TEST THE KIDNEYS

And if they are diseased use the world's greatest kidney cure

Dr. A. W. CHASE'S Kidney-Liver Pills

It's a simple matter to test the kidneys. You need not consult a doctor. By asking yourself three questions you can determine whether or not your kidneys are deranged.

First: "Have you backache, or weak, lame back?"

Second: "Do you have difficulty in urinating or a too frequent desire to urinate?"

Third: "Are there deposits like brick dust in the urine after it has stood for twenty-four hours?"

In its earlier stages kidney disease is readily cured by a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, a preparation which has made Dr. Chase famous throughout the world for his wonderful cures of diseases of the kidneys.

If you have kidney disease you can take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with perfect confidence that what has proved an absolute cure in so many thousands of cases will not fail you.

So long as the cells of the kidneys are not completely wasted away, as in the last stages of Bright's disease, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will give them new vigor and strength and make them strong, healthy and active. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE BLUFF FAILED.

Brockville, May 4.—Considerable excitement was caused in town by the arrest of a good-looking woman about 28 years old, giving her name as Mrs. Webster, of Watertown, N. Y., on a charge of alleged blackmailing. She was arrested at the instance of Antoine Wendling, who is charged with circulating fraudulent ballots during the bye-elections here. The woman claimed to be a relative of Mr. McIntosh, who is wanted as witness against Wendling. It is alleged she said she had been sent from Watertown by McIntosh, and unless Wendling paid her $500 McIntosh would return and testify against him. She was brought before the police magistrate, who remanded her to jail until to-morrow. Mrs. Webster, it is claimed, among other things, said the McIntoshes had told her that Wendling paid them to leave Brockville, in order not to testify against him, and they are now making Watertown their headquarters.

Mrs. Webster was formerly a resident of Leeds county. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Livingstone, reside within half a mile of the village of Athens. Her husband was for a number of years, station agent at Bellamy's, on the Brockville-Ottawa branch of the C. P. R.

A LARGE LOBSTER

He Measured Seven Feet From Claw to Claw.

Made a Great Fight When Taken Into the Boat.

Harmouth, N. S., May 4.—A monster lobster was caught off Yarmouth harbor, by Eben Crosby and his two boys, and has been shipped to Boston. It was a male and a very giant of his kind, measuring three feet in length, and with a width from tip to tip of spread claws of nearly seven feet. It weighed twenty-five pounds. The legs were larger than a grown man's thumb. When it was got into a dory the huge crustacean made a desperate struggle and at once seized two eleven inch lobsters with its claws and bit them in two. It struck the dory so hard with its claws that it was feared the boat would be stove. Crosby and boys succeeded in plugging the claws with wooden pegs, and bound the fish up with cords. It was too large to get it into a lobster crate, so it was tied on the top of a crate and shipped to Boston. It is believed to be the largest lobster ever captured.

DIDN'T KNOW HER

Woman Who Mistook Her Own Child

Because She was Dressed in Good Clothes—Couldn't Fool the Boy.

A lady of Newark, N. J., found on her doorstep the other day a little girl some three years old, weeping and sobbing disconsolately. The child was ragged and dirty. The lady took the little girl in, washed her and, finding the child pretty, at once took a fancy to her. The ragged clothing was cast aside as soon as the lady could procure from a department store a complete outfit for the child. This embraced every sort of garment, bonnet, shoes and gloves. The dress, the sash ribbons the bonnet—all of silks and satins. Then she returned to her house, but the little one, although her benefactor sang for her, would not be comforted therein. The finery distracted her thoughts but a moment, and she cried perpetually to go home. The lady took the child in her carriage to the police station. She explained to the officer in charge about the case and said that as she had no children of her own she would be willing to adopt this little girl if she could. The police officer took the waif up stairs to the witness room, where, after sobbing until worn out she fell asleep. At 8 o'clock that evening a woman wearing a tattered dress and shabby gray shawl inquired at the police station for a lost little girl. The officer said there was a lost child up stairs. The woman went up to look. She saw the little one in silks and satins with hair beautifully combed and tied with ribbons. She went up and closely scrutinized the child, then turned and went out, saying: "It is not Mary. Our Mary never wore such fine clothes." An hour later she returned with her son, aged 10, and together they took another look at the worn out little sleeper. The boy recognized his sister, awakened her and shouted for joy. The mother did not know her own child when seen in a rich garb, but the boy could not be deceived. Next day Mary was wearing some old apparel, her fine clothes put away for Sunday. She has not since seen the lady, but it may result in a change of fortune for the little one.

THE FLAG OF STARS.

Oh, not alone the eager south—
Alone the steadfast north—
Saw with wet eyes beneath spring skies
Our flag of stars go forth!
Oh, not alone the elder east,
Nor the young hearted west,
Smiled high with pride where side by side
The nation's children pressed!

But north and south and east and west
The mountain and the plain,
The prairie and the desert,
Yielded their flower again.
East and west and south and north
The flower of the land,
Hearing the mother's call, went forth
To stand at her right hand.

We be many hands in labor,
But one arm for the right;
One blood to shed, one heart till dead,
One good sword for the fight;
We be many tongued and minded,
But one mind and one tongue
When once wide sent through a continent
The nation's word has rung!

Then northern tongues sing "Dixie"
Beneath the ancient flag,
And the southerner dies to rehearse
His own the "Yankee rag!"
Brothers—to keep for freedom's sake
The flag of stars unfurled
Beneath the stars of heaven—to make
The starlight of the world!

PIMPLES CURED BY Cuticura SOAP

The most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It is the only preventive of pimples, blackheads, red, rough, and oily skin, red, rough hands with shapeless nails, dry, thin, and falling hair, and simple baby blemishes. It is so because it strikes at the cause of most complexional disfigurations, viz., THE CLOGGED, IRRITATED, INFLAMED, OVERWORKED, OR SLUGGISH PORE.

My face was covered with a pimply, ruptured, and itching skin. After using CUTICURA SOAP for six weeks my skin made a remarkable change, all the pimples went away, my skin getting as soft as velvet.

H. CROME, 223 Melrose St., Chicago, Ill.

I was troubled with pimples, especially on the chin and forehead. I tried several home remedies, but as they proved to be of no value, I decided to use CUTICURA SOAP, and in six weeks I was entirely rid of them.

HENRY P. DAHLKE, 6111 So. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill.

My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. Some would heal red, and others would be full of white matter. The blackheads would be all over my face. I spent about ten dollars for soaps, medicines, etc., but they never did me any good. I tried CUTICURA SOAP, and it only took three cakes to cure my face. JOSEPH B. "Let parents not live for their children, but with them." The mother should allow no false modesty to stand in the way of her daughter's knowledge of herself, of her possibilities, of her perils. It works directly upon the delicate, distinctly feminine organs, in a natural, soothing way. It searches out the weak spots and builds them up. A woman who would understand herself should sent 31 cents to the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y., for Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, a book of 1008 pages.

IN A PRIZE FIGHT

Frank Martin Received a Fatal Blow in the Third Round.

Albany, N. Y., May 4.—Frank Martin, better known as "Young James," and Frank Henry, both of Albany, were to go six rounds as a preliminary here to-night. The principals, all local men, were arrested and will be arraigned to-morrow morning.

CONSTERNATION.

A Darning Needle was the Cause of the Trouble.

A Man is Usually Looking for a Pocket That is Worth While Picking but a Woman is Different.

According to the story of an aged resident of Fitzroy, Ont., he well remembers the time when there was but one darning needle in that county, and the only mill was a day's journey distant.

One day a Mrs. Dickson, who chanced to have temporary possession of the darning needle and had it carefully stuck in her apron in a holder set off for the mill with a bag of grain laid on the back of a horse.

The good lady had a rough road to travel and unfortunately lost the darning needle. This was really a public calamity in Fitzroy. Nearly 20 housewives depended upon that darning needle for repairing socks and for other coarse mending. It passed from one house to another by special messenger, and every woman had the use of it one day in three weeks. Another darning needle could not then be procured nearer than Perth, a distance of 50 miles away.

Tidings of the disaster which had befallen Mrs. Dickson soon spread, and on the following morning a dozen women, some of them accompanied by their children and some by their husbands, turned out to search three miles of forest path. It seemed a hopeless task, but keen eyes were bent upon every portion of the highway, and at length one little girl espied it. A great shout was raised, and the good news was carried along the line of searchers. The party returned home, and the rejoicings in newly-settled Fitzroy that day were great.

THEY ARE MEANER

Female Pickpockets are far More Remorseless Than Men.

There was Only One in the County and the Lady who had it Lost it While Going to the Mill

"A woman pickpocket is a meaner thief than a man in the same line," said Detective Thomas McQuaide. "A man is usually looking for a pocket that is worth while picking and one that will not miss what is taken, but with a woman it is different. She plies her calling among women who can ill afford to lose a dollar. The female pickpocket hangs around the market houses, large stores and places of that sort. She is consciousless. She will steal the purse of a poor woman who is buying food for her family, perhaps take from her a week's income and leave the family in want for that period.

"The professional female pickpocket will do more. She may find in the purse she steals a few trinkets of trifling value, a pin or a locket containing a lock of hair, a child's ring, worn, may be, by a little one that is dead, worthless to her, but priceless to the owner. She will immediately take the money and throw the purse and trinkets down the nearest sewer opening, where they are lost forever. Money cannot be identified; the purse and trinkets could.

"I recall with satisfaction an incident in which a female pickpocket figured. She stole the purse of a poor old woman and I arrested her shortly after the act. She had disposed of the purse before I got her. There had been about $7 in cash in it and a small piece of jewelry that belonged to a dead child of the woman. The poor woman would have willingly given the thief the money in the purse and more for the return of the keepsake, but it was lost to her beyond recovery.

"I worked up a fair case against the pickpocket. I got her in court, did my best to convict her, but because the purse was not found in her possession she was acquitted. Sympathy for a woman had much to do with the verdict, but there was no sympathy for the woman who had been robbed. It was with great regret that I saw the pickpocket walk out of the court room free.

"In the corridor she met one of the jurors. He smiled and she walked up to him and thanked him for the verdict. He assured her that that was unnecessary, for he never for a moment doubted her innocence. That evening he reported to the front office the loss of his gold watch. The woman had picked his pocket while thanking him for acquitting her. She got away from us.

"A female pickpocket I had recently was boarding in a house down on Ninth street. She would say grace before every meal, and she went to church at every opportunity. Her arrest was announced as an outrage by the family with whom she boarded. They believed her to be a religious woman. Her home is in Ireland. Her husband runs a small store there. She makes regular trips to the United States for the purpose of picking pockets, shoplifting and opening satchels. She had with her when we arrested her blank drafts on an English bank. She sent her stealings regularly to her husband in Ireland. She operates almost entirely among poor women. Jurors have so much misplaced sympathy when a woman is the prisoner that it is difficult to convict them, yet a professional female thief is the meanest of all thieves."

A woman may sometimes admit that she did wrong, but she will never admit that there wasn't a good excuse for it.

Despite all his refinement, the light and habitual taking of God's name in vain betrays a coarse and brutal will. —E. H. Chapin.
