The Pavement.

Mr. Fisher has made a good early start this spring on the work connected with the paving of Main street and it is to be hoped nothing will be wanting to enable him to push the work on rapidly so as to complete it this fall. Last year the work was not commenced so early and there were a great many delays owing to various causes so that a great deal less than half the work was done. Altogether 13,000 yards of blocks were laid and it will take about 2,0000 yards more to pave the street to the head of Indiantown hill. It has not yet been decided whether it will be advisable to pave that hill or not. It is so steep that it is feared that a pavement would make it too slippery for horses. The director of public works is communicating with persons in other cities where hills are paved and is getting all possible information on the matter.

A large section of Main street between Sheriff street and Douglas avenue is now excavated and ready for the pavement, with the exception of the laying of the curbing, and the excavators were at work to-day opposite Kelly and Murphy's where the work of paving was stopped last fall. Mr. Fisher expects a supply of blocks and planks to arrive in a few days, and as soon as they do he will lay them down and carry the work forward as rapidly as possible.

The Lunenburg fishing fleet are about nearly all fitted; and many of the vessel have sailed. There have been quite a number of new ones added—all first class both as regards model and construction, manned by the most expert fishermen in the world. Lunenburg is the Gloucester of Canada and will soon outstrip her rival over the line. Should they get short of bait, our boys will be apt to give our Newfoundland cousins some trouble, if they, in the meantime don't make up their minds to act more neighborly towards Canadian fishermen.—Halifax Herald.

THE WEYMOUTH FREE PRESS SAYS: Mrs. Hutchinson, of Upper Rossway, a lady upwards of 80 years of age, had for some time been missing some of her hens from a hen house near by. A few days ago she went to the coop to make an investigation. She was met at the door by a large skunk, which on seeing her, used its well known weapon by assaulting Mrs. H. in her face. The old lady although blinded at first, gave chase and did not stop until she had dashed out the brains of the trespasser against the wall of the coop.

WILL HAVE TO FIGHT AGAIN.

It appears that the Weir-Griffin matter is not ended yet.

After the unsatisfactory mill which terminated in a draw at Nantasket Beach it was naturally concluded that the men would divide the purse of $1100 offered by the Ajax Club. All who saw the meeting were satisfied that Weir was a loser, and he was the recipient of many congratulations on his luck in getting half the money with a sound whipping.

When the men called for their cash, however, they were met with the information that they had not earned it and that to win the coin they must fight to a finish. Griffin, accompanied by his friend and adviser, John Norton, had an interview with Larry Killian on their return from the battle-ground, and they were in no pleasant mood. Griffin was galled by his tough luck. He made no complaint, however, and was prepared to accept the inevitable with as good grace as possible. When informed of Killian's decision with reference to the purse money he was frantic.

He was astonished at the decision of the powers that be, but he consented to go on and fight on Wednesday night if the money was put up. He contended, though, that he should be paid the purse should Weir refuse to fight again. This Killian wouldn't consent to, and he also refused to agree to give Griffin half the purse should the fight not be finished.

Weir called at Killian's later in the evening, and, when told of the decision of the directors, was struck dumb. He said he wasn't in condition to fight Wednesday, that he postively couldn't fight. He wanted his half of the purse, though, and he said he "wanted it bad" He didn't get it, and went away disconsolate.

Among the Shipping.

THE ALBERTA—A Rockland despatch of the 26th inst., says: Tug Sea King arrived from St. John yesterday, and this morning started for Windsor, Nova Scotia, having in tow the British schooner Alberta, which has been in this harbor the past few months with her cargo of lime on fire. She has been surveyed, and it was deemed advisable to scuttle, which will be done upon arrival at Windsor.

THE GEORGIA REPAIRED.—Schooner Georgia, Longmire, from St. John, Feb. 24 for Las Palmas, which put into Fayal on March 30 leaking in her upper works and with her bulwarks damaged, discharged her deck load and completed repairs on April 14 and was ready to proceed on April 18.

NEW SCHOONER.—Messrs. Merritt's new three masted schooner being built at Moss Glen will be launched about the last of May.

ITALIAN BARK RAZETO arrived here yesterday afternoon from Bristol. She had fine weather all the passage, with the exception of three days head winds, which commenced March 14th. The passage was made in 48 days.

THE ANTOINETTE ARRIVES.—The bark Antoinette, Captain Robertson, arrived here yesterday afternoon from Montevidio and was docked at Rodney slip, Carleton. She made the passage up in 40 days and had continual fine weather.

Feb. 16th., the Antoinette, while on a voyage from Rio Janeiro for Valparaiso for orders, put into Montivedeo in distress. Off Cape Horn she had experienced a succession of terrific gales, in which she was badly damaged. All her sails were split and the hull badly started. In lat. 58.30 s, and lon. 70 w., the gales commenced and for 16 days continued with hurricane force. Captain Robertson made three attempts to get his vessel around the cape, but each time was driven back. He says that in his 25 years experience at sea he never encountered such weather.

On Feb. 1st., at night, a huge sea swept everything movable from the vessel's decks and started the hull. The sea lifted the starboard anchor breaking the buffalo, and swept up over the topsail yards. Captain Robertson had just turned in before the monstrous sea came on board, and felt the vessel working as if all the iron work had been started. The crew were prepared for a struggle for life, for it was never expected that she would weather the next sea. After this the gale moderated somewhat and the vessel was headed for Montevidio, where she arrived after a 13 days passage from the vicinity of the gales. The distance to Stanley would have been shorter, but as there was no cable communication from that place it was thought better to run for Montevidedo.

The extent of the Antoinette's damages are not known. She is to be placed on the block's here for repairs.

A GOOD PIECE OF TOWING.—Tug Sea King arrived at Partridge Island yesterday afternoon from Rockland with the three masted schooner Alberta in tow. At the Island the tug cast off her tow lines and the schooner proceeded under sail to Hantsport. The run from Rockland to the Island was made in the quick time of 27 hours. The cargo of lime in the Alberta is to be taken out at Hantsport and used for fertilizing purposes.
