CANADIAN TROOPS FOR THE TRANSVAAL

French-Canadian Militia Men Are Generally in Favor of the Proposal.

WOULD GIVE EXPERIENCE

Which Would Be Valuable to the Whole Militia—Sir Charles Tupper Booms the Idea.

THE ANTIPODEANS ARE IN AHEAD.

Queensland and New Zealand Will Have Fighters at Cape Town by October 31.

Montreal, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The officers of the Canadian militia force are still advocating sending men to the Transvaal. The French-Canadians are particularly interested. Lieut.-Col. Charles Darmur, commanding officer of the 76th Battalion of Beauharnois, says: "From a military point of view, I think it would be a good thing for the Canadian militia to send a contingent to the Transvaal. They would acquire a good deal of valuable experience, which would benefit the force later on. A number of officers and men of my battalion have spoken to me on the matter, and I am sure that some of them will enlist in any body which may be raised here."

The 86th Has Men Ready.

Major Carriere of the 86th Battalion: "There is certainly a strong feeling among the men of our battalion in favor of enlisting for service in the Transvaal. Certainly, fully 60 men have spoken to me on the matter, and seem only too anxious to go. They want to see some active service, and are tired with only shamming military life. It seems to be a desire on their part to enlist, and the moment the word is given I am sure the 86th will give a good account of itself."

The 85th Will Furnish Men.

Capt. A. Lippe, 85th Battalion: "I have already offered, as was stated by the newspapers, to form a battalion and go to the Transvaal. My firm opinion and belief is that it would be very easy to recruit a complete battalion of French-Canadians in a very short time. In twenty-four hours' notice I am ready to form a first-class company of able-bodied and devoted men to fight under the British flag."

It Would Be a Good Thing.

Lieut.-Col. Huges, Superintendent of Police, said: "I am heartily in favor of the project of sending a contingent of Canadian troops to the Transvaal. It will be a good thing for those who go, from military point of view, and the militia generally will benefit by the experience which they will acquire. This will be especially the case with the officers. Canadians have not had any genuine experience since 1885 in the Northwest. It is a good thing that they should be called out now and again. I am sure the French-Canadians will answer the call, which may be made in good numbers."

A Splendid Opportunity.

Major Z Hebert, R.O., late of the 65th, said: "It would be a splendid thing for the Canadian militia to have an opportunity of taking part in the Transvaal military operations. It would give those who want it a great deal of experience which they would never acquire here, especially from the point of military discipline. There is no doubt but that an appeal would meet with a hearty response, especially from French-Canadians, who by nature love adventures such as that would be. They would join in large numbers, and the militia would benefit by their experience.

French Canadians Should Enlist.

Lieut. Aldelard Ouimet, 65th Battalion: "Should hostilities occur, as a military man I think the French-Canadians should enlist. It would prove to the English-speaking people how we have at heart the defence of our rights as British subjects, and even more so in the case of an appeal for volunteers from the imperial authorities. I really think the French-Canadians would enlist in large numbers to defend the British flag. What has been seen at Sebastopol, when the French and English troops were fighting side by side, the occasion being an harmonious understanding between the two greatest countries of the civilized world? This episode of contemporary history would repeat itself. So that an appeal of this kind from the Imperial authorities would surely be a fine opportunity for French-Canadians to demonstrate to the purely English element that when the British flag calls for a general rally we are always ready to "Fall in, rank and file."

HORSE MARKET IMPROVING.

Active Demand at Ottawa for the Right Stamp of Animals for Export.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—The report that Great Britain has begun to buy horses and mules for South Africa has an effect on the local horse market. There is now an active demand for sound horses between 5 and 9 years of age. This demand cannot be well met in Ottawa district, owing to scarcity. Good prices are offered for animals meeting the requirements. Mr. William Harrison, a local horse dealer, says that large shipments from Montreal are being made regularly. Most of this stock comes from the west. The British agents in Montreal are severe in their examinations, and no stock except the best is accepted.

SIR CHARLES BOOMS IT.

The Time Has Come for Canada to Offer a Corps of Sharpshooters From the Militia.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 5.—In an address at the Yarmouth Fair this afternoon, Sir Charles Tupper spoke of the situation in South Africa, saying that Great Britain had shown great patience in dealing with the Boers, but they evidently were under the delusion that the English were really afraid of them. The struggle was imminent. He expressed the opinion that the time had come for Canada to offer the services of a body of sharp-shooters from the Dominion militia, unsurpassed as they were as marksmen by any in the world. In view of what England had done for Canada and what Canada expected her to do, the people of this country could not afford to be idle spectators of the struggle. He had taken the responsibility to-day of telegraphing to the Premier of the Dominion the hope that the body of Canadian volunteers would be offered for service in South Africa, and assuring him, not only of his support, but of the belief that the project would have the enthusiastic support of all Canadians. Sir Charles expressed his satis-

Boer Troops Under Orders Not to Attack Unless Armed British Attempt to Cross the Border.

Martial Law in Force and the Johannesburg Exchange Is Closed—Scare Reports, Evidently to Affect the Market, Are Unfounded—Peace Influences at Work.

London, Oct. 6.—While there is no diminution in the flood of despatches from South Africa recording with almost tiresome iteration the military preparations and movements of both sides, with all kinds of accurate and inaccurate rumors and speculations, the real situation remains unchanged. It is evident that strong efforts are still being made to preserve peace simultaneously with determined energy to be prepared for any emergency.

More Reserves to Be Called.

It is expected that 5000 reserves will be called out to-morrow, and that an army corps will be mobilized on the 15th or the 20th of the month.

In the meantime it is interesting to note that neither side shows anxiety to precipitate a conflict, but is rather inclined to give opportunity for the play of peace influences.

What Does This Mean.

The mysterious visit of Count Muravieff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, to San Sebastian, where he saw the Queen Regent and the King of Spain, had long conferences with Senor Silvela, the Spanish Premier, occupies political minds. From Spain Count Muravieff will go to Paris. Russia's attitude in the Transvaal matter is common knowledge. Germany is officially neutral, but Emperor William's famous telegram to President Kruger is not forgotten, and this, added to France's bitterness since the Fashoda affair, and Spain's resentment of England's attitude during the Hispano-American war, sets the people asking what the motives for Count Muravieff's tour are.

NO RESISTANCE AT NEWCASTLE.

Premier of Natal Said the Women and Children Should Be Sent Away.

London, Oct. 5.—From other Newcastle advices it appears that the Premier of Natal had said to the military authorities that they can render Newcastle no assistance, adding that if the Boers intend to attack the town resistance would be futile, and the women and children should be sent away and the town surrender.

An unconfirmed report says that martial law has been proclaimed in the Transvaal.

A despatch from Johannesburg says the regular distribution of letters has ceased.

The Transvaal Government has commandeered all dynamite and cyanide supplies, which have been removed and placed under strict guard at various depots. A strong guard has been stationed at the reservoir to prevent tampering with the water.

Roasted the Anti-British Irish.

An enthusiastic meeting of Irishmen was held last evening in Kimberley, under the presidency of a former mayor of the town, at which resolutions were unanimously adopted expressing disapproval of the conduct of Irishmen who sympathized with the Boers, and of the course of the Irish Parliamentary party in extending sympathy and support to the Transvaal in the present crisis.

No General Advance Expected.

A despatch from Newcastle, Natal, filed this morning at 9.10 says: "Telegraphic communication with Charlestown is open, the Boer command at Sandspruit was reinforced yesterday, but no general advance is expected."

This information is important, as it contradicts the Alarmists despatch of The Daily Telegraph, which was timed at noon yesterday.

Nothing New Develops.

Nothing new has developed as to the Transvaal situation since morning. The Daily Telegraph's dispatch of this morning, announcing that the Boers had invaded Natal and seized Laing's Nek, now seems to be without foundation. The Government has received nothing to justify the report, although such a move would cause little surprise.

British Position Strengthened

The British position in Natal was considerably strengthened by the arrival today of Indian transports with reinforcements of about 2500 infantry and cavalry, all of which will be promptly sent to the front by trains, and with their arrival at Glencove and Ladysmith to-morrow the British advanced camps and lines of communication will be practically safeguarded against the risk of a successful dash across the frontier by the Boers.

No Sudden Invasion.

The military authorities apparently no longer fear the massing of the Boers along the border, and in fact, it has been provided that the Boers shall not make a sudden invasion in the territory. The Natal authorities are rather pleased with this because they argue the tension of waiting will tell severely on the Boers' discipline, and moreover they will exhaust what little forage there is on the border, and be compelled to fall back on their base, because in view of the ineffective commisariat they are unwilling to advance into Natal, leaving behind them a foliage-less veldt.

West Australia Too.

A despatch from Perth, capital of West Australia, announces that the Government of the colony has decided to despatch a West Australian contingent to the Cape.

The Queensland Contingent.

Brisbane, Oct. 5.—The Colonial Government has received instructions from London that the Queensland contingent for South Africa must be despatched before Oct. 31.

KRUGER WANTS TO FIGHT.

The Old Man Does Not Like Being Kept From the Field by the Executive.

London, Oct. 6.—A special despatch from Pretoria says that President Kruger expresses himself strongly as being prevented by the Executive from going to the front. He is reported to have said: "Some people say I am the cause of the present trouble, and I want to take my share of fighting with my people." The same despatch announces that Commandant Gen. Joubert's wife has started to join her husband on the border. Heavy rains have fallen and the Sandspruit River is flooded.

Hofmeyer's Mission.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Chronicle furnishes little further light upon the obscurity of the movements of Mr. Hofmeyer, the Afrikander leader. The correspondent admits that the report of a conference between Hofmeyer and Sir Alfred Milner on Tuesday, and the departure of Mr. Hofmeyer was premature; but says the conference actually occurred on Wednesday, and it is believed that no direct result was attained. "The Rhodesians," continues the correspondent, "are spreading the report that Mr. Hofmeyer is unwilling to attempt a settlement, but this is inaccurate. He is far from well, but is anxious to mediate on the lines I have already indicated." From this it appears that Mr. Hofmeyer has not started on a mission of mediation.

Hoax on a Hotel Man.

The Times' Pretoria correspondent supplies an explanation of the reported arrival of Mr. Hofmeyer and Mr. Schreiner, the Premier of Cape Colony, by alleging that it was a hoax, perpetrated on the proprietor of a hotel, by an individual, who ordered rooms and supper for Messrs. Hofmeyer and Schreiner.

Pietermaritzburg Is Secure Now.

The Pietermaritzburg correspondent of The Times confirms the report that enough Indian troops have arrived to make the military situation secure, and says the authorities declare that further negotiations regarding military movements should be suppressed, as valuable information has already leaked to the Boers through the London newspapers.

Boers Are Too Severe.

A despatch to The Times from Lobatski, near Mafeking, says it is a remarkable fact that the natives there declare they will not fight for the Transvaal, but will in preference cross the border, because the Boers are too severe, and are always punishing them.

THE NEWS IS CONTRADICTORY

It Really Does Look as If the News Wires Were in the Hands of Stock Jobbers.

London, Oct. 5.—Although to-day's news from South Africa is unmistakably grave, the advocates of peace still derive a glimpse of hope from some of the despatches that the stage of negotiation is not yet finally terminated.

The news is contradictory. Side by side with the announcement that the Boers have occupied Laing's Nek is printed a despatch from Pretoria, stating that the Transvaal Government has issued strict injunctions to the commandants that British territory must not be invaded, and that Commandant General Joubert has issued a proclamation, threatening to shoot any man who crosses the border.

Is There Anything in the Mission.

Scarcely had the advocates of peace exchanged congratulations over the announcement from Pretoria that Mr. J. H. Hofmeyer, the Afrikander leader, and Mr. W. P. Schreiner, the Cape Premier, had undertaken a joint semi-official peace mission and had actually started for Pretoria, where they ought to have arrived last evening, when later messages from the Transvaal capital declared that the Boer Government knew nothing of this alleged mission and that in any event nothing could preserve peace but the withdrawal of the British demands. While it is not necessary to accept all the sensational statements regarding the advance of the Boers, there is not a jot of evidence going to show that the burghers contemplate receding. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon nothing has arrived to confirm the despatch from Newcastle to The Daily Telegraph announcing that a general advance or the Boer forces began yesterday. The War Office and the Colonial Office profess entire ignorance in the matter.

£1,000,000 in Danger Now.

It is reported that another Rand shipment of bullion to the value of £1,000,000 is in danger of confiscation by the Transvaal authorities.

Another Cruiser at Durban.

Durban, Natal, Oct. 5.—The British cruiser Philae has arrived in the harbor.

Situation at Cape Town.

Intelligence from Cape Town includes an official denial of the rumor that the British have crossed the Transvaal frontier near Kimberley. There is a very definite feeling throughout the Cape that the British delay in forwarding reinforcements is very dangerous. The utmost enthusiasm prevails and many are anxious to place their services at the disposal of the Government. Some of the refugees from Johannesburg now in Cape Town are resorting to acts of violence, smashing windows and thieving. It is expected, that, although the Dutch in Cape Colony are likely to remain quiet in ordinary circumstances, they will join their brethren of the Orange Free State in case the Basutos commence hostilities.

NEWS FAKIRS AT WORK SOON.

A Story That Boers Have Laing's Nek, Loaded on The Daily Telegraph, is Denied.

London, Oct. 5.—The Daily Telegraph publishes in its second edition this morning a despatch from Newcastle, Natal, dated yesterday, announcing that the Boer advance began yesterday with a general movement of artillery. The despatch continues: "The Boers are occupying Laing's Nek and now hold the mountains to the southwest of Volksrust. There are no British troops nearer than Ladysmith and preparations are being made to abandon Natal from the frontier to Glencoe.

"The inhabitants of Newcastle met today and decided not to attempt to defend the town in the event of a Boer advance in force. General Symons is prepared to evacuate within 24 hours. The people are crowding the trains for Ladysmith."

Here is the Denial.

Another Newcastle despatch forwarded later than that to The Daily Telegraph contradicts it and declares that all was quiet on the border last evening and that there was no sign of a Boer advance. The next news regarding this alleged invasion of Natal is awaited with anxious interest. The statement in The Daily Telegraph's special that there are no British troops nearer Newcastle than those at Ladysmith is obviously an error, as 3000 British troops are encamped at Dundee. The alleged Boer advance coincides curiously with simultaneous telegrams from various quarters regarding a Boer ultimatum and the expiration of the time limit last evening. A

CANADIAN PACIFIC STRIKE

President Shaughnessy Says the Trouble is Not Over the Question of Wages Alone.

MEN DEMAND OTHER CONCESSIONS

Which the Company Does Not Feel That It Would Be Right to Grant.

Montreal, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, speaking this morning about the strike which has taken place on the western division of the line among the machinists in the various car shops of the company, said that he had only been advised that the men had gone out at 6 o'clock last evening. "The strike," said Mr. Shaughnessy, "is not over the question of wages, but because the men have demanded some other concessions which the officials of the company do not think ought to be granted. I have no definite information as yet on the subject, but I do not think the trouble is likely to be of a very serious nature."

SITUATION IN WINNIPEG.

Men Are Confident and Are Getting Up a Program of Sports to Pass the Time Along.

Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The C.P.R. strike situation remains unchanged. The Machinists met behind closed doors, but the Press Committee stated that they had a larger meeting than expected, and that between 15 and 20 helpers and handmen, who were not out yesterday, did not go to work to-day. Advices received from all outside points indicate that men all left their places, and that up to date nobody has come to fill them. Those men whom the company secured during the last few weeks have all joined the strikers. The men say that if a conference is not soon arranged for, there are indications that the strike will become general. They cannot hold themselves responsible for what may happen at any time now. A committee has been appointed to organize football, cricket and baseball matches, smoking concerts and entertainments generally, during the strike. The strike will be conducted throughout in the most orderly manner.

The Ideal $3 Hat at Dineens'.

It must be evident to the most casual reader of The World that the hatters of Toronto are not banded together as a mutual admiration society. And this fact partly explains why Dineens' Special XXX $3 Derby hat is never offered or recommended by the other hatters as the best $3 Derby in the world. At Dineens', where the best hats of all the leading English and American designers are shown in the fullest variety, it is possible to fairly compare Dineens' Special XXX $3 Derbys with other fine hats. In ideal weight, quality, finish and style, Dineens' Special XXX $3 Derby is the peer of any hat in the world sold at $4.

The Clever Till-Tapper.

The sharpest till-tapper who ever visited the west end got away with about $35 from J. Butcher's grocery store at the corner of Queen and Soho-streets on Tuesday night. The stranger asked permission to use the telephone and pretended to ask for a number. He told the proprietor the line was in use and stood near the cash drawer ostensibly waiting for the line to become disengaged. He rung the telephone again and left the store apparently disgusted at having to wait so long. After he was gone the theft was discovered.

The faculty of University College entertained Prof. Pike at a farewell dinner in the old students' residence dining-room last night. Between 30 and 40 gentlemen were present, and Dr. Loudon was the chair. A very pleasant evening was spent, and all those who spoke expressed their regret at losing Prof. Pike, and added their good wishes for his future welfare. Dr. Pike has been associated with the University as a professor of chemistry for nearly 20 years, and he is now about to return to England to take up his residence there.

THIEVES AROUND GALT.

Cattle and Hides Have Been Stolen and There Is No Clue to the Robbers.

Galt, Oct. 5.—Cattle thieves have been operating on a wholesale scale in this neighborhood lately. Mr. J. M. Irwin, private banker here, who lives on his farm at Branchton, has lost two of the best in his herd, while Alex Carrick of the East River-road is poorer by three head. Others have also lost valuable animals, and there appears to be an organized gang at work. No clue to the thieves and no trace of the cattle.

Seven hides, valued at $35, were stolen from Stroud's tannery last night. The thieves broke a cellar window and got the hides without trouble. They had a heavy wagon, and the imprint of the tires was traced by Chief Ahern down the river road to Moffat's Siding, where the trail was lost. It is thought these thieves belong to the cattle stealing gang.

N. CLARKE WALLACE ON B.C. POLITICS

Thinks Semlin Government Will Go Down Before Session is Over.

JOE MARTIN A HOT NUMBER.

The Erstwhile Manitoba Fighter Stands Well With Laboring Men and is a Strong Man.

EULOGY OF SIR CHARLES H. TUPPER.

Mr. Wallace Is Against the Chinese—He Thinks Dominion Elections Will be on Very Soon.

Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Hon. N. Clarke Wallace was banqueted at the Cabinet Hotel to-night by fellow-Orangemen.

In an interview this afternoon, speaking of the political situation in British Columbia, he said he does not believe the present Government will be able to go through another session. He found Joseph Martin, who he said was a personal friend of his, very popular with the laboring classes, and that he will make things exceedingly warm for any Government to which he may be opposed. He believed the present Government found him perhaps a little too radical and watched for an opportunity to give him the shake, and, when it came, they gave it to him. He looks upon Joseph Martin as a very strong man.

He does not know whether the next election on the coast will be run on party lines or not. The Premier is a Coservative, and the leader of the Opposition is a Conservative. Should they adopt party lines, which one will represent the Conservative party?

Good Word for Sir C.H.Tupper.

He did not think Sir Charles H. Tupper would enter British Columbia politics, because he is too good a man to be allowed to cross out of Dominion politics. He said that he and Sir Hibbert had some differences of opinion over the Manitoba school question, yet he considers Sir Hibbert Tupper one of the cleverest men in Dominion politics. He has come to the conclusion from what he has seen of Chinese labor in British Columbia that there is no room for them on Canadian soil.

As to Dominion Politics.

Speaking of Dominion politics, he said that he found throughout the west strong feeling against the present Government at Ottawa. Asked as to when he thought the Dominion elections would come off, he said they would be here before another session of Parliament. He says that, should the Government appeal to the people, the people would consider it as a compliment, but this Government, he said, may not look upon it in that way, because they think they own the people. "But, if they know anything," he said, "they would appeal to the people at once, because their chances are getting weaker. At the last session of Parliament everything pointed to an election. It was the greatest carnival of spending money you ever saw. Money was spent in the most lavish manner. It was a great session for corporations to secure bonuses.

Favors Government Ownership.

He said he was not in favor of giving bonuses to the railways, but was a strong believer in Government ownership of railways, although he considered the time for that was somewhat distant. Still, the Government could exercise much more control over the railways than they do. He is also strongly in favor of municipal ownership of water works, electric light plants, etc. He proceeds east this evening.

Sign of an Early Election.

Mr. Sifton's organ published the following despatch to-day:

"This was the first day that Mr. Tarte was able to be in his office to do business since returning. Mr. Sifton had an interview with him in regard to St. Andrew's Rapids improvement, near Winnipeg. Another engineer of public works has been sent to Edmonton to relieve Mr. St. Laurent, engineer of the department, who is in charge of the building of a bridge there. Mr. St. Laurent prepared the plans for the St. Andrew's Rapids work, and he has been telegraphed for to come to Ottawa to make the necessary arrangements, preparatory to having the work gone on with at once."

Fine weather has prevailed to-day throughout the Dominion, except in British Columbia, where it has been showery. In the Northwest Territories it has been very warm. Elsewhere the temperature has been about normal.
