SLUGGISH LIVER WAS MY TROUBLE

Writes This Paris Lady—Early Learned Value of This Treatment in Her Father's Home—Now Proves It.

PARIS, Ont., March 20.—So great is the influence of the liver in the human body that medical men sometimes refer to it as the controlling organ. So far as the digestive system is concerned, this is undoubtedly correct, for once the liver becomes tired out and sluggish in action there is no end of trouble.

The bile which the liver should look after is left in the blood to poison the system. The bowels become sluggish; the kidneys disordered; you get bilious and suffer from headaches; digestion is interrupted; the complexion becomes muddy and you feel generally miserable. These letters point the way to cure by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mrs. I. P. Smith, Paris, Ont., writes: "Sluggish liver was my trouble, and I have been greatly benefitted by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills two or three times a week. I have tried medicines from several good doctors, but none ever did me the same amount of good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I recommend them to every one of my friends that I know is suffering from the same complaint. Dr. Chase's medicines were about the only ones that come into my father's house, so I learned their value when young."

Mrs. J. B. Ward, 15 Omemee street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "I have obtained great benefit from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I used for constipation and liver trouble. I have also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food along with the Kidney-Liver Pills, and think this is a splendid treatment. It has improved my appetite, made me sleep, enriched the blood and strengthened my whole system."

"LITTLE SYMPHONY" IS MUCH APPRECIATED BY LONDON MUSIC LOVERS

Largest Audience of Season Delighted With Program.

CHOIR ALSO SCORES HIT

Shows Marked Advance in Achievement Since the Last Concert.

The famous "Little Symphony of New York," conducted by George Barrere, and the Musical Art Society Choir formed a concert combination last evening which provided one of the most delightful and artistic entertainments ever given in the city, and assuredly one of the most enjoyable evenings in two seasons of the Musical Art Society.

One of the largest audiences that has attended a concert in the city this year filled the Grand Opera House to its capacity, and it was, moreover, an audience most flatteringly demonstrative in expression of appreciation.

Marked Advance.

While the Musical Art Society Choir in previous appearances has given an excellent account of itself so far as technicalities are concerned, making a brave showing in attacks, releases, tempo, rhythm, enunciation, in the achievement of big volume of tone, last night's work had these features conspicuously, and others as well, which spelled a marked advance in artistic achievement this season. Never before was tone quite so melodious throughout, or so flexible. Never before were effects obtained by such natural transition, degree by degree, nuance upon nuance. While there was ample variety, sharp contrasts were entirely lacking, and, throughout the choral work, there was not a jar or a ragged edge. Interpretation throughout was of an exceptionally high order.

Special mention might be made of two choral numbers of the evening, "Go, Son of Mine" (Elgar), notable for the beauty of shading and the fine appreciation revealed in interpretation; and a genuine triumph, "The Bells of St. Michael's Tower," by Knyvett-Stewart. The lullaby from Elgar's choral suite, "The Bavarian Highlands," was especially interesting because of the mazurka accompaniment of the Little Symphony Orchestra.

Creditable Showing.

From the opening number, "Rule, Britannia" (Arne) to the last of the group of Afro-American songs, "Swing Along" (Cook), the choir covered itself and the conductor, A. D. Jordan, with credit.

The men's chorus, some 60 voices, made one of the big hits of the evening in a spirited rendition of "Estudiantina" (Lacome), enhanced by an accompaniment played by the Little Symphony.

And the Little Symphony! Musical London was so impressed and so entirely carried off its feet that Musical London almost forgot its manners in demanding encores beyond the compliment point.

To compare the Little Symphony to the big, full orchestras is like comparing a silver white moon to the sun. The figure of comparison falls down in that the Little Symphony shines with no reflected glory. It is luminous in itself, and its music possessed of sufficient perfection of finish and captivating charm for all artistic purposes.

Work Flawless.

In the wonderful little organization, composed of only a dozen musicians, each instrument stands out by itself, and yet the ensemble work is flawless in the perfection of the blending.

The playing of the Little Symphony is the quintessence of melody, of elegance, suavity and grace. Even in the playing of the compositions of the day, the Little Symphony has a directness of purpose, a lucidity, and creates a quaint, dignified, leisurely, old world atmosphere strangely at variance with the confusion of modernism. Perhaps the very reason the Little Symphony so grips an audience is, beyond the fact of its flawless playing, the fact that it is genuinely refreshing.

An added delightful experience of this concert was hearing George Barrere, conductor of the orchestra, and a very remarkable flautist, play a group of soli on his delightfully melodious and irresponsible instrument. The last concert of the second season of the Musical Art Society is leaving a very happy memory to carry over to a third season.

It is safe to wager that the London public is going to be much more enthusiastic about a third season for the Musical Art Society than it was for the second. The recreative and educative value of the higher order of music made possible is now being fully recognized.

CUT OUT AMUSEMENTS TO AID CAMPAIGN FOR GREATER PRODUCTION

District Agricultural Expert Suggests General Campaign.

A greater production meeting was held in Strathroy on Wednesday evening by R. A. Finn, district representative of the Ontario agriculture department. Mr. Finn spoke on the labor situation, and told of the critical conditions of the food situation in Britain.

"Russia gave way on account of the food situation at home," said Mr. Finn, "and France at times has only four days' food supply ahead. Canada is 3,000 miles from Europe, but should produce everything possible. One ship from Canada will carry as much food as two from India or the Argentine, and three times as much as a ship from Australia; therefore the Allies look to Canada and the United States to produce the necessary food, particularly wheat and bacon."

The speaker gave an outline of how towns and cities could help in greater production. A successful campaign, he said, should be put on through the schools to get the boys from 15 to 19 for farm work. Many towns last year closed places of business two days a week to allow labor to help with seeding and harvest. A campaign similar to the "Old Home Week" should be put on.

Sentiment should be created against holidaying, touring, bowling, pool and movies, said Mr. Finn.

RIVER HIGH AGAIN

Three Feet of Water Going Over Springbank Dam Now.

Melting ice has so swollen the Thames that more than three feet of water is now going over the waterworks dam at Springbank. The jump in the levels yesterday and today have occasioned no alarm, however, as there is practically no ice going down and the blockades below Springbank have been eliminated.

Because of the big volume of water, nothing can be done at the break in the waterworks dam. Whether it is increasing or not is a question which cannot be answered, as the break is all under water.

SEVEN ACCEPTED

Recruits From British-Canadian Mission Sign on Local Centre.

Seven recruits from the British-Canadian Recruiting Mission were accepted at the local mobilization centre Wednesday. Six of the recruits were placed in category A2, and one in B2.

Two came from Cleveland, two from Grand Rapids, two from Detroit, and one from Flint. Six of the recruits were sent to the W. O. R., and one to the Railway Construction Depot. A number of men arrived this morning from the British Recruiting Mission.

The following is the list of Wednesday's recruits: J. W. Kallstrom, W. O. R., Flint; Robert Grace, Railway Construction, Detroit; W. Kraneberg, W. O. R., Grand Rapids; Robert Jasper, W. O. R., Detroit; O. Loberg, W. O. R., Grand Rapids; George Coleman, W. O. R., Cleveland; N. H. MacFarland, W. O. R., Cleveland.

CITY BREVITIES

$3,847 INCREASE.—The bank clearings for the past week amounted to $2,045,248, and for the corresponding week of 1917, $2,041,401. This shows an increase of $3,847 for the past week.

COMPLAINING OF DUST.—Complaints are being registered against the dust nuisance on many of the paved streets, particularly those on which street car lines run. Demands for street watering are being generally heard.

ANOTHER SPRING SIGN.—Still another sign of spring is to be found in the street-cleaning gangs which are at work on all paved streets. The last of the winter's ice is being "picked" away and loaded into wagons and the pavements are being cleaned up. The dirt and mud of the winter months is fast disappearing as a result.

GOING AWAY FAST.—Predictions that the ice, left by the floods in the Thames on the flats along its banks, would remain there until July, seem to be doomed to failure. The warm weather of the past few days has played havoc with the ice floes, with the result that great bare patches are commencing to appear in the ice fields.

MAGAZINES WANTED.—Magazines are wanted for the military hospitals, and these should be left at the I. O. D. E. Soldiers' Club on Dundas street. Emphasis is laid on the fact that the magazines wanted are suitable magazines, and that out-of-date magazines, women's fashion magazines, cooking hint magazines, etc., need not apply for obvious reasons.

LIBERAL EUCHRE.—At the final euchre tournament of the season held last night in the Liberal Club rooms Charles Frank won first prize with a high score of 87. Raymond Cabrera and Mr. Frank were tied in the first contest, and Mr. Frank finally won out in a second game. Two weeks from last night a ladies' night will be held and the presentation of prizes will take place.

FOR SOLDIERS' BOXES.—An entertainment, "Aunt Susan's Visit," will be given by the members of the Daisy Bible Class, assisted by Miss Reid, elocutionist, Ptes. Needham and Hopper, and Lance-Corp. Phillips, in the Hyatt Avenue Schoolroom this evening. The proceeds are for the work which the class has undertaken of sending boxes to the boys overseas, whose names are on the honor roll of the church.

ANOTHER W. O. R. DANCE.—So successful did the band concert and dance arranged by the W. O. R. Depot Battalion Band committee of last week prove that it has been decided to repeat the experiment this evening, again on behalf of the band fund. The entertainment will be held in the Masonic Temple and, unlike the khaki dances proper, is not restricted to men in uniform. The excellent regimental band will play a few numbers while the guests are assembling, and will provide the music for the dancing as well.

DECISION FRIDAY ON SCOPE OF 1918 PATRIOTIC DRIVE

Arrangements For Canvass Will Be Completed.

An adjourned meeting has been called for 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Indian room in the Tecumseh House, to arrange the details of the 1918 patriotic fund campaign. The objective and scope of the London campaign will be decided upon, and organization effected for the canvass.

Notices have been sent out to the active workers in previous campaigns and representatives of the societies interested to attend the meeting, while a general invitation has been extended through the press to all subscribers. The notices impress the importance of a large and enthusiastic gathering, call attention to the long list of battles in which the names of Canadians have been made glorious—Ypres, Festubert, St. Eloi, Givenchy, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, etc., and remind that those at home must "carry on" for the sake of those who have laid down their lives and the brave men who are making tremendous sacrifices to do their part at the front.

One of the points to be decided tomorrow is whether the campaign will be confined to the Red Cross and patriotic fund, or enlarged in its scope to provide for all patriotic calls which will arise during the year, such as British, French and Italian Red Cross, etc.

APPEAL FOR FRODUCTION

Veteran Officer Addressed Pupils of Collegiate Institute.

Capt. A. W. Forgie, who has been overseas for two years, addressed a meeting of the girls and boys at the London Collegiate Institute. Capt. Forgie told of the need of greater production, and also told of the conditions in England and France, and appealed to the boys to go to the farms this coming season. Although it might not be as pleasant as the city they would do a great national service, he said. A. A. Langford was the chairman of the meeting.

HAD BRONCHITIS FOR THREE YEARS

COULD GET NO RELIEF

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is also a raising of phlegm from the lungs, especially in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thereby prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning into some more serious lung trouble.

Mr. Theodore P. Beers, Upper Main River, N. B., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis for three years and could get no relief. I was always worse when I got wet. I tried lots of different medicines, but none did me good until a friend told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got three bottles and before I had them half used I was better.

"My mother is now using it for asthma. It is a great medicine and we never want to be without it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THREE YEARS TERM IN KINGSTON GIVEN SOLDIER-BIGAMIST

Sentenced on Counts of Theft and Desertion.

Charles Mallings, whose record shows that he is a well-known Chicago confidence man, will spend the next three years in Kingston Penitentiary as the result of his pleading guilty to two charges of theft, one of desertion, and one of bigamy.

Mallings admitted the thefts of a typewriter from military headquarters and a bicycle from a Wellington street citizen, and further acknowledged that he had sold them when he appeared before. In police court today he changed his plea of "not guilty" to "guilty" on the bigamy charge.

A sentence of three years was imposed by Magistrate Graydon for the thefts, two years for desertion from the Canadian Engineers, and three years for bigamy, the sentences to run concurrently.

When arraigned on the four charges a week ago, Mallings pleaded guilty to all but bigamy. He denied he had gone through a form of marriage with any other woman but Dora Plank, the ceremony in this instance being performed on August 1, 1917.

Mallings was remanded to jail for a week, during which time his record was secured by the local detective department. When faced with the information this morning, that he had married a woman in Chicago eight years ago, that he had served a term n Joliet (Ill.) Prison, and had been released on parole, Mallings admitted everything.

"I plead guilty to everything, and have nothing further to say," remarked Mallings.

As Magistrate Graydon pronounced the sentences, Mallings' face blanched at the prospect of what appeared to him like a long term ahead.

"These sentences are to run concurrently," added the magistrate, as he pronounced the bigamy sentence. Mallings appeared relieved at this, and to make sure that he had not misunderstood, asked the magistrate if all were to run concurrently. Informed again that they were, Mallings took his seat, to be led a minute later to the cells below.

Mallings stated that he believed the woman he married eight years ago was dead, and that was why he had married Dora Plank in this city.

URGES ADDITION OF WOMEN MEMBERS TO SCHOOL BOARD HERE

Chairman of Vancouver Trustees Talks to Londoners.

Mrs. Irene Moody, chairman of the board of education in Vancouver, met a small body of ladies in the parlor of the Tecumseh House Wednesday afternoon to speak to them on educational subjects. The meeting was called together by Mrs. A. A. Campbell, organizing secretary, and by Mrs. Geo. McDonald, educational secretary of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E. Those present were the officers of the Municipal Chapter and the educational secretaries of the different chapters.

The subject of the care of subnormal children in the schools took a most prominent place in the talk.

"It is a crime to keep sub-normal children in the regular classes," declared Mrs. Moody. "It is an injustice both to these children themselves and to the other children in the classes, whose progress is hindered by them."

"Vancouver has two women psychologists on the staff of teachers, and these women train the subnormal pupils," said Mrs. Moody. "Another feature of the Vancouver schools is janitresses instead of janitors. It was found that the children were timid about having men about the buildings, and so the women janitors were introduced. Their duties are to look after the children who are not well, to take them to a restroom, and if necessary to take them home or to a hospital. There are two doctors and several nurses in connection with the schools to look after the health of the pupils. It is the duty of the nurses to visit the homes of absent pupils, and if there is no sickness to report to the truant officer.

The question of caring for pupils who have gone behind in their work owing to illness or some other cause was also discussed by Mrs. Moody. In Seattle a classroom is set aside for this purpose in every school, and it is known as "the room of opportunity." By special coaching, the child who is behind classmates is enabled to catch up and thus not be a drag on his own class. Mrs. Moody has been trying to introduce such a feature in the Vancouver schools, and strongly advocates it for all schools.

"The women of London should aim at having at least one representative on the school board next year," said Mrs. Moody. "Nature has provided both men and women to care for children, and this idea should be followed out in making up a school board. A board of all women would not be good, as a board of all men is not good, but the ideal educational board is composed of both men and women."

FINDS SENTIMENT IN STATES HAS UNDERGONE BIG CHANGE SINCE WAR

Old Bombast Disappears, Declares London Businessman Back From South.

"The sentiment of the people of the United States is that they are in the war to the finish," according to R. H. Dowler, the well-known clothier, who is back from a trip to the south.

"The people I met are very enthusiastic. They are all ready to do their bit. Many of their young men are already in uniform, and more have been ordered to report. The bombast of olden days has disappeared. Instead one finds the English and Canadian determination in its place. The sentiment is that of the Allies. It does not matter how long it takes, they are in the war to finish it up, and they will," he said.

Mr. Dowler found business very good. In Florida, where he was visiting, they have reclaimed a large amount of land that has five to ten feet of black earth. This is the best of land for crops, and the people are entering enthusiastically into the movement for greater production.

Mr. Dowler was accompanied by his brother, J. Dowler, and other St. Thomas and London men. They visited Palm Beach and Miami, Florida.
