GOSCHEN AND THE CRISIS.

THE CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER PREFERS HARD CASH.

Well-Known Author Expelled from St. Petersburg—Sensation at Metz Over the Murder of a French Officer—The Dreibund Renewed for Five Years—Wholesale Arrests of Anarchists.

LONDON, May 7.—Governor Lidderdale of the Bank of England and his official associates were tendered a banquet last evening at the Mansion House, at which the leading financial magnates of the city were present as guests. Right Hon. George J. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was the chief speaker. He eulogized the conduct of the managers of the bank during the recent crisis, and declared that the lesson of that troublous time and its safe survival was that the English gold reserve should be so increased as to obviate any chance of panic being caused by any sudden foreign demand for gold. It should not be necessary to borrow from the Bank of France even as a matter of overabundant caution. Mr. Goschen preferred sovereigns to pound notes, unless by the introduction of the proposed notes some great national object could alone be obtained. Mr. Goschen gave an indirect assurance that the Government would not interfere with the control of voluntary schools.

THE INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.

London Hospitals Averaging 100 Cases a Day—Earl of Powis Dead.

Prince Christian and Count Hatzfeldt, the German ambassador, were unable to attend a dinner given this evening.

The Duchess of Marlborough, Justice Romer and a host of public officials are among those affected.

The Earl of Powis died to-night. The cause of death has not been reported.

Zetland Visits the People.

DUBLIN, May 6.—The Earl of Zetland, Viceroy of Ireland, is making a tour of a portion of the district affected by the shortage of a potato crop last year. He is everywhere well received by the people. At Skibbereen and Baltimore he was warmly cheered by the men on the relief railways. He visited the various institutions and received the thanks of the people for his efforts in the raising of funds for their benefit.

A French Officer Murdered.

METZ, May 7.—A sensation has been caused in the garrison here by the discovery that Col. Inzaer has been murdered. The body of the officer was found this morning at his residence. His head had been smashed in with a hammer, which was found in the room covered with blood. The officer's throat had also been severely gashed with a knife or razor. The military and police authorities believe robbery was the motive of the crime. There is no clue to the murderer.

Expelled From St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 7.—The author Mikhaelovsky has been expelled from the city for acting as master of ceremonies at the funeral of Shelgounoff, the political economist, on Saturday last, on which occasion the students of the University marched through the main thoroughfares in defiance of the orders of the police.

Furs in Summer.

For chilly days during early spring there is nothing in the way of a warm wrap handier or more necessary than a fur cape. If you contemplate going from home during the summer, what can you get better or more stylish to throw over your shoulders than a comfortable-looking dark sable or Persian cape? Dineen, on the corner of King and Yonge-streets, have just finished up a lot of extra choice ones that can be purchased at a very moderate price. Ladies wanting to buy furs should not put off till next fall as prices will be very high.

IN THE LAND OF REVOLUTIONS.

Honduras Rebels Take Possession of the Seat of Government on Fonseca Bay.

LA LIBERTAD, Salvador, May 7.—Advices from Honduras state that at 3 o'clock yesterday morning a force under the command of Col. Molina and Gen. Bardales, both of which officers were leading rebels, attacked the Cuartel at Amapala. The guard there was taken by surprise and the rebels were soon in possession of the Cuartel. Six hundred and thirty Government troops under Col. Barrera made a movement against the Cuartel. Severe fighting followed, but at noon the Government troops drove the rebels from the Cuartel, inflicting great loss upon them. Among the killed was Gen. Bardales, one of the rebel leaders.

Amapala is situated upon the island of that name and the rebels were driven to the mainland. Col. Barrera has 300 infantry and 40 cavalry guarding the island. The rebels are besieging the place and evidently intend to make another attack as soon as reinforcements, which are expected, arrive.

THE ADDITIONAL INSPECTOR

To Ease the Labors of James L. Hughes—New School Will Be Located in Sheridan-avenue.

The Public School Board met last evening. Present, Chairman Whitesides and Messrs. Williams, Roden, Boxall, Baird, Henderson, Hastings, Hagerman, Vair, Kerr (St. Stephen's), McSpadden, Lee, McCracken, Mingay, Oliver, Somers, Brown, Kent, McPherson, Rogers, Middleton and Fisher. The board ordered the payment of the bill for the medical attendance on the son of Joseph Peters, injured at the Morse-street School. In the School Management's report these recommendations were endorsed: That the resignation of Miss Bertha M. Shoults of Bolton-avenue school be accepted; that leave of absence for two months be granted Miss L. Wiggins and Miss E. Gillin; that G. H. Armstrong, J. H. Markle and W. F. Chapman be granted leave of absence to study for 1st B certificates; that the closing examinations in all the schools be held on Thursday, June 25; that the pupils be dismissed on June 26; that the teachers remain on duty till June 30 and that the summer holidays extend from June 30 to Sept. 1.

As a special report of the School Management were presented the following clauses dealing with the appointment of an additional school inspector:

(a) That the inspector to be chosen shall be less than 40 years of age. (b) That he shall have had at least five years' experience in public school work as a teacher or inspector. (c) That the Finance Committee be requested to pay the new inspector at the rate of $1500 per annum.

Clause A created a lively discussion, Messrs. Roden and Fisher holding that a man was in his prime at 45, the former moving that the age limit be struck out. The board felt otherwise, and endorsed the clauses.

The scheme to purchase a school site on Gladstone-avenue from S. A. McIntyre at $11,000 met with a strong opponent in Mr. McSpadden, who favored a $9325 lot in Sheridan-avenue. He said last year the board bought a site from West, and now the Gladstone-avenue one belonged to Godson. He wondered when the board would get through with Godson and West. There was a good deal of cross-talk, but the major finally won his point, and the school goes to Sheridan-avenue.

THE CENTRAL BANK.

Another Great Legal Fight is Possible—Shareholders Want $2,000,000 From the Board of Directors.

The directors of the defunct Central Bank who breathed a sigh of relief when the liquidators paid their last dividend will be startled to learn that they will again be involved in the tangles of the law. Mr. J. B. Henderson, one of the shareholders, has instructed Mr. Charles Millar to begin an action against David Blain, C. Blackett Robinson, Kenneth Chisholm, M.L.A., A. McLean Howard, Samuel Trees and H. P. Dwight, six of the old directors, to recover about $20,000, the amount of his double liability as a shareholder. If judgment is given for the plaintiff the other shareholders will also step in to recover their losses. The receipts of the liquidation from the double liability of the shareholders amounted to $1,890,536, and the claims set off against the double liability amounted to $154,267, making in all $1,954,603, which the shareholders will seek to recover from the directors. The only director not sued is D. Mitchell McDonald, who is now in the United States.

Mr. Millar will move to-day before Mr. Hodgins, the master in ordinary at Osgoode Hall, for an order directing the liquidators of the bank to bring this action. In addition to the indemnity of nearly two million dollars the shareholders, as another string to their bow, will seek to be recouped for loss arising from the deceit practised by the directors in issuing false reports of the bank's standing and earnings; in furnishing grossly inaccurate and misleading accounts of the bank's condition; in declaring and paying dividends when the bank was insolvent; in deputing to subordinates duties which they should have done themselves; and in grossly neglecting the management of the bank, thereby wrecking the institution.

Mr. David Blain said to The World last night: "This is news to me. I had no intimation of it. At this incipient stage of the proceedings it will be impossible to express any opinion. The proper time will be after an examination of the declaration of the plaintiffs when it is filed. I think the comment of an evening paper 'Under several decisions, of English as well as Canadian judges, the action will lie and the suit is a good one,' is somewhat rash. Whether an action will lie or not, and whether the suit is a good one or not, will be determined by the evidence. I am ready. It will afford me the first opportunity of vindicating myself."

The only Canadian precedent for this action is believed to be in the case of the Consolidated Bank, when the shareholders sued the directors for losses and were successful. The case of the Glasgow Bank is hardly a precedent as, aside from other differences, the liability of the directors was unlimited. They were, however, imprisoned.

THE REPUBLIC OF THE NORTH

BRITISH TROOPS TO BE SENT TO OPPOSE THE BOER "TREK."

The Question Considered in the House of Commons—Secretary of State Stanhope Makes an Authoritative Announcement—Sharp Fighting Anticipated, as the Boers Are 20,000 Strong.

LONDON, May 7.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day in regard to the reported Boer "trek" being prepared for the invasion of Mashonaland, Manicaland and other South African territory for the purpose of establishing the so-called "Republic of the North," Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, intimated that troops were being sent to British Bechuanaland to oppose the proposed Boer "trek." Recent advices are that 20,000 well-armed Boers propose to cross the Limpopo on June 1 and proclaim the Republic of the North. The leaders of the "trek" include men of position from both the Free State and Cape Colony, and all steps taken are said to have met with the approval of the famous Afrikander Bund, recently in session at Kimberley. The Boer movement is a South African movement in the direction of northward expansion, and is bound to conflict with the claims of the British Chartered Company, to say nothing of the claims of the Portuguese South African Co. One of the objects of the trek is said to be the replacement of the Chartered Company by a popular movement from the Imperial Government's control. There is a strong feeling against the company and against Imperial control in South Africa. The leaders of the "trek," however say little or nothing about the Chartered Company, claiming to base their proceedings upon concessions granted long before the Chartered Company existed.

Another little war in South Africa seems to be threatened. It will require many more British troops than are now available in South Africa to cope with the 20,000 Boers, who are dead shots and capable of suffering the most severe hardships without complaint.

THE FEDERATION FUND.

Dr. Workman's Orthodoxy in Serious Consideration—The Board of Regents' Meeting Ended—Long and Quiet.

The annual meeting of the Methodist Board of Regents was closed last night after a three days' important session. Matters of import, both spiritual and temporal, were fully considered. Reports from Chancellor Burwash, George A. Cox and Rev. Dr. Potts, Secretary of Education, were received, discussed and adopted by the board. A committee was appointed to attend to the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Victoria College in Queen's Park, which will take place on Tuesday, June 16. These, however, were merely matters of formal business.

The orthodoxy of Dr. Workman of Cobourg has been brought into question and many have been the arguments for and against his position towards the accepted doctrine of the Methodist Church. The members of the Board of Regents were not particularly anxious that the public should be acquainted with the nature of his discussion. But it was the most interesting part of the business transacted by the board, nevertheless. Dr. Workman's lecture on "Messiah: Prophecy" was considered yesterday. After a discussion lasting nearly three hours, the board passed this resolution:

"That it is the decision of this board that under existing circumstances Brother Workman be transferred from the faculty of theology to the faculty of arts."

In other words Brother Workman becomes a member of the temporal in place of the spiritual faculty, and this is significant.

Other matters decided upon by the board were that the department of Old Testament exegesis will be in the hands of the Chancellor, and that it is altogether likely that Dr. Coleman is to come into one of the science chairs of Toronto University. Professor Horning, who is now in Germany, will take a chair in German in Victoria College during the coming session.

The board directed Rev. Dr. Potts to secure 240 acres offered by J. P. Jackson, to be added to the resources, which George A. Cox and Dr. Potts, as joint treasurers of the federation fund, will apply to federation. A committee was appointed to consider the question of a subagency to assist Dr. Potts in securing subscriptions and collecting money towards the federation fund. The committee reported and the Board approved of the action of the executive officers in appointing such agency.

Dr. Potts will visit the Montreal, Guelph, London and Niagara conferences towards securing their further co-operation in enlarging the endowment fund of the college. According to the report the present state of the confederation fund, including subscriptions, bequests and cash, is $475,590.

James H. Beatty, Thorold, was elected a member of the Board of Regents in place of Dr. Eccles, London, resigned.

The Senate of Victoria University meets next Tuesday at Cobourg.

POISONED BY THE BITE OF A CAT.

Mr. Smith Sat on the Family Tabby With Perhaps Fatal Results.

TEN MILE RUN, N.J., May 7.—James Smith, a wealthy resident of this town, lies at the point of death from the effect of the bite of a cat. Mr. Smith sat down on a chair on which there was a newspaper three weeks ago. Beneath the newspaper was the family cat. As his weight descended on the animal she seized his right hand with her teeth and inflicted a deep wound, from which the blood flowed freely.

Mr. Smith thought little of the incident at the time, but last week the hand and arm became greatly swollen and very painful.

Dr. Moser of Griggstown was called in and pronounced it a case of blood-poisoning resulting from the cat's bite. Remedies were administered, but without effect, and the patient is in a dying condition. Mr. Smith is about 50 years old, has a wife and two daughters and is the owner of considerable farming land in this vicinity.

DROWNED IN A CISTERN.

Supposed Suicide of a Bowmanville Young Woman in Feeble Health.

BOWMANVILLE, May 7.—Miss Jane McClung, who resided at the home of her brother William in this town, had been in feeble health for some time and had been sitting with the family as usual during the evening. Being missed from the room for a time, about 9 o'clock, it was thought she had retired to bed, but on looking in her room and not finding her a search around the premises was instituted. No trace of the missing one could be obtained for some time, until one of the family probed into an open-top cistern which stood in rear of the dwelling, and there the lifeless body was discovered.

AS NAKED AS NATURE.

A Bank Employe Strips Himself Before Suiciding by the Rope.

ALMONTE, Ont., May 7.—Mr. Tegerdine, for a long time in the employ of the Montreal Bank, was found hanging in his own kitchen with a rope around his neck. He was perfectly nude when found. It seems that deceased had been troubled in mind and determined to do away with his life. His wife was in Carleton Place when the suicide occurred. The servant girl at the bank wondered why deceased was not putting in an appearance as usual, but did not investigate till next evening, when she went over to his residence in New England. She wrapped at the door, but, receiving no answer, went to Mr. Mattock's house and asked him to see what was the matter. He raised one of the windows of deceased's residence and went in and was horror-stricken to find him suspended by the neck in his own kitchen. A tub of water was sitting beside him, and it is supposed he tried to commit suicide by that means, and, failing in that, resorted to the rope.

MARRIED IN MAY-TIME.

An Auspicious Event Yesterday in the Central Methodist Church and Another in the Ambitious City.

The union of two hearts is always an event which stirs the interest of mankind and especially of the female sex. No wonder then that the Central Methodist Church was crowded at 8 last night, when Mr. Robert H. Ramsay and Miss Mabel May Gooderham joined hands in marriage. The groom is of the firm of R. H. Ramsay & Son, wholesale commission merchants, and the bride is second daughter of Mr. C. H. Gooderham of Gooderham & Worts.

Glittering lights, expectant faces, richly-dressed guests and floral decorations made a charming ensemble when the bride, more charming than all, entered the church. Mr. T. C. The parlor mantel and fireplace were banked with pink and white carnations, smilax and palms. The drawing room was similarly treated with cream roses and smilax. Costly and very numerous were the presents of the friends of relatives of the cardinal pair. Others noticeable were an elegant pair of large bronzes from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jaffray; a rich candelabra, Mrs. Robert Wilkes; bronze piano lamp, Mr. and Mrs. Sweetnam; banquet lamp, Mrs. W. G. SIX QUESTIONS TO BE CONSIDERED.

Text of the Subjects for Arbitration Regarding Behring Sea as Now Proposed by the President.

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 7.—The following note, in addition to the correspondence that has already passed in relation to the Behring Sea controversy, is made public:

Mr. Blaine to Sir Julian Pauncefote:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.
Washington, April 14, 1891.

SIR,—The modifications which Lord Salisbury suggests in the questions for arbitration do not wholly meet the views of the President, but the President changes the text of the third and fifth in such a manner it is hoped as will result in an agreement between the two governments. While Lord Salisbury suggests a different mode of procedure from that embodied in the sixth question the President does not understand him actually to object to the question and he therefore assumes that it is agreed to. The six questions as now proposed by the President are as follows:

1. What exclusive jurisdiction in the sea now known as the Behring Sea did Russia exercise in the seal fisheries therein did Russia assert and exercise prior and up to the time of the cession of Alaska to the United States?

2. How far were these claims of jurisdiction as to the seal fisheries recognized and concided by Great Britain?

3. Was the body of water now known as the Behring Sea included in the phrase "Pacific Ocean" as used in the treaty of 1825 between Great Britain and Russia and what rights, if any, in the Behring Sea were held and exclusively exercised by Russia after said treaty?

4. Did not all the rights of Russia as to jurisdiction and as to the seal fisheries in Behring Sea shall after the treaty of cession, described in the treaty between the United States and Russia, of March 30, 1867, pass unimpaired to the United States under that treaty?

5. Has the United States any right, and if so what right of protection or property in the fur seals frequenting the islands of the United States in Behring Sea, when such seals are found outside the ordinary three mile limit?

6. If the determination of the foregoing questions shall leave the subject in such condition that the concurrence of Great Britain is necessary in prescribing regulations for the killing of the fur seal in any part of the waters of Behring Sea, then it shall be further determined:

(1) How far, if at all, outside the ordinary territorial limits, it is necessary that the United States should exercise any exclusive jurisdiction in order to protect the seal for the time being upon the islands of the United States and feeding therefrom; 2, Whether a closed season (during which the killing of seals in the waters of Behring Sea outside the ordinary territorial limits shall be prohibited) is necessary to save the seal fishing industry, so valuable and important to mankind, from deterioration or destruction? And if so, 3, what months or portions of months should be included in such season and over what waters it should extend?

TO SAVE THE SEALS.

Blaine and Pauncefote May Agree to Catch No Seals This Season.

NEW YORK, May 7.—A Washington special to The Tribune says: There is a growing impression here that the result of the negotiations now being conducted by Mr. Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote will be a closed sealing season this year in Behring Sea. No definite agreement is likely to be reached or announced until after the return of President Harrison to Washington on May 14 or 15, but the drift of opinion has set strongly in the direction of a convention between this Government and Great Britain which will suspend the taking of seals for the current year.

A Brakeman Hurt.

BOWMANVILLE, May 7.—George Booth of Toronto, brakeman, fell off his train just as it was drawing up to the water tank at this station. He fell between the wheels, but fortunately the train was almost at a standstill, and instead of going over the man the wheel wedged him tightly to the rail. If the train had moved an inch or so farther the victim would have been instantly killed. Luckily the conductor heard him moan, and by backing up the train he was extricated from his perilous position. He was conveyed to the station hotel and the G.T.R. doctor who resides at Whitby was immediately summoned. The man was considerably bruised and had also sustained some internal injuries.

MISS LIVINGSTON'S LUCK.

A SIMCOE GIRL ASKS $25,000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.

By Means of an Advertisement She Caught a Widower of 69, Who Had Buried Four Wives, and Though He Kissed Her Many Times and Oft He Wouldn't Carry Out His Agreement.

BUFFALO, May 7.—Nellie R. Livingston, a pretty Canadian about 20 years old, is suing Frank W. Knox, a prominent Pennsylvania lawyer, for $25,000 damages for not keeping his word when, as she alleges, he promised to make her Mrs. Knox. Briefly told, the plaintiff's story begins with the following advertisement, which appeared in a Buffalo paper:

WANTED—SITUATION BY A YOUNG CANADIAN lady as companion to a lady (musical); will assist in housekeeping. Address M. L., Simcoe, Ont.

This advertisement came into Mr. Knox's hands and he opened correspondence with the lady. He wanted a musical companion, but she must come as his wife. The preliminary correspondence ended in a meeting at the Tifft House, and this meeting within two days resulted in an engagement, the lady to be the companion for life of Mr. Knox, who gravely acknowledges 69 years as having passed over his head and his sad deprivation by inscrutable Providence of four wives. The case opened in the Supreme Court this afternoon before Judge Childs and a jury. Miss Livingston told her story. Her brother, she said, was a judge in Canada. The correspondence between her and Knox was read showing the gradual ripening into her meeting with Knox. Miss Livingston was the first to reach the trysting place, the well-known hotel the Tifft House, in company with her brother-in-law. The train was belated, but presently arrived and he appeared on the scene. He rushed in and greeted the lady and then provaically enough went to dinner. "Then," said Miss Livingston, "when he got through he came and pressed both my hands and said he liked me. He spoke of my hands, my figure, my hair, my face and said anyone could see I had been brought up a lady." He also said: 'Let us make this a business matter.' I did not like that idea." "What took place then?" "He then began to talk of making preparations for our marriage. He said harmony was complete. We use the ritual, both Presbyterians, and he said I suited him every way. He told me of his home and said he kept three horses and two gardeners at his house in Pennsylvania. He spoke of recarpeting the house and wanted me to help him. He asked me what kind of engagement ring I wanted and told me of his idea of visiting the seashore and various popular resorts, and gave me to understand he was a rich man and that after marriage all he wanted me to do was to sew on his buttons. He wanted to get married right away, but I told him I wanted some time to think over it. He visited me every day at my home and said I was stopping and I went to the theatre with him and to the cyclorama. His talk was almost entirely on the subject of our marriage. He wanted to buy me a trousseau, but this I would not allow. I asked him to defer the wedding a few months and he wouldn't hear of it. He said his heart was in the marriage and he could not wait. He drew me on his knee and said he couldn't stand disappointment. He took an envelope from his pocket and said there was $130 for me to begin to buy things with. I said to him: 'Mr. Knox you've taken your first mortgage on me.' He said: 'I'm going to make an American of you.' I took the money and put it in my pocket. He asked if he had any rival in my affections and I told him he had, but did not pursue the subject. He took me on his knee and kissed me and said matters should be arranged as I wished." Miss Livingston reluctantly acknowledged that at this time she was engaged to be married to another person, but the match had since been broken off.

A JEALOUS LOVER'S CRIME.

Scorned by the Woman for Whom He Had an Infatuation He Attempts to Kill Her.

COBOURG, May 7.—Andrew McGuire was placed on trial to-day on a charge of having attempted to murder his former sweetheart, Miss Tucker, by throwing her under the wheels of a Grand Trunk freight train. It appears McGuire had pestered Miss Margaret Tucker with his attentions and had repeatedly threatened her. On the night in question she was walking along the station platform with an escort, and according to the evidence of Prof. Reynar of Victoria College and other witnesses, McGuire, his eyes blazing with insane jealousy, ran up to her and with both hands pushed her in front of an incoming train. Her escape from death was almost miraculous, her life being only saved by the promptness of the engineer. Prisoner's counsel attempted to prove that the occurrence was purely accidental—that McGuire had unintentionally run against the girl. The jury, however, found him guilty of the offence as charged. It was shown that McGuire had on some time ago grievously wounded and attempted to kill John Tucker, the father of the young lady, and had also attacked Turnkey John Higgins while in jail. On this latter charge he was sentenced to four years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, and while there attempted to escape by concealing himself in a load of manure, but was discovered. Sentence was reserved by Judge Rose for this, it is generally thought McGuire, who is 33 years of age, will spend the balance of his life in jail.
