Poetry.

NOT TO MYSELF ALONE.

"Not to myself alone,"
The lark, upsoaring above the sunbeams, cries,
"Not to myself alone do I beat and bloom;
Not to myself wearily this bosome I perfume,
Amid human dwellings with my rainbow dyes,
The bee comes sharing every sweetness,
The dusty fly,
The butterfly within my cool shade hides
From threatening ill."

The flower, dew-wet with tears, yields such boast:
"Not to myself alone I rise and set:
Unlike rich wealth I distribute all yet,
Hence with glad skill who decked our mayden host:
I blandly beam at Heaven's eyes gate.
I gem the sky,
That man's sight on it forget in every fate,
His hope on high."

"Not to myself alone."
The honey-laden bee doth murmuring hum:
"Not to myself alone from flower to flower
I roam the wood, the garden and the bower,
And to the hive at evening weary come:
For thus, for them the luscious food I pile
With busy care,
Content if he enjoy my cheerless toil
With sonty share."

"Not to myself alone,"
The morning bird with lusty pinion sings—
"Not to myself alone I raise my song—
I cheer the drooping with my warbling tongue,
And bear the mourner on my viewless wings—
I bid the hymnless chant my anthem learn,
And God store—
I call the worldling from his dross to turn,
And sing and soar,"

"Not to myself alone,"
The streamlet whispers on its pebbly way—
"Not to myself alone I sparkling glide—
I scatter health and life on every side,
And strew the fields with herb and new ret gay:
I sing unto the coolsome bleak and bare
My gladsome tune;
I sweeten and refresh the languid air
In doughty June."

"Not to thyself alone"—
O man, forget not thou—earth's honoured priest,
Its tongue, its soul, its life, its pulse, its heart—
In earth's great chorus to sustain your part!
Chiefest of guests at love's ungrudging feast,
Play not the niggard, spurn thy native clod,
And self disown—
Live to thy neighbour, live unto thy God—
Not to thyself alone!

CHILD AND MOTHER.

In her ivy-porch, by snatches,
Lily's mother works and watches.
Hours after her merry humming,
Looks and sees her Lily coming,
Mark her toddling, slowly, slowly,
Down the green hill-side,
With her little net filled wholly,
And her lap beside.
Berries, apples, buds, and posies,
Glossy feathers, dewy roses,
All her wealth the child discloses;
And her mother sees,
While she gazes, smiles, and praises,
Those and more than these,
Sees the little eyes beam brightly,
And the forehead lifted lightly,
And a look of pleasure spreading
Over cheek and brow, and shedding
Beauty better than all other.
Happy Lily! happy mother!

VARIETY.

A French writer gives the following description of English etiquette:—"It is not etiquette to blow one's nose, to spit, to sneeze. What is one to do? Is it etiquette to have a cold? It is not etiquette to talk loud, even in Parliament; to walk in the middle of the street; to run to get out of the way of a carriage. You must let yourself be run over. It is not etiquette to close a letter with a wafer, for then people say that you send them your spittle; or to write without an envelope. Neither is it etiquette to go to the opera with the smallest flower or stripe upon your waistcoat or gravat; or to eat soup twice; or bow first to a lady; or to ride in an omnibus; or to go to an evening party before ten or eleven o'clock, or to a ball before midnight; or to drink beer at dinner without immediately returning the glass to the servant. It is not etiquette not to shave every day (the majority of Frenchmen, it must be remembered, never wash their face but when they shave, and shave, if at all, but every second day), or to be hungry, or to offer to drink to a person of high rank, or to be surprised when the ladies leave the table at the dessert. To wear black in the morning or colored clothes in the evening, is not etiquette. To address a lady without adding her Christian name, to speak to a person to whom you have not been introduced, to knock gently at a door, to have a splash of mud on your boots, no matter how bad the weather; to have copper (penny) in your pocket, to wear your hair cut short, or a grey hat, a silk handkerchief, a decoration, a great beard, or even a little one—all that is quite contrary to etquette."

A Hungry-Carpet Bag.—The Buffalo Express relates an amusing incident which occurred at Erie a few days since. A gentleman, left Cleaveland for New York at an early hour in the morning, without his breakfast, and being very hungry, upon the arrival of the train at Erie, entered the dining room, and placing his carpet bag upon a chair, sat down beside it and commenced a valorous attack upon the viands placed before him. By and by the proprietor of the establishment came around to collect fares and upon reaching our friend, ejaculated, "Dollar, sir!" responded the eating man, "a dollar—thought you only charged fifty cents a meal for one—eh?" "That is true," said Meanness, but I count your carpet bag one, since it occupies a seat." (The table was far from being crowded) Our friend expostulated, but the landlord insisted, and the dollar was reluctantly brought forth. The landlord passed on. Our friend deliberately arose and opened his carpet bag, full in its wide mouth, discoursed unto it saying "Carpet bag, is seems you're an individual—a human individual, since you eat—at least I've paid for you, and now you must eat,"—upon which he inlaid everything eatable within his reach, cake, raisins, apples, cakes, pies, and amid the roar of the bystanders, the delight of his brother passengers, and the discomfiture of the landlord, phlegmatically went, and took his seat in the cars. He said he had provisions enough to last him to New York, after a bountiful supply had been served out in the cars. There was at least $3 worth in the bag—upon which the landlord realized nothing in the way of profit. So much for meanness.

A Compliment to the Ladies.—Walter Savage Landor, now residing at Bath, England, in his 81st year, became acquainted with Lady Blessington, in Florence in 1823. In Madden's Life and Correspondence of that lady, just published, we find several letters of Landor's. We make the following extract from one of them. He writes to Lady B. "Cannot you teach those about you to write somewhat more purely? I and very fastidious. Three days ago I was obliged to correct a friend of mine, a man of fashion, who so far forgot the grace, as to say of a lady, "I have not often been in her company." "Say presence" we are in the company of men, in the presence of angles and of women."

The Albany Knickerbocker says, some very splendid valentines were sent out this year. A young lady in North Pearl street received one—valued at twenty dollars. So much for being rich and handsome. Had she been a poor girl, with yellow hair, her valentine would have been a half sheet of foolscap and a lamb's header. Funny world this. 'To those who have much more shall be given', &c. Jack Gosser, according to Matthew, and when found, turn down a leaf.

A Cure for Rheumatism.—Take 1 quart alcohol, 4 oz. fell beef's gall, 1 oz. oil origanum, 1 oz. camphor gum. These should be mixed and well shaken together. Any druggist can make the above for about 50 cents. It may be applied by rubbing it with with rag or sponge, and should be well rubbed in. Care should be taken that the parts on which it is applied do not get wet while using this liniment.

The Subscriber having been appointed Agent to the above Company for New-Brunswick, begs to announce that he is prepared to receive Proposals for FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE. The large Capital of the Company, and the number and influence of its Proprietors, enable it to rank with the most eligible Offices, either in America or Europe, with respect to the advantages offered to the Public.

FIRE BRANCH.

Persons Assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or other, nor do they depend on any uncertain fund or contribution, the Capital Stock of this Company being an undoubtable security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

LIFE BRANCH.

In addition to the more customary methods of Insurance, the Company likewise Assures Lives on any of the following contingencies:—

For the terms of One Year, Seven Years, or any other definite period.

For the whole continuance of Life.—The Premiums to cease, after a limited number of Annual Payments.

For Two Joint Lives.—The sum assured to be paid on the death of either.

On the longest of Two or Three Lives.—The sum assured to be payable at the death of the last survivor; or,

The Survivorships.—To secure the payment of the sum assured, if a life A die before another life B.

For a sum to be payable at age 60, or at death.

Premiums on Credit.—A portion of the Premiums on Credit. Assurances may be effected in various ways, not enumerated, to meet the convenience of parties.

The important advantages afforded by the Company in the Life Branch will include the following viz:—

The Guarantee of an ample Capital, and Exemption of the Assured from liability of Partnership.

Moderate Premiums.

Large Participation of Profits by the Assured amounting to Two-thirds of its net amount, which may be applied at the option of the party effecting the Assurance:—1st. By the immediate payment of the sum so apportioned.—2nd. By an equivalent increase of the sum assured.

Small Charge for Management.—The expenses of the Office being borne in due proportion by the two Branches.

Prompt Settlement of Claims.

Policies lapsed by non-payment of the Premium may be renewed within three months, by paying the premium, with a fine of 10s. per cent., on the production of evidence to the satisfaction of the Directors of the good health of the life assured.

The Company will always be prepared to Purchase the Policies of this Office at their equitable value or will grant a New Policy in lieu thereof without any further payment of Premium, for a sum to be agreed on.

Extra Premiums, suitable to special circumstances, will be accepted to enable a party possessing a Policy on the life of another to guard against the possibility of its being vitiated by the Life departing beyond limits, or by any other cause.

Thirty Days are allowed for the Payment of Premiums after the day on which they respectively

Additional Advantages offered to Lives Assured with this Company at St. John, N. B.

I.—RESIDENCE.—Persons assured for the whole term of life will have permission, without the payment of extra Premium, to reside in any part of Europe, or in any place in North America to the north of 38 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

II.—VOYAGES.—They will also, if not seafaring by profession, be allowed, without any extra charge—

To cross and re-cross the eAtlantic Ocean, in steamers or first class sailing-vessels;

To pass from any part of Europe to any other, or from any part of North America to another, within the limits above specified; also,

To pass to and from, but not to reside in any place which shall not be further south than 35 degrees of North Latitude, but not to the westward of the Mississippi River.

FRIEND OF THE CANADIAN!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE FOR ASTHMA!!
OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY FIVE YEARS OF AGE.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Weston, (Book Store,) Toronto, dated the 9th October, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—Gratitude compels me to make known to you the extraordinary benefit an aged parent has derived from the use of your Pills. My mother was afflicted for upwards of four and twenty years with asthma and spitting of blood, it was quite agony to see her suffer and hear her cough; I have often declared that I would give all I possessed to have cured her; but although I paid a large sum for medicine and advice, it was all to no purpose. About three months ago, I thought perhaps your Pills might benefit her, at all events I resolved to give them a trial, which I did; the result was marvellous; by slow degrees my mother became better, and after persuring your remedies for nine weeks, she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health, although seventy five years old.

I remain, Sir, your oblignd,
(Signed) THOMAS WESTON.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DROPSY!!
AFTER BEING TAPPED THREE TIMES.

Copy of a Letter from Anthony Smith, Esq., Halifax, Nova Scotia, dated 26th August, 1854.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—I desire to add my testimony to the value of your Pills, in cases of dropsy. For nine months I suffered the greatest torture with this dreadful complaint; was tapped three times, and finally given up by the doctors; having become in appearance as a skeleton, and with no more strength in me than a child just born. It was then that I bought of trying your Pills, and immediately sent for a quantity, and commenced using them. The result I can scarcely credit even now, although true it is. After using them for four weeks, I felt much better, and by persevering with them, at the expiration of two months, I was completely cured. I have since enjoyed the best of health.

I am, Sir, yours sincerely,
(Signed) ANTHONY SMITH.

ASTONISHING CURE OF GENERAL DEBILITY AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

Copy of a Letter from James Reeves of Charlottetown, Prince Edwards Island, dated 17th Nov., 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I am happy to say that your Pills have restored me to health after suffering for nine years from the most intense general debility and langour, my liver and bowels were also much deranged for the whole of that time. I tried many medicines, but they were no good to me, until I had recourse to your Pills, by taking which and following the printed directions for seven weeks I was cured, after every other means failed to the astonishment of my neighbours, acquaintances and friends. I shall ever feel grateful to you for this astonishing restoration to health, and will recommend your Pills to all sufferers, feeling it my duty to do so.

I remain Sir, your humble servant,
(Signed) WILLIAM REEVES.
