IN REAL ESTATE CIRCLES

Tuesday, Apr. 9.

Messrs. Allison & Thomas added another property to their list by putting through a purchase for a Montreal man yesterday, and announcement of several more important deals is expected shortly. Two Ontario men arrived yesterday to look into the situation here and at once became interested.

The outlook is for a very lively week in real estate with an increasing number of outside men arriving every day.

There was a very definite rumor around the streets yesterday morning regarding a transaction involving the transfer of large area of land at Coldbrook, at a price of nearly half a million dollars, to a Montreal company which represents important railway interests.

The gentlemen who are represented as being the sellers denied that there was any foundation for the story.

The statement that the chief difficulty in the way of carrying out their proposed work here is the lack of labor, which was made on Saturday by the vice-president of the C. P. R. reveals a situation which may be regarded as satisfactory from the standpoint of the city, if not from that of those who are planning big construction contracts. It indicates that nearly all of the local people are profitably employed, and that the city must be fairly prosperous. It also shows that any large undertakings to be carried on here will require the influx of additional workers and a resulting increase in the population. This will stimulate the extension of the city and will mean more trade for the merchants, and this is only a beginning.

To help solve the problem of providing labor for the contractors it has been proposed that a labor bureau be established by the board of trade. When labor is needed this body could issue circulars, advertise in the newspapers of other cities and in other ways assist in attracting men to the city. On the other hand if there was ever any danger of an over supply of any particular class of labor they could take similar steps to prevent the arrival of more.

The bureau would form a sort of clearing house for labor through which applicants for work and applications for workers could be brought together.

Wednesday, Apr. 10.

Fine weather aids the real esate men and the operators who were not electioneering spent a busy day yesterday. Acreage proportions are receiving much attention just now and outside investors are looking for good opportunities for subdivision. There is increased activity regarding town property also.

There have been rumors for several years about one or another of the big department stores of Upper Canada planning an invasion of the city. The story comes up again, this time with the assurance of a well known citizen that the plans for the new business are completed and that the company is ready to commence operations as soon as they consider the time auspicious.

It is known that a real estate firm, hearing of the proposition, made an attempt to sell them a site, but were met with the answer that their site was already purchased.

The following property transfers have been recorded:

Edward Hogan to Annie I. Keirstead, property in Cliff street.

Thomas H. Johnston to J. W. V. Lawlor, property corner Ludlow and St. John streets, Carleton.

J. W. V. Lawlor to Mrs. C. W. Goodwin, property corner Ludlow and St. John streets, Carleton.

The assignment of the following leasehold properties has been recorded:

J. T. S. Akerley to J. H. McKinney, property in Adelaide street.

W. J. Caples to A. J. Armstrong, property in Marsh road.

Thursday, Apr. 11.

A run on the labor supply may be expected as the first development in the forward movement before another two weeks have passed. The engineers are now on the ground, ready to employ men at Courtenay Bay. Messrs. Charleson and Connolly, contractors for the new West Side wharf, are here awaiting the breaking up of the ice so that they can get their hardwood lumber down the river, a crew of men will start work in a few days on the armory several contracts for private buildings have been let, and real estate operators purpose developing their properties by the building of roads and the staking out of lots.

The increased demand for labor meane more men in the city, and a greater demand for houses. All this will have its effect on the real estate situation and greatly facilitate the sale of building lots in the suburbs.

A business change of interest will be the closing out of their cash grocery in Peters street by Colwell Brothers, who have been appointed representatives in the maritime provinces for an American concern manufacturing a splendid line of household specialties. The young men will cover Nova Scotia first, with Halifax as their headquarters, and later return to St. John to introduce the goods here and in New Brunswick.

E. Temple, foreman of the Aberstraw Construction Company, which has the contract of building the Simms new factory at Lancaster, is in the city and is making preparations to commence work immediately. Sand and gravel is being hauled to the site of the new building. Men will also be put to work in a few days erecting temporary sheds for the use of the workmen.

MORE PARTICULARS ABOUT THE KILLING OF HANFORD COLLIER

Salisbury, N. B., April 8—Hanford Collier arrived home from Elgin this afternoon. His father, Joseph Collier, who was fatally injured by the Elgin & Havelock train on Saturday died at 11 o'clock Sunday night. It appear that the late Mr. Collier was walking along the railway track on Saturday and stepped aside when he heard the train approaching but as the train was passing he stumbled and fell under the car. He will be buried on Tuesday afternoon at the Kay Settlement cemetery, The Glades.

Mr. Collier who was eighty years of age leaves a wife and grown up family. His sons are prominent farmers settled in Westmorland and Albert counties. He made his home with his son-in-law, Ralph Power, near Salisbury, to whom he sold his large farm some years ago. In religion the late Mr. Collier was a Baptist and in politics a Liberal.

Light Draft Deering Drills Sow Seed Evenly at the Right Depth

PLANT wheat, rye, flax seed or any other small grain with the Deering Drill. Ten minutes after you are through with the small grain you can change to plant corn, peas, beans or other large seeds, with the same Deering. The Double Run Force Feed makes this possible—one run with large opening and one with a smaller opening. There are other Deering features. For example, the disk bearings on Deering Drills are practically dust proof. The oil comes in contact with the inner edge of the bearing surface first, oiling from the inside toward the outside. Instead of allowing dust or dirt to work in, the outward path of the oil and constant supply tend to force out any grit or dirt which may have worked into the bearing. Scrapers are easily moved away from disks when not needed, saving wear and draft.

Deering Drills are made with 11 or 13 disks. On the 13-disk drills, the feed is divided into two parts so only one side need be used at the end of the field, saving seed. On special order, a short broadcasting tube is furnished. The complete Deering tillage line, including disk, spring tooth and peg tooth harrows, cultivators, scufflers, seeders and land rollers, merits your attention. See the Deering agent in your town, or, write to the nearest branch house below for any special information you desire.
