Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. Edward Schwartz, Ladysmith, Quebec writes: "I had nervous prostration; could not sleep, had frequent headaches and dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, was tired, exhausted and very irritable and nervous. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured it all and I cannot find words to express my thankfulness." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures in nature's way by forming rich, red blood and building up the system.

The manager of a shipyard is reported to have assembled his men in the time office and told them to vote in a municipal election as they pleased.

'In fact, I shan't tell you how I am going to vote,' he said, 'but after it is all over I shall have a barrel of beer brought into the yard ('Hear, hear,' shouted the men.) But I shan't tap it unless Mr. Blank gets in.''—Argonaut.

Constipation and Headache.

Mrs. R. Morrow, Bracebridge, Ont., writes: "For many years I was troubled constantly with constipation of the bowels and never got anything to do me the lasting good that has been obtained from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They also cured me of headaches and improved my general health very much." There is a place for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in every home as a cure for constipation, headache and indigestion.

A young lady who had returned from a tour through Italy with her father remarked that her father had liked all the Italian cities, but especially did he like Venice.

'Ah, Venice, to be sure,' said the friend to whom she was relating some of the adventures of their trip. 'I can readily understand that your father would prefer Venice, with its gondolas and St. Mark's and Michael Angelos—'

'Oh, no,' said the young lady; 'it wasn't that. But he could sit in the hotel, you know, and fish out of the window.

CHAS. E. SHARP.

Hawkshaw, N. B., Sept. 1st, 1905.

Pat, a miner, after struggling for years in a far-off Western mining district, finally giving up in despair, was about to turn his face eastward, when suddenly he struck it rich. Soon afterwards he was seen strutting along dressed in fine clothes. One day an old friend stopped him, saying: "And how are you, Pat? I'd like to talk to you.' Pat stretched himself proudly. 'If you want to talk with me, I'll see you in me office. I have an office now, and me hours is 9. m. in the mornin' to p.m. in the afternoon.

Do Your Ears Ring?

This is the beginning of Chronic Catarrh. If not checked, the result is deafness. A simple remedy that many physicians advise is to slowly inhale 'Catarrhozone' a few times each day. The soothing vapor of Catarrhozone cures the Catarrhal condition and hearing improves at once. Head noises, buzzing ears are cured. For Catarrhal deafness, throat, nose and lung catarrh there is probably no remedy so efficient.

Origins of Typhoid.

Doctor Seaton, the medical health officer of the county of Surrey, has made a special report on the prevalence of typhoid in that district of England. His conclusions are interesting. He says that it is doubtful whether even 10 per cent. of the cases can be attributed to the drinking of polluted or infected water. He believes that polluted and infected food are a much more frequent source of typhoid illness than is generally supposed. He refers to cases which it is impossible to connect with preceding cases, and suggests the possibility of origin from other bacilli than those which are regarded as the invariable specific causes of typhoid. Recent investigations in Germany show that patients may harbor typhoid-bacilli months after recovery from illness, and that persons in good health may be the host of the organism.

$100 00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of Grippe or acute Cold that a 25 cent box of Preventic will not break. How is this for an offer? The Doctor's supreme confidence in these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets—Preventics—is certainly complete. It's $100, against 25 cents—pretty big odds. And Preventics, remember, contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. Safe and sure for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cts. A. V. Rand.

Japanese Hotels.

Barring the bath, and perhaps the beds, Japanese hotels are delightful. All during your stay in their spotless precincts you are made to feel that you are an honored guest, Japanese etiquette is lavished upon you, and when you depart you are always given a token to remember your visit, usually a white coarse cotton towel with blue pictures printed on it. You must thank the little maid for this with an elaborate bow when you go, and the chorus of 'Sayo Nara' from all the hotel force gathered in the doorway will seem to have in it, not only the regret of good-by, as we interpret the words, but the deeper feeling which they really mean: 'If it must be that we must part.'

Doctors Fear Tonsilitis Outbreak.

Hundreds of cases are reported. If your throat is irritable and sore, gargle it three times daily with Nerviline and water. Then rub the throat and chest vigorously with Nerviline and put on a Nerviline Porous Plaster. Follow these instructions closely and you will avoid Tonsilitis, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble of every kind. Hundreds are preventing and curing their colds by this method and report it eminently satisfactory. Both Nerviline Plasters and Polson's Nerviline can be had from any dealer, 25c. each.

Clung to Her Hair.

How for this beauty business will lead us there's no divining.

One woman at least has been intent upon carrying it to the bitter end. Now this particular fair one is the wearer of a very becoming and costly 'transformation.' She was taken seriously ill, and imagined—erroneously as it turned out—that she was going to die. Lying in bed, she earnestly requested a feminine sharer of her secret to promise that she would be buried with the glory of her Titian-red coiffure undisturbed, finding it possible to face the prospect of death with philosophy, but not the prospect of ugliness.

The secret of growing old gracefully is evidently, well kept, for few people seem to acquire it, though we all need it.

It Has Killed Hundreds.

Strong purgatives have killed many a good man. Costiveness is bad—violent cathartics are worse. If bothered with stomach trouble or billiousness, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are so mild you can scarcely feel their action, yet so effective that the entire system is cleansed of wastes. Dr. Hamilton's Pills move the bowels gently, they tone the kidneys, assist digestion, clear the skin. For those subject to colds, biliousness, languor there is no better medicine. Try a 25c. box of Dr. Hamilton's Pill.

How She Kept Young.

Some one once asked a woman how it was that she kept her youth so wonderfully. Her hair was snowy white, she was 80 years old and her energy was waning, but she never impressed one with the idea of age, for her heart was still young in sympathy and interests.

And this was her answer: 'I knew how to forget disagreeable things. I tried to master the art of saying pleasant things. I did not expect too much of my friends. I kept my nerves well in hand, and did not allow them to bore other people. I tried to find any work that came to hand congenial.'

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. A. V. Rand.

Prince Louise is at the head of a movement to erect a world's tribute to Shakespeare. It is to cost $500,000, and the design is opened to the competition of artists of all English-speaking nations.

Due to Accident.

Do you know why it is that trousers to be smart, must have a crease down the leg? It was not always so. In fact, at one time such a crease marked a suit as ready-made, and was therefore a thing to be avoided. The change occurred thus. King Edward, then Prince of Wales, was on his way to Goodwood races in a carriage, when he had the misfortune to get a stain on his light-colored trousers. Rather than return home, he stoped at a big clothing establishment and obtained a suitable pair. Without waiting to have the crease ironed out, he proceeded on his way. So he appeared on the racecourse in creased trousers. This at once became the fashion, and has remained so ever since—for the Prince then set the fashion for the well-dressed men of London. He does so now to a great extent, and it is fortunate he is a careful dresser, or the consequences might be serious.

Remember that when the Stomach nerves fail or weaken, Dyspepsia or Indigestion must always follow. But, strengthen these same weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and then see how quickly health will again return. Weak Heart and Kidney nerves can also be strengthened with the Restorative, where Heart pains, palpitation, or Kidney weakness is found. Don't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Go to the cause of these ailments. Strengthen these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and get well. A simple, single test will surely tell. A. V. Rand.

Fruit Trees From Cutting.

Much thought is given to propagating fruit trees from cuttings. The materials are so easily obtained from one's own trees at no expense, and in contemplation the rooting and production of trees from cuttings are a mere walk-over. But the fact is that the rootings and production of fruit trees from cuttings are a most uncertain proceeding, and generally a failure. Not one in a hundred who attempts it succeeds, and no dependence whatever should be put in rootings. This applies to apples, pears, plums, cherries &c. It pleases many to stick in cuttings to try their luck, and there is no harm in this; but I would advise no one to defer planting fruit trees till they were secured from cuttings, as in the great majority of cases this time would never come.

Your Nerves are Weak.

You sleep badly, appetite is variable. You eat but gain no strength. Morning tiredness makes you wish night would come. When night comes refreshing sleep is hard to obtain. You're run down, your blood is thin and watery, your nerves have grown weak, the thought of effort wearies you. You need Ferrozone; it makes blood,—red, strong blood. An appetite? You'll eat everything and digest it too. Strength? That's what plenty of food gives. Ferrozone gives hope, vigor, vim, endurance. Use Ferrozone and get strong. Results are quick—cure is lasting. All dealers in 50c. boxes.

There is an obviously exaggerated report that the Kaiser has written to Lord Tweedmouth, the First Lord of the Admiralty, attempting to influence the admiralty to alter their naval policy in favor of German interests. The 'Times' is wrathy and says vigorously that if the honorary rank of Admiral, held by the Kaiser, is to be made an excuse for such private meddling in the problems of our national defence, it is high time such inter-dynastic compliments were abolished. A later despatch says the Kaiser did not refer to naval affairs.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her. Read her letter.

Mrs. J. A. Laliberte, of 34 Artillerie St., Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For six years I have been doctoring for female weakness, heart and nerves, liver and kidney trouble, but in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I can safely say I have found a cure.

"I was continually bothered with the most distressing backaches, headaches, and bearing-down pains, and I kept growing more and more nervous.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of all these distressing symptoms and made me a well woman. I would advise all suffering women, young or old, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, flint bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Even Her Blood Turned to Water.

When Dying of Pernicious Anaemia Her Life Was Saved by

..FERROZONE..

Probably very few cases are on record in which an absolute cure has been made of pernicious anaemia.

But Ferrozone did cure Miss Elaine Stanhope—cured her absolutely, and her mother Mrs. G. Stanhope, of Rothesay, Ont., says the following:

'My daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless, and kept losing strength till too weak to attend school. The doctors prescribed different bottles of medicine but Elaine kept getting worse instead of better. She had Anaemia and we were afraid for a while that she might never rally. We read of a similar case, that of Miss Descent, of Stirling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and this induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three boxes of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six boxes were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure; and I am convinced that there is no better blood-maker than Ferrozone. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained ten pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of spirits. The credit of her recovery is entirely due to Ferrozone.

Every grown girl and young woman can make herself strong and healthy with Ferrozone.

It makes blood, nerve and tissue,—makes it fast—makes it to stay.

Complection soon becomes perfect, nerves get new strength, tiredness vanishes—perfect health is the reward for using Ferrozone, which is sold by all druggists—price 50c. per box; don't fail to try it.

His Work.

(By Margaret Holden, in the 'Christian World.')

He was the most brilliant man of his year; he was also, in spite of that, one of the most popular. His teachers were proud of him; his fellow-students proud or jealous according to their temperaments, but mostly proud; and they predicted great things of his future. He had other qualities besides of the intellect, which made him a safe man to expect much from.

He took his degree with flying colors, went to London, took a minor post on a good newspaper, rose rapidly in his profession in three years—and then disappeared

Several of the students in his college had formed themselves into a society which they called 'The Order of the Owls.' They did not give themselves this title on account of any special wisdom which they considered they possessed, or because they loved darkness rather than light—the name was 'the idle thought of an idle fellow,' but it pleased them, and they kept it. They intended to try and meet once a year after leaving the university if possible, and they also agreed not to lose sight of each other. For three years they had their annual meeting, coming, sometimes at considerable inconvenience, quite long distances. One member was a foreign correspondent for a daily paper, therefore the fourth meeting was without him.

Another was teaching in an Australian university city, and of Harry Glenwood no trace could be found. So that only two of the five met at the fourth year. Of these two, one was a clergyman in a Northern town, the other a doctor in the East-end of London. They met at the doctor's house.

'I saw Glenwood to-day,' said the doctor. 'I discovered also where he lives.'

The other man looked eager. Between Glenwood and himself a great friendship had existed.

'Where did you see him? Did you speak to him?'

'No, but I followed him. I tried to catch him up, but he went too quickly. He came out of a pawnshop in which I have a patient.'

'A pawnshop! Why, has he gone to the dogs?'

'I don't think he has, not as far as his character is concerned—I would stake all I possess on that; that he has done nothing to be ashamed of, I am certain; but, oh! Mellor, if you could have seen him—shabby clothes, broken boots, pale, haggard face, shrunken form. I can't get him out of my mind. He looked absolutely starved. He lives in the next street, No. 13.

Mellor went in search of Glenwood the next day.

'He probably would prefer not to see me, but I must look him up, and try to help him—the 'Owls' will all help.'

It was a mean street; with a row of houses all exactly alike, all with grimy lace curtains at the dull windows hiding the interiors from view; in some a sickly plant struggled to grow, but looked gray, as if it had aged prematurely in the bad atmosphere.

Mellor stopped at No. 13. It differed in one respect from the other houses; it looked rather more neglected, and had no curtains at the windows.

In response to Mellor's knock, Glenwood opened the door.

He looked astonished, frightened also, and then hesitatingly held out his hand. It was clasped warmly by the other man.

What a thin hand it was! It made Mellor shudder to feel such ghostlike fingers in his.

'Well, old man, I have found you at last,' he said in his loud, hearty voice.

The other men looked behind him nervously.

'I was afraid someone might come along when I saw Grant yesterday,' he whispered.

'You saw him!'

'Yes. Will you come in for a little while now you are here. I can spare a few minutes, but—would you mind being very quiet?'

Mellor tried to walk quietly and speak softly, though it was evidently hard work for a man of his build. The two men contrasted strangely and sadly—the one so big, well-groomed, well-fed and hearty; and the other a pale shade of a man, who looked almost like a frightened child.

They went into a shabby, dusty room—books were everywhere, on the floor, on the chairs. And a table was covered with papers.

'What are you doing, Glenwood? Literary work?'

'Hack work—reviewing sometimes—I like that. I see new books. I do anything I can get, or find time to do.'

They talked on for a time; Mellor did not talk of himself much; he felt the contrast would be too marked, but they talked of books, and the other 'Owls.'

'The dear old 'Owls.' That time seems a long way back,' said Glenwood. 'Tell me—' he began, but at that moment there was a great crash of breaking crockery, and Glenwood, paler if possible than before, sprang to his feet and rushed from the room.

Mellor, startled, was standing in the middle of the room, wondering what he should do, when the door burst open, and on the threshold stood a tall, elderly woman, drawn up to her full height, her beautiful features distorted by passion and intoxication.

She was screaming,

'I will go in and tell your fine friends how you treat me, keeping me a prisoner in this wretched hole.'

'Mother! for pity's sake—Mellor, please, go and leave us—you asked me what my work was—This is my work.'

Makes Red Blood

AND GOOD HEALTH

What Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does is to increase the number of red corpuscles in the blood and thereby make the blood redder and richer in the elements which build up new cells and tissues to replace those wasted by disease and in the process of living.

By use of this great restorative you lift yourself from the low level of health which leaves you an easy prey to every ill wind that blows for with thin, watery blood you catch cold easily and are an easy victim for consumption and contagious diseases.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food

By the building up process, cures anaemia, sleeplessness, headaches, indigestion, weakness, fainting spells and all diseases of the nerves. 50 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mrs. Geo. Cook, Welland, Ont., writes:

"For five years I suffered with nervousness, tired feeling, headache and terrible weakness and became greatly emaciated. My doctor could not help me, so I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and six boxes made me sound and well. I now feel better than I have for ten years."

Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havana, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"As long ago as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 3rd our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold, the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only, saved the life of our dear little boy" For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

The passenger cars of the State Railways of Germany are painted three different colors to indicate the class. The scheme is said to be a great convenience to travelers.

For Diseases of the Skin.

Nearly all diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barbers' itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

The fellows who can't stand prosperity can't understand those who can.

Unequaled as a Cure for Croup.

'Besides being an excellent remedy for colds and throat troubles, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is unequaled as a cure for croup,' says Harry Wilson of Waynetown, Ind. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.
