PLANS ARE MADE TO RELIEVE CONGESTION AT SEPARATE SCHOOLS

Two Rooms To Be Added To St. Martin's—Sacred Heart School For Boys.

While congested conditions in the public schools have been giving the board of education something to worry about, the same problem has also been confronting the separate school board.

As a partial remedy for the situation the school at Sacred Heart Convent will be used exclusively for boys after the opening of the fall term next September. It has been used for some years as a co-educational separate school. The new plan, it is thought, will relieve conditions in some of the other schools.

Tenders Called.

Tenders have been called for building two additional rooms to St. Martin's School, which would make this a four-roomed building. It is doubtful, however, whether the work will be taken up this year, owing to the abnormal price of building materials.

In its estimates, the separate school board provided $2,000 for school improvements an alterations and another $2,000 for interest on the proposed loan for a new building. Four thousand dollars is provided for domestic science and manual training equipment.

The trustees estimated that the school rate this year would yield about $38,000. It will actually yield only about $34,000. This will mean that some of the plans will be curtailed.

SPRING WITH US AGAIN

Spring is undoubtedly here. The Poet Bill walked into the editorial sanctum today with a new light in his eyes and with more than the usual "Spring" in his step.

"How about a little spring 'pome,' Bill?" we asked.

"Surest thing you know," came back the poet. "I'd oblige you fellows any time. I've got five minutes to spare, and you shall have your poem."

Bill was better than his word, for it took him but three minutes by the office clock to compose the following choice bit of verse under the title

SPRING WITH US AGAIN.

Here once again the birdies sing,
Also see them flitting on their wing;
Sometimes flying from tree to tree,
Singing and chirping merrily.
'Tis spring.

Soon the little lads on the street
Will be seen all dressed up neat
With the latest fashions to behold,
And not muffled up as if they were cold.

The lassies also will soon wear
Different hats to adorn their hair.
They will pack away their stole and muff,
Now begin to wear some lighter stuff.

The spring freshets have now began,
And run here and anon across the land,
In spite of the damage that has been done,
All will be forgotten when dried by the sun.

The little fishes in the brook
Will soon be in the danger of the hook,
For the angler now looks o'er his rod,
And with a sigh gives thanks to God,
'Tis spring.

Soon the lambs will begin to play,
Shortly after they see the light of day,
And the farmer also on the farm
Will carry the milk pail on his arm.
'Tis spring.

And the leaves will adorn the trees,
Which will to all lovers please,
When they walk down a shady lane,
And one will decide to change her name,
'Tis spring.

We know that some will not be here,
To whom we still hold memory dear.
But like the birds, let us quietly sing,
The sunshine days, as it is spring.
—BILL.

LONDON KIDDIES HAD GOOD TIME AT MAJESTIC

The special show for children put on at the Majestic Theatre on Saturday morning drew a crowd of fifteen hundred youngsters, who varied in age from three to thirteen ,and represented every corner of the city and suburbs.

Prizes were given for the boy and girl who got the lucky seats and also for the boy and girl who came the farthest to see the show. Some of the children claimed St. Marys as their home, and one little girl even came from Rochester. The contest, however, had to be confined to the local school children. The prize for the long-distance journey went to a boy at Springbank and a girl from East London.

The management stated that the children made the most attentive audience that has been in the theatre for some time. The pictures which included a Ditmar monkey film, and the Humpty-Dumpty circus were greatly enjoyed. Shows of this nature will be put on in the future at 5 o'clock in the evening.

SOX MADE GOOD TRADE.

Dallas, Texas, March 22.—The Boston Red Sox do not need to worry about losing Babe Ruth. Hooper's share in their 4-to-3 victory over the New York Giants was not small. It was Hooper's fielding, throwing and hitting that turned the trick. In the box score he stands credited with a home run and a two-base hit, one put out and three assists.

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD LAD CAPTURES FIRST FISH OF SEASON FROM THAMES

Patrick Taff Stuns Two-Foot Pike With Fiece of Ice, Then Grabs Finny Monster With Both Hands, Which Are Severely Bitten.

A monster pike, two feet long, was the trophy of a bare-handed capture made by young Patrick Taff, 14-year-old son of Mr. P. T. Taff of Hunt's city mills, while the energetic boy was playing on an ice floe in the Thames at the foot of Talbot street Friday evening. The boy brought the big fish to The Advertiser office as visible demonstration that this was not the usual type of spring yarn about monstrous fish, and he also bore on his wrists the marks of severe bites of the pike, which strenuously objected to being torn from the happy swimming grounds of the turbulent Thames.

Hit Him Hard.

The pike was playfully disporting itself when young Taff espied him and reaching for a small sharp-edged piece of ice hurled it accurately at the piscatorial monster. Stunned for a moment by the boy's unerring aim, the sturdy fins of the fish ceased to quiver for a moment, within arm's reach of the boy, who leaned over and grabbed the pike in his hands. The shock of removal from the water revived Mr. Pike, and he straightway put up a determined but futile fight for his life, biting and snapping fiercely. Placed on a scale, the fish was found to weigh six and a half pounds.

MAN ACCUSED BY "SPOTTERS" OF BOOTLEGGING WILL SUE THE GOVERNMENT FOR $10,000

Fred Bissel, Who Came From Cleveland To Face Charge and Establish His Innocence, Wants Damages and Expenses Paid.

Fred Bissel, who was arrested and acquitted last week on a charge of bootlegging last December, will enter a suit for $10,000 damages and expenses against the Canadian Government.

The evidence, which was given by Government Agents Cutts and Henry was sufficient to have a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Mr. Bissel, who returned from Cleveland immediately on learning that the local police wanted him. He was successful in proving that he was in the United States at the time the charges were made.

Mr. Bissel will go to Toronto today for the purpose of taking up the matter with the American consul in that city.

VAGRANTS PLEAD IN VAIN FOR FREEDOM

One Goes To Jail For Three Weeks—Other Is Remanded.

For fifteen minutes in police court this morning John Brown and James Pierce, who were charged with vagrancy, pleaded for freedom. After their appeal had been concluded the former was fined $25 with the option of a 21-day term in the county jail, and the latter was remanded for a few days.

G. T. R. Constable Robert Logan found the two men in a passenger coach early this morning. He said that they were dirtying the cars, which had been cleaned.

"In two hours more, your worship, it would have been daylight and we would have been gone," said Pierce.

"Now, what am I to do with you?" asked Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon. "You have no visible means of employment."

"Your worship, if you will only give me a chance, I will either go to work or I will leave town. I have had a bad ankle or I would have been working before now," claimed Brown.

"What do you say, chief?" Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams was asked by the court.

"Give me a chance, chief! Give me a chance, chief!" repeated Brown imploringly. "If you let me go this morning I won't be back here for two years."

Poerce was expecting $240 from the Government.

He was hoping to get it at the office of the Soldiers' Aid Commission today. The police inquired about this, and it was learned that the secretary was out of town. Meanwhile Pierce is in jail.

SCENIC SPECTACLE

Hundreds Watch Ice at Point Edward Break Up.

Travelers from Sarnia and Port Huron today stated that the break-up in Lake Huron yesterday afforded one of the finest scenic spectacles for some years. Hundreds thronged the lake shore at Point Edward yesterday to get a near view of a great mountain of ice piled up in the lake near the entrance to the St. Clair River.

Great quantities of ice floes gigantic icebergs and accumulated masses suggesting small mountains are being carried through the St. Clair, but the ferries are running without too much difficulty or danger, and are doing a rushing business as a result of the lifting of the vaccination order at Port Huron.

DAUGHTERS OF CANADA

Rumors That a Branch Will Shortly Be Established in London.

Promotion of a London branch of the new ultra-Canadian Women's Organization, the Daughters of Canada, appears to be progressing in a strictly quiet way. Rumors that a branch was to be established here shortly were confirmed by prominent London clubwomen, but none could state who was promoting the new organization.

In Toronto, the new organization is gaining steady headway, despite considerable appearance of friction with other women's organizations inclined to stronger imperialistic sentiments. Considerable publicity has resulted as a result of the rivalry between the two opposing factions there.

Several London women expressed themselves as being ready to join the new organization, and declared that they themselves were anxious to know who the local organizers were.

"COMMERCIAL SIGNS" OF SECOND COMING INDICATE IMMINENCE

Rev. G. W. Dewey Says Signs Present Today As Foretold by Scriptures.

"Commercial Signs," or the economic conditions indicating that the return of Christ to the earth is near at hand, was the subject of the evening sermon of Rev. G. W. Dewey in Empress Avenue Methodist Church last evening. Taking as the text of his sermon the passage comprising the fifth chapter of James from the first to the eighth verses, Rev. Mr. Dewey pointed to the "heaping of treasures," the amassing of great wealth by a few men today, while a great many are poor and suffering, as one of the signs prophesied as preceding the return of Christ.

That in preaching the doctrine of premillenialism, he was taking a view of scriptural interpretation only held by one or two other ministers in London, was a comment made by Mr. Dewey to The Advertiser. On succeeding Sunday evenings, Mr. Dewey will speak of the domestic and the theological signs of Christ's coming back to earth in person to bring the world under his righteous and peaceful domination. Mr. Dewey did not intimate by any reference to dates how close the second coming of Christ might be. The trend of his sermon was to point out that the signs of Christ's return to earth are present in the world today, as it was foretold in the Scriptures they would be.

MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH HAS BUSY DAY IN WEEKLY COURT

Oxford Registrar Ordered To Produce Original Will.

In a suit brought by F. L. Spettigue against W. L. Spettigue, the defendant, through counsel, applied to Chief Justice R. M. Meredith in Saturday's weekly high court, for an order that questions should be determined by court befor any reference was made. A motion was made for reference to the matter for the taking over of accounts. If the parties consent they may either go to trial here or may agree on a reference. Otherwise the matter will stand over one week.

An order was made to the registrar of the surrogate court at Woodstock to produce an original will and papers filed in his office for use in the trial of a suit by Bartlett versus Thompson.

The first case on the list to be tried this week in the assize court is Dauncey versus Hodgins. An application was made on Saturday to have the trial postponed on account of illness of a witness. An order was made as asked. F. E. Ferrin appeared for the defendant, and T. G. Meredith for the plaintiff.

Concerning the H. J. Bartlett estate, F. C. Greenlees obtained an order under the settled estates act for liberty to mortgage lands in which an infant is interested for the purpose of making improvements to the estate. T. Coleridge, acting for the official guardian, did not protest.

In Rosenblum versus Rosenblum, R. G. Ivey, appearing for the vendor, obtained an order confirming the report of the local master at London that the vendor could show clear title to certain lands in London.

In the case of Schario versus Jackson, concerning property in St. Thomas, the matter was adjourned for one week. An interim injunction to prevent disposal of the property until action is taken will continue.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THAT BRIDGE AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Dear Mr. Editor,—Would you be so kind as again to permit me to say a few words further in reference to the Ridout street bridge. I might say I have been asked by many taxpayers of London if I ever had any experience in bridge building. In reply to those taxpayers, I beg to say that for nearly 20 years I represented a ward in Manitoba. This ward was 15x16 miles, or about the size of London Township, and did build no less than ten bridges at my time of office, so I should know something about bridge building. Now, would Mr. Brazier give the taxpayers of London his experience in bridge building? Did he ever build a bridge in his life? If so, where? I have offered to show Mr. Brazier how to fix this Ridout bridge. I can fix the turn buckles on this bridge for less than $1,000, and then it will be as good as new. But Mr. Brazier has made up his mind to scrap this bridge. But the bridge is not scrapped yet. Not only does Mr. Brazier want $145,000 to play at bridge building, but the taxpayers would have to pay about $9,000 per year interest on this borrowed money. And yet this bridge can be made to do duty for a hundred years yet. Mr. Brazier has a notice up on this bridge to the effect that this bridge is only capable to take a load of 4 tons, and only last week Ald. Brighton had 105 sacks of flour taken over this bridge in a five-ton truck. Now I will give Mr. Brazier a chance to make a little easy money if he sees fit, and that is I will put up $1,000 against Mr. Brazier's $1,000 that I will make twenty trips over that bridge with 200 sacks of flour on the truck. My offer to do the trick without fixing the bridge other than at present, and after the turn buckles are tightened up I will then take a load of 20 tons over the bridge.

JOSEPH LAWRENCE.

APPROVES THE PROTEST.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Although the Trades and Labor Council's actions have not at all times appealed to my judgment, I was glad to read in the press that they are taking action to sustain the voice and vote of the people.

To those who had the trouble of voting on the multiplicity of questions submitted to us last New Year's Day, the actions of the various authorities in ignoring the results of that voting appears nothing more nor less than an impertinent flouting of public opinion.

Why boast of democratic government if the emphatic wash of the people is to be overridden?

Bureaucracy can do not more than our council has done. I voted for the Ridout street bridge. The bylaw was defeated, but debentures are to be issued for this. What was the use of the majority vote? Why insult the people by asking their opinion?

I voted against the fair grounds extension. That scheme is going on, although defeated at the polls. Is the council to be allowed to override and overrule the express mandate of the people?

In appealing for a change of date for the municipal elections, can there not be the system of recall for aldermen introduced?

Are we to be at the mercy of these men, with no redress, for a whole year? Have we to allow them full and unresponsible attitude in municipal matters?

Further, our leading men have been urging economy on the people. The school authorities are applying for about a quarter of a million to be expended largely on building. The private individual, owing to present excessive high prics, cannot afford to build, believing that the next year or so will see a reduction in building costs; but not so with these individuals, who are spending others folks' money. Their policy is: "Go ahead; spend, spend, spend. Let the people pay. What do we care. To h—— will the public."

Our tax bill will be 20 per cent higher this year than last, and we have the poor satisfaction that it will be worse next year, unless some drastic measures are taken to stop this orgy of spending.

Our member, Mr. Stevenson, is pledged to the recall. Let the Trades and Labor Council bring pressure upon him to oppose the objectionable items in the city of London bill.

Let us have public meetings to demand that the voice of the electorate be respected; and insisted on the aldermen explaining their conduct in flouting the expressed wishes of the people through the electorate.

WALTER H. BIGGS.

PRESENT AN INOPPORTUNE TIME TO BUILD SEMINARY

At the annual meeting of the directors of St. Peter's Seminary Corporation held recently it was reported that the total assets for the building amounted to $663,245.85. Several of the parishes in the London Diocese have not yet contributed at all, and many have yet to send in promised subscriptions.

After considerable discussion, it was agreed by the directors that the high cost of labor and material made building of the new seminary inopportune at the present time.

PREACHES ON YPRES

Rev. J. T. C. Morris Speaks in Askin Street Church Sunday Night.

The ruined and devastated city of Ypres and the district surrounding it, made famous during the war by the battles fought there by the Canadians, was the subject of an interesting sermon preached by Rev. J. T. C. Morris on Sunday night in Askin Street Methodist Church.

Rev. Mr. Morris went to England last year to attend a national convention of Men's Brotherhoods, and he paid a visit to France at that time. Mr. Morris particularly mentioned the cemeteries where so many of the Canadians were buried. In one cemetery in the vicinity of Ypres, he said, a stretch of land was marked by over one thousand white crosses in even rows, the resting places of Canadians. Mr. Morris described some of the interiors of the beautiful cathedrals and churches, the majority of which were Catholic. He met many French children who could speak very good English, and he said they claimed Canadian soldiers as their teachers.

The choir rendered a sacred musical program under the direction of Dr. Smith.
