WILD SUNDAY AT QUAKER CITY

Strike Rioting All Over Philadelphia Keeps Police on Jump.

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED

Many Thousands Will Walk Out Saturday Unless Company Decide to Arbitrate.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—Union labor in this city voted tonight to back up the striking motormen and conductors in their fight against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. The Central Labor Union, after a secret meeting of 600 delegates, voted for a general strike, to go into effect next Saturday.

The decision of the union bosses followed a day of almost continuous rioting, in which a boy was killed and 60 persons were hurt. It was one of the worst days Philadelphia has suffered since the employees of the P. R. T. walked out. The order for a general sympathetic strike was determined on as the only means to force the rapid transit company to arbitrate with its men. The heads of unions allied with the amalgamated society, declared frankly that their principal purpose was to make the company give in. Their reason for postponing the strike until next Saturday was that the company may be forced by public opinion to agree to arbitrate. In that event the general strike order will be rescinded.

Cars Run Gauntlet.

The lower southeast was ablaze with trouble all day. Since the coming of the state constables, the disorderly had been overawed. The news that a sympathetic strike was to be called to club the rapid transit company into submission, gave the brickthrowers enough to start bombarding the cars again. Along Fifth and Sixth streets, where trunk lines of the P. R. T. runs, thousands of people lined the sidewalks, hooting the non-union motormen and conductors, and occasionally throwing a stone. Sometimes the troopers had to be summoned to free cars that had been held up, but the troopers could not be at every place at once. They were patrolling a large stretch, and the mobs took advantage of their difficulties.

Towards evening the peril of running cars on Fifth street was so great that motormen, in passing Jackson street, where the crowds were massed the thickest, gave their cars full speed and went zipping through a lane of strike sympathizers. The gauntlet began at Dickinson street, and ran as far as Jackson street. Hardly a car came without unsmashed windows. Passengers were forced to throw themselves flat on the floors. Several were cut by glass that flew from the broken windows.

One Boy Killed.

A southbound car turned east on Jackson street, and the conductor was in such a hurry to dodge the bricks that he failed to throw back the switch. After the car had gone on, some one placed a piece of wood in the switch to hold it open.

There were three passengers on the car following. It was attacked so viciously at Dickinson street that the three threw themselves on their faces. Stones and bricks crashed through the windows. A policeman on the front platform, struck with a brick, fired at the crowd, but hit nobody. The motorman twisted his controller clear over, and the car ran ahead at top speed. It was getting dark. The motorman failed to notice that the switch was blocked open. The car took the switch with a terrific sag and jerk, righted itself, and shot ahead the length of the switch, bounded across the sidewalk, and drove into a wall of a store at the southeast corner of Fifth and Jackson.

The impact was so heavy that the wall gave way, letting the nose of the car into the store. The motorman and conductor jumped before the smash, but the policeman was caught and injured. Charles McKenna, a 10-year-old boy, could not get out of the way, and was pinned between the car and the wall. He died an hour later in the Methodist Hospital. John E. Freserick was crushed in the same way, and cannot survive his injuries. The others who were hurt are three boys, Abraham Shinsky, Raymond Traynor and Edward Moore.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW FALLING OFF

$18,000 Less Than During the First Two Months of 1909.

There has been a considerable falling off in building operations this year as compared with last year.

As a matter of fact the permits issued for January and February fall over $18,000 short of the same months in 1909.

In January this year, 23 permits, for a value of $61,810, were issued. In February there were 13 permits, for a value of $15,022. During January, 1909, there were 15 permits, worth $24,389, and during February 21 permits, worth $70,800.

The total difference amounts to $18,357.

There is a considerable discrepancy between February this year and the same month last year. The total building for which permits were taken out amounted to $15,022, as compared with $70,800 last year.

The permits issued were for small jobs. The most important were to Priddis Bros. for improvements to store, $3,700; W. Wakeling, double house on Campbell street, to cost $2,200; and Geo. Bawden, two-story and attic on Wellington street, to cost $2,700.

MORAL DUTY TO BUY THE WILSON PROPERTY

City Will Have Valuation Placed on It—Special Legislation Is Needed.

At the meeting of the London and Port Stanley Board, held at noon today, City Solicitor Meredith informed the board that it would be necessary to secure special legislation if they intended to purchase the Nicholas Wilson property for siding purposes.

Ald. Eckert reported that he had interviewed Mr. Meredith, as instructed by the board, and had received the above-mentioned opinion.

Ald. Richter thought that a valuation of the property should be obtained, and if it could be bought at a reasonable figure, it might be as well to accept it, and seek legislation in the future.

A Moral Duty.

Ald. Ashplant thought that the city owed a moral duty to the estate and should see to it, that everything possible should be done to assist the Wilsons in disposing of the property. It was suitable, he thought, for manufacturers or coal merchants.

However, the board decided the property should be valued, and if it was thought wise to purchase it at the valuation, special legislation could be obtained.

Port Stanley Sheds.

Engineer Graydon reported that he had several offers for the freight shed at Port Stanley, and recommended to the board that a notice be posted that it was for sale. This will be done, and the sub-committee of the board, of which Ald. Eckert is chairman, was given power to accept the tenders.

Install a Switch.

The hydro-electric commission were given power to install a switch near their transformer station at St. Thomas, provided the commission or the Pere Marquette pay the cost of installation.

Those present were Mayor Beattie (president), Ald. Richter, Ald. Eckert, Ald. Underwood, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Morgan and Secretary Baker.

DR. M'CULLOUGH'S DUTIES OUTLINED

London Health Association Finally Engaged Him Today.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the London Health Association, Dr. E. A. McCullough was finally engaged as physician and superintendent of the London Health Association, and will commence his duties about April 1.

Architect Murray was instructed to go ahead and prepare plans for the doctor's cottage, and he will also prepare plans for a recreation building and workshop.

The mayor of the city and chairman of the hospital trust were named ex-officio members of the board of directors, and the warden of the county will also be a member provided the county contribute.

The board were named a committee to assist the ladies in the preparation of the "Made-in-London" exhibition, to be held on April 5 and following days. Satisfactory progress is being made with the work, and the exhibition will be an undoubted success.

Arrangements will be made for the establishment of an office downtown, where Dr. McCullough will meet patients and also commence a campaign of education on the care and prevention of tuberculosis.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC A BLIGHT ON LAND

So Said Rev. Mr. McCuaig to Audience in Auditorium Sunday.

"The sin of the sexual passion is the consuminge evil of the world today, here with you in Canada, as it is with us in the United States," said Rev. Mr. McCuaig, of New York, in a powerful address at the Auditorium last evening. Mr. McCuaig, who is the secretary of the National Purity League, is conducting a campaign in the city in the interests of social purity, and addressed an audience this afternoon in the Talbot Street Baptist Church. He will also speak to an open meeting this evening in the First Congregational Church.

Continuing his address, the speaker went on to mention the relation of men and women. Men, he said, were made for leadership, as the woman was not, but men had taken advantage of this fact, so that now a woman beginning work in a factory would get $4 a week for doing exactly the same work for which a man would get $6. And so right in the face of the very constitution of life have brought about a condition where women are demanding the right to care for themselves.

Mr. McCuaig then touched lightly on the race suicide question in the United States, quoting Professor Wilcox, the greatest authority on the subject, who states that if the present conditions exist for a century and a half longer there will be no children in the United States.

White Slave Traffic.

The speaker dwelt for a time on the evils of the white slave traffic. There are, he said, about 10,000 of these unfortunate creatures brought into the country every year, and next to New York, he continued, Montreal was the greatest port of entry. But while we think of this blight upon our land we must remember that for every white slave introduced there are five women of our own land practically forced into a life of shame by economic conditions. In some of the great departmental stores and factories in the United States, the managers of the business do not hesitate to suggest such a course when they are asked for an increase in wages.

Damning Souls.

The speaker went on to tell of the machinations of the men who are engaged in fostering this deadly blight.

"Why," he concluded, "in our whole church machinery we are babies, we are back in the woods in our bare feet, we are simply outclassed by the organizations that have been constructed to damn man's souls."

The speaker then went on to tell of the awful physicial results that follow on these conditions.

The best authorities in the United States declare that 75 per cent of the men between the ages of 18 and 40 are afflicted with two deadly venerial diseases, diseases in which there is practically no hope of recovery, and the speaker pictured in terrible words the awful effects of these diseases. The cause of these conditions, he concluded, is that there is no sane enlightenment on the sex question; our very vocabulary on the subject is a vocabulary of the streets, which ought never to be. And the whole question arises from the unsatisfied curiosity of childhood, which is the most potent influence for evil imaginable, and the remedy is to send the child out equipped, so that he can meet the suggest
