Hon. E. S. Crosby, president of the Maine Farmers' Co-operative Association, speaking of the potato situation says: "I don't predict that potatoes will go as high or higher than a year ago, but I do believe that the farmers are going to get $1 a bushel with very little trouble."

In Woodstock last week potatoes sold at $1.20 a barrel, but only one concern bought at this price and stored all brought in for future shipment, looking for a higher price than prevails now. Other dealers are paying $1.10 a barrel for immediate shipment.

Alice in Wonderland entertainments netted the Baseball Association $200.

There was a good crop of potatoes in this county, but in some sections there are reports of rot. One farmer, in a lot of 300 barrels picked over, found thirty bad barrels.

The town council last night passed the Scott act accounts after considerable discussion. From figures presented it would show $800 collected and over $900 expended on Scott act account. One lawyer's bill was $350 in conducting cases for the town. Many of the councillors are outspoken in condemning the methods used in the enforcement of the act and say that police records will show an increase in drunkenness which would indicate a corresponding increase in the sale of liquor. Some interesting developments are looked for at the public meeting at the close of the year, when the present council retires.
