acquiesced in the counter-move against Bulgaria. Although the time allotted for the Bulgarian reply to Russia's ultimatum expired yesterday afternoon, King Ferdinand so far as has been made known, has not seen fit to make answer in any form. It is assumed that hostilities in this new field cannot be avoided.

If Bulgaria joins the Teutonic allies she will enter the war under conditions less favorable than a few weeks ago. The Russians, with reinforcements and a slowly increasing amount of artillery seem to be striking harder blows daily, and the official German communications no longer register measurable advances. The situation in the west has reached a stage of renewal of preparations, following the recent allied offensive and the Germans are still struggling to regain the ground lost. Intensive artillery action is again predominant on the French front, indicating that the positions won have been consolidated and that preparations for another attack are under way.

The Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, according to Amsterdam advices, has protested to the entente powers against air raids over that country, aimed at the German headquarters.

BOTH TEAMS WARMING UP FOR SERIES

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Oct. 6.—A workout on Friday morning preceding the first game of the world's baseball championship will be the only opportunity which the Boston Americans will have for practice on the field of the Philadelphia Nationals. Owing to the postponement of yesterday's game between the New York and Boston American League clubs, it will be necessary for the Red Sox and the Yankees to play two games here to-day and one to-morrow in order to complete their schedule. This means that the Red Sox will not have a day's rest before the beginning of the world's series.

Manager Carrigan of the Boston club, has made no protest. The Philadelphia Nationals end their schedule with a double header with Brooklyn at Philadelphia to-day unless rain causes another postponement. This would give Manager Moran an opportunity to rest his men for one day before the big battle.

William Carrigan, manager of the Boston club, had not disclosed to-day the name of the pitcher who will oppose Philadelphia in the opening game, and there was a great deal of speculation on that point. Manager Carrigan was quoted as saying that anything except straight baseball was usually barred in a world's series as the two clubs would meet for the first time.

WONDERFUL ALEXANDER

"I realize that we must face Grover Cleveland Alexander in the opening game Friday," said Carrigan, "and I also know just how wonderfully clever is the curve ball genius of the National League. It seems we must beat Alexander in that first game and we have devised a means which we think will accomplish it. Should we best Alexander in the opening game, the rest will be a lot easier than I have figured. If we fail, it will give us a line on Alexander, which will make his second game doubly hard to win. Outside of Alexander, I do not think of Philadelphia pitchers who can compare with my men."

Carrigan added that he had so much confidence in everyone of his pitchers that he would not be afraid to pick anyone of them to pitch in the world's series, and that he considered the rest of his club the peers of any other ball player. "I have implicit confidence in them," he said. "From that you can see that from my standpoint there can be only one result; the Red Sox must win, may be not in four straight games, but surely before seven."

THE NATIONAL LEAGUERS.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6—With but two days remaining until the opening contest for the baseball supremacy of the world, the National League champion Phillies hoped to complete their regular playing schedule in a doubleheader with Brooklyn to-day and set about final preparations for the struggle with the Boston Americans. Local fans were anxious that rain which threatened in the early hours of the day, would not again prevent the games as it was expected that Manager Moran would send Alexander and his other star pitchers, none of whom have been seen in action here for several weeks to the mound. Weather conditions, however, will have but little effect on Moran's plans for putting the finishing touches on his team as it was announced that if rain again prevented the games they would be called off entirely. Thursday he expects to devote to secret practice.

There is a feeling of confidence in the Phillies' camp as to the result of the series. Captain Luderus declared that he feels sure his team will come out victors, although he admitted it would probably be a close race. Alexander and Chalmers are almost certain to win their games, he believes, while both Mayer and Rixey stand an excellent chance to humble the Bostonians.

The strength of their opponents in all departments was not lost sight of, Luderus added, and "most anything can happen in such a short series."

BETTING EVEN.

Philly stock has gone up in the estimation of the betting fraternity. While the few bets that were placed several days ago were laid at odds of 13 to 10 with the Red Sox favorites, several wagers were placed last night at even money.

In an effort to give as many fans as possible an opportunity to see the big games, the Philadelphia club found it necessary to greatly curtail the allotment of tickets for the newspapers and even public officials who in former years had received large blocks. Considerable resentment at this action was expressed yesterday by a high police official, who declined to accept his allotment, declaring that he wanted all the seats he requested "or none."

Notwithstanding the management of the club has taken every precaution to guard against tickets falling into the hands of speculators, several agencies are taking orders. They are not making any definite promise, however as to whether they will be able to fill them in every instance. Printing of the tickets has not been completed and distribution probably will not begin until Thursday morning.

than a means of defence against Bulgaria.

KAISER'S BRIBE TO KING.

A telegram was sent to King Constantine by Emperor William guaranteeing that Greece would not be attacked in event that she should remain neutral. To this Premier Venizelos said to the King: "Does your Majesty consider the word of a man who violated the neutrality of Belgium as sufficient guarantee that Greece will not be attacked?"

The Greek newspapers, which usually indulge in the freest expression of opinion, are generally silent respecting the fate of the Serbian-Greek treaty of alliance, which the King all along has maintained was abrogated by the Serbians, owing to their concessions to Bulgaria, and the effectiveness of which to-day is the key to the future action of Greece.

ROUMANIA WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL.

A Berlin despatch says:

Premier Radoslavoff, in a statement made to delegates from the Stambouloff and Chen-Adieff parties, according to The Lokal Anzeiger, is quoted as saying:

"Berlin is justified in the hope that her situation will be more advantageous than it has been heretofore. Events coming in the near future promise favorable results. Bulgaria will extend her frontiers towards the wards the northwest and the south.

"Our relations with Greece are cordial. The conflict between Roumania and the central powers has already been settled. Roumania will be neutral during the whole duration of the offensive of the central powers against Serbia, even if new complications should arise in the Balkans. The Roumanian Government has declared itself disinterested as to Serbia.

"Greece will maintain the same attitude during the offensive of the central powers."

HATCHLEY

Several from here attended the Norwich fair last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Silverthorne spent Sunday in Holbrook.

Mrs. J. Scott is visiting her son, Mr Harry Scott of Norwich.

Many of the Hatchley school children attended the school fair held at Fairfield last week, and won prizes on their exhibits. We are pleased to see the zeal and energy of the boys and girls in this work, and to know that their efforts are rewarded.

The death occurred last Thursday night of Mrs. A. W. Yates, after a long and painful illness, which she bore with great Christian fortitude. Her husband, three daughters: Mrs. Deveney of Hatchley; Mrs. Ryder of Otterville, and Miss Fern, at home, and one son, George at home, mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother. Her mother and two sisters: Mrs. Stirtzinger, and Miss Lynes, all of Delhi, also survive. The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon with interment at the Norwich cemetery. Rev. F. Sanders of the New Durham Congregational church officiated at the services. The pallbearers were: Messrs. G. Lees, S. Lees, J. Yates, C. Yates, J. Silverthorne, R. Barnes.

It was only in July that Mr. and Mrs. Yates learned of the death of their eldest son, W. B. Yates, in the fighting in France on June 15. Deepest sympathy is extended to the doubly bereaved family in their great sorrow.
