MANY PEOPLE ARE ON WAY TO NEW BRUNSWICK

Several Sections of New England Have Enforced Holidays

INQUIRIES COME FROM MANY PLACES

Prospective Visitors in Communication With Tourist Office Here

The New England visitors say that large sections of that district are on vacation just now, hundreds of textile mills being closed for 10 days or longer. They anticipate a very heavy travel from New England to New Brunswick today, tomorrow and next week.

Many United States tourists arrived in the city yesterday and today. Among those who have registered at the Admiral Beatty are: Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Levy, of Bayonne, N. J.; Mrs. Harry J. Martin and Miss Doris Johnson, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Rushton, of Fitchburg, Mass.; Miss Margaret Loewer and Miss Louise Vivian, of Nanticoke, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wakeman, of Fairfield, Conn.; H. W. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Helen Johnson, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ayell and H. Rosenbaum and Mrs. Rosenbaum, of New Haven, Conn.

Edwin V. McVay, Miss Madeline McVay and Miss Sadie M. Rogers, of Apponaug, R. I., are at the Clifton House, as are Harry F. Belden and Mrs. Belden, of Westfield, Mass.

B. F. Newman and Mrs. Newman and Miss Edith Newman, of Augusta, Me.; Miss Eleanor Newman, of Haverhill, Mass.; Van F. DeRoche, Mrs. DeRoche and daughter, of Fitchburg, Mass., registered at the Royal.

MANY INQUIRIES.

Among the inquiries received by the N. B. Tourist Association is one from a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., man who had spent 25 seasons in the Maine woods and wants a change. A Northampton, Mass., party announced that they were coming to Saint John by motor car. A Martinsburg, W. Va., correspondent inquired about the waterways of New Brunswick and another desired information as to the best bass fishing waters.

A Groveton, N. H., man sent the information that a motor party was coming here from his Granite states soon. It was also announced that a Lowell, Mass., motor party was coming to New Brunswick and would go as far east as Sackville and Amherst. This party desired to know how to get to Montreal from Sackville.

A resident of Rome, N. Y., wrote that he had spent three months in New Brunswick and other Maritime provinces and that he had found the hospitality of the people wonderful. He added that a party of eight motorists were coming from Rome soon to tour this province.

FROM MEXICO

From far away Zecatecas, in the state of Chahuahua, Mexico, a correspondent wrote that a party was desirous of making a motor tour, which would include New Brunswick. He made inquiries concerning camp sites, hotels, the scenery and motor roads. The party intends to come north during the present month. Last year there were several Mexican cars in New Brunswick.

Among other places from which communications have been received are: Boston, New York, Storrs, Conn.; Hartford, Conn.; Bremerton, Wash.; Yonkers, N. Y.; Kimberley, Idaho; New London, Conn.; Brooklyn, Warren, Mass.; Springfield, Mass.; Lynn, Mass.; North Attleboro, Mass.; Woonsocket, R. I., and Delaware, O.

To give an idea how far famed the scenery and climate of New Brunswick is and the distance persons come to visit here, it is interesting to note that a party motored all the way here from Albuquerque, New Mexico. Those making the trip were Dr. and Mrs. P. G. Cornish, Mrs. P. G. Cornish, Jr., and two children. They were registered at the Royal Hotel, and left this morning on the steamer Empress for Nova Scotia.

As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT—Some o' the medders out here is yaller an' white with buttercups an' daisies. Folks from town goes crazy over 'em, they look so pretty—like a fresh wreath in a cemetery. They're there fer the same reason, too—fer if they wasn't a dead farmer around, the grass an' clover or some other crop 'ud be growin' instid o' them there weeds. They do look lovely, jist the same. When old Mother Natur' sets out to do a thing she does it well. The feller that ast: "Who kin paint like Natur'?" wasn't askin' no questions. He knowed nobody could—an' he put it that way fer emphasis. Still—I'd ruther see clover blossoms—or petater blossoms—or oats—where them there buttercups an' daisies is. That 'ud show that the farmers was all livin'—yes, sir.

GUILFOIL CASE FOR DAMAGES IS DISMISSED

Judge LeBlanc Decides It Unnecessary to Call on Defence

SUM OF $30,000 WAS CLAIMED IN ACTION

Evidence Given in Matter of Accident in McAvity Building

At the close of the plaintiff's case in the suit of H. A. Guilfoil against T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., in the Circuit Court, Mr. Justice LaBlanc dismissed the action on the ground that there had not been sufficient evidence adduced to make it necessary to call on the defence to present their side of the case.

At the proceedings, the plaintiff gave evidence in which he described his actions at the time the accident took place. Dr. C. M. Kelly and Dr. D. C. Malcolm testified as to the nature of the injuries sustained by Guilfoil. S. A. Williams, a contractor, told of examining the staircase shaft, down which the plaintiff fell, and said that it was of ordinary construction and that more than the usual safeguards existed.

The court, in dismissing the action, held that the nature of the evidence was such as to indicate that the accident was due to the negligence of the plaintiff rather than to any fault on the part of the defendant company.

SUED FOR $30,000.

The suit was one for $30,000 damages arising out of an accident last year when the plaintiff, while cleaning the office windows on the defendant's premises, fell down a staircase well and sustained severe injuries.

Daniel Mullin, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff and Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., H. A. Porter and L. McC. Ritchie for the defendant. Court adjourned this morning until next Wednesday.

Brings Large 'Bus Here From Montreal

Thomas Enwright, manager of the local bus company with headquarters in the Imperial Theatre building, King Square arrived early this morning from Montreal with a new Sedan type Godfredson autobus having a capacity of 35. It has a baggage carrier on top and a distinctive feature is the opening of a series of doors on the unloading side instead of one door at the end. Mr. Enwright says this type of 'bus will be used for tourist sight-seeing purposes chiefly.

The trip from Montreal to Saint John, which was unique in local 'bus history, was uneventful. The route taken was via Quebec City and Edmundston. Mr. Enwright reports the roadway in excellent condition. Naturally such a big car proceeding unannounced through the rural sections of lower Quebec and New Brunswick created considerable curiosity and interest.
