AROUND THE WORLD.

.....A paper watch has been exhibited by a Dresden watchmaker. The paper is prepared in such a manner as to render the watch as serviceable as those in general use

....John Miller bought a planing mill at Dunkirk, Ohio, a month ago. He lost a finger the first week, two fingers the second and a whole hand the third. The mill is now for sale.

....M Rouzeaud, Nilsson's husband, died intestate, and part of Mme. Nilsson's fortune, being deposited in the bank under his name, according to French law will be divided, although she is the legitimate proprietor, between his family and herself.

.....At the instance of Count Mastai, nephew of Pius IX., the correctional tribunal at Montpellier in France has condemned M. Leon Taxil, author of a novel describing the alleged amours of the pope, in 10,000 francs damages, and the publication of the judgment in sixty papers.

....In order "to exclude atheists from taking a part in legislation for this country," Lord Redesdale proposes a new test in his bill introduced in the house of lords. The new formula which he has embodied is as follows: "I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm that I believe in an Almighty God."

.....A Philadelphia mother killed her infant by a careless overdose of medicine. She says that the physician whom she called in frightened her by stating the possible punishment for what she had done, and offered to give a certificate of natural death for $30. He denies the charge and a jury is to be puzzled by the case.

.....It is said that one of those distressed Irish ladies who had received no rent for two years, and who was living in Kingston in the deepest poverty, was visited one day by one of her farmers' wives, who called on her professedly to bring a basket of eggs. Great was the surprise of the distressed proprietor on opening one of the eggs laid at the bottom of the basket to find that it contained a roll of bank notes.

....In the Oxford Undergraduates' Journal appears a poem upon a student named Morris Jones, who was drowned the other day, the tone of which may be estimated by the following verse:

Say, was he ready, this Morris Jones?
Was he man whom men called "Pi?"
Was he a man who his Saviour owns,
Who teaches us cowards the way to die?
What were his last moments, then,
"Muse on it, think of it," Varsity men.

.....In the Berlin Militar Wochenblatt some curious statistics are given of the sanitary condition of the German army as compared with the French. Of every thousand men under colors, Germany has a daily average of eleven invalids, while France has twenty-five. The death rate in the French army is about double that in the German, being scarcely five per thousand in the latter, while in the French it exceeds nine. The report has called up the question whether hygiene is not more important in battles than needle guns.

.....M. Rene de Pontjest, a well-known Paris journalist, deriving a large income from his profession, was some months since convicted of stealing a watch chain worth 20f. from a poor fishwife at Luc, and sentenced to three months' imprisonment. The appeal court of Caen has now honorably acquitted him. It is proved that he picked up with the hook of his cane the chain in question from the mud outside a wine shop, took it to a carriage in which he was making an excursion with some ladies, and was about to deposit the treasure trove at the mayoralty when the owner ran after the carriage and accused him of theft. M. de Pontjest, besides being branded as a thief, was fined for wearing decorations to which he was not entitled. The appeal court acquits him on this charge also.

.....Two brothers of Mr. Chamberlain, the distinguished president of the board of trade, and a member of the British ministry, were blackballed at the Reform club in London the other day. It is understood that this result was due to an organized opposition directed by the whigs, not specially against the gentlemen mentioned, but against the advanced section of the liberal party. The animus is the more marked as the candidates were nominated by Mr. Bright and Mr. Chamberlain, and were supported by prominent liberals. Some action will be taken to bring the matter before the club committee, and probably before the members generally, it being felt that such proceedings occurring in connection with a profoundly liberal club are calculated to destroy the union which is essential to the efficient working of the liberal party.

....A large subscription has been recently raised in England for the restoration of the Temple of Solomon in Jerusalem. A kind of companion one has been commenced with great success by a colonel of dragoons for the excavation of the ark of the convenant, at a place called Lirra in Ireland, "as soon as the state of Ireland will permit." The prospectus says that when Cyrus took the city, the Prophet Jeremiah escaped from his residence, about three miles above Jerusalem, with the ark and accompanied by two young princesses, to a vessel bound for Tyre. But the vessel, through adverse storms, drifted to the Irish coast. Here at Lirra one of the princesses died and was buried, and the ark was also buried for safety. According to the bible, to touch the ark is death, so it is to be hoped the colonel will take the first chance and not impose it on some poor Irish navvy.

.....The results of the first counting of the returns of the census of France taken on December 18 show that the population has only increased by 389,670 since 1876, the present population amounting to 35,597,000 souls. There is a strong tendency throughout the country to immigrate into the towns and industrial quarters, a symptom which experience has not shown to be favorable to an increase of population. The population of the Department of the Seine, which ranks first on the list, has increased by 337,000 inhabitants. It contains now a population of 2,747,000. The Department of the Nord, with Lille as its capital, has augmented its population by 74,700; that of the Rhone, containing Lyons, by 28,400; that of Bouches du Rhone, with Marseilles, by 28,300; Aude by 20,900; Pas de Calais by 19,300; Seine et Oise by 18,400, &c. The population of agricultural departments has diminished. All the Norman departments especially, except Seine Inferieure, with Havre and Rouen as its chief towns, show a decrease.

AMONG THE MOST SCIENTIFIC MEN.

In France and England it is no More Doubted that Dr. M. Souvielle's

Spirometer is a sure cure for catarrah, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, weak lungs, and even consumption, when not in the last stages. Last year over one thousand letters of thanks from all parts of Europe, Canada and America, have been received for the wonderful cures performed by the spirometer, not only by private individuals, but by many scientific institutions.

The spirometer, with the antiseptic inhalation medicines absorbed through the pores of the skin, proper constitutional treatmetnt and hygiene, as prescribed by the doctor himself, and competent English and French physicians who are in charge of his different offices and assisting him in his great practice, which extends all over Canada and the United States, will cure asthma, bronchitis, catarrah, and all throat and lung diseases, many of which have heretofore been pronounced incurable. We make the above diseases a special study; we treat tham on common sense principles, which are backed up by the best medical authority of Europe and America, men who don't attempt to treat all diseases, but who make these diseases a specialty, as we do. We don't profess to cure everything, but we defy contradiction when we assert that we can cure 75 per cent of all the above diseases which we treat. We find cases that have gone by the possibility of cure; to them we say frankly "It is too late." We don't want their money without giving them value for it, and we don't covet the reputation gained by taking such cases to treat. If you become afflicted with any of the above diseases there is no time to lose with men who don't make these diseases a special duty.

Attend to it at once, ere the time passes when the best directed skill cannot save you. One month's treatment at the beginning is worth six months' when you have allowed the disease to get thoroughly seated. Don't take our treatment after you have tried everything else and blame it if a small percentage are not cured. Give us these cases in their commencement, and we will cure every one of them. We invite physicians and sufferers to come and try the Spirometer and investigate our principles of treatment free. Consultations free. Satisfactory references given. Come, or write, enclosing stamp, for pamphlet giving full particulars and terms, to Dr. M. Souvielle, 13 Phillips square, Montreal; or 75 Yonge street, Toronto.

Below we give the names and addresses of a few of the many hundreds who have benefited and cured by our Spirometer and treatment. These are not Mr. A. B., Mrs. T. W., J. L., Cedar street, &c., who can not be found, but

Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Department, Ottawa—Nasal Catarrh—says:—"By the use of your Spirometer and medicines I have been completely cured."

George Agar, New Edinburgh, says:—"I have been treated by over 50 leading physicians of the country without benefit, and am happy to say that Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and medicines have completely cured me of bronchial catarrh and lung disease. I believe that every well-meaning man and woman will say as I do."

Ben. Brillinger, Concord, Ont., bronchitis and asthma.

Thos. Biddlecomb, 46 Clyde street, Toronto, catarrh and ulcerated nose.

Geo. Macguire, 482 Adelaide street west, —asthma—says: "I never had anything so satisfactory in my life, the results of Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer and treatment for my daughter, who must have died but for it, after having tried the best medical skill I could find. When I began on December 5, 1881, she was a weak, emaciated sufferer, she is now fat, healthy and well."

George Willis, Exeter, Ont., says—catarrh and bronchitis: "In Dec. 1881, I began the use of the Spirometer and medicines prescribed by Dr. M. Souvielle. I was weak, unable to leave the house without catching cold, could not attend to business, and was failing every day, although I had been treated by the best doctors I could find, and by one a specialist, for six months previous. I have gained ever since I began, can go out and attend to business without catching cold, weigh 15 pounds more than when I began. I believe this treatment will permanently and soundly cure me." Also a few more parties in Montreal and Ottawa. Mr. R. Gault of Gault Bros., Montreal, can give you satisfactory information about the Spirometer

C. Hill, Phillips' square, Montreal—catarrah and Bronchitis — Mrs. Benoit, Montreal — asthma and bronchitis—now perfectly cured. Hundreds of similar testimonials could be given, but we believe that the intelligent public understand perfectly that there is no cure but by Dr. Souvielle's Spirometer. Write to or call at either of the offices. Head office, 13 Phillips' square, Montreal; and branch office, 75 Yonge street, Toronto. French and English physicians in charge with Dr. Souvielle. All letters must contain stamp for reply.—Adv'.
