HOW I LOST HER.—By Frederick West.

I lost my love by kissing the bright chalice.
I lost my love by drinking rosy wine;
And so I owe the goblet such deep malice
As powerful pen is powerless to define.

The poets of the world have ever blended
Women and wine as dearest of man's joy;
Their sweet philosophy may now be mended,
The sparkling wine-cup has its dark alloys.

I have in bumpers to my darling dear one
Watering the love I cherished in my heart,
Drank her, the sweetest, fairest and most near one,
My fond frame palpitating in each part.

Yet this did never in my brain run riot,
Nor was I but by my love intoxicate:
That passion reason would ne'er let keep quiet,
And many madness it made me mate.

But when my secret in her bosom rested,
Which gently throbbed at what my soul confest;
When of all strength but hers I was divested,
And only in her favour could be blest;

When doting on her looks and sweet expressions,
Loving her eyes and voice more dear than gold,
And making with mine own, oft-made confessions,
I found or fancied that her heart grew cold:

Then flew I to the goblet and drank deeper;
Drank to oblivionize my cankering care,
And for a time succeeded. Wretched sleeper!
To wake from stupor but to see despair.

She was disciple of the temperance father,
And never could forgive libation-slip;
And once when driven to despair, I rather
Thing that she found the wine-juice on my lip.

It was a sin with her it was unforgiving;
I knew it; we had explanation none,
My heart without her sunshine now is living;
Its occupation's gone—its dream is done!

Then seek not consolation in the chalice,
Whate'er thy sorrow, anguish, pain or care,
Lest you should bear it everlasting malice
For tearing from your arms your fairy fair.

This much I know, when next I go a wooing,
Like her I've lost, some lovely earthly daughter
(I would not be without one,) my undoing
Shall not be wine; I'll drink to her in water.

Patrick and Samko.—An Irishman and a negro were fighting a few days ago, in Parramatta; and while grappling with each other, the Irishman exclaimed, "You black vagabond, hallo Enouge! I'll fight till I die!" "So will I," sung out the negro; "I always does."

SOAP & CANDLE MANUFACTORY.

GEORGE WOODS,

West side Water Street, between the Ferry Landing and Fish Market,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

CONTINUES to manufacture Wax-wick MOULD CANDLES, which for brilliancy of light, and length of time in burning, cannot be excelled—made expressly for the parlour table.

Constantly on hand, DIPT CANDLES, of all sizes, made out of the pure hard Tallow, and undertakes to sell cheaper than can be imported from any part of the world. April 27.

Dr. James Coxetter,

WOULD inform the hundreds who apply to him for the cure of delicate diseases, that he holds out no delusive hope that he will cure them "in two or three days." He is called upon daily to witness the sad effects of so wicked a deception. He would, however, assure those who may come under his care, that they may rely upon a pleasant and speedy cure.—Advice to the Poor, gratis.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Copy of a Letter from His Grace the Duke of Portland to Mrs. Ann Mellish, (one of his Tenants,) whom His Grace was pleased to send as a Patient to the Proprietor of this Extraordinary Medicine.

Madam,

If Mr. Holloway will undertake to cure you perfectly, when the Cure is complete I will undertake to pay him £2 10s. You may show him this Letter.

(Signed) SCOTT PORTLAND.

Welbeck Abbey, May 31, 1842.

Copy of a Letter from the Most honorable the Marquis of Westminster, K. G.

Lord Westminster has just received Mr. Holloway's Medicine, for which he returns him his best thanks.

Eaton Hall, Cheshire, Feb. 12, 1842.

This inestimable Medicine being composed entirely of medicinal Herbs, does not contain any mercurial, mineral, or deleterious substances. Benign to the tender infant, or to the weakest constitution, prompt and sure in eradicating disease from the most robust frame, it is perfectly harmless in its operations and effects, while it searches out and removes Complaints of every character, and at every stage, however long standing or deeply rooted.

Of the Thousands cured by its agency, many who were on the verge of the grave for a considerable period (by persevering in its use) have been restored to health and strength, after every other means failed.

All Diseases (and whatever may be their symptoms, however they may declare themselves, yet one cause is common to them—all, viz., a want of purity in the blood and fluids) are cured by this wonderful Medicine, which cleanses the stomach and bowels, while its Balsamic qualities clear the blood, give tone and energy to the nerves and muscles, invigorate the system, and strength to bone and sinew.

The Afflicted need not give himself up to despair, as one without hope, but let him make a proper trial of the Mighty Powers of this astonishing Medicine, and he will soon be restored to the blessings of Health.

Time should not be lost in taking this Remedy for any of the following Diseases:—

Ague,	Indigestion,
Asthma,	Inflammation,
Bilious Complaints,	Jaundice,
Blotches on the Skin,	Liver Complaints,
Bowel Complaints,	Lumbago,
Colics,	Piles,
Constipation of Bowels,	Rheumatism,

DR. LA'MERT

ON THE SECRET INFIRMITIES OF YOUTH AND MATURITY.

With Forty Coloured Engravings.

Just published, and may be had in French and English, in sealed Envelope, 2s 6d sterling,

SELF-PRESERVATION:

A MEDICAL TREATISE ON THE PHYSIOLOGY OF MARRIAGE, and Disorders of Youth and Maturity usually acquired at an early period of life, which enervate the physical and mental powers, diminish an enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the energies of Manhood. With practical observations on the Treatment of Nervous Debility and Indigestion, whether arising from these causes, close study or the influence of Tropical climates. Local and Constitutional Weakness, Syphilis, Stricture, and all Diseases and Deragements resulting from Indiscretion. With Forty Coloured Engravings, illustrating the Anatomy, Physiology, and Diseases of the Reproductive Organs explaining their structure, uses and functions, and the various injuries that are produced in them "by solitary habits and excesses and infection."

By Samuel La'Mert, M. D.

No. 37, BEDFORD SQUARE, LONDON.

Doctor of Medicine, Matricular Member of the University of Edinburgh, Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, London, Honorary Member of the London Hospital, Medical Society, &c.

CONTENTS OF THE TREATISE;

Chapter I.—On the Philosophy of Marriage, with its Hindrances and Obligations, and on Inelicitous and Unproductive Unions.

Chapter II.—On the Anatomy and Physiology of the Generative Organs, their functions, structures, and secret uses, proving that great Mental and Physical Power are dependant on their healthy action.

Chapter III.—On solitary Habits: their various effects on the Animal Economy; the concealed cause of Debility of the functions of the Stomach, Lungs, and Brain, and general Weakness of the Mental Faculties.

Chapter IV.—On the Secret Disorders of Youth and Manhood, and the Treatment of Nervous and Local Weakness, Mental Debility, and Premature Decay.

Chapter V. and VI.—On the Disorders arising from indiscriminate Excess, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, and other diseases of the Urethra.

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift, which when used in moderation is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of misichief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to debate, are productive of greater misery to the human frame, than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Not are these the sole contents of the Work, the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attention and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and the physical capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens that the unhappy victim of excesses indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their inevitable consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to the qualified physician for relief. Shame and the dread so frequently but erroneously entertained that these complaints are beyond the reach of art, alike restrict him, and prevent his seeking for assistance where alone it can be procured. In acting thus, he forgets that actuate discrimination in ascertaining the causes of disease, sympathy with the sufferer, and above all, secrecy, invariably characterize the intelligent and practical physician and to the medical man, who can show by his possession of the requisite legal qualification that he is entitled to esteem and respect in his professional pursuits the utmost confidence should be extended. DR. LA'MERT has obtained the highest medical honours, as his diplomas testify, and the great extent of his practice for many years is a guarantee for his professional experience, which has referenceable solely to the treatment of these diseases.

The work may be had in St. John, of H. Cunan & Co. price 2s 6d, sig.; Halifax, Messrs. Mon on & Co.; Quebec, Mr. Neilson.

Horse and Cattle Medicines.

Don't permit your Horses or cattle to die, when the means of cure are within the reach of all!

The undersigned has spent several years in the study of Veterinary practice in "London and Edinburgh," he has also availed himself of the researches of Leibig, and other celebrated men, who have contributed so much towards a judicious treatment of animals; the principles of our practice consists of the rejection of general bleeding and the total rejection of all medicines that experience has shown is he of a dangerous tendancy. These remedies are in harmony with the vital principle, and when given according to the directions which accompany each article they are capable of exciting and increasing the natural functions, without diminishing or destroying their power, hence are safe in the hands of every one.
