. The barque Lady Campbell, from Dublin, had lost thirteen, and had fifty sick on her arrival. The barque Naomi, from Liverpool, with 334 passengers, lost 78, and had upwards of 100 sick on her arrival at Grosse Isle.—The master of the Virginius was dying or dead when the steamer left the island last evening, and there remained but three hands of the ship's company fit for duty. The mate is dead, and the balance are said to be ghastly, yellow looking spectres, of whom not more than 6 or 8 are able to exert themselves: they are all long-bearded and hollow-cheeked. The Yorkshire, from Dublin and Sir Henry Pottinger, from Cork, are pretty much in the same state.

As regards Grosse Isle, to begin with, our prospect is a sad one. If these passengers are landed, under the description of healthy,—having undergone, all the previous exposure to the miasma of crowded vessels, thronged with disease, and reeking with filth, and immediately receive a nourishing diet, and with it are subjected to the atmospheric changes to which a residence in tents will expose them (at this changing season of the year) how many we ask are likely to reach the termination of their voyage? The number of sick at Grosse Isle is receiving a daily augmentation: not only from the fresh cases landed from newly arrived vessels, but from the quasi healthy undergoing quarantine, on shore, who (from the causes above stated) gradually add to the roster of the hospital. The cold season is at hand. The sheds and tents are becoming objectionable and fatal.—They cannot be made comfortable, they cannot be heated. The only Hospital in Quebec is full, or more than full. What is to be done? Six weeks hence what will be done with the thousands of sick at Grosse Isle? In Quebec nothing has been done towards providing for our citizens. We have heard today of the death of one poor soul in a hangard, who died there, having been turned out of the house in which he took sick, because he could not be received into the Marine Hospital! We have other cases of a similar nature before us. Both the Government and the city of Quebec must move. Quebec must be the depot of the invalids, for they cannot be kept at Grosse Isle in winter.—Quebec Mercury, 31st July.

We have much pleasure in stating that, the members of the bar of Upper Canada, appreciating highly the urbanity and attention of J. Radenhurst, Esq., Deputy Clerk of the Crown, have presented him with an elegant silver snuff box, as a mark of their esteem, and the sense they entertain of the efficient discharge of the duties of his office. The gift was conveyed to Mr. Radenhurst, by the hon. Mr. Solicitor General Cameron.—Colonist.

FARMERS' AND MECHANICS' BUILDING SOCIETY OF TORONTO.—The first loan meeting of this Society was held on Wednesday evening last. The president of the Society, Mr. Sheriff Jarvis, occupied the chair. Three shares of £100 each were put up to competiton, in the ordinary way; and the bidding was spirited. The average premium realized was 37⅞ per cent., viz., 37½, 37¾, and 38¼ for each hundred respectively. The whole funds disposed of were £300. This new Society promises well at the outset; and with energetic management, must advance with equal rapidity with the older society of this city.—Ibid.

NEW COLONIAL CHURCH MAGAZINE.

On the First of July was Published,
THE
Colonial Church Chronicle,
AND
MONTHLY MISSIONARY JOURNAL.

UNDER this title it is proposed to publish a Monthly Periodical, averaging forty 8vo. pages, stitched in a neat wrapper, at 6d. per number, or 7d. stamped.

I. Its principal object will be, to furnish authentic accounts of the State and Progress of the Church of England in the Colonies and Dependencies of the British Empire and in other Foreign Parts. Under this head it is intended to give—

1. Monthly summaries of the intelligence received from the Colonial Dioceses, and from the Missions and Foreign Stations of the Church of England; with occasional extracts from Colonial Episcopal Charges and Reports of Missionaries.

2. Notices of Colleges and Schools designed to advance the Colonial and Missionary progress of the Church of England.

3. Historical Sketches and Statistical Data concerning the rise and growth of the Church in the Colonies, and other foreign settlements.

In addition to the above, the Colonial Church Chronicle will contain accounts of Home Proceedings, connected with the progress of the Missionary operations of the Church, and such other home intelligence as bears upon Colonial and Foreign Church extension, or such matters, especially Ecclesiastical, as may be interesting to the Clergy and Laity abroad.

II. It is intended to give short periodical summaries of the proceedings of the Church in America, especially in reference to its extension in that country, and its Missionary labours in other parts of the world.

III. Under the head of General Religious Intelligence, a Record will be found of the most important events affecting the state of Christianity both at home and abroad.

IV. Original Papers will be given, and Reviews of Books and other publications, falling within the range of the subjects embraced by the Colonial Church Chronicle.

V. The pages of the Colonial Church Chronicle will be open to Correspondence on topics connected with its various designs above described.

VI. Advertisements of a suitable description for the Colonial Church Chronicle will be received.

Books intended for Review, and any Communications should be forwarded to the Editor.

The publication will be conducted in strict conformity with the principles of the Church of England, as set forth in her authorized formularies. Its character and style will be such as to adapt it for general perusal, with the view of diffusing intelligence concerning the Missionary labours of the Church, and of awakening a lively interest in their success among all classes of society.

London: Francis & John Rivington, St. Paul's Churchyard, and Waterloo Place. J. H. Parker, Oxford; and J. J. Deighton, Cambridge.

☞ Persons desirous to become Subscribers, may receive the Stamped Copy for Twelve Months by paying 8s. 9d. Cy., to the Agent for the Diocese of Toronto, MR. CHAMPION, Church Society's House, Toronto.

MISS MACNALLY

BEGS to announce, that in connection with her Sisters, by whom she is assisted, she will open a SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES, on the 16th of August, 1847.

MISS M'N. has had many years' experience as a finishing Teacher, and begs to state, in reference to her qualifications, that she has obtained introductory letters from the Rev. Dr. SINGER, Senior Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin; the Rev. ROBERT JAMES MCGHEE, Rector of Holywell and Nudingworth, Huntingdonshire; Sir PHILIP CRAMPTON, Bart., and several eminent persons of Learning and distinction, whose daughters she has educated, bearing testimony to her capability as an instructress, and to her zealous attention to the advancement of her pupils.

The plan of education which MISS M'N. pursues, is based upon the most approved modern European system, and the Young Ladies entrusted to her care will enjoy the advantage of being at all times under her immediate superintendence, or that of her S
