THE POSTAL EXPRESS

Important Announcement Made in Parliament

LAST WEEK

Premier in Favor of Telegraph Companies under Gov't Control

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—The settlement of the Lethbridge coal strike and the proposed postal express legislation were two important statements made by the postmaster general in the house Thursday.

The member for South Toronto (MacDonald) introduced a bill for compulsory voting and providing for sufficient time for employees to vote. It was read a first time

Mr Lemieux said that the proposed postal express legislation consisted of an arrangement for the transmission and delivery of postal parcels c. o d.

It is contemplated that the post office should be the means by which parcels should be despatched and collections of any charges thereon made by the department on some definite scale. The details have not been perfected, but are now the subject of consideration. Parliament will be more fully informed when the project has been completed.

Hon Rodolphe Lemieux replying to Mr Smith (Nanamino) said that the Lethbridge strike was settled on the following basis. An increase of wages of about 10 per cent, to most of the employees, the appointment of a check weighman. That was to be the only reduction from the pay roll except in respect to doctor's fees, coal, power oil and other supplies furnished by the company and if the men desire it for a sick benefit fund and library All employees, whether the members of an organization, must be on an equality. The men involved in the strike will have the preference of employment over strangers, if they apply within reasonable time. Disputes in future so to prevent strikes strikes, may be referred to the superintendent of the mine and if necessary to the general manager and two of the company employees can appear on behalf of the party seeking redress and failing an adjustment the matter is to be referred to arbitration both parties agreeing to abide by the award of the arbitrators The strikers withdrew their demand for a complete recognition of the union, for the deduction of union dues by the company, for an eight hour day and other less important concessions. The intervention of the department was requested by Hon Walter Scott and MacKenzie King conducted the negotiations for settlement.

P. E. I. WINTER SERVICE

Sir Wilfred Laurier said that 1,000 rifles had been given to the mounted police. Some defects were discovered These defects are being put right at the expense of the company. In the meantime the police are using their old Winchesters and Lee-Enfields.

In answer to Dr Black, Sir Wilfred said that the lease to the Dominion Atlantic of the Windsor branch expired 1914. When the time arrived its renewal would be a matter for serious consideration

Sir Wilfred Laurier said that arrangements were being made for perfecting the train arrangements and connections with incoming steamers at Rimouski next summer to prevent delays to the mails.

Mr MacLean (South York) moved the second reading of his bill for two cent passenger fares and bringing sleeping car companies and telegraph companies under the railway commission. Several speakers voiced their opinions on the bill, Mr Lancaster pointing out the difficulties that prevented the adoption of a uniform two cent rate all over the country.

Sir Wilfred Laurier said that there were many things in the speech of Mr McLean with which he agreed and there were also some heresies. It was in the best interests of the public that the bill should be read a second time and afterwards referred to the committee on railways and canals.

UNIFORM RAILWAY RATE NOT FEASIBLE

The premier did not see any great objection to the placing of sleeping car companies and telegraph companies under the railway commission. As to fixing a rate of two cents a mile on railways Sir Wilfrid agreed with Mr Lancaster as to the difficulties of fixing a uniform rate. Some districts would require a higher rate than others. The railway commission was appointed to deal with all such cases and with charges of discrimination which had been referred to by Mr MacLean.

As to telephone companies, in regard to compulsory connection the premier said that the matter had been discussed last year very fully. He suggested that the bill should be read a second time

Mr Borden thought the whole question was one for the railway commission. He agreed to the second reading and the sending of the bill to a committee

When the house met at eight o'clock to deal with Mr MacLean,s ticket scalping bill he was not in his seat and the house adjourned.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eastachian Tube When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (cause by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

INDIAN HAD MANY WIVES.

In Charlottetown this week Commissioner McEwen was engaged in looking into a peculiar case in which the leading figure was James Nolan, alias Strong alias McAdam a half breed hailing from Nova Scotia Nolan reached Prince Edward Island about 1870, and there married Phoebe McAdam In 1882 a Bathurst Indian woman appeared at Nolan's home, and for some reason, not waiting an interview with her, Nolan took his departure, going to Stirling and changing his name to Strong. At St Peter's, C. B., he married again, and in due time deserted his second wife. At Sydney he entered the liquor business and married a third time. In 1903 he died, leaving an estate worth $20,000. In his will he recognized the children of all three marriages. It is over the will that the trouble has arisen It is claimed that Nolan was four times married. Another complication in the case is caused by the fact that Phoebe McAdam was herself married after being deserted by Nolan

The next commission for taking evidence in the case will meet at Bathurst, N. B,
